Yes, sorry, I mean, that's just an indication of my poor memory, really. Q. Sure. A. You know, I want to be completely honest about this. If you had asked me all this three weeks ago, I'd have probably not that I'm much of a gambler, being a Methodist, but I'd have bet money that, you know, we'd awarded the contract to G4S. I'd completely forgotten that GSL and G4S were two separate entities at that point. Q. Not a problem at all. So just to I'm just explaining that because, when we look at the comments you have made, we will look at GSL as well as G4S, because GSL were, in fact, awarded the contract. A. Okay. Q. So staying on that same page, but moving down to under the subheading "Safety and Security", so the third paragraph down refers to GSL sorry, the second paragraph: "GSL proposed to lock up detainees between 2100-0800 hours [9.00 pm until 8.00 am] but we have

You say in your statement that you presume that the split, so the decision to give the various weightings, was determined by the Home Office commercial arm. A. Yes. Q. You say that the split is now much more heavily weighted towards operational delivery and welfare. A. That's my understanding. Q. Do you know what the split is now? A. I don't, I'm sorry. Q. You just know that it's more heavily weighted? A. I do well, that's my understanding, yes. Q. You say in your statement that G4S won the bid, despite not being your top choice, because of the finances of their bid, and now, as we have clarified, it's GSL who won the contract. If we go to page 47, we can see that it appears that all of the bids, or at least certainly 	4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24	A. Not at all, no. I'm sure we wouldn't have known, to be honest. Q. Do you think that if you had been aware of it, it would have been a relevant consideration when you were looking at the proposals, particularly given your team's comments about an ethos of cutting corners and desperate attempts to reduce costs at the expense of welfare? In short, would you have known that there was more money available for these services? Would that have been relevant to know? A. I don't think it would, no. Q. Why not? A. Because I think that the bid is marked on what we feel their operational capability is. As soon as you get into the bit where you're talking about staff and costs — I mean, just, for instance, how many middle managers they have got, how much they are paying them, there is all sorts of elements that would be hard to grasp from an operational perspective. But as to, you know, whether a bid — the staffing proposal and all that was just purely down to money.

