Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

I have no experience of these issues.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

3. There are already many venues such as castles and stately homes with private chapels, and there are many people who would prefer to have their wedding at the place of their reception so as to keep logistics simple. The clergy are already asked if they can officiate other than in church and currently are unable to do so, but would be glad to do so if the law permitted them to conduct weddings in other venues. Venues, whether with a private chapel, a banqueting hall or a spacious garden, are well equipped to host such a wedding, since the ceremony itself can easily be conducted without special furniture or equipment.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Greater simplicity and greater clarity will enormously assist people in both categories, particularly if all civil preliminaries are conducted in future by registrars. At present the complex rules concerning Qualifying Connections and the publication of Banns are unworkable for the clergy, let alone those seeking to be married in church.

Universal civil registration would cut many Gordian Knots.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

A simple system of civil registration for anyone wishing to obtain the legal benefits of marriage, in any circumstances, would remove many doubts, many anxieties, many misunderstandings, and enable the state to ensure that those being married were appropriately qualified to do so.

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

There is potential for reduced costs for couples by simplifying civil preliminaries. This may benefit wedding venue businesses by encouraging more people to marry and to book a reception afterwards. Freedom to provide a religious service anywhere it is sought would be of great benefit to the Churches and to other faiths in enabling them to meet the needs of those who seek a marriage ceremony according to the requirements of their faith.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDKH-N

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-07 13:55:47

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

The Baptist Union of Great Britain

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Response on behalf of an organisation

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes – we welcome this proposal as this has been a key issue for some Baptists being unable to marry in their choice of church venue.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes – this seems a sensible step.

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

In general, we would be in agreement with this suggestion. However we would be concerned that strong safeguards would be needed to protect all those involved (couples, and registration officers) from fraudulent practice.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We agree that a substitute officiant should be able to officiate in an unexpected situation.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

Baptists have a history as a dissenting denomination – we do not believe that there should be an established Church, and so do not believe that there should continue to be special arrangements for the Church of England or Church in Wales. All weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

This is a decision for the Church of England/Church in Wales to make.

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes – for Baptist churches the relevant governing body will be the local church congregational meeting.

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

We are clear that an organization which promotes purposes that are unlawful should not be enabled to nominate officiants. However, it is unclear what 'public policy or morality' means in this situation. It is 'public policy' to allow same sex marriages to take place, but many churches would not be in favour of a same sex wedding taking place under their auspices.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Whilst initially attractive, we do not feel that this would serve our churches well. As we indicated earlier, the relevant governing body for Baptist churches nominating officiants is the local church congregational meeting. If there was a pressure to nominate officiants by office rather than by name, this may serve to dissuade people from offering to serve in a particular role, or from accepting a call to ministry in that church if this includes an expectation that they will serve as an officiant. We believe it is better for people to be specifically nominated for this role.

We would hope that the costs of nominating a new officiant would be kept low enough that churches would be able to update their officiant(s) at reasonably regular intervals.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

We agree that civil wedding ceremonies should be able to have religious content, provided that the overall ceremony is identifiably secular.

We would agree that a list of specific examples of religious content should be drawn up, so that there would be consistency between civil wedding officiants.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes – it would seem that this no longer serves a useful purpose, and contributes to confusion about the legality of the marriage.

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We agree that all weddings should be legally permitted to take place anywhere, subject to the agreement of the couple and officiant, and the usual health and safety concerns. We note that particular religious/non-religious groups may impose extra conditions for weddings to meet their own requirements.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

We would not wish to pass judgement on the whether venues are suitable for a particular religious organization. For Baptist church nominated officiants, this would be a matter for the local church to decide, and just because a venue had been used for a Baptist wedding previously would not mean it was suitable on all occasions.

We see that this would be a logical step for civil weddings, however.

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

When not in a pandemic situation, the processes governing weddings of those with a terminal illness, or who are otherwise confined, works well.

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

In principle, we are happy with these suggestions. In our ecclesiology, the celebration of a wedding where none of the participants or congregation were able to be physically present in the same space would be just as valid as a wedding with everyone in the same room. We realise that such a facility would have saved much heartache in the lockdown situation earlier this year.

However, it is always for us more preferable to be able to gather together physically, and we would not wish for these emergency provisions to be used too often and so become normalized.

Additionally, as in our answer to Question 7 earlier, we urge that strong safeguards against fraud and coercion would need to be established before a completely virtual system was enabled.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

We have not been made aware of demands for Baptist weddings in international waters.

It is conceivable that a cruise ship may in future employ a chaplain, and possible that the chaplain may be asked to perform a religious wedding ceremony, but this situation has not yet occurred to the best of our knowledge.

However, we think that the current proposals contain enough flexibility for a meaningful ceremony for a couple in such a situation, should this arise in future.

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDGE-E

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-08 14:36:51

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Self Employed Celebrant

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Does anyone actually check?

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

Can it not be to suit both sides?

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

I think that is a good idea. However, if the Registrar felt that something was not right could they reserve the power to request a face to face meeting?

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

A substitute should be able to cover whichever area is needed.

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDMB-H

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-08 22:15:43

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Plymouth Brethren Christian Church

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

-- Please Select --

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

N/A

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

We had a marriage planned for 24th March which had to be postponed at the 11th hour. This was very stressful for the couple concerned. The groom had already started his journey from Somerset to West Sussex and all arrangements were in place. The couple were unable to start their life together until things could be rearranged once lockdown was over.

All of this could have been avoided had the wedding had been able to take place in the home in a covid-safe environment.

Difficulties visiting registry offices in this pandemic could also have been avoided with a simple online application process in place.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would simplify the process for those coming to England to get married.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would also simplify the process for those coming to England to get married.

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

This is an adequate time

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Agree with this

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Agree with this

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Makes perfect sense

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

A good time frame

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This will provide cover should the original officiant be unable to attend for any reason

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Removes the dependence on one person attending

Please share your views below:

Yes, if requested by the couple and the substitute is available and willing

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The officiant would be the current authorised person

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This could be the trustees of the registered building as is current with authorised persons. Even if the it's no longer a building based system.

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

An organisation that holds to the sanctity of marriage would be one with a sincerely held belief about it.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Organisations that promote what is unlawful and criminal should be excluded.

Organisations that hold to strong Christian beliefs that maybe contrary to public policy or morality (i.e. same-sex marriage) should not be excluded.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Gives accountability

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Important that responsibility is upon them to appoint suitable persons

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Sensible

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Makes sense

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

V important

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Similar to current guidelines

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Makes sense

Consultation Question 38:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I feel it is the duty of the nominating body to ensure the officiant complies.
PBCC would see this as extremely important that the officiant upholds the dignity of the occasion.

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Correct standard important

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not necessary to have a time limit

Consultation Question 41:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Professional development could be interpreted in different ways

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Good sense

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Sensible

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

wouldn't be necessary

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Impediments checked prior to wedding would remove the need for this.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as the dignity of the ceremony can be upheld

Please share your views below:

Private home in simplicity of the family setting would be a relaxed and congenial atmosphere.

Would have worked well during Covid

Would be meaningful for many couples to marry in their own home

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The officiant would have regard for the desires of the couple.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Venue should be safe and dignified and free of any risks

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, so long as not over prescriptive in relation to marriage in the home

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It would be helpful if this could be done prior to the ceremony

Consultation Question 55:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Good

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Important to have lines that cant be crossed for the marriage to be valid.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would allow for an oversight rather than a wilful stray from the obligations

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

important points to be upheld

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is a committal, not a mere presumption

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

this would be deceitful and fraudulent

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

The proposals are welcomed

In the Covid situation some may have been unable to get married and some overseas marriages have been difficult in the past.

My well lead to a greater number getting married which is good.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Marriage in the home would provide a significant cost saving for the couple and family

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The present law is restrictive for those travelling from overseas to get married in England and Wales

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

It would be helpful to

- a) Abolish the notice period or reduce it from the current 28 days
- b) Facilitate the preliminaries being done online
- c) Abolish the requirement for residence

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Simplifying arrangements will save costs

Eg Many would like the liberty to marry in the home which could represent significant cost savings to organisations and couples

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDVH-Z

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-08 22:50:36

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Plymouth Brethren Christian Church

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

I am the authorised person (responsible) for solemnising marriages at several church halls in the [REDACTED] area. I have had no immediate experience conducting a marriage during the Covid 19 pandemic.

I have had contact with friends who have had to put their marriage on hold due to the pandemic.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It would make it easier for persons coming to England to get married.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It would make it easier for persons coming to England to get married.

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

Three days would be adequate

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Agreed

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Agreed

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

At our church we have two officiants registered for the building and therefore a reserve is available if one of the officers cannot attend.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

It makes sense for a substitute officiant to be available and there may be situations where the couple request it.
I had the situation where my daughter was getting married at the church and I expected her to request the assistant authorised person to conduct the marriage. In the event she actually asked me to go ahead.

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

At present the officiant would be the current Authorised Person.

The persons getting married should also be able to choose their officiant from their church.

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If we moved away from a buildings based system it would be good for the governing authority or the trustees of that organisation to nominate the officiants.

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

At our church the sanctity of marriage is upheld and members do not live together prior to marriage.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

I agree that some organisations that promote unlawful or criminal practises should be excluded.

However organisations that have genuinely held Christian beliefs that may seem contrary to public policy (eg same sex marriage) should not be excluded.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Our church does not charge for marriage ceremonies.

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

At the same time the GRO should respect the wishes and practises of religious organisations in the conducting of their marriages.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No longer necessary

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Per example if the marriage ceremony proceeded in the home it would not be a requirement to have open doors.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I would broadly agree with this whilst the dignity of the ceremony needs to be maintained.

Please share your views below:

I particularly welcome the suggestion that weddings should be able to take place in private homes.
The ceremony can be performed in simplicity in the family setting whilst maintaining the dignity and solemnity of the occasion.

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But the officiant should be sensitive to the views of the couple as to where they are married.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This seems reasonable. Guidance should not be over prescriptive regards to weddings taking place in private dwellings.

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

These proposals simplify wedding procedures and should facilitate marriages taking place.

If this means an overall increase in the number of couples who are legally married, this would be a good result.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

It is a fact that many couples are put off getting married by the high costs involved.

If simpler and more affordable procedures were put in place (such as having the marriage ceremony in the family home), this would be a great advantage.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The current law is restrictive for persons travelling from overseas to get married in England and Wales.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Helpful reforms in this regard would be the reduction in the notice period and the abolition of the residence requirement.

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

The facility to have the marriage ceremony in the home would have significant cost savings for the couple and their families.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDGW-Z

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-09 07:49:58

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Humanists UK

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

As a celebrant I know how frustrated couples get that they have to still attend the registry office in order to be legally married when they regard the humanist ceremony as the real wedding. I would happily undertake further training and commit to CPD if my ceremonies could be legalised.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

How wonderful to allow everyone the freedom of choice to celebrate their love in their way. The current law is archaic and amendments are long overdue.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDC7-V

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-09 15:14:27

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

My partner and I are engaged. Neither of us is religious, so we would like to have a humanist ceremony without having to also organise (and pay for) a legal ceremony as well. At the moment this is not legally possible.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

My partner and I got engaged in February. Due to Covid restrictions and underlying health conditions, we have been unable to set a date, give notice, or make any arrangements since the relevant Council offices have been closed due to Covid and notice must be given in person. Some offices are now open, but demand is huge and we are still unable to set a date or make firm plans, ten months on. As I am vulnerable, we are unsure when we will be able to make plans for our legal civil partnership

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Proving residency in the country should be sufficient. Giving notice should be possible anywhere, as long as residency in the UK can be proved. The current system seems utterly archaic in the present era when people are much more mobile. If I live at my house during the week, work 60 miles away, and spend weekends with my partner in another part of the UK, being able to choose where to give notice would greatly reduce barriers.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would modernise the archaic system and bring it into the modern age. I understand the reasons why in-person interviews are required, but in times of crisis (such as the current situation) requiring in-person interviews means making plans impossible and will result in a large backlog when offices re-open. In-person interviews are also more difficult if they must be done in the area of residence (see previous question) for those of us who commute significant distances to work.

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

I have no strong feelings here. Some minimum period is sensible.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

As I suggested above, this would modernise the archaic system and bring it into the modern age. I understand the reasons why in-person interviews are required (such as those outlined in the question), but in times of crisis (such as the current situation) requiring in-person interviews means making plans impossible and will result in a large backlog when offices re-open. My partner and I are currently unable to make plans for our civil partnership ten months after we got engaged. With the current upward trend in Covid cases, and the extension of many of the rules, we may well be engaged for over a year before we can even book a date.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

This seems like a good idea. Couples in the illustrated situations must find the logistics more difficult, and this would make things simpler.

Consultation Question 9:

No

Please expand on your answer:

As a teacher, I feel strongly that notice of my intended plans should not be accessible to my students.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I have no strong feelings here.

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Definitely. Not allowing this can presumably cause unplanned delays and significant distress for those affected.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This seems logical.

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, in principle, but this would complicate things. Would a cult of 20 members be able to legally marry couples? Would there be any oversight of the authorised organisations?

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

It would be odd if organisations promoting purposes that are unlawful or contrary to public policy or morality were allowed to nominate officiants to legally marry people.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Having a public list would allow some way to check that officiants were genuine and approved. This is especially important in the situation where smaller organisation become allowed to nominate officiants, or where independent officiants are allowed.

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Someone needs to have this oversight, and this seems a sensible place to put this. There needs to be penalties if nominated officiants from a particular organisation repeatedly turn out not to be "fit and proper" persons.

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This looks like a sensible set of minimum requirements. As for some other professions, registration could be renewable every year or two, on proof of adequate CPD having been completed.

Consultation Question 32:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Everything else in the sector seems so profit-driven, it would be a bad thing if officiant fees escalated as a result of any change in the law. Officiants do need a fair fee for their services, of course, but how to manage these tensions needs some careful thought.

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

As I noted above, the sector has already reached the point where costs are astronomical.

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Religious leaders do not officiate at ceremonies or services for other faiths, neither should officiants. If a couple choose a humanist ceremony due to their beliefs, they should be able to have a specialist humanist officiant, someone who believes in and understands the principles of the organisation and its beliefs.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, but the guidance should be restricted to the mandatory legal necessities.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, but this should not be the only route.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There needs to be this mechanism as a fail-safe in cases where the organisation fails to act for any reason.

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Someone needs to have this oversight for independent officiants, and this seems more efficient than creating a new body to oversee this.

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

As with registration in other professions, there should be re-registration every so often upon evidence of still meeting the criteria and having completed sufficient CPD.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I see no conflict here. For example, singing a hymn that has special significance to the couple should be allowable, even if the rest of the ceremony is non-religious.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The restrictions are old fashioned and out of touch with the modern world.

Please share your views below:

I see no reason why the venue should be restricted on anything other than health and safety grounds, assuming permission is sought from the relevant landowner or authority. Allowing people to marry in private homes could be a valuable option for people with serious health conditions, terminal illness, or mobility problems.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Assuming all parties agree, I see no reason to prohibit such arrangements.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

That seems logical. Training in what is appropriate and legal would need to form part of the mandatory training.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is logical. Although how it would be enforced/monitored is another matter.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This seems like a sensible way to speed up the process for regularly-used venues.

Please share your views below:

The General Register Office could hold records of pre-approval, which officiants could then check easily.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would be more equal than the current rules.

Consultation Question 55:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Given the problems caused by the current situation, and the resulting backlog, absolutely. The technology is there.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

For couples who cannot afford the costs of arranging an event, this is a realistic affordable option and should remain.

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDG1-T

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-09 15:41:56

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

KSIMC of

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Response on behalf of an organisation

If other, please state::

West Midlands

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

zoom interview

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

same for minister of religions for other faith

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDGR-U

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-09 22:36:34

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Cost of authorised premises use

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The reasons for this being in place is historical and has no relevance where people are more mobile and are not restricted on movement. It is an unnecessary bit of red tape that adds more administration to a process that does not need or gain value from. I would save costs both for the couple and the council

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as each person has a in person assessment to avoid pressure from external influence that may identify forced marriages or coercion

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

The problem with an initial remote interview followed by an in person one if there are concerns may raise suspicions with those involved with sham marriages. Although I am loathed to say this, but I feel that in person interviews should be retained in light of this, and remote used in exceptional circumstances

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Agree that notice should be able to be given outside of England and Wales whether necessary

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Agree

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

For consistency

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Should be required to undertake same training as civil officiants,

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Agree

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Providing they have attained a certain level of training

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But also external vetting to get on the register

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

There should be no conflict of interest whatsoever, and fees should be set centrally

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This should be the responsibility of the general register office

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Officiants should have to seek reauthorisation, proving compliance

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Or the local office, where a location is submitted for review and approval

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There should be exclusions set out of any, and a process for appeal if denied by any one officiant

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Annual submissions by the venue/location for review by general register office or local office

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Agree with mistakes and lack of witnesses

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Fixed time limit should remain

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This cost should not be borne by the taxpayer

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Cost of licenced premises is prohibitive, when most people would just like to share the day and their commitment with friends and family. Long waiting times and inflated prices due to the restrictive nature of licenced premises is definitely putting myself off a wedding involving family and friends

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Many register offices are not pleasant buildings, which deter people. Approved premises hike prices up, as they know people will go into debt to have a nice wedding. Allowing a greater choice of location will help couples choose somewhere suitable for their needs and wishes, reducing the number who get into debt as a result.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDG4-W

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-09 23:29:59

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Response on behalf of an organisation

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

N/A

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I was married by an independent celebrant

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Because I am not religious and register office weddings are cold and soulless

No

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

As a celebrant, have lost all weddings thatwete to be legalized in a registry office, but have had more intimate couple elopements than ever.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I think this is unfair and restrictive

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would allow more choice

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

i think seven days with a clause that for those in hospital or hospice with a reduced life span could bypass this

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

No, I feel in person is safer.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

yes, this consultation is about choice

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

absolutely, the right thing, transparency is key

Consultation Question 10:

No

Please expand on your answer:

18 months.

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

yes

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

totally necessary. as long as the substitute has training and affiliation.

Please share your views below:

this is vague

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

.

Consultation Question 14:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

.

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

yes to the second

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

n/a

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

as long as celebrants are considered for legal civil ceremonies

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

as long as this includes both independent and humanist celebrants

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

as long as this includes both independent and humanist celebrants

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

as long as this includes both independent and humanist celebrants

Consultation Question 22:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

independent celebrants are independent. we follow guidelines but ate not chosen by our representatives

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

yes absolutely

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

no

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important couples can choose

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

but should be allowed to add individual elements to the ceremony that are in keeping with the couples wishes. who gets to choose eja is dignified?

Consultation Question 36:

No

Please expand on your answer:

at present the way civil weddings take place is outdated and is unsuitable for many. our training and continued development prepares us for or this role.

training is needed only for legalities

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important, many Christians wish to be married in law, invite god into their wedding but have been ostracized by the church. prayers are welcome anywhere.

Please share your views below:

no examples, we are professionals and should not suppress imagination.

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

we are in a changing world and choice is key.

Please share your views below:

no restrictions as long as its in the uk

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 50:

No

Yes

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

we are professionals and have training, this should fall within our remit

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important. We should be charged with choosing what is dignified.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

N/a

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

i think people who are terminally ill should be allowed to forego the normal notice period.
those who are housebound should be allowed to have a home visit to give notice.

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 64:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

don't know

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

yes if covid has taught us anything!

