Section 2: Detainee's authority to release medical information

The detainee named above has authorised the release of the medical information in this report in line with the guidance in DSO 1/2016 – The Protection, Use and Sharing of Medical Information Relating to People Detained Under Immigration Powers.

Section 3: Medical practitioner's report
(Please read the notes at the end of this form)

I have examined the detainee named above in my capacity as an immigration removal centre medical practitioner and hereby report that I have concerns that the detainee may have been a victim of torture. This is a factual report rather than a medico-legal one.

I understand that torture in this context means:

Any act by which severe pain or suffering, whether physical or mental, is intentionally inflicted on a person for such purposes as obtaining from him or a third person information or a confession, punishing him for an act he or a third person has committed or is suspected of having committed, or intimidating or coercing him or a third person, or for any reason based on discrimination of any kind, when such pain or suffering is inflicted by or at the instigation of or with the consent or acquiescence of a public official or other person acting in an official capacity. It does not include pain or suffering arising only from, inherent in or incidental to lawful sanctions.

I also understand that it includes such acts carried out by terrorist groups exploiting instability and civil war to hold territory.

Section 4: Detainee's account

Please provide details of the account given to you by the detainee of the alleged torture. In particular, please provide:

- as much detail as possible about the detainee's explanation for the cause of each injury, scar or symptom (physical or psychological).
- details of when, where, how, over what timeframe and why the torture is said to have happened, if possible.

R35.

- declines interpreter.
- When? Over 10 years.
- Duration? Whenever he was seen by the individuals on the campus.
- Reason? He was attacked because of his sexuality
- Who? He was attacked by a variety of students and people from the village.
- It would occur 2-3 x a week. upto 30 minutes.
- There were multiple occasions. He was hit with object all over the body and head. They would canes and sticks and iron rods.
- He says he did report this to teachers and he says the police were aware of this.
- Scars:
- He has multiple and varied scars on his arms, legs and face. There are a number of large scars on the lateral aspect of the right arm and left arm, face and left inner thigh. He claims to have scars in the scalp which are hidden by his hair. He is able to describe the origin of the larger scars.
- He says he did disclose to his GP about the events that occurred. He says he does occasionally get flash backs, he gets an anxiety and fear. These episodes are not often and he manages this himself.

Section 5: Relevant clinical observations and findings

Please provide details of your objective clinical observations and findings. This should include:

- details of all scarring or other physical marks, psychological symptoms, physical disability or impairment.
- details of any medical or professional treatment/support that the detainee has received (including outside the UK) or is receiving and from whom.
- any information in respect of previous or current physical or mental health problems which may be a result of having been tortured.

See above.

- Many scars all over the body including back and limbs.
- The scars are varied with a number of very large prominent scars.
- No acute mental health issues but appears low in mood and has been referred to mental health team.

Section 6: Assessment

Please set out your reasoned assessment of why, on the basis of the detainee's account together with your own examination and clinical findings, you are concerned that the detainee may have been a victim of torture. This should include your assessment of:

- the consistency of any physical (eg scars) and/or psychological findings with the detainee's allegations, including any evidence to the contrary
- whether there might be other plausible causes for the findings
- the impact detention is having on the detainee and why, including the likely impact of ongoing detention

If there are no physical or psychological findings to support the detainee's account, you must state why, in your professional assessment, you nevertheless have objective grounds for your concern.

He may be a victim of torture but I feel the period of sustained assaults he describes, are more an issue of adult at risk. He is being seen by mental health team today. He is a credible person and he has scars that are very consistent with the account given, and certainly reflect multiple attacks.

NOTES – for the medical practitioner

The requirement to report need only be triggered by you having a concern that the detainee may have been a victim of torture. However, you should not make a report where the detainee's experience of harm or mistreatment does not meet the definition of torture given in section 3 above, or where you do not have clinical concerns that the detainee may have been a victim of torture, including instances where there is no basis for concern other than an unsupported claim by the detainee to have been a victim of torture.

Your report must be completed legibly, with all questions being completed fully. Consideration of the report will be delayed if Home Office officials have to return the report to seek clarification.

If the Home Office request clarification of any point in this report, this must be provided promptly.

Once completed this report must be faxed to the Home Office IRC Team.

A signed copy of this report must be placed on the detainee's medical record and another signed copy provided to the detainee free of charge.

The Home Office response must on receipt be reviewed by the medical practitioner. If it is considered to unsatisfactorily address the original concerns, it must be escalated to the Home Office IRC Team.