1 1 A. I don't know, no. Sorry. at tab 24. Again, I don't need to turn it up because 2 Q. You can take that from the screen now. I won't ask for 2 I'm just going to read a couple of sentences from it. 3 this to be shown, but we have at the tab 43 of your 3 It's the assessment of progress and implementing the 4 bundle -- and it is <INQ000060>, Stephen Shaw's review 4 2016 report. So he is looking back at his report from 5 into the welfare and detention of vulnerable persons, two years ago and saying this is what's happened. He 6 January 2016. So I believe that you met Mr Shaw in said at page 32, paragraph 2.75: 6 7 7 "I was disappointed that the suggestion in my preparation for his report because your name is listed 8 8 at page 341 as one of the individuals he met with. I do not find conditions 11 which would be positioned above one of the existing 11 in those rooms remotely acceptable or decent." 12 bunks in each room in order to increase the IRC's 12 So he clearly thinks it was a mistake. He said this 13 capacity. And he says: 13 before and he said it again after. The project plan 14 "Given the pressure on other facilities, I do not 14 document, which I won't ask to be shown again, because 15 believe this should go ahead." 15 it's gone from the screen, but it says a lessons learned 16 The consideration which is being given to it appears 16 exercise would be conducted post completion, and that 17 to be consideration by this project board and maybe 17 that would feed into the ongoing development of 18 other departments. Do you remember talking to Mr Shaw 18 a detention estate strategy and future projects. Do you about the increasing capacity at the time of his report, 19 19 remember being part of a lessons learned discussion or 20 2016? 20 exercise after the completion of the introduction of new 21 21 A. I'm sorry, I don't, no. 22 Q. Presumably, you read his report? 22 A. No, I don't, no. But just -- I'm not sure, did the 23 23 third bunk get removed eventually? A. In part, yes. 24 Q. Do you remember anyone raising with you or anyone in 24 Q. Yes. So we know now that the Secretary of State, 25 2.5 DEPMU that Mr Shaw had said that capacity shouldn't be Mr Sajid Javid, at the time, in a speech he made to the Page 37 Page 39 increased at Brook House? We focused very much on moving people 4 Mr Javid said: 5 around the United Kingdom and ready for departure, as 5 "Fourth and finally, I also want to see a new drive opposed to getting involved in the day-to-day running of 6 on dignity in detention. I want to see an improvement an IRC. to the basic provision available to detainees. The practice in some immigration removal centres of having 8 Q. So the introduction of new beds anywhere in the estate 11 Do you have any view on whether, with regard to the 12 would have been, to some extent, part of DEPMU's remit? 12 extra bed plan, there was a failure to ensure dignity in 13 A. Part of our remit, absolutely, but not necessarily for 13 detention? 14 14 us to be involved in as to whether that was a good idea A. Sorry, could you just ...? 15 15 Q. Do you have a view on whether, with regard to the plan 16 16 Q. Then we have -- sorry, who would have made the decision to place extra beds in rooms designed for two, was 17 on whether that was a good idea or a bad idea? Who 17 a failure to ensure dignity in detention? 18 would you have expected, within the Home Office 18 A. I'm not sure it's a failure to -- around the dignity 19 19 structure, to read and react to Mr Shaw's comments and issue, but I think -- obviously in hindsight, it's been 20 20 agreed to take them out. So I think you could say it concerns? 21 A. The director and the senior management team. 2.1 wasn't the best thing to do. 22 O. Of Brook House? 22 Q. Was it, again, an attempt to reduce cost at the expense 23 A. No, of the estate. 23 of welfare, in your view? 24 Q. Of the whole estate. Then we have Stephen Shaw's 24 A. I'm not sure it would have reduced costs that much, to 25 assessment, which is dated July 2018, and you have this 25 be quite honest. I don't think -- I'm not sure there's Page 38 Page 40

Do you remember whether you developed that DSO, whether you wrote the DSO? A. I remember I think I added bits to it. I did some initial work on how rule 35 forms were working around the estate. Q. We have seen previously in the inquiry a 2016 DSO that came in, that was very detailed about rule 35, which

Well, social care — I mean, I can't really say in relation to this document. My memory is not good, about what that actually meant, but social care is things like people with bariatric care, who, if they were in the community, even local councils would take responsibility for their care. Q. So not, kind of, social welfare issues, but you're looking at more — A. Yes, welfare issues. People who were, you know, struggling to dress themselves, you know, wash themselves, that sort of thing. So not directly requiring medical intervention — Q. Right. A. — but requiring some assistance. Q. In things like self-care? A. Yes. Q. What about capacity? People who lacked capacity? Would that be classed as somebody requiring social care? An adult who lacks capacity, for example? A. No, that's a health issue, isn't it —	A. No, sorry, I don't, no. Q. Do you know who would judge whether somebody was stable for the purposes of Brook House being appropriate place to transfer them? A. I'm guessing. It's the sort of thing we would rely on the initial medical assessment and any assessment of records coming in from the community or from a prison. Q. So the initial medical assessment being the one after they have arrived, so the rule 34 within 24 hours, and then a combination of that and the records that come in? A. Yes. Q. Thank you. We can take that down now, thank you. We are going to rewind a little in time now, Mr Schoenenberger, and talk about rule 35. Now, I don't need to bring it up on screen, but you have been provided with DSO1/2007 which is called allegation of torture forms, and I see that you are listed there as the contact. Do you remember whether you developed that DSO, whether you wrote the DSO? A. I remember I think I added bits to it. I did some initial work on how rule 35 forms were working around the estate. Q. We have seen previously in the inquiry a 2016 DSO that