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

no

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

extremely important

Consultation Question 72:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No reason what a wualified and exoerenced celebrant can not take on this role

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

yes, but they dont want to be married by ships crew. they have a job they are expert at. Independent celebrants have a job they are expert at. Lets not muddy the waters.

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Some people just want to sign the documents sobthis should always be possible.

Consultation Question 78:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This should not happen. This is the job we already do as independant

Consultation Question 79:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

There should be no pre approval. This will lead to limited choces of a different sort.

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

thousands of individuals chose to have independent celebrant weddings for the ability to have choice. please be careful not to create a different sort of prejudice.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

it is unfair to ask couples to pay twice for a legal certificate of marriage when they have had an individual wedding already. It is farcical. This is 2020 and this pandemic has shown as that family is important but also that big huge weddings are not always needed. small intimate garden weddings are my specialty and it breaks my heart that I can not legally marry my couples, who have to undergo what they believe is a sham wedding at the local registry office in order to be legally married.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD47-D

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-11 15:44:24

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

The Heritage Alliance

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Response on behalf of an organisation

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We strongly support the Law Commission's core proposal of their provisional scheme to regulate the officiant rather than regulating the building in which the wedding is held. Many of our members find the law governing weddings bureaucratic and complex, which prevents our world-renowned heritage sites from hosting weddings and generating additional income. We do not think the law should limit weddings in any particular venues, in particular, we think a wider variety of buildings (including historic houses), outdoor sites (such as private parks or gardens of heritage sites) as well as historic mobile heritage, such as trains and boats, should be allowed to host weddings.

We also strongly disagree with the current requirement that each person should have been resident in England and Wales for seven days before giving notice as this makes it more difficult for some couples to marry and prevents others from doing so altogether. Heritage is a key part of the UK brand and tourism offer. Changing the outdated residency requirement would have an important and significant impact on the heritage sector as many couples who have no prior connections to England and Wales may be attracted by our rich heritage and want to marry in a castle, stately home or another historic venue. By attracting international couples who wish to marry in the UK, our heritage will be strengthened as a beacon for international tourism and generate more income.

Please share your views below:

Please see the answer above. We do not think the law should limit weddings in any particular venues, in particular, we think a wider variety of buildings (including historic houses), outdoor sites (such as private parks or gardens of heritage sites) as well as historic mobile heritage, such as trains and boats, should be allowed to host weddings.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We do not think that the public nature of a wedding necessarily means that it cannot take place in a private venue, for example, a private historic house.

Consultation Question 50:

Other

Other

Other

Please expand on your answer:

The Heritage Alliance does not have strong views on this question, but we support Historic Houses' position on point 2 that some historic venues have private chapels in which they would like to be able to use for small civil weddings and would be an appropriate and popular option for some couples, particularly older couples - see paragraph 7.155 of the consultation paper.

Some of our member organisations also care for churches which remain consecrated buildings. These churches are bound by the terms of the conveyances of all Anglican churches. A wedding in these churches requires a Special Licence from the Archbishop of Canterbury's Registrar which is a timely and expensive process. One member told us that "Despite lots of enquiries annually, a couple of people per year choose to apply for a licence from the Archbishop of Canterbury, and most are turned down. Using our churches for weddings is one of the ways in which we can generate income for the building's upkeep, but the current system does not make this easy." Changing the rules around weddings in churches is likely to have a positive impact on income, allowing churches at risk to be repaired and restored.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This proposal would help to reduce unnecessary, costly regulation, most apparent in the current process of approved premises for civil weddings that currently affects our members. Please see our answer to question 48 for detail.

Consultation Question 52:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, we agree. Guidance to offer advice to officiants on how to assess whether a wedding location is safe and dignified would be welcome, but we agree with the Law Commission's proposal that the law doesn't need to impose explicit requirements.

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD49-F

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-11 18:15:16

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Humanists UK

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

As a celebrant, the Humanist weddings I conduct are not legally recognised in England and Wales (although they are in Scotland, Northern Ireland and other jurisdictions)

I myself was married in a Humanist wedding ceremony, so had to 'legalise' the marriage separately with a civil ceremony.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As a celebrant - I make the couples I work with fully aware that humanist ceremonies do not currently have legal status in England and Wales.

As an individual - yes I was fully aware that a humanist ceremony is not legally recognised.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As a celebrant - The majority of couples choose to also have a civil ceremony to 'make it legal' (and feel forced to do so). Couples choose a humanist ceremony for many reasons, but mainly to reflect their personal values (conducted by a celebrant who shares those values) in a meaningful way to them. For humanists and non religious people, this is not possible through any form of legal marriage currently. Some end up opting for a legal civil ceremony (even though they would prefer the humanist marriage) because they cannot afford both.

As an individual - My deeply-held humanist beliefs should be given the same status as faith-based religions. It feels deeply unfair that a Christian or Muslim can be legally married in a religious ceremony, and yet a humanist must go to a civil venue that has no connection to their values or beliefs.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I (along with most of the couples I work with) felt forced into a civil ceremony that bore no relation to my beliefs. This also has a huge financial implication in having to effectively pay for 2 wedding ceremonies, vs religious people who don't.

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Humanist weddings are not legally recognised in England and Wales. This means that humanist couples, unlike their religious counterparts, cannot have a legally recognised marriage conducted by a suitable officiant who shares their beliefs. The available legally recognised ceremony cannot fully express their humanist beliefs and values.

And the restrictions on locations mean that many cannot have a legally binding marriage in the location that is most meaningful to them, unlike religious couples.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

The frequently changing regulations have been disruptive for all wedding couples, but for humanists more than most, because of the differing regulation of humanist weddings at times, as well as the need to re-plan and book two ceremonies rather than one to be legally married.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

yes

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

As a celebrant accredited by Humanists UK, my colleagues and I share humanist beliefs and values, as well as being trained to a similar professional standard.

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes if Humanist ceremonies were legally recognised

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I cannot see any reason to maintain the requirement to have a registrar at any religious or belief-based marriages. Their presence also leads to unhelpful confusion as to whether such marriages are actually civil marriages.

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I support a move away from a law that bases recognition of marriages exclusively on the buildings in which they take place, which discriminates against those citizens whose beliefs accord with groups (including humanists) that don't have places of worship.

Nomination by recognised responsible organisations (religious bodies, Humanists UK, etc.) is appropriate.

With that said, I am concerned about the ease with which bodies purporting to be religion or belief groups could be established in order to gain the power for officiants to conduct marriages in any location – which could lead to de facto commercial operators taking monetary advantage of this. We need some way to ensure that the organisations responsible for approving officiants truly exist for faith/belief based purposes rather than primarily commercial gain.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I object strongly to this. the law should simply refer to those beliefs that are relevantly protected under Article 9 of the European Convention on Human Rights – as these are the beliefs that the UK has a legal duty to extend recognition to.

My objections are as follows:

1. The proposed definition does not make clear that the sole or principal purpose of the organisation must be to advance its belief system. This is essential in order to stop de facto commercial operators springing up who identify with a particular belief system but whose sole or principal purpose is in fact the provision of legally recognised marriages and associated activities. NB that 'sole or principal purpose' is a feature of the Marriage (Same-Sex Couples) Act 2013 definition
2. This definition would admit beliefs that on any account should be excluded. I believe a requirement that the beliefs of any belief or faith organisation must be cogent, serious, cohesive and worthy of respect in a democratic society, be compatible with human dignity; and not conflict with the fundamental rights of others – as per wider case law around human rights, and the Equality Act 2010.
3. The word 'secular' is a heavily overloaded and ambiguous term with many, often contradictory definitions. Examples of secular organisations include football clubs, the Natural History Museum, the Conservative Party, and so on.
4. I would prefer an approach that relies on human rights case law as it relates to non-religious beliefs, rather than one that attempts to create a definition based on a case (Hodkin) that turned on the legal definition of worship. The law could refer to non-religious beliefs protected by Article 9 of the European Convention on Human Rights that are therefore analogous to religions. This would unambiguously line up marriage law with what human rights law requires. It would also limit which non-religious belief organisations are authorised to conduct marriages to those that are analogous to religions, and those with an intrinsically linked belief about marriage. That would avoid many of the problems that could arise if a more Equality Act-style definition is pursued, given the large number of other beliefs (e.g., about specific topics such as veganism, public service broadcasting, and so on) that have been recognised as meriting protection under the definition of 'philosophical beliefs'.

Please share your views below:

Rather we need a statutory definition of what DOES constitute a non-religious belief is vs requiring a list of excluded groups. It should be straightforward to create a sufficiently restrictive definition as to capture the relevant non-religious groups while excluding any other groups.

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I worry that these minimal proposed qualifications could lead to reckless commercialisation at the hands of groups that purport to be aligned to some religion or belief but in fact are primarily motivated by commercial interests.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

I agree with excluding organisations that promote unlawful purposes.

BUT the phrase 'contrary to public policy or morality' is far too vague. Humanism and Atheism for instance were contrary to public policy, e.g. in the case of same sex marriage (and still are in some respects, e.g. challenging policy on assisted dying, state schools etc).

Who gets to decide what is and isn't contrary to public policy or morality?

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This would pave the way for an unrestricted market for commercially motivated independent celebrants, in competition with civil officiants. None of the reasons given for extending legal recognition to marriages conducted by commercial celebrants is strong – they all focus on benefits for the celebrants themselves, rather than for couples.

The risk to these couples is in undermining the quality, dignity and sincerity of marriage.

Personally as a humanist celebrant, this is a vocation for me rather than a profit-focused enterprise. I have the couple's needs, values and beliefs in mind first and foremost. Many commercial celebrants claim to be able to perform 'humanist weddings', in spite of having received no training in how to do so - thus undermining our ability to help maintain standards and consistency.

Consultation Question 30:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I agree in principle, but the responsibility shouldn't be purely on the organisation. The registrar general should also have the power to remove accreditation, as well as all officiants being required to be fully DBS checked (as Humanists UK already requires)

Consultation Question 31:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I do not think that commercial celebrants should gain legal recognition for their marriages, so this question should not arise.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, my colleagues in Northern Ireland and Scotland already operate under this system. They charge a reasonable fee for their work, reflecting the time and effort put into crafting a humanist ceremony, and any profiteering is avoided.

However, ceremonies do vary in how much they cost to provide! Humanist ceremonies are entirely bespoke to each couple, written to reflect perfectly who they are, their personal histories, their values and their families. I spend extensive time getting to know the couple. I familiarise myself with the venue in advance of the ceremony, so that it can be best utilised in proceedings, which often includes holding a rehearsal.

I do all of these things because it is intrinsic to humanist ceremonies to make the ceremony as meaningful as possible to the couple and their loved ones. This flows from the core humanist belief that the meaning in our lives is not pre-determined by faith but created ourselves. So my job is very time intensive!

This is in strong contrast to other types of ceremony I've experienced, e.g. where a religion defines a standard script. Registrars similarly follow fairly standard scripts, with little variation, and usually don't meet the couple they're marrying before the day of the wedding. So I generally put a lot more time into each ceremony than other officiants do. I typically spend about 30-60 hours per ceremony - in other words, up to 1.5 working weeks! So my fee reflects the time and effort put into each ceremony. This is NOT about profit, but is just a reflection that such ceremonies involve much more work.

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I do not think that commercial celebrants should gain legal recognition for their marriages, so this question should not arise.

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

it depends on how restrictive the guidance is, and whether it undermines the central reasons and values that define a humanist ceremony.

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Civil marriage serves a distinct purpose: it is a form of marriage available for those who don't want to get married in a way that expresses a particular religion or belief.

Please share your views below:

none should be allowed, it muddies the waters vs belief based marriages

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Humanist weddings often take place in private homes and gardens. Keeping the requirement for open doors would be problematic. As well as unwelcome intrusion on these deeply personal occasions, it raises the risk of opportunistic trespassing/ theft etc

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, the venue for a humanist wedding is often chosen for a deeply significant link to the couple's relationship, and this is an essential element of the way I help couples plan their ceremonies.

(With certain caveats, e.g. not to undermine the dignity of the occasion, not to cause a public obstruction, cause a safety issue etc)

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

Yes it should be technically possible, with previously stated caveats re dignity, safety etc.

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

No

Please expand on your answer:

In a hired events venue (e.g. hotel, stately home etc) the venue should take responsibility and liability for safety.

In a private venue e.g. a home or garden, the couple (or owners of the home) should be responsible.

In a public space e.g. beach, countryside, clifftop - the liability should rest with the couple.

In any case, all should have suitable insurance and the officiant should not have statutory responsibility for this.

No

Please expand on your answer:

It should not be the officiant's statutory responsibility

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Although I am a humanist celebrant I believe in the right of everyone to choose the option of a cheap and simple legal ceremony with no religious or belief-based content.

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Yes! In my experience, many couples give up the idea of a humanist ceremony because they cannot afford the double expense of that and a register office civil ceremony.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD4V-C

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-11 18:42:49

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

N/A

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

N/A

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

N/A

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I am not yet married. But we are due to get married July 2021 and want to do so in a meaningful but non religious way. That focuses our wedding on us rather than either God or the Law.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

When we started to look at weddings we had no idea that there was this archaic issue in English and Welsh law. We had (wrongly) assumed that we could have a celebrant marry us. It has caused us great frustration that in this modern age and multicultural Britain that we have only the option of an impersonal legal ceremony or pretending to believe in God. It leaves non religious couples left with only a perfunctory, bureaucratic and impersonal ceremony to be legally married. Whilst religious couples are afforded the luxury of a personal all-in-one ceremony. Or non religious couples have to fake it to make it and have a church wedding - which isn't right for them and undermines the importance of that process for people who do have a faith. It is discriminatory against non religious people and people who do not hold a Christian or Catholic faith. If Northern Ireland can make this happen then there is no excuse for England and Wales!

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Again, not yet married. Next July 2021. See above answer.
We want a legally binding personal marriage.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

See above. Not yet married. But i can image this must cause awful issues for people who find they aren't legally married.

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

See above. Not yet married. We want to have the celebrant do a personal ceremony that results in us being legally married.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

We have had huge problems registering our intent to marry. We were told to do this a year in advance so first enquired around August 2020. We were told to go away and not get in touch again until January as they were dealing with wedding immediately affected by Covid. This is fair and understandable. We asked again in December and were told to come back in February/March. This is very stressful as that is getting quite close to the wedding date and we want to ensure we have all the paperwork in order to proceed. This seems a very archaic process and could be easily solved if you allow people to do it by post or online. It was also solve this massive Covid induced backlog that registry offices face! We have also been unable to get wedding insurance despite being for July 2021 - no one has been selling since March.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

See my previous answer regarding this. I agree completely. There is no need to do it in person. This could be done online or by post. If it needs to be done at frankly. People don't take marriage lightly. They understand the significance of it. Many people don't get married where they live as well - so it makes no sense. We have to register in [REDACTED] but we are marrying in [REDACTED] - this seem unnecessary bureaucracy.

Consultation Question 5:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I agree to the first half of the statement but not the second. Why do they need an interview at all? What is the purpose? If it is required then why does it need to be in person? Yes definitely allow registration via post and online. It doesn't need to be in person. The person who marries them will see them on the day! I don't really understand how your suggestion improves the problem if someone still has to interview?

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

I don't think there needs to be an interview at all.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Yep, totally agree. I don't think there needs to be an interview at all. However, if there does, then remote interview makes so much more sense - more time efficient and more cost effective. Agree in person should be considered in the cases you outline above.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes, they should be able to register from wherever they live so as not to cause unnecessary delay due to outdated bureaucratic purposes. Why punish them for being elsewhere for likely very valid reasons?

Consultation Question 9:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I have no opinion on this matter. I don't really see why marriages need to be published these days. But if you're going to do it then online makes sense.

Consultation Question 10:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

12 months seems reasonable under normal circumstances. But i would argue that Covid has shown that maybe we need more flexibility in the process. I know of many couples who registered one year in advance (as instructed) only to have to move their wedding (sometimes several times) due to Covid and find that their registration had run out! This causes unnecessary stress for them and for the local registration service.

Consultation Question 11:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Why does an officiant need to be named at all? Surely as long as they are someone 'approved' to deliver ceremonies then that's fine.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely.

Please share your views below:

What 'other circumstances'?

Yeah, makes sense that someone else can step in if needed but maybe need to expand on what you mean here?

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why shouldn't they? Isn't this whole exercise about making the process easier and more united? Why make it more difficult! Publish the banns wherever you like and get married wherever you like. Why complicate the process?

Let's say you live in Scotland but you are marrying in England for whatever reason. You for real are going to have to schlep over the border to get your banns read? That's daft. Go to your local and do the banns there then get married where you like. Its not the 1800s anymore!

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As a non religious couple we won't have banns read - not needed for us. But i don't see why folk can't do that in any church of their choosing - crack on! I agree the war damage thing is pretty outdated.

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Again, this is over complicating the matter. if they have to be published at all then do it online - then anyone can look if they so feel the burning desire.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Again, as a non religious person this doesn't apply to me and they already have the jammy deal of getting the all-in-one personal and legal ceremony. However, makes sense that the clergy should be able to see proof that the couple are who they say they are. Don't see why they need to meet them separately unless their is genuine concern for some reason.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Don't they do that in the ceremony?

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales; or

Please expand on your answer:

I think if you are of any faith then you should have the option to have your wedding officiated by someone of significance for you - be that a Vicar, Imam, Priest, Rabbi etc. If you are that religious then it should be that you can reflect that.

However, if you do not have a faith (like me) then you should be allowed someone of significance to you to officiate. Otherwise it isn't fair. eg. a family member or friend, or a celebrant.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Whilst i think the marriage process at the moment is way too over complicated and archaic i do agree and acknowledge that there needs to be some level of process behind it. Just reduce the number of hoops to get through before that point.

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Disagree. Unless officers are given more freedom. Officers are only allowed to do the bare minimum legal stuff. They don't have the freedom to make the ceremony personal.

there is a very simple solution here - make Celebrants and religious leaders able to legally marry people. Don't keep that only to Vicars and Priests. Give it to others. This will make life so much easier, clear the massive backlog of covid delayed weddings and allow people to have personal ceremonies that reflect their beliefs/views and that is legally binding.

Consultation Question 21:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

See my above answer. I cannot see why you would need two. See above answer for more detail.

Consultation Question 22:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

As a non religious person i don't know enough about this to comment. But it sounds like a rational thing to do.

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Again - see my answer above - this is the idea solution! Make it so Imams, Rabbis etc can marry people. And make it so that Celebrants can marry people or other significant community members (non-religious)

Consultation Question 24:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I agree to an extent. Yes, make non-religious organisations able to officiate weddings. Agree.

But this is making an assumption that if you do not have a religion then you must have some kind of alternative belief system. This is a big assumption and non necessarily the case. I want my ceremony to reflect and be about me, my partner, our life and our love and commitment to each other. It is not based on some kind of organisational belief system.
You risk here alienating people further.

Please share your views below:

This is a very poorly worded question and i do not understand what you are asking.

See above answer. What organisations are you referring to here?

I think if you are non religious then you should be able to choose a Celebrant - either a professional carer celebrant or you should be able to nominate a person of significance to you - a family member/friend/community figure - who is given temporary power to officiate the wedding.

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Again, you are making huge assumptions that non religion must mean some kind of other belief? What are you referring to here? Are you assuming that because i am not religious that i go and pray to Saturn or something? I think you risk not achieving the need here.

Are you saying like the rugby club could marry us because they have 20 people 'meet to further their beliefs' about rugby?

You are making huge assumptions about non religious people's beliefs. I believe in the goodness of people, i believe in my relationship with my partner - what club am i supposed to be going to for this? You should not have to be part of an organisation to get married.

Make it so i can nominate a celebrant and have a wedding that is about me and my fiance.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes i agree. I want freedom to nominate who i want to officiate my wedding. But i agree that there need to be moral and legal parameters so that you aren't nominating a murdered or neo-Nazi or something awful like that.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Yes. I agree.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes i agree but you could solve this by having temporary nominations as well. So let's say for example - i want my friend to officiate my wedding - you could give them a licence of some kind that is valid for a certain period. Then you don't need to worry about a big long list except for people who are regular officiants.

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, totally agree. See all my previous answers for more detail on this.

Consultation Question 30:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

You need to define what 'fit and proper' means before i can comment on this.

Consultation Question 31:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I agree with points 1 and 2. I do not agree with point 3. They need to know what to do to run the ceremony and for you to legally rubber stamp it. See my earlier point about temporary officiants.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes agree. Although that's what registrars and celebrants already do. We are having to fork out a fortune to have both services - daylight robbery when you compare to what a church couple has to pay. Though, i do consider that Celebrants should have charge a moderate and reasonable fee so that they can actually run. I'd happily pay one fee - i resent having to pay two.

Consultation Question 33:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I do not fully understand the question. Seems like there are two different questions here. What do you consider a conflict of interest? What does that have to do with fees?

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I don't really see why they can't do both. If they can do religious stuff for a religious couple and then non religious stuff for a non religious couple then why not? Go for it. As long as they know how to separate and reflect the values of the couple.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes. Marriage needs to be made much simpler and much more personal. I see that as only helping to make it more dignified and solemn and then it will be about the couple and not about God or the Law.

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Reasonable and moderate guidance that is not limiting to the ceremony. We are currently trying to get our registrar and celebrant to get along so we can have a personal and legal ceremony and it is a major pain in the a***. It's like trying to get squabbling siblings to get along. The registrar is so prohibitive. You need to give them GENTLE guidance that they can build a deeply personal ceremony around.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Makes sense. But again, go back to my earlier idea about temporary officiants.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

See my earlier answer. I think you could have some who are 'permanent' eg a career celebrant or a vicar. Then you could have temporary officiants for if someone wants a family member/friend/community figure to officiate.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Though i think this would only apply to career officiants, not temporary ones.

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is overly complicated but in principle, yes.

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely! Let people get married how they like, where they like and by who they like.

That could be in a church, with a vicar in a religious ceremony or it could be in a forest, by a friend with a personal ceremony about their commitment to each other (as people not because God or the Law says so)

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, let people do what they want.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, if folk want to chuck in a prayer or a hymn, but don't want the full church shindig, then let them.

Please share your views below:

I don't see why someone couldn't include a small religious aspect in a civil ceremony. Even if it's just to keep the granny happy. Example might be - wine and bread or breaking glass underfoot?

Consultation Question 46:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I do not understand the question. But 1949 was a while ago.

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

What?! I didn't even know that was a thing! Yes, definitely repeal that please. Side note, i have definitely been to weddings where they closed the doors - are these not legal weddings?

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

100% agree! Yes! Please! Gardens, beaches, museums, mountains! Anywhere and everywhere! (within reason - not like the middle lane of the M25)

Please share your views below:

No, please do not limit them. Allow people to have them anywhere (as long as the location does not present a real and present danger to life)

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Anywhere. Everywhere.

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

So, i believe that people should be allowed to get married wherever and however they like. I believe that totally. I find it unfair that currently the law favours christian/catholic couples. However, i do think that we should not undermine the sanctity of religious places for people who are religious.

If you are not religious then i do not think you should risk devaluing a religious site that has real spiritual significance for people.

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No, the site should be chosen by the couple. The officiant should agree as long as it is safe and reasonable to access. Again, this goes back to my temporary officiant idea - if i got a hiking friend officiated then they could marry us on top of Scafell Pike.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Although i would argue that 'dignified' is open to interpretation and means different things to different people.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Reasonable and moderate guidance. I agree - not the middle of the M25 or a Burger King toilet. But there should not be too strict a limitations on what is considered 'dignified' as that means different things to different people.

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, but it must be optional - not essential.

Please share your views below:

The couple could supply photos/info to the officiant in advance. Again, i think this should be optional and more for awareness rather than a process.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes to 1, 2 and 3 - as long as you make the registration process simpler and more flexible and you have more people officiated.

4 - I don't see why same sex or different sex marriages should be any different. They should be the same.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

However, what is the mistake on the schedule is not their fault?

Consultation Question 58:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

See my earlier answer to q57

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This is a tricky one. I think there should be something to say you are officially married and this should be clearly communicated. This can affect access to pensions, life insurance, child custody etc etc and i think there needs to be a clear rule on what qualifies you for these things or doesn't.

I hear too many stories of people suffering hardship because they thought they had rights that they do not.

Whatever you decide - communicate it very clearly to avoid that suffering.

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

I can see that the bureaucracy and limitations of the current marriage law could make it incredibly difficult for people in these circumstances. Make it easier.

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No, do not make terminally ill people be interviewed! As long as they are of sound mind that they want to marry and are not being taken advantage of then let them get married. If you have to interview them then do it remotely.

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Make it even more flexible.

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Make it even more flexible.

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely agree with all of the above. Especially pertinent with the impact of Covid.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Any vessel that is safe.

Consultation Question 71:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

But what if it is not a ship?

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Within reason.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

I don't see why not. Might be necessary in some circumstances.

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, if that is their preference amongst alternatives.

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Within reason.

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Within reason.

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Within reason.

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

I feel the registration service could have a buffer fund for these minority cases. or if you temporarily appoint someone then there would be no fee.

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Yes, i think current laws do prevent people from getting married as they can't get married in a way that expresses their views.

I do think there would be an increase in marriages because people would be given validation to celebrate their union in a way that is meaningful to them without having to compromise. I think currently many people can feel that 'marriage is not for them' because it does not reflect them. But if we can make it so that their marriage can reflect them then this will encourage people to do it.

More marriage means more stability and fewer issues if one person dies.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1. We are getting married July 2021. We are having to pay a large fee for the registrar and another large fee for the Celebrant. This is a huge chunk of our budget. We are having to pay two costs in order to have a ceremony that is both significant to us and legal. We re also having ongoing problems getting them to work together. We still do not have a resolution on this and don't know whether we can have them work together in one ceremony or if we will have to go to registry office before. Which really devalues the act of marriage and makes me feel like a second class citizen when i see how my friends who have married in churches get treated.

2. The cost of our venue is large. We chose it because we liked it. However, had we had the options outlined in this proposal then we may not have done. If the registrar makes us have the legal bit at the registry office before then it will have felt pretty pointless booking a registered venue that then wasn't required.

3. N/A

4. N/A

5. As outlined above - we are having to pay two fees equating to over £1000. This is a huge sum of money compared to the minimal costs a couple pay for a church wedding.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1. As outlined above. Clear benefits. Reduced pressure on registrars and registry offices. Huge savings to couples as they will only have to pay one fee instead of two.

2. Again, this would be a huge saving as this would mean couples would not be bound by having to choose approved registered venues that can charge a premium for being registered.

3. I have outlined the issues of this in my previous answer to q86. Please refer to that. Financial costs, emotional costs, frustration that we have booked a venue at great cost that if you approve this - we wouldn't have needed to do! Please make the change for the future.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

1. I can't answer this question.

2. Availability is scarce. We are having frustrations and stress trying to get the registrar to agree to work with the celebrant. We are frustrated that if they can't play nice together that we will have to have a separate registrar appointment that may not be the same day. So we would not be legally married on the day that we are actually married.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

I've kind of outlined this already and this is the longest form in the history of forms.

I think there would be massive benefits to all parties.

Less pressure on registrars.

Less cost and more choice to couples.

More people getting married.

More opportunity for places to advertise and operate as wedding venues, improving the economy and likely bringing down the cost of existing registered venues.

Marriage enjoying a renaissance as it is changed to reflect the people of Britain today.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

What law? Please expand.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Less pressure on them to do the notice of marriage.

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Currently make it difficult. The changes would improve things.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Currently make it difficult. The changes would improve things.

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No opinion.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No opinion.

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

I've outlined this in a previous questions in this section. Please refer to that. Benefits to all.

To sum up:

There's a very easy win here.

Allow people to get married how and where they want - that will lower the costs for couples, increase choice, reduce current differences between religious and non religious people, make their ceremonies personal and reflect them and increase marriage take up and help the economy.

Allow more people to become officiants - reduce pressure and stress on registrars (especially with the impacts of covid), clear covid wedding backlog, allow couples to have ceremonies that reflect them, allow couples to have someone of significance to them marry them.

Simplify the register to marry process - reduce costs, improve efficiency, clear covid backlog and reduce stress on couples and registrars.

There is so much win here. So much opportunity to benefit everyone and make marriage fit for 21st century Britain. Please please please make these changes. I wrote to my MP about this and he was about as much use as a chocolate teapot on the matter. I only wish the changes were going to happen in time for me and my fiance so we could have the wedding we want. Instead of having to fork out for a licensed venue (that if the registrar refuses to play with the celebrant then we won't even need to have booked!) and this mediation between the law and what we want (which really isn't very out there - just a ceremony that is about us and our life together). Thank you.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD4E-U

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-12 08:38:45

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Humanists UK

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

Just to say, I have dictated my answers into my phone. Sometimes the speech recognition goes wrong and although I have checked, you may see something weird but you will get the gist of what I mean!

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

N/a

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Single person that is working as a celebrant for Humanists UK

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/a

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/a

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

N/a

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

All weddings I would have conducted have been postponed.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Sensible.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I say yes but I think the word 'interview' sets up the wrong premise.

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

I have no real opinion on this.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Difficult issue. You are implying that the interviewer is skilled enough to make a judgement. If so, he/she should be able to do the same remotely.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

I think this should remain in place.

Consultation Question 9:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Again, skill comes into assessment. The couple could effectively sway this. Looking at the question, this appears to be a new provision. If so, I don't really see the necessity for it.

Consultation Question 10:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No opinion on this.

Consultation Question 11:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Especially if a 12 months gap between registration and event is in place

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Does happen I should be made as smooth as possible

Please share your views below:

Definitely! People can fall out, change their mind, get sick, anything can happen so maximum flexibility is needed

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I have no opinion on this

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Would make life easier

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

I have no opinion about this

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Definitely not! they are not impartial and should not have any power over the couple.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Sensible

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

Same as reason given in question 16

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Definitely this should be the case. All aspects must be covered

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

They should stick to the area they know

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Why is there any need for more than one person? Perhaps the paperwork should be checked and verified by someone else before the ceremony?

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Sensible

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Sensible

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Wedding seems fine to me

Please share your views below:

Hells Angels Chapters???? Residents Associations??? I mean how can you possibly get a list that covers everything? There will be a situation where an organisation provides a test case. Very difficult to put a good answer here. In principle I think a list is good but a minefield to administer.

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should avoid bogus organisations

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

The law should not exclude religious organisations there should be one set of rules for everybody

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Know the individual should be trained to perform these ceremonies

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes this is a good idea as it validates the officiant

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The officiant should apply themselves as suggested, not the organisation on the officiant's behalf. I say this because some organisations will not have as effective administrative back up and may take a while to get around to paperwork.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Organisations should check that they're fissions or working properly on a regular basis

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is vital. In my case I am a celebrant for humanists UK. I am about to move to a very remote area of Wales. There should be a well described approach to how this is done. It would be, for instance, expensive to have to travel long distance to comply face-to-face for mandatory training. Therefore an option should be offered enabling a person to train online and with an application like zoom etc.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Definitely agree, it would be hard to have it any other way because we definitely don't do this for the money!

Consultation Question 33:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

What's a conflict of interest? Does this mean I couldn't marry my son or daughter? this question needs to be made much clearer

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think a celebrant should be able to perform a wedding ceremony regardless of the route belief being proposed

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I do agree that a ceremony should be dignified and that parts of it should be solemn. However an element of light and joy, that could be described as undignified, is often requested by couples. There needs to be flexibility for a couple, so that they receive precisely what they want for a wedding. It should however, have the aforementioned elements included

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Sensible

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Sensible

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agree

Consultation Question 39:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

You need to define how you monitor. It certainly couldn't be by reviewing the script because that would hold sensitive data. Are you really proposing that you would send a person to watch the ceremony? That would be logistically very difficult presumably.

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Sensible

Consultation Question 41:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Anyone who is a celebrant is continually developing their skills. If you're busy, it's extremely difficult to allocate time to undertake compulsory professional development. Celebrants and officiants should be encouraged to professionally develop themselves on a voluntary basis. Personally, I hate being policed by humanists UK, who do a very thorough job and are a superb organisation; but I resent constant notifications telling me that I need to do this or that!

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

All points seem appropriate

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We specialise in individual ceremonies that are created by the couple and the celebrant combined with a view to completing an enriching and meaningful experience

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Definitely agree

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agreed

Please share your views below:

No specific examples. Anything appropriate or requested could be looked at and agreed between the parties

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Definitely agree

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Sensible

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Would make life easier

Please share your views below:

No limits should be imposed

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Again no limit should be imposed and there is no need for public access

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

The church can be a beautiful place and if a non-religious couple want to marry in a beautiful place it should be allowed. Conversely, if a religious couple want to be married on a cliff top that should be allowed

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The officiant or celebrant, should allow the couple to choose the place and support them in their choice.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Deficient needs to support the couple but should be in a position to confirm that the venue is accessible and safe

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Helpful

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Would be helpful

Please share your views below:

The celebrant or officiant should approve it by either personal knowledge or if necessary inspection

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Important for historical record

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

A basic human right and not problematic

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Why not now? Agreed

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Sensible

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should always be witnesses present

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Necessary and agreed

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This gives freedom for people to live their lives the way they want to and so is agreed

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

You are either married or not married there is no grey area!

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Sensible

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Essential

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

I have not been involved with anything like this. I think each case should be viewed separately and with a well-trained celebrant or officiant, (also with relevant support) a judgement could be made on whether to go ahead or not. Perhaps a second person's opinion would be sensible?

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A terminal illness is nobody's business other than the person who is suffering from it. This should not be relevant for marriage validity.

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Much better all round – agreed

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Sensible

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Sensible

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Perfectly sensible as in this world we are now becoming more digital and so this is a very practical method if necessary.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Trying to support the couple by allowing emergency situations to be covered is extremely helpful

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Helpful and agreed

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No reason why not, agreed

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agreed, interesting that you specify a UK flagged ship only.

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

You can never complete this list. But I would say that private yachts, cargo ships that have accommodation for paying passengers, ferries should be on a list amongst others.

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why not give the name of the officiant as well?

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agreed because the celebrant or officiant could have died, become sick, just generally be incapacitated. Therefore someone else could take over

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agreed

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agreed

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

I don't have any personal experience in this area. I can't see any reason why a religious or nonreligious ceremony could not be conducted at sea

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Actually, I think the schedule should be returned within six months. If it cannot be returned there should be an interview to determine why it wasn't

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This fee should be set out and fair and equal for all

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

There should be no difference for charging in this case.If a celebrant or officiant chooses to waive a fee for conducting the ceremony that should be their choice but normally speaking the fee is the fee with no variation

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If that's what they want they should be able to have it simple and straightforward

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agreed

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agreed

Consultation Question 80:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A registrar conducting a ceremony should do it in the registry office

Consultation Question 81:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I don't really know what discretionary services are and I'm not sure how to answer this question

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is a case where the registrar could conduct a ceremony outside the registry office.

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Again I feel that a fee is a fee regardless of circumstance

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If necessary but should be minimal

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I don't know if this would increase the number of marriages, but I do feel that the process should be straightforward, simple, and easy to understand. It certainly would be a great help if Humanists could perform legal marriages as we constantly have to apologise for not being able to legalise the marriage.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Most couples that I have worked with accept the cost of a legal registration prior to the cost of a humanist wedding. They come to us for a much more personal and happier service and environment. It seems very wrong to me that in order to remember the happy day the way they want to, their hands are tied with the legal ceremony. Quite a few of my ceremonies have happened without a legal marriage, and as far as I know, they remain that way. I don't know if that is because of cost but it seems fairer to expect people to only pay once

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

It seems to me that this whole document is going in completely the right direction. Less redtape, more freedom, adequate checks, good structured recording – I can't see any problems and congratulate you on managing this questionnaire well

It's important that costs are kept to a minimum and that there's not too many hurdles to cross. This set of amendments, if passed, will make life a lot easier for everybody

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

I gather there is some form of resentment from registrars regarding allowing celebrants or other officiant's to perform a ceremony. There currently is the perception of a stranglehold from the registrars office. It would be so much better if couples could have flexibility to choose how they want to be married i.e. with government support but not necessarily by government!

I can't comment on availability of registrars but I can say that there are plenty of Humanists looking for work and that we are very good at what we do!

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Again more flexibility would be welcome in where when and how you can be married legally in this country. I'm sorry I don't have any data for you but my knowledge of the system is such that these reforms must happen, and happen quickly. This country should be seen to be more progressive and align itself with other forwardthinking (e.g. Scandinavian) countries.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I'm sorry I can't comment on this as I have no knowledge

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Presumably, expanding the network will lighten the load on local authorities

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Sorry I have no opinion on this other than if people want to come to England to get married that should boost the government coffers and tourism which can't be a bad thing

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

As above

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I work in the Maritime sector and I know that ship Captains enjoy performing marriages. The only downside I can see would be that too many marriages on board any one cruise might compromise the ship captain's work and that should not ever happen

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I can't immediately see any changes to the UK register or the flagging of ships to the UK register in the immediate term

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

I don't think there should be any overall change to the existing costs i.e. it shouldn't be any cheaper or any more expensive than it is now

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD4N-4

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-12 11:49:00

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Upsetting conversation with couples whose weddings have had to be cancelled or delayed or postponed indefinitely due to restrictions, deaths, illness, isolations, finances, businesses going under due to no income and returning deposits, stressed anxious couples and colleagues across the whole sector.

Depression and sadness.

Not a single wedding in my diary has gone ahead. Some cancellations due to uncertainty, others pending 2021 or 2022.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Yes agree.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes it should still be allowed

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Yes they should

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

No they should also be published online

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes to 1.

No to 2.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes.

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If these checks have been done prior there should be no need for any additional attendance in person. The Celebrant /officiant should be enabled to provide documentation or recorded evidence that this taken place.

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely not, this system is not fit for purpose as it does not allow for individuals and equality of beliefs and wishes. Times, availability and venues are restricted and ceremonies are neither personal nor conducted with the compassion and content couples expect in a changing world.

Consultation Question 21:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No registration official needs to be present, all Celebrants should be enabled to complete the required legal elements and provide evidence to support that back to the Registration service

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Individual Celebrants should be allowed to be authorised not just those affiliated to an organisation or belief or non-belief system.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

That creates inequality, against individuals who prefer not to be part of any belief system but are perfectly competent to deliver this role.