If you have finished reading the relevant parts, which are the parts I have read out, Mr Schoenenberger, it can be taken from the screen. It is simply to say we have had evidence from a doctor who worked at Brook House, and still works there and now and worked there during the relevant period, and his view was that Part C was used as a mechanism for telling the Home Office about concerns and his view was also that that could sometimes supplant the need to do a rule 35(2) report. So that resulted in the pilot in 2017 of a new approach for the Home Office team on site at Brook House. So what was the pilot designed to do? A. So the pilot the initial focus of the pilot was about the detainee engagement, because that was the driver. So that sought to increase the number of officers and the grading of the officers so that there would be a support team underneath, but more executive officers to go and have, I suppose, a more thorough conversation with the individuals, a revamped induction, more kind of case ownership, so that there was a rapport built

- Q. So there was a monthly performance management report?
- 3
- 4 Q. And if the Home Office had determined that there had
- 5 been a KPI failure, that would be recorded in that
- 6 monthly performance report; is that right?
- 7 A. Yes, that's correct.
- 8 Q. Can we just have a look at a blank one of those. It is
- q <HOM002040>, please.
- 10 A. Where would I ...
- 11 Q. It will come up on screen.
- 12 A. Thanks.
- 13 Q. Is that the performance management report that was
- 14 completed monthly in relation to KPI failures?
- 15 A. Yes, that's the report completed by G4S.
- 16 Q. Who decides whether a failure falls within a particular
- 17 category in there? Is it G4S or is it the Home Office?
- 18 A. So it's decided as part of the weekly operational review
- 19 meeting. That would have been discussed at that point,
- 20 and a decision made -- I mean, Home Office would have
- 21 the overriding decision, but usually it was
- 22 a collaboration between both partners.
- 23 Q. So it was the G4S audits and compliance manager who
- 24 completed this form?
- 25 A. Yes.

Page 117

24

- Q. Who at the Home Office would attend those meetings to 1
- 2 have those discussions and have the final say?
- 3 A. Paul Gasson, Ian Castle. I attended a couple. I tried
- 4 not to attend because there was an appeals process, and
- 5 obviously if I'm part of the initial decision making,
- 6 then the appeal escalates further, so the general rule
- 7 of thumb would be that Ian, the area manager and the 8 immigration manager would have those discussions and
- 9 then, if there was a need for escalation, the escalation
- 10 would then come to me.
- 11 Q. At paragraph 23, you say that in 2017 measures used to
- 12 assess the G4S performance fell into three categories;
- 13 is that right? We can go through them. The first is
- 14 detainee engagement.
- 15 A. Yes, that's correct.
- 16 O. What did that mean?
- 17 A. So there were detainee engagement forums, there was
- 18 a consultative committee and a -- I think it was a food
- 19 committee, and then the detainee engagement that
- 20 happened between the engagement officers and the
- 21 individuals as part of their kind of immigration-related
- 22
- 23 Q. So there were effectively interviews carried out with
- 24 detainees --
- 25 A. Yes.

A. Yes.

Q. -- by your staff?

- 3 O. What was the focus of those interviews? What sort of
- 4 things were they designed to elicit from detainees?
- 5 A. So things like making sure -- so some of it was about us
- 6 providing information, so making sure they understood
- 7 why they were there in detention, asking them if they
- had any concerns, access to solicitors, bail, you know,
- various different details, and then asking them if they
- 10 were okav.
 - Q. Were any questions asked about G4S's performance or the
- 12 staff's behaviour in those type of --
- 13 A. No, not explicitly, no.
- 14 Q. Why not?
- 15 A. Just wasn't part of the induction process, or the
 - interview process.
- 17 Q. The second you describe as assurance. What did that
- 18
 - A. Can I turn to where that is?
- 20 Q. Yes, of course. It is paragraph 23 of your first
- 21 witness statement.
- 22 THE CHAIR: In the first tab.
- MS SIMCOCK: Tab 1 should have your first witness statement, 23
 - and it is paragraph 23.
- 25 A. Okay, yes. So I describe this in my statement as being