Please share your views below:

All including Independent Ceremony Celebrants

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This discriminates against people where not affiliated to a group and prefer to remain independent

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes it should, no officiants or organisation that promotes purposes that are unlawful or contrary to public policy or morality should be included

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Yes abd also Individual independent Ceremony Celebrants should be able to apply if this is to be fair and equal

Consultation Question 28:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This should be a list including independents not just through fsith/non-faith organisations

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This should be independent of faith/non faith organisations

Consultation Question 31:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

1. Yes

2 yes

3. Having done both roles, I feel this training and cpd management could be delivered by a number of bodies not just the Registrar General Office.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Guidance yes, control, no.

Consultation Question 37:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

It should not be a requirement to be part of an organisation to be nominated.
There needs to be a separate monitoring body covering individuals and organisations on the same criteria

Consultation Question 38:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Or the "monitoring " body, there should be a compliance body not necessarily the Registration Service as this is a conflict of interest, the work would come there way if s particularly successful competent independent Celebrant was getting all the bookings and impact on the income to the registrar general's income

Consultation Question 39:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is a conflict of interest. The registration service already puts barriers in the way of couples choosing Celebrants for their ceremonies , this is open to abuse and monopolies

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

It would depend on fees costs and impacts across all sectors including the Registration services own staff on a level playing field, including funding/fees

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

1 yes
2 yes and include independent Celebrants not part if any group/organisations

3 yes
4 yes

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely and by whome they choice without restrictions of faith or belief or culture to prevent inequality.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Hymns
Blessings
Prayers
Symbolism
Crucifix/faith symbols etc

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

No restrictions as long as appropriately dignified and safely conducted.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Basic Health and safety and risk assessment competence should be part of an e-learning training package for all officiants

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Or the monitoring body, the Registrar General office is in direct competition to external bodies officiating weddings currently and this option gives them further control and monopoly

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is important for both genealogical reasons and to confirm legal status/identity

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

These ceremonies are only allowed to be officiated by registration officers from the GRO and as such are some of the most sensitive in need and these should be open to all officiants to undertake as they need personal unique ceremonies fit for purpose not the one size fits all in the current system

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is insensitive and time wasting

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

However Registration officers should be independent of ceremony officiating duties so there is no conflict of interest

Consultation Question 65:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

On an as need basis

Consultation Question 66:

No

Please expand on your answer:

On an as need basis

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

HM forces vessels

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The name of the officiant needs to be included

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

As long as all other options are freely available and no monopoly or restrictions are given and that couples can have an independent Ceremony Celebrant wedding at the same time or in addition.

Consultation Question 78:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is prohibiting free expression of where ceremonies can take place. It should not be a fee to the GRO or Lical authority if they are not doing the Ceremony

Consultation Question 79:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should be no pressure approval process

Consultation Question 80:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It is not necessary for the physical attendance of a registration official

Consultation Question 81:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should be no additional fees

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

And for all Ceremony Celebrants independent and organisations

Consultation Question 84:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This should be an independent body and any fee should apply to all officiants on a like for like basis as should cod, including those employed by the GRO or local authority so its a level playing field.

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

1 yes

2 yes if not only available to faith/belief groups

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The answers to 1 -5 are cost and unnecessary controls, the financial impacts us crippling there freedom of choice, ideals and beliefs. There us n room for personal preference and wishes and the financial impact prohibits many venues from holding wedding ceremonies

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

We live in a 24/7 modern world that needs to move with the times, the current practise in not fit for purpose and the "background" costs involved prohibit many couples celebrating their union in a way they want, how they want and where they want

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

In our local authority and many more couples are routinely put off from having an independent celebrant ceremony and registration officials have told couples they will not be present if an independent is.
Likewise they have told venues with licences, that they will not officiate in these venues if they allow celebrant led weddings to take place there.
This has lead to a massive impact on our ability to work, business income and reputation and is completely against what a couple want and request and has no basis in fact or law and has been used to deliberately deter couples from using any service that the registration officials have no control or financial gain from.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The local authority has a massive financial gain and monopoly of wedding income and no accountability.
There us minimal code for registration officials mostly mentor based training by Local Authority paid wedding officiants on poor hourly rates with huge fees charged to the user has no options but to pay them as they gave the monopoly

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Unfair, biased and not fit for purpose.
A monopoly on income generation to the local authority.
Makes no use of modern technology advances or the needs of a diverse community and population

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Addresses the above and provides a fairer more equal system providing that these changes are not limited to particular faith grouos and organisations and offer independent Ceremony Celebrants the same options and equal access

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDDC-9

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-12 12:40:33

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

I personally wanted to marry in my own garden, but could not and so married in a Registry office.

Professionally, I am approached by couples who want to have bespoke marriage services conducted in a variety of locations but who cannot do so due to the current law. As a consequence, most marry in a registry office as a second best to their preferred choice.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

COVID drastically increased the enquiries I had for weddings and there was total confusion around what is and isn't possible according to the law.

There were many disappointed couples, who seeing a window for marriage open up, we're not able to secure the time of a registrar.

Allowing outdoor weddings would potentially alleviate some social distancing issues too, should it take a while to find a vaccine for COVID.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I think as long as they are resident in England or Wales, where they give notice should not matter.

Online would be far better all round.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Makes far more sense and would negate some of the confusion around process.

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

I think that as long as all of the paperwork is in order, it should be possible to get married as soon as you want to. Although, I am not entirely familiar with the number of 'illegal marriages' in the UK each year.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

This makes sense to me and would again allow for progression should we be faced with a different virus or pandemic in the future.

The world has embraced online, come join us :)

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes, I think it should be possible.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I think it is necessary and assists with planning and booking of marriage services.

Consultation Question 11:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think that it would be more beneficial to allow the couple to notify the venue and officiant not later than **** days before the wedding so that the officiant may be verified.

This gives the couple flexibility and opportunity to plan their wedding once they have the schedule, and not have to do everything before.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely. There should always be a plan b.

Please share your views below:

I think that the substitute officiant, as long as verified, should be able to act under any circumstances. I can't see the logic in restricting it as long as both officiants are registered.

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I'm not sure I totally understand this sufficiently to answer.

But if it's saying that if you give notice in Scotland or Ireland you can't get married in England or Wales, I'm not sure I agree. As long as it's a recognised means for registering intention, it should not matter where it is done.

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

They should be published the same way as all other intention is published. Online.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

This should be optional if insufficient information is produced, or if suspicions are raised.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes, always both of the couple, but not necessarily together.

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

You have to have a set of procedures and guidelines. Totally expected.

Consultation Question 20:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I think the registration officer should be allowed to witness any form of marriage as long as certain criteria are met, the wording or style of ceremony is irrelevant.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I think that as the signing of the register itself is now online, this should be feasible.

Consultation Question 22:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Everyone should have to undergo the same training and certification, whatever that may be.

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If it is a recognised organisation and they are able to demonstrate that they can train to the required standard, then absolutely.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I don't think the organisation has to have a belief system.

There will be a part of the population who would not want a defined religious or non religious service. There should be the ability to recognise those people too with organisations that recognise people have no particular belief either way.

Please share your views below:

Religious
Humanist
Other

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This needs to be regulated to have credibility.

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

And they should demonstrate that they have achieved a recognised qualification or level of training that is recognised in law.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as the organisation itself has achieved a standard recognised in law or by the Government.

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely!

Consultation Question 32:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is all about choice. If couples would like to work with an officiant who provides a bespoke service which provides a great deal more than a basic marriage act, then the officiant should be able to be rewarded for that time and effort.

If the couple simply want a plain and simple exchange of vows, no frills, then they have the option to choose an officiant who will provide that at a price they are comfortable with.

There could be a standardised/minimum fee for a marriage service as there is now (basic marriage licence) but as registry offices offer today, alternative packages incur additional costs.

Consultation Question 33:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I don't understand a conflict of interests?

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I think someone should be affiliated with one organisation only at any one time.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, I'm so far as it is a legally binding agreement between two people and that certain criteria should be met and witnessed. No more than that.

Consultation Question 36:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No. As long as the officiant conducts the legal portion of their marriage in accordance with their training and registration protocol, the service structure should be completely up to the couple.

Consultation Question 37:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

That or any other regulatory body that the Government recognises.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Agreed, but as long as they pay their fees and are regularly assessed according to any changes in law.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

It should not have to be defined.

Consultation Question 46:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I don't understand this, sorry.

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Weddings should be allowed anywhere, without restriction.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

There should be no limits at all.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

We should let people marry wherever they want to, venue permitting!

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Maybe. I can see what this might be useful. Save any h&s requirement by the officiant?

Please share your views below:

The venue could have pre approval which negates the officiant from any h&s obligation.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think a marriage should be witnessed and all parties should somehow 'sign' to say that the marriage took place. I'm not sure how else the act would have any credibility?

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Everyone should have a right to be married as long as they are able to meet the obligations of declaration and consent as required

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But that should be facilitated in a manner, different to that of someone who has not got a terminal illness.

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure if the implications here

Consultation Question 66:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

As above

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

But the time limit should be reasonable.

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

A minimum fee perhaps?

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I think a review and change to the marriage law would definitely increase the number of weddings in the UK, but more importantly would more appropriately meet the needs and desires of individuals to be able to have their relationship recognised in law, in a manner which suits their own needs, beliefs and ideals.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I think more importantly, the changes will allow people choice. The current system is too restrictive.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Everyone in the wedding industry will benefit from a change to the law.

Venues who cannot currently obtain a licence will be able to benefit from the change.

So many people will be able to make a living if e change is made because far more weddings will take place at a greater variety of venues of all sizes.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

I think there should be a minimum recognised cost for a legal marriage and issue of certificates as there is today and any other costs should be down to the officiant. To recognise the time, effort, service and materials that they may incorporate into their service.

The couple are able to choose their officiant based on the overall service offered, over and above the minimum charge.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD45-B

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-12 13:16:23

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Not confidential

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

In order to confirm that it will not be a 'marriage of convenience'.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

A remote interview would be acceptable with the provision for a compulsory in-person interview if concerns are raised.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Acceptable if both are relevant nationals or exempt from immigration control.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

A substitute should only be allowed if there are exceptional circumstances.

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Couples should be able to freely choose their officiant.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Celebrant organizations should be included.

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Agreed

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Any location should be allowed

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The celebrant body to which the officiant is attached should give training and guidance on this matter.

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

I see no issue with any of the above.

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All parties should be present at the signing.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

No

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

No view

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I don't believe that the current law discourages couples from getting married, however the choice of where, how and who by should be free to the couple, to take into account their own beliefs and interests.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The additional cost of having a separate wedding - effectively two weddings is an issue for many couples. The current regulations don't allow the freedom many couples desire.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Couples should not be limited by additional cost as to where they hold their ceremony.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Greater freedom of venues not having to be approved will result in additional work and growth for businesses, venues and celebrants.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD4U-B

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-12 15:44:25

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Response on behalf of an organisation

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Extremely disruptive and hugely disappointing. Also costly and financially adverse.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I believe we should be free to marry anywhere in the UK if both couples are UK residents.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I believe giving notice in this way is important.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

I think a week is more than adequate.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Given the current circumstances, I feel there should be this provision.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

I think this makes a lot of sense

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

A very good proportion of people would have access to this information if it was available online

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I don't see why this shouldn't be the case.

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I think this should be necessary

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There needs to be a back up. So much is invested in the day.

Please share your views below:

No view on this

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

In the interest of fairness to all.

Consultation Question 14:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No view on this

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

This should be sufficient

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

This makes a lot of sense

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

This would keep yhings uniform across the board

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

No view

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Uniformity across the board

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is restrictive and so does not allow a couple to express their mutual love in a way that suites to them and in a way that becomes more meaningful for the couple.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Only one is needed for a ceremony in church

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Why not?

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

In the interest of fairness

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

A good number of people are not religious

Please share your views below:

A celebrant should be given this authority

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is not fair

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

I completely concur

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

No view

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This makes sense

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

In the intersts of diversity and fairness

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Makes sense

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Makes a lot of sense

Consultation Question 32:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why?

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

In the interest of fairness and diversity

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Conflict of interests

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I believe a declaration of mutual consent is all that should be required. The rest should be left to the couple.

Consultation Question 37:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This needs to be dealt with independently

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This makes sense

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consent to marry should be all that is needed

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No view

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I think should be the couple's choice

Please share your views below:

This should be the couple's choice

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should be the couple's choice. The authority should be embodied in the officiant not the venue.

Please share your views below:

No limits

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

In the interests of diversity

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This should be the couple's choice

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Safely first.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There should be external advice

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No view

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I do believe there must be a public declaration by definition.

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

No view

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No view

Consultation Question 65:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No view

Consultation Question 66:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No view

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Yes.

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

No view

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

It prevents and discourages

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD4G-W

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-12 16:01:08

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Not able to do any Wedding Ceremonies since March 2020, all postponed due to Covid crisis.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Show officiant name only

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

UK

Consultation Question 14:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A civil wedding should be legally allowed by an officiant who is fully trained, this should also be a Celebrant as well as a Registrar

Consultation Question 21:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It can also be fine by a Celebrant

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

People getting married should not have to have religious beliefs, mainly love each other

Please share your views below:

Names of professional Celebrant training bodies

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Celebrants should not have to meet up in person regularly, they are in touch with each other regularly online through their training

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

General information only e.g. solemn, both parties free to marry

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Allowed where bridal party wish it to be

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Bridal party

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

No

Please expand on your answer:

In whatever language they use on a daily basis and English

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

People should have the personal choice of registrar or clergy or celebrant

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Should also include Officiant name

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But not the full ceremony cost, just a set fee for the couple to answer the 2 legal questions

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

As a celebrant I provide a wedding ceremony tailored to the wishes of the couple held in the place they wish. It is their special day and a celebration of their love. As a celebrant not being allowed to do the 2 legal questions, has caused upset for a lot of my couples as they have had to have a short statutory service with a registrar as well. This they have not wanted to do.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD42-8

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-12 18:15:10

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Humanist UK

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

The weddings I conduct in England and Wales are not legally recognised

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I always explain to the couple that this is not a legal ceremony

No

Please expand on your answer:

A strong majority of couples for whom I conduct weddings in England and Wales choose also to have a civil marriage, in order to gain legal recognition. I estimate that this is true of over 90% of weddings currently conducted by Humanists UK celebrants.

Couples who have humanist weddings with me do so because they want a humanist ceremony that matches their deepest-held beliefs and values, conducted by a celebrant who shares those beliefs and values, in the location that is most meaningful to them. They cannot have this through any form of marriage that is legally recognised. They don't want to have a civil marriage, but are forced to do so because humanist weddings aren't legally recognised.

Furthermore, there are undoubtedly many more couples who have only a civil marriage but would prefer to have a humanist marriage, if they were legally recognised. They cannot afford the expense of having two ceremonies, so they opt to have only the civil marriage. That this is the case can be seen from how popular humanist marriages have become in jurisdictions where they are legally recognised.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

The barrier is that humanist weddings are not legally recognised. This means that humanist couples, unlike their religious counterparts, cannot have a legally recognised marriage conducted by an officiant who is guaranteed (or even likely) to share their beliefs. The available legally recognised ceremony cannot fully express their humanist beliefs and values. And the restrictions on locations mean that many cannot have a legally binding marriage in the location that is most meaningful to them.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

The frequently changing coronavirus regulations have been quite disruptive for couples wishing to have all types of wedding, but I would submit that they have without doubt been more disruptive for humanist couples than most.

This is not only because of the need to hold two separate ceremonies, in order to have a humanist wedding while still ending up legally married. That means any disruption caused by the changing rules means couples have often had to replan both ceremonies, when other couples only have had to replan one.

But it has also been more disruptive for humanist couples because humanist weddings have, at times, faced further restrictions than legally recognised marriages.

I have personally had 16 couples had to replan.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I cannot see any reason to maintain the requirement to have a registrar at some religious marriages. Their presence also leads to unhelpful confusion as to whether such religious marriages are actually civil marriages.

As to paragraphs 5.58-9, it should of course be the case that civil registrars are debarred from officiating at humanist marriages, as well as religious ones.

Consultation Question 5:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I cannot see any reason to maintain the requirement to have a registrar at some religious marriages. Their presence also leads to unhelpful confusion as to whether such religious marriages are actually civil marriages.

As to paragraphs 5.58-9, it should of course be the case that civil registrars are debarred from officiating at humanist marriages, as well as religious ones.

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree that this is broadly the right approach, as you support a move away from a law that bases recognition of marriages exclusively on the buildings in which they take place, which discriminates against those citizens whose beliefs accord with groups (including us) that don't have places of worship. Nomination by recognised responsible organisations (religious bodies, Humanists UK, etc.) is appropriate. With that said, I wouldn't want to do away with a role for buildings entirely, as we are concerned about the ease with which bodies purporting to be religion or belief groups could be established in order to gain the power for officiants to conduct marriages in any location – which could lead to de facto commercial operators springing up. We explain further in our notes on question 25.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I have objected strongly to this proposed definition. Instead we think that the law should simply refer to those beliefs that are relevantly protected under Article 9 of the European Convention on Human Rights – as these, after all, are the beliefs that the UK has a legal duty to extend recognition to.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I strongly disagree with these minimal proposed qualifications, which I worry could lead to reckless commercialisation at the hands of groups that purport to be aligned to some religion or belief but in fact are not especially interested in or motivated by their religion or belief and instead are primarily motivated by commercial interests. I believe that this is a substantial risk even given the proposals about restricting profit and gain. I think that such problems arise when such a low bar to authorisation is coupled with the ability to perform legally recognised marriages in any location. Therefore in what follows we suggest that there should be two routes to recognition – a local route, and a national route. The former would be similar to the existing route upon which most religious groups rely,<sup>5</sup> and confer similar benefits; while the latter would confer the additional benefit of allowing the group to marry people anywhere they like, but would have some higher safeguards in place that could be expected to rule out the establishment of supposedly 'religion

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I think this is the right approach, in the first instance, but you do not think that the organisations should alone be relied on – the registrar general should have the power to refuse an application, if they have reason to think someone nominated is not fit and proper – rather than just have the power to remove accreditation from an officiant, if they are subsequently found in some way to be not fit or proper (as is proposed in question 38).

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

You could say that Humanists UK celebrants currently operate under this system in Northern Ireland and so do Humanist Society Scotland (HSS) celebrants in Scotland. In both jurisdictions, this system works well. It hasn't prevented the celebrants from charging a reasonable fee for their work, reflecting the time and effort put into crafting a humanist ceremony, but does stop profiteering, including people charging exorbitant fees or trying to profit off ancillary activities by exploiting their position as officiants.

The only comments we suggest you might add to this are, first, that not all types of ceremony cost the same to provide; second, that costs vary across the country; but, third, that such a rule is not in itself enough to prevent commercialisation (see our answer to question 25).

On the first point: humanist ceremonies are entirely bespoke to each couple, reflecting perfectly who they are, their personal histories, and their families. Celebrants spend extensive time getting to know the couple, so that when the celebrant marries them, they are being married by someone whom they will often consider a friend, often staying in touch long after the ceremony. Similarly, the celebrant will familiarise themselves with the venue in advance of the ceremony, so that it can be best utilised in proceedings, which often includes holding a rehearsal. Humanist celebrants do all of these things because what is intrinsic to humanist ceremonies is making the ceremony as meaningful as possible to the couple and their loved ones. This flows from the core humanist belief that the meaning in our lives is not divinely inspired but something that each of us creates for ourself. The celebrant's job is therefore to help the couple construct the most personally meaningful ceremony possible, and that means something that is highly personalised to who they are.

That stands in contrast to some other types of ceremony, where, for example, a religion may dictate that the ceremony follows some standard pattern. Registrars similarly usually follow fairly standard scripts, with less variation from ceremony to ceremony, and often don't meet the couple they're marrying before the day of the wedding. The result is that humanist celebrants generally put a lot more time into each ceremony than other officiants do. They typically spend about 30-50 hours per ceremony – in other words, a whole working week. Others may spend only 5-6 hours, if that. (It is worth noting that Humanists UK celebrants don't generally charge more for weekend weddings, unlike registrars. This reflects the fact that celebrants have typically worked on one ceremony over a long period, mainly in the working week.)

And, as time deserves recompense, this means that Humanists UK celebrants might charge higher fees than those solemnising other types of wedding. This is not because they are profiting, but is just a reflection that such ceremonies involve much more work.

On the second point: the cost of living varies around the UK, and is higher in some parts of England and Wales than it is in Scotland and Northern Ireland. As a result, Humanists UK's recommended fee band for weddings runs somewhat higher than (say) the average fee of around £450 that HSS quotes on its website.<sup>15</sup>

Finally, I think it's essential that guidance is produced for officiants on how to comply with the profit and gain rule. We understand that such guidance has been very helpful for HSS in Scotland.

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

As per question 29, I do not think that commercial celebrants should gain legal recognition for their marriages, so this question should not arise. However, as per that answer, not binding independent officiants by the rule against profit provides no benefit to couples and in fact opens them to exploitation. And the 'conflict of interest' rule that is proposed instead is extremely weak – almost worthless even if it was enforceable, which is doubtful.

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I feel very strongly that this proposal has been too loosely drawn. It has failed to properly consider what is significant about civil, religious, and humanist ceremonies, or the proper role of the state in providing marriages. It has also failed to properly consider the motives of individuals for choosing what content they wish to have in their ceremonies, and how their motivation might be a more appropriate way to decide where the line should be drawn. It has failed to consider the employment law issues that could arise from requiring registrars to conduct marriages with certain types of religious content. Conversely, it has failed to consider what analogous restrictions should exist on the inclusion of humanist content in civil weddings. Finally, all of these concerns are amplified when it comes to the somewhat more profit-driven behaviour of commercial celebrants conducting civil marriages.

I acknowledge the special case of couples of mixed beliefs who might wish to include some reference to each other's tradition in their ceremony, but say that the proposals (below) about permitted content would adequately meet their needs.

Considering those points in turn:

The unique role of civil marriage: First, as a general principle, the state should not act in a way that constitutes an expression of a particular religion or belief, but should stay neutral on such matters. It should simply not get involved in performances – including civil weddings under this new proposal – that involve religion or belief, but leave them to individuals and religious or belief groups. Such neutrality is essential, in order for the state to be seen to be treating different religious and belief groups equally, and to stop it from, in some form, 'establishing' one or more religions. The requirement for state neutrality in matters of religion and belief is clearly established in human rights case law and underlies the case, given state recognition of religious marriages, for equal recognition of humanist marriages.

Not only that but many religious groups do not wish the state to encroach on matters of faith and creed. In Christianity that is expressed through both the concept of 'Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's', and the two Kingdoms doctrine. We, similarly, would be concerned if state officials purported to be able to include humanist elements in their marriage ceremonies. Such officials are not trained to include such aspects, and registrars' beliefs cannot be guaranteed to be humanist. We know that the Church of England shares similar concerns – it says as much in paragraph 6.91.

Civil marriage serves a distinct purpose in its own right: it is a form of marriage available for those who don't want to get married in a way that expresses a particular religion or belief. Many couples do not feel strongly about religion or belief, as evidenced by the data the Law Commission cites in paragraph 6.82, and it stands to reason that many such couples exist.

Please share your views below:

The role of motives in deciding what content should or should not be allowed: The key question really is not whether this or that material should be included in a civil ceremony but the couple's motivation for including or excluding such content. It is certainly silly and sometimes quite arbitrary when a registrar refuses to include 'Jerusalem' in a couple's wedding ceremony, because of its religious references, when the couple wanted it there because they are rugby fans. But the answer to this isn't to allow religious content, just so long as it doesn't come to dominate or overwhelm. The answer is to include content that may include religious language or themes, but only if it is being included for secular reasons – for example, cultural or sentimental purposes. Such an approach would keep the ceremony secular.

This aligns with the approach Humanists UK takes with regard to religious content in humanist ceremonies. The usages for humanist ceremonies require 'no acts of religious worship' and the Celebrant Handbook says 'Celebrants are expected to hold a client or family meeting and to ensure that it is as positive and as productive as possible by: ...Dealing with requests for religious poetry, hymns and prayers – advising that these cannot be accommodated within a humanist ceremony unless the context is particularly fitting and can be signalled appropriately...' Further, Humanists UK's practice note on religion in humanist ceremonies specifies that 'Our ceremonies are non-religious but we recognise that there are aspects of religious reference embedded in our culture and day-to-day experiences. For example, certain hymns can remind people of their youth or even of their favourite rugby team. We are happy to include this sort of content where it helps to reflect the [parties], but not as an act of worship.'

Humanist ceremonies often also allow a quiet moment of reflection so that those who want to pray can do so, while others can take the time to contemplate the significance of the proceedings that they are a part of. This is particularly appreciated by couples with religious family members.

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As humanist weddings are arranged in whatever location is most meaningful and personally significant to the couple, many of them take place in the parties' or their family's private homes, including their gardens. Many people can think of nothing better than getting married in their family garden, a place that may have many cherished memories.

If the open doors requirement is maintained and humanist marriages were legally recognised, then it would be very difficult for couples to have weddings in such locations. A significant risk of unwelcome intruders and/or theft might arise. This is particularly true if the law required the location of the wedding to be published in advance through an online notice system. (Several cases have been reported of 'freebooters' masquerading as mourners in order to attend receptions after funerals and partake of the refreshments.)

Given the scarcity of legitimate objections to parties getting married being made at the ceremony itself, and the fact that an online notice system will increase the possibility of objections being made in advance, we think the open doors system should be abandoned.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree, albeit with the caveats outlined in your answers to subsequent questions, and the proposal made in response to question 25 that religion and belief groups authorised under our proposed local route should still be confined to certain buildings or their curtilages, as a safeguard against commercial operators springing up for profit and gain.

An excellent explanation of the importance of location to humanist weddings can be found in a witness statement from Zena Birch, then the Chair of the Humanist Ceremonies Board, in the Harrison case. In that statement, Zena wrote:

The desire for a humanist marriage represents a manifestation of humanist beliefs because most couples wish to marry in a way that conforms to and celebrates their own belief system. Moreover, humanists have a particular commitment to equality under the law and to the protection of human rights. Seeking parity with religious groups is, in itself, a manifestation of humanism.

Perhaps I might illustrate these points from my own experience as a celebrant. I often work with my couples from anywhere between nine months to a year and a half (far longer than even the most dedicated civil registrar could possibly manage), and in that time I work with them to discover what getting married actually means to them. Why they are choosing – when they may already live together or even have a family together – to take this extra step. As such, when a humanist couple decides that they do want to get married it is especially important to them that they do so with a celebrant and in an environment they believe in. They want a celebrant who shares their deepest beliefs, and is therefore able to best reflect them in the ceremony that is produced. They don't want their names simply slotted into a pre-written, applicable-to-all script that could very easily be A.N. Others' in half an hour's time... They want something crafted to perfectly reflect who they are as a couple – that is, unique just to them and no-one else. That bespokeness – and the time, love, and attention to detail necessary to produce it – is an intrinsic manifestation of their humanism. Words mean something to them, and I as a celebrant and all my humanist celebrant colleagues work with each of our individual couples to carefully craft those words with them.

With all this forethought something that very rarely gets chosen offhandedly is where my couples wish to hold their ceremony. Over the years I have had the privilege to be welcomed into some extraordinary spaces and what most of them have in common is that the locations themselves hold meaning and relevance to the couple (and all of the locations cited below are actual locations where I have conducted ceremonies). Sometimes the choice has a charmingly romantic perspective that adds a tangible reality to the story and intentions we are witnessing: The desire for a humanist marriage represents a manifestation of humanist beliefs because most couples wish to marry in a way that conforms to and celebrates their own belief system. Moreover, humanists have a particular commitment to equality under the law and to the protection of human rights. Seeking parity with religious groups is, in itself, a manifestation of humanism.

...

Perhaps I might illustrate these points from my own experience as a celebrant. I often work with my couples from anywhere between nine months to a year and a half (far longer than even the most dedicated civil registrar could possibly manage), and in that time I work with them to discover what getting married actually means to them. Why they are choosing – when they may already live together or even have a family together – to take this extra step. As such, when a humanist couple decides that they do want to get married it is especially important to them that they do so with a celebrant and in an environment they believe in. They want a celebrant who shares their deepest beliefs, and is therefore able to best reflect them in the ceremony that is produced. They don't want their names simply slotted into a pre-written, applicable-to-all script that could very easily be A.N. Others' in half an hour's time... They want something crafted to perfectly reflect who they are as a couple – that is, unique just to them and no-one else. That bespoke-ness – and the time, love, and attention to detail necessary to produce it – is an intrinsic manifestation of their humanism. Words mean something to them, and I as a celebrant and all my humanist celebrant colleagues work with each of our individual couples to carefully craft those words with them.

...

With all this forethought something that very rarely gets chosen offhandedly is where my couples wish to hold their ceremony. Over the years I have had the privilege to be welcomed into some extraordinary spaces and what most of them have in common is that the locations themselves hold meaning and relevance to the couple (and all of the locations cited below are actual locations where I have conducted ceremonies). Sometimes the choice has a charmingly romantic perspective that adds a tangible reality to the story and intentions we are witnessing:

□ The desire for a humanist marriage represents a manifestation of humanist beliefs because most couples wish to marry in a way that conforms to and celebrates their own belief system. Moreover, humanists have a particular commitment to equality under the law and to the protection of human rights. Seeking parity with religious groups is, in itself, a manifestation of humanism.

...

Perhaps I might illustrate these points from my own experience as a celebrant. I often work with my couples from anywhere between nine months to a year and a half (far longer than even the most dedicated civil registrar could possibly manage), and in that time I work with them to discover what getting married actually means to them. Why they are choosing – when they may already live together or even have a family together – to take this extra step. As such, when a humanist couple decides that they do want to get married it is especially important to them that they do so with a celebrant and in an environment they believe in. They want a celebrant who shares their deepest beliefs, and is therefore able to best reflect them in the ceremony that is produced. They don't want their names simply slotted into a pre-written, applicable-to-all script that could very easily be A.N. Others' in half an hour's time... They want something crafted to perfectly reflect who they are as a couple – that is, unique just to them and no-one else. That bespoke-ness – and the time, love, and attention to detail necessary to produce it – is an intrinsic manifestation of their humanism. Words mean something to them, and I as a celebrant and all my humanist celebrant colleagues work with each of our individual couples to carefully craft those words with them.

...

With all this forethought something that very rarely gets chosen offhandedly is where my couples wish to hold their ceremony. Over the years I have had the privilege to be welcomed into some extraordinary spaces and what most of them have in common is that the locations themselves hold meaning and relevance to the couple (and all of the locations cited below are actual locations where I have conducted ceremonies). Sometimes the choice has a charmingly romantic perspective that adds a tangible reality to the story and intentions we are witnessing: The desire for a humanist marriage represents a manifestation of humanist beliefs because most couples wish to marry in a way that conforms to and celebrates their own belief system. Moreover, humanists have a particular commitment to equality under the law and to the protection of human rights. Seeking parity with religious groups is, in itself, a manifestation of humanism.

...

Perhaps I might illustrate these points from my own experience as a celebrant. I often work with my couples from anywhere between nine months to a year and a half (far longer than even the most dedicated civil registrar could possibly manage), and in that time I work with them to discover what getting married actually means to them. Why they are choosing – when they may already live together or even have a family together – to take this extra step. As such, when a humanist couple decides that they do want to get married it is especially important to them that they do so with a celebrant and in an environment they believe in. They want a celebrant who shares their deepest beliefs, and is therefore able to best reflect them in the ceremony that is produced. They don't want their names simply slotted into a pre-written, applicable-to-all script that could very easily be A.N. Others' in half an hour's time... They want something crafted to perfectly reflect who they are as a couple – that is, unique just to them and no-one else. That bespoke-ness – and the time, love, and attention to detail necessary to produce it – is an intrinsic manifestation of their humanism. Words mean something to them, and I as a celebrant and all my humanist celebrant colleagues work with each of our individual couples to carefully craft those words with them.

With all this forethought something that very rarely gets chosen offhandedly is where my couples wish to hold their ceremony. Over the years I have had the privilege to be welcomed into some extraordinary spaces and what most of them have in common is that the locations themselves hold meaning and relevance to the couple (and all of the locations cited below are actual locations where I have conducted ceremonies). Sometimes the choice has a charmingly romantic perspective that adds a tangible reality to the story and intentions we are witnessing: The desire for a humanist marriage represents a manifestation of humanist beliefs because most couples wish to marry in a way that conforms to and celebrates their own belief system. Moreover, humanists have a particular commitment to equality under the law and to the protection of human rights. Seeking parity with religious groups is, in itself, a manifestation of humanism.

...

Perhaps I might illustrate these points from my own experience as a celebrant. I often work with my couples from anywhere between nine months to a year and a half (far longer than even the most dedicated civil registrar could possibly manage), and in that time I work with them to discover what getting married actually means to them. Why they are choosing – when they may already live together or even have a family together – to take this extra step. As such, when a humanist couple decides that they do want to get married it is especially important to them that they do so with a celebrant and in an environment they believe in. They want a celebrant who shares their deepest beliefs, and is therefore able to best reflect them in the ceremony that is produced. They don't want their names simply slotted into a pre-written, applicable-to-all script that could very easily be A.N. Others' in half an hour's time... They want something crafted to perfectly reflect who they are as a couple – that is, unique just to them and no-one else. That bespoke-ness – and the time, love, and attention to detail necessary to produce it – is an intrinsic manifestation of their humanism. Words mean something to them, and I as a celebrant and all my humanist celebrant colleagues work with each of our individual couples to carefully craft those words with them.

...

With all this forethought something that very rarely gets chosen offhandedly is where my couples wish to hold their ceremony. Over the years I have had the privilege to be welcomed into some extraordinary spaces and what most of them have in common is that the locations themselves hold meaning and relevance to the couple (and all of the locations cited below are actual locations where I have conducted ceremonies). Sometimes the choice has a charmingly romantic perspective that adds a tangible reality to the story and intentions we are witnessing:

□ The desire for a humanist marriage represents a manifestation of humanist beliefs because most couples wish to marry in a way that conforms to and celebrates their own belief system. Moreover, humanists have a particular commitment to equality under the law and to the protection of human rights. Seeking parity with religious groups is, in itself, a manifestation of humanism.

...

Perhaps I might illustrate these points from my own experience as a celebrant. I often work with my couples from anywhere between nine months to a year and a half (far longer than even the most dedicated civil registrar could possibly manage), and in that time I work with them to discover what getting married actually means to them. Why they are choosing – when they may already live together or even have a family together – to take this extra step. As such, when a humanist couple decides that they do want to get married it is especially important to them that they do so with a celebrant and in an environment they believe in. They want a celebrant who shares their deepest beliefs, and is therefore able to best reflect them in the ceremony that is produced. They don't want their names simply slotted into a pre-written, applicable-to-all script that could very easily be A.N. Others' in half an hour's time... They want something crafted to perfectly reflect who they are as a couple – that is, unique just to them and no-one else. That bespoke-ness – and the time, love, and attention to detail necessary to produce it – is an intrinsic manifestation of their humanism. Words mean something to them, and I as a celebrant and all my humanist celebrant colleagues work with each of our individual couples to carefully craft those words with them.

...

With all this forethought something that very rarely gets chosen offhandedly is where my couples wish to hold their ceremony. Over the years I have had the privilege to be welcomed into some extraordinary spaces and what most of them have in common is that the locations themselves hold meaning and relevance to the couple (and all of the locations cited below are actual locations where I have conducted ceremonies). Sometimes the choice has a charmingly romantic perspective that adds a tangible reality to the story and intentions we are witnessing:

□ in the London square where they bumped into one another for the first time in over 40 years as a GP leaving her surgery stepped into the path of a London commuter who happened to be her first true love – they rekindled a love they had shared since secondary school and were able to have their ceremony right in the spot they bumped into each other;

□ in the historical alcove in a field behind the school where my couple shared their first kiss; on the cliff top where the groom proposed.<sup>20</sup>

Other locations hold a different kind of emotional poignancy – for example, a beach where the bride had previously scattered her dad's ashes.

Locations are so often chosen not simply to illuminate or highlight the importance of their actions, but also to feel akin with their environment – and a very physical and historical link to important people in their lives who may no longer be with them – a wedding day really brings into acute focus who isn't there as well as who is. As a humanist celebrant I should be helping a couple incorporate the things that are important to them in every way I can. An anonymous room, no matter how lovely or prettily dressed, cannot replace the specialness of somewhere that holds personal importance. And like a place of worship with the devout religious couple, these locations hold an equal import to my couples. A place to signify something other than the common or garden. A place befitting of a rite of passage. And marriage is a rite of passage.

I hope this illustrates how intrinsic locations often are to humanist marriages – a core part of the couple's ability to express who they are and what makes them special, and so a core part of the manifestation of each couple's humanism.

I did a Humanist ceremony for a couple who were paramedics and had met whilst debriefing on a local beach. This had been after attending a major RTC, and they held the wedding on that beach after gaining permission for the LA.

Please share your views below:

I think that all of these locations are places where it should be possible to get married, as all of them are locations which could, for varying personal reasons, be the most personally meaningful location to a couple for their wedding (even if rarely in the second and third cases), and therefore an intrinsic manifestation of their humanism.

A very large proportion of humanist weddings happen outdoors or in private homes.

It is less common for couples to want to get married on inland waters or in the air, but it is easy to imagine that a couple who work on or in the water, live on a houseboat, or work on aeroplanes, could wish to get married in one of these locations. I can't see why this shouldn't be possible, provided that two caveats be met.

The first caveat is that the health and safety of all involved can be assured.

The second is that the dignity of the marriage can be maintained. We could see that some such weddings could easily become undignified, for example, 'party boats', or weddings in hot air balloons. We are not sure that hard rules should be drawn to forbid such weddings, but special attention certainly needs to be paid to the motives of couples wanting to have weddings on water or in the air, in deciding whether they should be permitted. This could perhaps be part of the role of the registrar when undertaking the civil preliminaries, as well as of the officiant in their engagement with the couple (supported by GRO guidance).

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Other

Other

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree that it shouldn't be possible for civil or non-religious belief weddings to take place in places of worship. It would cloud the secular or non-religious nature of such ceremonies if they were to occur in such locations. The consultation paper makes an interesting point when it observes that such venues would be able to restrict their use even without a specific prohibition. But this would equally leave such venues able to permit civil or non-religious belief weddings, maybe for financial reasons, when as a matter of principle this shouldn't be possible.

It would equivalently make sense to exclude the possibility of civil or religious weddings taking place in specifically humanist buildings, which at present essentially means Conway Hall in Holborn.