Page 119

- 1 about sort of analysing data.
- 2 Q. So staff attendance data on a monthly basis to assure
 - contracted operational working hours were achieved,
- 4 reviewing contract service delivery as issues emerge,
- 5 which you decide as being ad hoc, through observing
- processes and assessing these against the contract
- requirements, and then reviewing evidence such as
- suicide and self-harm booklets -- that's the ACDT forms?
- Q A. Yes.
- 10 Q. And rule 40 and 42 documents?
- 11
- 12 Q. And engaging with staff. Again, was that something that
- 13 your team was carrying out?
- 14 A. Yes, it was, yes.
- 15 Q. What levels of staff would they engage with at G4S?
- 16 A. Routinely, I would say DCMs and DCOs.
- 17 Q. The third you describe as information sources. What
- 18 sort of information sources were reviewed?
- 19 A. So things like IMB reports, the Safer Community reports,
- 20 security reports, surveys.
- 21 Q. There were meetings with the IMB. How often did they
- 22
- 23 A. Formal IMB board meetings were on a monthly basis.
- 24 Q. Who attended from the Home Office those meetings?
- 25 A. In the main, it would have been the immigration manager

2	Q. So Ian Castle or Paul Gasson?	2	A. We would have a discussion about it at the monthly

4	Q. If action was necessary to be taken forward from those	4	Q. How was that followed up? How did you ensure they

7	A. So the role of the IMB clerk was to produce minutes of	7	were to resolve. So an example of that during the
8	the meeting, and there was I think there was an	8	period was repeat failures around visits and people

But the bit that they are in control of, you can hold them to account for, which is their procedures and how they carried those out, and that follows through into our current contract, albeit there's three different levels — hospitalisation, injury or death — with different severity of penalty around the three, but it is failure to follow any agreed procedures within the contract. Q. Was there any consideration to exploring the reasons why so many people were self-harming? A. Just dealing, then, with the increase in beds in Brook House, the 60 beds added. You say at paragraph 14 of your first statement that one aspect of your role was to review and monitor the three-men room policy; is that right? A. To monitor the building of the beds, the reconstruction of the rooms. Q. You said, with regards to the additional beds placed in rooms at Brook House: "I felt that careful thought was given to the configuration of the rooms. I don't recall having any concerns regards the welfare of individuals." Is that right? A. Yes. Q. Were you aware that prior to its introduction, HMIP, in its 2016 report, had raised concerns about the use of three-men rooms and had noted concerns raised by staff and detainees? A. I was aware of that, and Stephen Shaw had also made a comment in relation to those rooms. 	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24	that was owned by Claire, and the 60 additional beds were part of that. I can't speak for why. But I would hazard a guess it was something to do with the closure of the two IRCs and the need to offset the reduction in beds somehow. Q. Was it cost driven? A. I don't think it would have been cost driven. It would have been a need for capacity. Q. At paragraph 94(d) of your second statement, you say G4S were meeting contracted targeted hours prior to the increase in beds. The performance report for December 2016 shows zero failures for staffing for December 2016. Do you know what the number of contracted failures for staffing were in September, October and November 2016? A. Yes, I do. So it was 900 in September and zero in October and November. Q. You say that the increase of 60 beds didn't make it more challenging to meet staffing levels, but you have set out that there were problems with staffing levels that we went through in your first statement in that table. What was the basis for saying that the increase in beds didn't cause any staffing difficulties?

Q. In relation to the Panorama programme, did you watch the Panorama programme? A. Yes, I did. Q. You have said in your statement that you didn't think that use of force was being used excessively in Brook House. Given what we see on the Panorama programme, do you agree that force was occasionally being used excessively in Brook House? A. I had taken "excessive" as being about numbers, not about the — Q. Manner in which force was used? A. Yes. Q. You say you didn't have any specific concerns at the time in relation to the abuse of detained persons at Brook House. How do you think it is that you were unaware of the type of behaviour seen in the programme by staff towards detainees? A. I think we were all unaware, all partners on site, and I think that was because of the covert nature. I don't think people were behaving — staff were behaving like	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24	about, given the responsibility of the Home Office to monitor contractual compliance with the Detention Centre Rules, DSOs and Home Office policies?