But more generally it is unclear what is meant when the consultation here describes 'religious venues' and 'non-religious belief venues'. The terms need defining more precisely than this. If 'non-religious belief venue' means anywhere where a humanist marriage might lawfully take place, then that would obviously create a big problem in that there is likely to be a significant overlap with locations where civil marriages in particular take place. It should be possible for religious and belief marriages to occur in secular venues, even if civil marriages also occur there. (This would require that there be nothing parallel to the present rules about approved premises, whereby they may not have any 'recent or continuing connection with any religion...';<sup>21</sup> and, by extension, with any non-religious belief.)

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

I am unsure why this question, uniquely, has no 'Other' option. If there was such an option we would suggest you chose it. In the absence of it, we suggest you choose neither 'Yes' nor 'No'.

I find this question very unclear, as nowhere is it spelled out what is actually meant by officiants being 'responsible' for deciding whether the location for the wedding should be approved – in particular, in terms of what the consequences would be, if they get it wrong.

If the Commission's meaning is merely that officiants should have the right to decline to conduct a ceremony at a location to which they have a reasonable objection on grounds of safety or dignity, you might say you agree. However, there must be serious doubts about a system in which the officiant takes on legal responsibility in respect of the location. See further on the next question.

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I agree with regard to dignity, since this is intrinsic to the nature of the ceremony, and of humanist therefore some guidance on this would be welcome,

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This seems a sensible suggestion to you so far as safety is concerned, albeit the process would be effectively automatic with premises that are routinely available for hire (hotels and other such venues) and really needed only for the types of venue where the owner or proprietor would not expect to take responsibility – e.g., public access countryside. We refer to our response to question 52.

I also do not think the local authority should attempt assessments of dignity, except in cases where the venue is clearly undignified (like a strip club): that is more appropriately done by the officiant, and you could explain that you will want to continue to make your own assessments of suitability and dignity, perhaps setting more demanding standards.

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree, that there will always be rare couples who wish to get married with the least possible fuss and expense.

While humanist weddings are not legally recognised, I strongly believe that a cheap civil wedding option must remain available. A large majority of couples currently having a humanist wedding also have a civil marriage in order to gain legal recognition, in spite of not wanting to do so.

In fact, legislation needs to go beyond merely prescribing a low-fee option. What follows is motivated by the findings of chapter six of 'Any Lawful Impediment?' A report of the All-Party Parliamentary Humanist Group's inquiry into the legal recognition of humanist marriage in England and Wales, 22 as outlined in your response to question 1(3) above – namely, to prevent registrars from making such ceremonies hard to access, for reasons that seem to us to be driven by profit and gain, but have the result of preventing others from being able to manifest their beliefs without a financial penalty. It should be prescribed that: Registrars must make known the availability of the minimum-fee option, wherever they advertise that other options are available;

☐ Registrars must make such ceremonies generally available, across all days of the week, and in a wider range of registration offices (perhaps even all);

☐ Registrars must not be able to restrict who attends such a ceremony, beyond what physical space allows, or what niceties such ceremonies might contain, beyond what is necessary for the punctual running of the ceremony.

The need for such legislation would be less acute were humanist marriages legally recognised.

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I strongly believe that this would be a good thing. It is clear that registrars' fee structures are currently engineered to lead to profit for the local authority – indeed, during one of the Commission's online consultation sessions concern was expressed by a registrar that the reforms might interfere with the cross-subsidisation by weddings of the rest of the registration service. Some civil marriage fees, for example at the weekend, currently run to well over £1,000. This is particularly objectionable, considering the de facto monopoly registrars currently enjoy, in terms of options for legally recognised marriages for non-religious couples. Removing such profit-making would de-commercialise the marriage industry. It would also reduce incentives for commercial behaviour for other types of officiant, by ensuring that registrars offer relatively low-cost options. And it would create parity between registrars and religion or belief officiants, who would similarly be bound by profit and gain rules. (It seems to us that it would be unfair to bind religion and belief officiants in this way, but not have any limits on registrars.)

With that said, I recognise that not all civil marriages will cost the same. Some couples will wish to have more elaborate civil marriages, that take registrars longer both to prepare for and to officiate at, or that involve additional local authority staff or all-inclusive catering and other services. Similarly, marriages outside of standard office hours could be ones that legitimately incur a higher (albeit still prescribed) hourly rate than those during the standard working week, reflecting the less desirable working hours. So I would not wish to see overly strict limits on how much registrars charge – just some reasonable limits.

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

From my own experience I personally know that some couples do not get married due to the lack of legal recognition of humanist marriages which is in the very least despicable.

From my own experience some couples give up the idea of a humanist ceremony because they cannot afford the double expense of that and a register office marriage.

It is worth noting the sea-change that has occurred in Scotland, following legal recognition there, as to evidence of demand for humanist weddings, and how the current law prevents couples from doing so.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I believe that significant additional reforms are needed, in order to make cheap register office weddings available to couples, particularly if humanist marriages continue to not be legally recognised.

With that said, if humanist weddings are legally recognised it would represent a substantial saving to humanist couples, who would no longer have to pay to have two weddings – a humanist wedding they want, and a civil marriage they don't want but are obliged to have to gain legal recognition; or, alternatively, to be able to have the humanist marriage they prefer rather than a civil marriage, when they are unable to afford both. These savings would for many couples run to hundreds of pounds, potentially even up to £800 if they wish to have their civil marriage on the same (weekend) day as their humanist wedding – which many humanist couples do so as to avoid questions from their loved ones about what day is their 'real' wedding day and when they are, in fact, married – or indeed their own simple desire to be legally married on the same day as the ceremony they actually want. Suffice to say, these factors also apply to savings in terms of time and administrative burden.

The proposals around opening up a wider range of venues to marriages, in particular private homes and outdoors public places, also present essential savings for humanist couples. You might say that many of your couples have strong motivations to see such locations as the most meaningful for their weddings – motivations that are intrinsic to their humanism. Therefore enabling such marriages to be legally recognised is essential to us. It would again free couples from needing to have two separate ceremonies – one they actually want, in the place most meaningful to them, and one in some less desired location whose only purpose is to confer legal recognition.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD4Q-7

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-12 21:46:26

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I was married legally.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Not applicable

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is an arbitrary detail which makes little sense.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This sounds like a perfectly sensible suggestion.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Somewhat arbitrary, but it seems a reasonable suggestion.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Only if the pandemic does not allow face to face meetings. I would prefer there to be a requirement for a face to face.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

I have no experience of this situation so cannot comment.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is similar to reading of banns, and I think it is a good idea.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It seems a reasonable timeframe.

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Again, this sounds like a reasonable approach.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is obviously a sensible suggestion.

Please share your views below:

I'm not clear as to what I'm being asked to comment on.

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I don't know.

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It seems to be an archaic rule.

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

I don't think I have any view on this item.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

It seems to be a sensible proposal.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Definitely. It's important to see both parties to check any suggestion of coercion or such like.

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

I am atheist so don't believe Anglican preliminaries should be a requirement.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

These are basic important details of the marriage ceremony.

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I think religious weddings are well catered for.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There is absolutely no need for more than one officiant.

Consultation Question 22:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I don't have strong feelings about this.

Consultation Question 23:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I didn't completely understand the question

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It seems sensible.

Please share your views below:

I can't think of any.

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It allows agency

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

It is clear that any organisation that is unlawful should be excluded.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

I believe it should be possible to nominate named individuals.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is essential that officiants be held accountable.

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Independent officiants are professional people and this would emphasise the fact.

Consultation Question 30:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Slightly bothered by the judgemental tone but I agree they should be checked for suitability.

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I feel strongly that the officiant should be professionally trained.

Consultation Question 32:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I don't understand the question

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

They will be people running a professional business and should have no restrictions.

Consultation Question 34:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Sorry, don't understand the question.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is a solemn occasion and should be treated as such.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Guidelines only.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This seems the only sensible solution.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Sensible suggestion.

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Continuing assessment always a good idea.

Consultation Question 40:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure what time limit means.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is important to keep up training and development.

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not much to add. All that sounds sensible.

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is a basic requirement.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This gives maximum amount of flexibility.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This gives maximum flexibility.

Please share your views below:

No comment.

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It would be unnecessary.

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

People should be able to be married in private if they so wish.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No reason not to.

Please share your views below:

No limitations would be best.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Maximum flexibility is best.

Consultation Question 50:

Other

Other

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I don't feel strongly about these particular issues.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As professionals, this should be part of the job.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

All part of the job of the officiant.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Guidance would be welcome.

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This makes sense.

Please share your views below:

A simple form filling exercise by the officiant.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure whether occupations is relevant or necessary.

Consultation Question 55:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No feelings either way.

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as security can be guaranteed.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

These are reasonable suggestions.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If the wedding has taken place, it should not be voided.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

These seem reasonable suggestions.

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No reason to disagree.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Because they have never been officially married.

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No time limit required.

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would render the marriage potentially void.

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

None that I am aware of.

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Time limits may have to be looked into.

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There should be no hierarchy in the system.

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This seems reasonable.

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Reasonable.

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

In case of further pandemics.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No reason not to.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No reason not to.

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Why not?

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Why not?

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

I don't know anything about vessels.

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Seems sensible.

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as they are recognised officiants.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Makes no sense to do otherwise.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The marriage would be void.

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Not as far as I know.

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think there needs to be a time limit.

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is a fair way to proceed.

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

This is a question of compassion.

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If that's what they want.

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

A fair way to proceed.

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

A fair way to proceed.

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I'm assuming this means travelling and not the cost of writing the ceremony.

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure what they could be though.

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Seems a fair way to proceed.

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

This seems the most fair.

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Seems reasonable.

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I have no evidence apart from anecdotal. Several people I know would get married if they could choose who did it and where they did it.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD4F-V

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-12 22:17:30

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDQE-R

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-13 15:14:52

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Personal Yachts and boats

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDQ8-B

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-13 15:42:24

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

[REDACTED]

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I am an independent celebrant that trained with UKSoC.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

This seems a helpful idea especially for people who may have difficulty travelling or live in more rural areas.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes. England and Wales are great destinations for weddings and this should be continued to aid the wedding industry.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

They can be published online too.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes, in the same way a registrar meets couples.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes, in the same way that couples meet with registrars to make sure that all is above board.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

The various independent celebrant organisations.

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would lead to greater choice for couples. I think it would also aid in filtering out those officiants that are not serious about the process as they may be less likely to follow through on the administration process.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I think that the officiants should be able to make a living from officiating at weddings, but not abuse their position by increasing their fees at more popular times.

Perhaps a set fee for officiating (standardised by the government) + fee for writing and performing the ceremony?

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

See answer to Q32

Consultation Question 34:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

To give couples greater choice, would it not be useful if officiants/celebrants have flexibility so they step in and help other organisations in case of an emergency?

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Guidance, not strict rules.

It should be up to the officiant as to how the ceremony is held in accordance with their couple's requests while maintaining the dignity and solemnity of the concept of marriage.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

On the whole yes, especially as weddings aren't events couples really want to repeat or have ruined.

However, I think there should be a mechanism for couples/venues to report officiants if the nominating organisation fails to act.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

As long as there are appropriate health and safety management and risk management for each venue, it seems a very exciting idea.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Other

Other

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I think each venue should have the authority to veto a ceremony from taking place on its property in a case by case basis.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It would be useful to have some guidelines for making this decision.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

The venue should be able to apply for a pre-approval licence as they currently apply for a wedding licence from the General Register Office.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A lower cost for housebound people

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDQN-1

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-13 17:35:03

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Humanists UK

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

The weddings that I conduct in England are not legally recognised.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I always ensure that the couple know that the wedding does not confer legal recognition.

No

Please expand on your answer:

Most couples for whom I conduct marriages in England choose also to have a civil marriage in order to gain legal recognition.

They do this because they want a Humanist wedding that matches their beliefs and values, conducted by a Celebrant who shares those beliefs and values in a location that is meaningful to them.

They cannot do this through any other form of marriage that is legally recognised, and are generally disappointed that they need to go through the process of a Civil marriage as well, which they often see as simply a paperwork exercise at additional cost.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I have known couples who have chosen church weddings rather than Humanist weddings even though they do not have any religious beliefs - it is simply to allow the marriage to be legal.

Also couples who want a Humanist ceremony due to their beliefs but cannot afford 2 ceremonies, so have had to choose a Civil ceremony and been disappointed.

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

The main barrier is that Humanist weddings are not legally recognised, and restriction on locations means that many cannot have legally binding marriages in places that are meaningful to them.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Many weddings have been postponed until next year, due to frequently changing Covid restrictions, causing huge upset for many couples.

It has been extra challenging for Humanist weddings as they have had to sort out 2 separate ceremonies at a time when civil ceremonies have been very booked up, so added stress and disappointment. Everything would have been simpler if Humanist ceremonies were already legally recognised.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is always important to have cover for unavoidable circumstances.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

yes, I don't see why a registrar is needed at some religious marriages, as this leads to confusion.

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I object to this definition. I think that the law should simply refer to those beliefs that are relevantly protected under Article 9 of the European Convention on Human Rights.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I disagree with these minimal proposed qualifications, which may lead to reckless commercialisation.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I think this is the right approach, but I do not think that the organisations should alone be relied on - the registrar general should have the power to refuse an application if they have reason to think that someone nominated is not fit and proper.
All officiants should have up to date DBS checks.

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Humanist Celebrants in Northern Ireland and Scotland already operate under this scheme.

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

all places, provided that Health and Safety can be assured, and the dignity of marriage can be maintained.

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Other

Other

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is unclear what is meant by religious venues and non religious belief venues.

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There will always be people who want to get married with least fuss and expense.

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

there has been huge demand for Humanist weddings in Scotland since the legalisation there, and we believe the same would be true in England.

The current law definitely stops some people having Humanist weddings as they will need an extra civil ceremony to become legally married.

I have also known of non religious couples choosing to get married in Church, simply as it will enable them to be legally married, which does not seem right.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

We know that people from England already travel to Scotland, N Ireland and Jersey for Humanist weddings that are legally recognised - please allow this to happen in England.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

I believe that allowing legal Humanist weddings would reduce costs for couples as they do not need to go through the additional process and cost of a civil wedding.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDQW-A

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-13 20:20:55

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

n/a

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

We had a church wedding where the vicar allowed us to have live music as well as our choice of reading. My husband also had an entrance with his family followed by me shortly after. If we had used a registrar this would not have been possible.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

I am a wedding Celebrant and Toastmaster and this year I have not been able to be part of any weddings as we had to postpone them all because of COVID but also because of the numbers expected at the wedding.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I am not sure why this was ever a requirement

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Having the options will give couples choice which is important. I am a little unsure as to the purpose of the separate in-person interview but if it is to help rule out sham marriages for example then it is a good thing.

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

The shorter time will allow for couples to have less of a run up to the wedding and less gap

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

This is a good idea to use the technology that is available and yes to then having the separate interview is there is a concern

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes it should continue to be possible to allow for the variants there may be in terms of location

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I see no harm in it being 12 months but I also wonder if a shorter period would be more appropriate so the wedding happens sooner

Consultation Question 11:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I suppose this depends if they have chosen an officiant yet or not

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

As long as the couple can show that they have them then I do not believe it should stop them

Consultation Question 14:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

not sure

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

this is a good thing as could also weed out any concerns about sham marriages or other issues

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes both should attend

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Independent Celebrants should also be able to officiate at civil weddings

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I believe that some of the religious bodies may not have individuals who have a good understanding of the English language and the law that surrounds marriage so there would need to be criteria put in place for those that may be nominated to have a certain level of language and understanding of the law.

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

if the organisation promotes unlawful or contrary to public policy or morality then the answer should be No

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

It should be named individuals who have a good understanding of the English Language and marriage law

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Independent celebrants will charge according to a standard fee and mileage according to their experience and knowledge. A Celebrant who has additional knowledge of a particular culture or knows the language may charge some more for the additional skills being provided if asked to by the couple

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There may be Independent Celebrants who are part of an organisation and actually being nominated through them could help the organisation meet the needs of its members.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

there should be a process by where if there is a complaint an individual should be authorised to deal with the complaint and that could be the organisation that nominated them but there should also be a process to appeal

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

I as an Independent Celebrant have included some parts from the Asian Culture including the garlands, milni, sindhoor, mangalsutra, phera, ganesh puja, but it is done with a modern interpretation that is appropriate for life today.

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

no limits - give the couples choice

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

It should be who has approved venues so far and there should be a list available for couples to see on the website

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

I have not had to conduct any of these yet but I would hope the law states to do what is required to make it happen legally.

Consultation Question 63:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I believe this may be an issue if the terminal illness is such that they only have less than a week

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

any ships where there are working officers

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The name of the officiant if known is important to give

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

do not know

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

not sure what the additional services are

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

the change to having the location the couples want, their choice of an officiant, the ability to have an independent celebrant who can create a bespoke and personalised ceremony, including the legal requirements is a real positive step forward.

I believe this will impact on the cost of having one less event

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

see above

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

see above

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

no data

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

I believe I have responded to some of this above but would also like to say that for many of us solopreneurs this would be a positive step for our businesses.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

it opens up the opportunity for choice which is a good thing

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

see above

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

it will allow for officers to marry and not have to wait

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

see above

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

there may be an initial rise in costs to all but once things settle and become the norm so will the costs

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDMJ-S

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-14 11:16:37

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Brethren's Meeting Hall, [REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Other (please state)

If other, please state::

Authorised Person for marriages

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

I have conducted 2 marriage ceremonies during the pandemic. It was very different, but what struck me most was the current need to come to a registered building for the ceremony. As it had to be simple and with very limited numbers present, it would have been simpler and more natural to have conducted it in a home setting.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The present requirement doesn't serve any useful purpose in confirming the legality of the persons to marry and can cause major problems. In one recent marriage I conducted, one party, a French resident, had to travel to England and stay with a friend to fulfill this requirement. Due to changing Covid restrictions during this time he only just managed to return to France without having to face a further 14 days quarantine, all to register at an address that provided no particular information about him.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It makes it easier for parties from another country to arrange.

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

That should be sufficient for a challenge to be raised.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

I agree as long as suitable safeguards are in place.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

This seems reasonable as long as the person can be clearly identified and vouched for.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is a public committal and normally this would be recognised by public display.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should provide for unexpected situations.

Please share your views below:

Yes, if all parties are happy with this arrangement

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The parties getting married should be free to specify an officiant from their own church.

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Officiants could be nominated by a governing body either at local level or national level.

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The sanctity of marriage is a central tenet of our beliefs.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

There would need to be power for the law to exclude organisations that would promote illegal or harmful arrangements.

There should be provision that Christian organisations and their nominated officiants should not be under a legal obligation to carry out a marriage ceremony that would be against their beliefs, even if it would be approved by law. e.g. same-sex marriage.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

a central register by a Government body seems essential and the GRO performs this service well.

I would add that I have found the GRO helpful where advice has been needed in the past.

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I would not charge for my services. I regard it as an honour and a service to the church

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Making the procedure simpler and easier should in no way detract from the solemn and binding nature of the commitment of marriage.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should ensure that the law is fully complied with, but not restrict the officiant as to the church's own suggestions as to the service.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No longer necessary with correct checks beforehand and could provide an opportunity for an ill-disposed person to cause trouble.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The venue does not need to be specified/registered.

Controls may need to be suggested to uphold the dignity and seriousness of the ceremony.

The freedom to be married at home would be very welcome and very meaningful for many. It would have been very uesful during the Covid restrictions.

Please share your views below:

see above

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

to minimise writing at the time, it would be helpful if these details could be added before the actual ceremony.

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Subject to rigorous tests of the security arrangements proposed.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Any move that encourages the commitment that marriage involves is welcome, especially in the responsibility to provide a stable, loving, secure environment for children to grow up in and thrive.

Marriage is the foundation stone of moral order in the world.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The freedom to marry at home in a simple ceremony would relieve couples of needless expense.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

In both situations there would be a saving in costs in the proposals, especially the removal of the obligation for overseas residents to be resident at an English or Welsh address for 7 days.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

3. The removal of the registered location obligation would save on the costs of preparing and opening a large church building for the ceremony. We were very conscious of this for ceremonies performed during the Covid restrictions where a large hall had to be brought out of closure for a 20minute ceremony.

5. The couples in the above instances would have much preferred to have been married in the home setting.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDQ3-6

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-14 11:56:58

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Celebrant

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

As a Celebrant this completely ruined my business

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It's an old fashioned concept with no relevance to a modern wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The online notice is obvious - not entirely sure that an in-person interview should be necessary

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Remotely

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Yes remotely

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes it should be possible

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No reason for weddings to fall under the category of "religion"

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I agree with point 2 but point 1 is moot

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

It is clear that it works in New Zealand and Australia. Why should the Government be the decider of love and Marriage? No wedding officiants should represent the choices of the couple

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

yes

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Depends on what form the 'guidance' takes. Most officiants are very serious. If in the form of 'standards' - then -yes

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure what this is

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Anywhere should be legal

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

- Registrar

- Certification process

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

all

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I think it is more about personal choice than numbers

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

It's ridiculous to have 2 ceremonies - it should be regulated, standardised but free to choose

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No opinion on savings - but freedom to choose

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDQ2-5

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-14 14:54:55

About you

What is your name?

Name:
Patrick Nash

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Woolf Institute and St Edmunds College, Cambridge

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:
[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:
[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Some kind of prescribed training leading to certification for officiants is undoubtedly necessary. There is a risk, however, that if the training is elaborate a parasitical industry (private or bureaucratic) will grow up around it. This will present a particular hurdle for independent officiants who may not have prior experience or the institutional support of a religious organisation [para. 3.51]. If they have to attend time-consuming courses and/or travel to specific facilities, this requirement risks becoming unduly lengthy, expensive and off-putting for officiant and couple alike. Given the straightforwardness of the officiant's duties, the basic training should be little more than an online questionnaire test applicable to every type of officiant for record-keeping purposes. Religious groups can then design and run their own training programmes to meet their own specific requirements if they wish. The point is to ensure that every officiant knows what the law requires of them and that they appear in state records.

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The proposals drastically reduce the red tape around wedding venues. They may not go far enough. This is because the concept of venue pre-approval is retained in shrunken form via the need for the officiant to consider whether the venue is safe and dignified [para. 7.5]. The need for the officiant to ascertain whether the venue is dignified seems redundant given that people have been married in ASDAs and zoos in the recent past under existing regulations. Likewise, the issue of the venue's safety can be left to rest on contract and occupier's liability in tort. Rather than making officiants assess the venues (or pre-approved lists of them) and incur additional expenses, it would more efficient to simply let the couple agree with the officiant on the location and have no additional assessment requirements or guidance whatever. Plain old common sense, word of mouth and online reviews can do the rest.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Under the new proposals [paras. 8.14-8.18] 'the couple would be legally responsible to return the signed schedule to the registration service'. Some religious organisations have requested that they be solely responsible for this. What matters above all is that the marriage ends up being registered, by whom is of secondary importance. A better solution would be to make the officiant and the couple jointly responsible so that the scope for neglect or deception by any one of them is minimised. This would ensure that the pressures to fulfil the duty are mutually reinforcing: the parties can hold the officiant to account if he promises and fails to register their marriage, and the officiant (especially a respected religious leader) can lean on the couple to do it themselves or delegate the task to him or her. The point is to ensure that someone does it properly so that the couple are shielded from the consequences of failure.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

The suggested criminal offence in para. 10.170 is necessary and well defined. However, it does not go far enough to protect parties from ignorance or deception given the seriousness of the consequences resulting from a defective marriage. The remedy is relatively straightforward. If the couple desire a non-qualifying ceremony/religious-only marriage, the law should make sure they know full well what they are getting into and the consequences that flow from it. This can be achieved by adapting the pre-nuptial recognition requirements set out in Radmacher (formerly Granatino) (Respondent) v Granatino (Appellant) [2010] UKSC 42 into a tortious duty of care. Thus, discharge his/her duty of care and proceed with a non-qualifying ceremony, the celebrant must be satisfied that:

- (i) the parties are entering this form of relationship voluntarily, without undue pressure and be informed of its implications;
- (ii) both parties have actually taken independent legal advice from a qualified English lawyer.

Should the celebrant fail to discharge this duty, and/or lack the proof that they have done so, he or she would incur the following liabilities. First, a new statutory tort of negligently conducting a non-qualifying ceremony should be created, punishable with a heavy fixed fine. Second, the celebrant would also be made liable for both parties' costs in the event of any post-relationship-breakdown legal advice and litigation. Third, the celebrant would be made liable for the amount the claimant would likely have received had the marriage been subject to divorce or a decree of nullity. These intimidating consequences will serve as a deterrent against malpractice and bring even more ceremonies within the law. They will also ensure that parties opting out of the law are fully and provably aware of their situation.

The proposals suggest that bigamy is less common and 'much less of an issue' than it was in the past [para. 4.76]. This may be true of the offence as it stands, but the wrong it seeks to counter is enjoying something of a resurgence in the form of de facto polygamy. Polygamous (usually polygynous) relationships are sometimes portrayed simply as matters of individual choice [para. 10.90]. While the parties may well be fully informed and consent to such a union, there is so much more at stake than this. Polygamy is an emergent threat to society. This does not mean that the parties to or any particular union of this kind are dangerous or wicked. What it means is that when this practice becomes widespread in a population it generates problems that are not visible on an individual scale. The Office for National Statistics has confirmed that there are no estimates for the number of polygamous marriages subsisting in England Wales. The true scale of the practice remains unknown but it is understood to be 'enormous' and 'rife' in Muslim communities, with one dated guess suggesting that there are up to 20,000 de facto polygamous (presumably polygynous) marriages in Britain. Dame Louise Casey identified polygamy as being of particular concern to the government as 'the existence of matchmaking sites like "secondwife.com" and a number of accusations, anecdotes and assertions encountered throughout our engagement imply a common acceptance of polygamy – which impact negatively on women (and their children) who have not had a legal marriage'. In Shia communities, the related practice of temporary and transactional 'pleasure marriages' (known as mut'a or sigheh, they are often overseen by clerics) is controversial but not uncommon, with one enthusiast stating that 'I really like temporary marriage and I want to have lots of wives.' This form of informal religious marriage is associated with deception, manipulation and the sexual exploitation of women, with a recent BBC documentary linking it to a booming sex trade in young Iraqi girls.

Such practices are not a problem merely because they offend liberal and feminist principles. Political objections aside, polygamy is known to have negative consequences both for the family and wider society. Systematic literature reviews have found that polygamy was associated with 'more mental health problems, social problems and lower academic achievement for children and adolescents' as well as 'marital conflict, marital distress, father absence and financial stress'. More broadly, polygamy is linked to severe educational, economic and gender inequality; domestic violence and FGM; violent intra-sex competition over sparse marriage partners; and ultimately state fragility, organised group violence, social unrest and civil war. In short, 'institutionalized monogamous marriage provides greater net benefits for society at large by reducing social problems that are inherent in polygynous societies'. The solution is again relatively straightforward: ensuring that most Muslim marriages are legally recognised and expanding the offence of bigamy to catch both formal and informal polygamous marriages as well those who conduct them. There is clear precedent for something like this in the context of forced marriage: s121(4) Antisocial Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014 applies to any 'religious or civil ceremony of marriage (whether or not legally binding)'.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDGA-A

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-14 15:39:04

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Christian Concern

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Response on behalf of an organisation

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is an outdated requirement.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Simplifies the process.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

This allows a bit more time for any concerns to be investigated.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Interviews should be required to take place in person so that the possibility of coercion or sham marriage can be properly assessed. There is considerable scope for impersonation or coercion with remote interviews.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes it should be possible to give notice outside England and Wales in these circumstances to simplify the process.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is simpler and more accessible for most people.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There should be a time limit and 12 months is a reasonable limit to have, after which it should be able to be renewed if required.

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The officiant should be identified so that he can be questioned if there are any concerns.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes in such unavoidable circumstances.

Please share your views below:

A substitute should only be used in extraordinary circumstances.

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This will simplify the process.

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Simplifies the process.

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Publishing banns only in the church where the wedding is to take place will simplify the process.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Clergy should have the power to call for documentary evidence and be trained in how to check it.

Clergy should be required to meet with each of the couple separately to check that there is no coercion and that each person fully understands what they are doing.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Both of the couple should be required to declare that there is no impediment to their marriage as this emphasises the solemnity and legal formality of the process.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

The Anglican church is the established church which represents the national religion. As such, Anglican ceremonies should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries as this makes clear that this is the established church.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is important to ensure the solemnity and legal points are complied with.

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

They are not ministers of a religion so they should only officiate at civil weddings.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Since the Church of England is the established church, forming the national religion, this makes sense.

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The difficulty is that a group of 20 is quite small and people could form a group with bizarre or obscene beliefs which undermine the nature and solemnity of marriage.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

This sounds fine on the surface, but with proposals for hate crimes and hate speech that could criminalise reading certain portions of the Bible or the Qur'an, there may need to be some allowance made for beliefs based on established religious texts, and these two texts in particular.

Furthermore, proposals to criminalise so-called 'conversion therapy' could criminalise prayer for someone who wants to move away from same-sex attraction. An action which many orthodox believers may wish to support.

In these two ways, prohibiting organisations which promote unlawful purposes could end up not allowing any orthodox Jewish, Christian, or Muslim groups to conduct marriages.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

The problem is that an unusual religious organisation could nominate all officials and this could bring marriage in to disrepute or undermine the solemnity of marriage.

To safeguard against this, it would be better for only named individuals to be nominated.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The state has an interest in ensuring that officiants are fit and proper persons and therefore the state should do its own check in this regard.

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Training should be carried out and tested online so as to maximise convenience and minimise costs.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is important that someone carries the responsibility for upholding the dignity and solemnity of marriage and that there should be penalties for failing to uphold these things. Otherwise the dignity and solemnity of marriage will be undermined or ridiculed.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The state has its own interest in ensuring that officiants are monitored and that they maintain their duties and responsibilities.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is very important for expression of consent to form a significant part of the ceremony.

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Providing that the essentials in Question 42 are complied with, this allows for maximum freedom of religion.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Civil ceremonies should be allowed to contain religious content such as Bible or other readings.

Please share your views below:

Readings from the Bible or other established religious texts.

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is an outdated provision.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

People naturally want to have weddings in beautiful locations. They should be allowed to do so. Religious weddings should be allowed to take place outside of religious buildings so that celebrants can have a religious wedding in another location if they so wish. There are some legitimate concerns that the use of some locations could undermine the dignity and solemnity of the marriage ceremony. The officiant is to be held responsible for ensuring that the location does uphold the dignity and solemnity of marriage and some guidance should be provided by the government as to what that entails.

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

As above, celebrants should be able to choose a location providing that the location does not undermine the dignity and solemnity of marriage. The officiant is responsible for ensuring this and should be provided with guidance about this.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

A wedding should be allowed to be a relatively private affair, particularly in the case of celebrities.

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Religious organisations should be allowed to insist that only religious ceremonies are carried out in their venues. Indeed, canon law would prohibit Church of England churches being used for any other purpose. Churches should not be placed at risk of being sued for discrimination for refusing a non-religious ceremony in the venue, or vice-versa. This can only be achieved by prohibiting the practice in law.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes the officiant should have primary responsibility, but the state has a legitimate interest in ensuring that the location does not undermine the dignity and solemnity of marriage. The state should provide guidance to officiants about what kinds of locations would not qualify as upholding the dignity and solemnity of marriage.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The government should provide some guidance about this for officiants.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The provision of such guidance will help to ensure that locations are safe and dignified and to be clear whether a venue breached these requirements.

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would be helpful for all involved.

Please share your views below:

The government should be responsible for it, and it should be hosted on a website so that it is publicly available and searchable by location.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It may make sense to make the officiant and the couple jointly responsible for ensuring that the marriage is registered so that there is mutual accountability and responsibility, making it more likely that the marriage does get registered properly.

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This will simplify the procedure.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Rendering the marriage void in these cases adds some protection for partners who may have been misled about the nature of the ceremony.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Rendering the marriage valid in these instances is good protection for the couple, especially in cases where one partner may have been misled.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consent and understanding is key, and a prerequisite for a valid marriage.

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The presumption that the couple is married in such cases is a useful protection for women in cases of abandonment.

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is a helpful protection against either partner being misled about the legal status of the ceremony.

There should also be a similar offence for a celebrant of conducting a non-qualifying marriage ceremony. In such cases, the celebrant should be punished with a heavy fixed fine, and made liable for both parties costs in the event of relationship breakdown, so that they are compensated as if they had been validly married. This will act as a strong deterrent to conducting non-qualifying ceremonies which are prevalent in some religious communities.

This will also act to prevent polygamy since if all such weddings are registered it will be clear that the offence of polygamy has been committed. In some cases women have been unaware that they are entering into a polygamous marriage. Estimates range up to 20,000 polygamous marriages in Muslim communities, enabled because their marriages were unregistered. <https://www.channel4.com/programmes/the-men-with-many-wives/episode-guide/> Polygamy is damaging to society and creates inequalities and disadvantages as well as making women vulnerable to domestic abuse.

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Neither the preliminaries or especially not the ceremony should be conducted remotely.

A marriage is a physical union of two people. It requires an in-person ceremony. If people wish to wear protective garments they should be able to do so, but the couple should not wear masks as their identity needs to be clear for all to see.

Preliminaries check that each partner is willingly entering into the marriage. This cannot be properly done remotely. It should be done in person even in times of emergency. Provision should be made for marriages and preliminaries to continue in times of emergency, albeit with fewer guests.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There is a case for making the fee for this higher so as to encourage the use of approved locations.

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

These proposals generally simplify the laws around marriage and should therefore make it somewhat easier to get married. We welcome plans to simplify the process and regulations around marriage ceremonies.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

These proposals should simplify and reduce the costs of getting married.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDQ4-7

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-14 18:39:04

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Humanists UK

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

N/A

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

The Humanists UK weddings I have conducted in England are not legally recognised.

I have conducted one ceremony in Scotland which was legally recognised.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I have always advised the couples in England that the humanist ceremony is not legally recognised. In almost all cases, this was confirming what the couples already knew.

No

Please expand on your answer:

The overwhelming majority of couples chose to have a civil marriage in order to gain legal recognition.

Without exception, the couples have chosen a humanist ceremony because it matches their own convictions and values and have chosen me, as a Humanists UK celebrant, to conduct it because I share and am committed to those humanists beliefs. Often, too, they arrange to hold the ceremony in a location which is meaningful to them. They have the civil marriage because they are required to do so.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Occasionally, guests discuss the legal implications of a humanist marriage after the ceremony. I aim to explain the current situation as objectively as possible.

Often, the humanist ceremonies contain a section about humanist principles and weddings simply as an explanation.

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

The main barrier is quite simple: humanist couples are unable to have a legally recognised marriage conducted by someone who shares their beliefs and is committed to humanism. (For example, I am a Schools Volunteer and represent humanism, when invited, by local schools.)

The humanist ceremonies convey the couples' humanist beliefs explicitly, in opening sections, readings, music and choices of words, and implicitly, in the uniqueness and individuality of both form and content, throughout the ceremony.

Some ceremonies have been held in venues with great personal meaning to the couple, for example mountain sides, river banks, domestic gardens as well as special clubs, pubs or hotels.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Unfortunately, I can't comment. I recently turned [REDACTED] and felt it advisable to withdraw temporarily from conducting wedding ceremonies in the spring and summer.

I have some planned for 2021, but they are all working within the parameters of current parameters.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Support using appropriate IT.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Support continuing current practice.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This practice exists in my local Humanists UK celebrant network and is appreciated by couples.

Please share your views below:

No. Minimise opportunities for abuse or mistakes.

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not qualified to comment.

Consultation Question 14:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not qualified to comment.

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Not qualified to comment.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Not qualified to comment.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Not qualified to comment.

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Whatever is the best way of ensuring that Anglican and other ceremonies are the same.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not qualified to comment.

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Confirms appropriateness of officiant.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The advancement of its belief system (e.g. humanism) should be the only or, at the least, main purpose of the organisation.

Shouldn't the definition ensure that the belief systems are convincing and appropriate in a democratic society. Otherwise, couldn't, say, Flat Earthers claim to officiate at Flat Earth Ceremonies.

Please share your views below:

Attempt to produce a definition which self-evidently disqualifies excluded groups.

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This could be exploited for commercial gain.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

This raises tricky questions. Most obviously, until relatively recently, atheism was considered immoral or contrary to public policy. Yet nowadays the work of many prominent atheists - for example, George Eliot - is mainstream in cultural and literary studies and celebrated by the state. Careful wording would be needed.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Ensure parity of Anglican and other organisations.

Consultation Question 28:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There is a risk of encouraging commercial celebrants whose motives are simply determined by the market place.

Most importantly, weddings described as 'humanists' should only be conducted by celebrants who have demonstrated commitment to humanist principles, undergone a professional accredited training and undertake continuous professional development.

Consultation Question 29:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Tricky.

There should be some method of scrutinising independent officiant's' applications and insisting on minimal professional standards and qualifications, e.g. up to date DBS checks.

Consultation Question 30:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Another tricky area.

Who checks that the non-religious belief organisations ensuring that nominated officiants are 'fit and proper persons?'

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

A good basic principle.

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Arguably, commercial celebrants should not gain legal recognition for their marriages since they are only doing it for the money. Since this is the case, their amoral practice should be controlled to ensure there is no financial exploitation. The 'conflict of interest' argument is irrelevant: by definition, the only interest of independent officiants is money, not the belief system that the ceremony is espousing.

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Strong endorsement: an excellent reform.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Essential.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Particularly important!

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Nominal retirement age (e.g. 70) and consequent legal processes, like driving licences.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Considered and appropriate.

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not qualified to comment.

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Most importantly, the use of religious content in a civil ceremony could be construed as an act of worship.

Including religious content in civil ceremonies compromises the civil officiant.

Humanists UK celebrants have considerable experience of negotiating religious elements with a wider cultural meaning.

Please share your views below:

Only if it is carefully contextualised and/or has a wider cultural significance (e.g. 'Jerusalem' to sports fans).

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Important.

In my experience, outdoor ceremonies held in places of special significance for the couple have always been particularly significant and moving experiences.

outdoors,

Please share your views below:

outdoors: often significant for couples, e.g. near mountain top proposal sites;
inland waters: often significant, e.g. Lake District cruiser (again, site of proposal); in the air; outside my experience, but could be valid;
in private homes: important inclusion for practical as well as emotional reasons.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Other

Other

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

1. Humanist weddings are inappropriate in commissioned religious venues. At humanist funerals in crematoria, chapel attendants remove religious artefacts on request. This couldn't happen in a religious venue. (I did conduct one ceremony in a decommissioned church - with all artefacts long removed - and this was perfectly appropriate.)

2. Religious weddings are inappropriate in secular venues.

3. As 1 above.

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Uncertain of officiant role here. For example, is the officiant responsible for checking H & S regulations?

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Tricky.

Safety. The officiant's role should, at most, be advisory. In practice, I have always held a 'rehearsal' before the ceremony, during which all risks are considered and, I hope, eliminated.

Dignified. The main part of the ceremony is very dignified. There is no reason why this cannot be the case in an apparently informal setting. For example, is a rear garden inappropriate because it is 'undignified.'

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Useful for H & S.

Please share your views below:

1. Owner has main responsibility.
2. Outside my expertise. However, I have always checked venues before conducting ceremonies.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Outside my experience.

Consultation Question 63:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Outside my experience. Feel unqualified to comment.

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Outside my experience.

Consultation Question 71:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Outside my experience.

Consultation Question 72:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Outside my experience,

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Outside my experience.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Outside my experience.

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

I have never been approached. Probably very limited demand: potentially very expensive.

Consultation Question 74:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Outside my experience.

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Outside my experience, but seems a compassionate practice.

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Some couples might prefer a simple and potentially inexpensive ceremony.

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Might there be compassionate grounds for subsidy?

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Compassionate grounds.

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

1. Some couples have expressed surprise that a humanist ceremony requires an additional register office marriage to make it legal and have not proceeded with the ceremony. Some may have decided to reject the bespoke humanist ceremony and simply accept the registry ceremony. Some may have decided not to get married. It is difficult to know for certain.
2. It is likely that removing the double expense for a humanist ceremony would increase demand for humanist marriages.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1. See 5 below.
2. Unfair.
3. Outside my knowledge.
4. Variable.
5. An unfair and occasionally prohibitive additional cost.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1. Provision of an inexpensive , small scale ceremony could be appreciated by some couples.

2. This is an important benefit of the proposed scheme. The legal demand for 2 ceremonies is an unfair financial burden - and extra, wasted time and effort.

3. I would stress that without exception the couples have always regarded the humanist wedding as the real wedding and the register office as a legal formality. This view has also been expressed by family members and close friends who have attended both ceremonies.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

1. Outside my knowledge.

2. Couples who have held both ceremonies at the same venue on the same day (sometimes consecutively) have resented having to accommodate a ceremony which they didn't want in the first place.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Generally, I would support offering couples as wide a range of venues as possible. In particular, some historic buildings could be very suitable locations.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Outside my knowledge.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Outside my knowledge.

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

In general, liberalising the laws on humanist marriages and appropriate venues is likely to lead to more weddings taking place in England and Wales.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1. Variable, depending on specifics of other jurisdictions.

2. Definitely increase the number of couples travelling to England and Wales from other jurisdictions.

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Outside my experience.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Outside my experience.

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Most importantly, the proposals will benefit couples wishing to have humanist ceremonies since they will not have to pay for an unwanted register office ceremony.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDNE-N

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-15 10:32:37

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Humanist Society Scotland

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Response on behalf of an organisation

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

In the initial stages of the COVID-19 pandemic marriage ceremonies in Scotland were unable to proceed, unless due to exceptional circumstances. Since resuming, marriage ceremonies have been subject to a number of restrictions which have changed the way ceremonies are conducted.

Humanist Society Scotland celebrants have been flexible in their approach and supported couples through the changing landscape. Although many couples have been unable to have the ceremony they originally planned, mostly due to the restriction on number of guests, they have been able to marry in a ceremony that is meaningful and authentically reflects their beliefs and values, led by someone who shares those beliefs and values.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

It is difficult to take a position without understanding the parameters of the 'in person interview'.

It would seem counter intuitive to remove the requirement for couples to reside within England & Wales for 7 days prior to the marriage, to then replace with a requirement to attend an 'in-person interview' at least 7 days prior to the marriage.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Remote interviews may reduce barriers for non resident resident couples, but there should be no compromise to the identification and management of sham or forced marriages.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes we believe it should continue to be possible

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is important to minimise the stress for the couple of any situation where the named officiant is unexpectedly unable to act. Allowing a substitute officiant enables unexpected situations to be managed more effectively.

Consideration should be given to restricting the substitution to officiants from the same religious or belief body.

Please share your views below:

It is our opinion that substitute officiants should be used in exceptional circumstances. Although any legislation should be flexible for exceptional circumstances such as serious illness etc, it should create a culture where officiants are seen as interchangeable. The value of the relationship between couple and officiant should not be diluted.

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is our opinion that registration officers provide the legal function of marriage for those who do not wish to marry in a way reflecting any particular beliefs and values.

Those couples wishing to marry in a ceremony which celebrates and reflects their beliefs and values should be able to do so without the dilution of a registration officer who may not share those beliefs and values.

Additional complexity may arise if registration officers may actively oppose the beliefs and values of religions or philosophies they are being asked to celebrate as part of a couple's marriage.

Consultation Question 21:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is our opinion that non-religious belief, and religious bodies should nominate officiants for authorisation. Those bodies should have demonstrated their legitimacy and reliability before being considered suitable to nominate.

Individuals should not be able to self-nominate.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

We support the statement submitted by Humanists UK to this question as part of their consultation response.

Please share your views below:

It is our view that it should be clear that organisations that do not represent, uphold and advance particular philosophical beliefs should not be considered appropriate for solemnising marriage.

Those that claim to be 'non-religious belief' organisations but have no demonstrable function beyond the provision of marriage ceremonies, should not be considered appropriate for solemnising marriage.

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

We believe any group able to nominate officiants should have a demonstrable purpose beyond the provision of marriage ceremonies.

The suggested 20 members seems wholly inadequate. We suggest that some consideration should also be given to the history and length of existence of a religious or belief body. We do not believe that an organisation set up to provide marriage ceremonies as their first area of work should be considered suitable.

We support the statement submitted by Humanists UK to this question as part of their consultation response.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

It is our opinion that no organisation who promotes purposes that are unlawful should be considered appropriate to officiate at weddings.

The issue of morality is complex, and to exclude any group on that basis may be problematic. There are many different interpretations of morality across our cultures, religions and belief systems.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

We support the statement submitted by Humanists UK to this question as part of their consultation response.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We support the statement submitted by Humanists UK to this question as part of their consultation response.

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Whilst independent officiants may have their own beliefs, they do not, as a collective represent any religious or belief group.

A landscape which enables couples to have a marriage ceremony which reflects their beliefs and values, led by someone who shares those beliefs and values, and has the option of a civil marriage, does not require the addition of independent officiants.

We strongly oppose the proposition that independent officiants be able to apply to be authorised.

We support the statement submitted by Humanists UK to this question as part of their consultation response.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There must be clear guidance on what constitutes 'fit and proper' to enable organisations to manage this aspect of nomination. There must also be robust and consistent processes for dealing with organisations fail to manage this requirement.

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Whilst independent officiants may have their own beliefs, they do not, as a collective represent any religious or belief group.

A landscape which enables couples to have a marriage ceremony which reflects their beliefs and values, led by someone who shares those beliefs and values, and has the option of a civil marriage, does not require the addition of independent officiants.

We strongly oppose the proposition that independent officiants be able to apply to be authorised.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There must be clear guidance on what constitutes 'business' and 'profits'. There must also be robust and consistent processes for dealing with organisations who fail to manage this requirement.

We support the statement submitted by Humanists UK to this question as part of their consultation response.

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

We strongly oppose the proposition that independent officiants be able to apply to be authorised.

This proposition creates a two tier system; religious and belief organisations must not prioritise 'business', but independent celebrants are free to operate commercially.

This proposition will create a commercial landscape, and those religious and belief bodies who are legitimately working to represent and advance their beliefs and values will be at a disadvantage. Independent celebrants operating commercially and offering 'pick 'n' mix' ceremonies, with no legitimate connection to a religious or belief worldview will be damaging to religious and belief organisations.

We support the statement submitted by Humanists UK to this question as part of their consultation response.

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We strongly oppose the proposition that independent officiants be able to apply to be authorised.

Marriage is an important milestone for couples. Those who wish to be married in a religious or belief ceremony to reflect their beliefs and values should be able to do so with the knowledge that their officiant is not diluting or offending their beliefs and values through a lack of sincerity.

An officiant who does not commit to one religious or belief body, cannot legitimately and meaningfully represent the belief and values of that body, thus posing some risk to couples.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There must be clear guidance on what constitutes 'dignity and solemnity of marriage'. There must also be robust and consistent processes for dealing with organisations that fail to manage this requirement.

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

It is our opinion that GRO should issue guidance to religious and belief bodies. It should then be the responsibility of those bodies to disseminate to their officiants.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We agree that the responsibility for monitoring officiants and requesting withdrawal of authorisation should lie with the nominating organisation. However, organisations must have clear guidance on 'fit and proper'.

GRO must take an overarching responsibility and ensure there are clear and consistent processes for dealing with those organisations that fail in their duty to maintain standards such as 'fit and proper'.

GRO may want to consider if it is appropriate for an officiant who has had authorisation removed can seek nomination with an alternative body.

We support the statement submitted by Humanists UK to this question as part of their consultation response.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We agree that the GRO should have the power to de-authorise nominated officiants.

We also believe that the GRO should have the power to remove the authority for bodies to nominate officiants if they fail in their duties, or fail to meet any test of legitimacy as a religious or belief body.

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

We strongly oppose the proposition that independent officiants be able to apply to be authorised.

This would seem to be a labour intensive and costly process to provide a service to the public that would be unnecessary if religious and non religious bodies, as well as civil registrars were available.

In proposing that GRO monitor Independent Celebrants there is the potential to disadvantage religious and belief bodies. Most religious and belief bodies will be eligible for charitable status. The proposals outlined would place responsibility on bodies to manage and monitor celebrants, costing charitable resources. However, those operating commercially would face no restrictions on their income and incur no costs or expectation that their profits be used for monitoring.

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It is our opinion that there should be time limits to enable GRO to consider the history of an organisation and whether their officiants should be authorised for a further period.

GRO may wish to consider a multi-level approach where those organisations who have a long history as religious and belief bodies, with longstanding memberships and can evidence compliance with nominating and managing officiants have an extended time limit.

This would be similar to the model in Scotland where newer bodies can only seek temporary authorisation for their officiants. They then 'progress' to become a nominating body with officiants able to be authorised for 3 year periods.

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

We strongly oppose the proposition that independent officiants be able to apply to be authorised.

Our opinion on those reflects our response to Question 39

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is our opinion that each party should be required to make a declaration of consent to be married. These declarations should be obvious to the officiant and witnesses.

On point 4 - consideration should be given to the importance of any declaration of marriage by the officiant.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

We support the statement submitted by Humanists UK to this question as part of their consultation response.

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

We support the statement submitted by Humanists UK to this question as part of their consultation response.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We support the statement submitted by Humanists UK to this question as part of their consultation response.

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We support the statement submitted by Humanists UK to this question as part of their consultation response.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We support the statement submitted by Humanists UK to this question as part of their consultation response.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We support the statement submitted by Humanists UK to this question as part of their consultation response.

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDQY-C

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-15 11:03:40

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

British Marine

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Response on behalf of an organisation

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

British Marine supports this proposal. There are in excess of 720 Passenger boat businesses in the UK operating over 1200 passenger vessels of varying size. Our members of the Passenger Boat Association (PBA) have confirmed that there is high demand for wedding ceremonies to take place on board vessels. Currently, only permanently moored vessels can hold such ceremonies, however to legally permit weddings to take place anywhere could allow them to take place while the vessel is moving, or, to allow the vessel to disembark and then moor up at a specific location for the ceremony.

There are many locations all over the UK that would prove to be very popular, including the Thames, lake district, coastal waters and lochs in Scotland. The ability to perform a wedding with ever changing beautiful scenery will surely be an attraction. The types of vessel will be domestic passenger vessels that are already venues for a host of different activities (such as dinners, business events, parties etc).

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Once a boat has left the mooring, this would not realistically be an issue.

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

British Marine believes that as long as the vessel meets all passenger safety standards, the officiant should permit the wedding.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The Passenger Boat operator should provide a certificate that the vessel is safe and dignified.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

British Marine would be delighted to contribute to this guidance for Passenger Boat operators.

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

British Marine would support this proposal. The many Passenegr Boat operators running their businesses on the coast would see this as a huge opportunity to generate additional revenue.

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

British Marine believes that weddings should be able to take place on all types of vessels as long as they meet the appropriate safety and dignity requirements. For example, any vessel operating in UK waters with over 12 passengers is deemed to be a passenger vessel and must be certified by the MCA as such. This issue of the passenger vessel certificate includes full surveys of the vessel. The issuance of the passenger vessel certificate should suffice.

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

British Marine would also wish to see this proposal extended to all deck officers of vessels, including those on inland and coastal waters.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

British Marine does not believe there will be any negative impacts on the maritime industry.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Our members are fully supportive of this legislative change. This will provide commercially operated vessels with a much needed alternative income source.

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDFW-Y

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-15 16:19:48

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Because marriages can only be carried out by a vicar or registrars in England, their lack of availability during lockdown has meant there have been no marriage ceremonies. Once up and running, the restricted and monopoly of the organisation of registration services meant that there were backlogs which could have been cleared easily by allowing celebrants to carry out legal weddings.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Would enable people to access English /Welsh wedding services from abroad more easily without using holidays whilst awaiting eligibility

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Far easier than booking an appointment and then having to attend when convenient to the registration services

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

Why have to wait if there is no administrative reason?

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It would allow for easy changes to marriage plans without unnecessary administration

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It provides reassurance that there is someone who is legally entitled to marry couples, and a substitute in case of illness

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is a definite requirement to enable independent celebrants to apply to carry out legal weddings, which currently we are not allowed to do

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As an independent celebrant and separately a wedding registrar I can see that it is a necessity that there should be full training.

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

In mixed cultures couples want a small element of their own religious culture included, which is not allowed in a civil marriage ceremony. England is a multi cultural society and this is being asked for more and more.

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The chances that someone is going to bound through the door to say that someone getting married is already wed is hardly likely to happen!

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

For health and safety reasons

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

A body such as Registration Services, as at present

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is a matter of choice

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDFA-9

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-15 16:22:57

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Response on behalf of an organisation

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

In person interview might still not totally alleviate this risk so I believe an online option should be offered.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes. Giving people flexibility and choice is important

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It comes down to trust and professional standards and clarity. I believe in those as being essential when working with a couple.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Celebrants are independently trained at the moment and oftentimes connected via membership or affiliated to their training organisations and these should be listed alongside Humanist and other non religious belief organisations that conduct weddings.

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It's useful to keep track!

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Independent celebrants offer a bespoke wedding ceremony that gives couples the freedom to express themselves in an location and particularly outdoors. The ability of an independent celebrant to offer their services is not beleaguered because we are unable to legalise the marriage however it does create extra stress for couples and costs when a celebrant and a registrar are at a wedding venue that's licenced. It doubles their costs. And yet the registration is no different than had it been conducted at the register office. Unfortunately it's also been the case that appointment slots for standard services at the register office have been cut back and so couples don't have the option to save money there. Allowing and enabling independent officiant celebrants to operate would mean couples can enjoy both the protection of the Law as well as a totally bespoke wedding ceremony that authentically represents them. The days of one size templates has really gone. Couples haven't turned their backs on tradition but want more choice in terms of the ceremony time, date, location, content and format.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I do not believe this to be fair in the case of non religious belief systems who tend to be unsalaried. The clergy are doing something different and see marriage as a union with God. They work for the church and are salaried. So they should not be putting a business forward as an officiant. Non religious belief organisations are focused on the relationship with and between the humans marrying. They are not salaried as far as I know, and need to make a living. I feel it's unfair to have "joined" them under this particular question. .

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Independent celebrants have varying niches experience and expertise as well as business models and as long as they are credible insured and in some understandable way "qualified" then their fees should not be regulated.

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Some guidance as to the legal aspects of conducting the registration of a legal marriage yes. But beyond that no or they're getting involved in a never ending scenario of what a wedding could or would look like and they couldn't possibly cover all the potential types of ceremony format etc. They'd be making it a restricted service again which is not what couples would want.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

As a celebrant I am asked to include prayers hymns and poems which might have a religious or spiritual meaning. Often this is a very small part of the ceremony and more often than not to appease one or both sides of the couples family. The couple themselves might be secular but their families wanted them to marry in church. It's a compromise. I'm happy to include elements but would not be able to take on board a purely religious church style service and would ask the couple to see a minister. I believe a religious reading or a hymn are quite ok but this would only be around 2% of my clients wishes and even then would constitute no more than 10% of a ceremony.

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

They need not be limited subject to a normal risk assessment being done.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Honestly the venue should be open to all whether they be religious or belief based but I would guess that the venues themselves would be against others using their location for a ceremony they were not a full part of.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I have been an independent celebrant for 10 years and created and led around 300 ceremonies. Every single one of these couples were legally married either in the year(non uk couples ) or the week before the ceremony. None were planning to legalise the marriage afterwards. Why they wanted me was because I'm flexible and accommodating in terms of time day date location format and content. I'm bilingual too so offer a little more uniqueness. It would save my couples hundreds of pounds if I were able to legally register them.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDFN-P

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-15 16:46:25

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Other (please state)

If other, please state::

On behalf of my own business as a celebrant

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

N/A

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

In a legal marriage in the UK.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not applicable to me, personally.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not applicable to me, personally.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not applicable to me, personally.

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Not applicable to me, personally.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

The Celebrations of Marriage that I've conducted during the 2020 Covid-19 pandemic have only included the couple, and their immediate family (parents, children, siblings), along with a photographer to capture the sentiment of the event. These were all held in a properly regulated venue, with complete Covid-19 precautions and protocol. This was markedly different than the usual celebrations which range in attendance numbers from 50-300+. There could be no joining in of congratulations that wasn't adhering to social distancing measures, nor could there be any celebration of any sort (not even a sip of a congratulatory drink) afterwards. It felt quite sterile at times because the usual connections (hugs, handshakes etc.) could not be allowed.

Saying this, however, couples who chose to proceed with these weddings (and they were only a few compared to the average of 40 weddings I generally officiate in a typical year) resolved themselves to a satisfaction that this was the circumstance that they had to follow if they wanted a wedding ceremony to follow their legal marriage.

I conducted, additionally, several Renewal of Vows this past Summer and Autumn, which resemble wedding ceremonies quite closely, with most of the same components. Those ceremonies are described as having been similar to the above, with only an intimate attendance allowed.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I feel it is appropriate and fair to expect couples to adhere to this requirement. I would support this.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

In the current environment, I agree that only or postal registration should be allowed, with a personal interview set at a later date, if needed.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

I feel that seven days is fair and achievable, considering that many couples will plan 'destination' weddings to the UK, so this will enable them to achieve the legal requirements without having to commit to a longer period of time in the UK beforehand.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Yes, I would support the possibility for interviews to take place remotely, with the follow-up of an in-person interview where concerns were present and highlighted. This is sensible to preserve the integrity of legal marriage, as long as any questions were consistent from one couple to another, avoiding personal interpretations and biases by the individual responsible for the orchestrating the legal marriage.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes, I support flexibility in this to allow those couples outside the UK or territories if both are relevant nationals or exempt from immigration control.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I support this practice.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree with this.

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, this is fair and appropriate.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, this is appropriate and I support this.

Please share your views below:

I agree per the above question, however it's not clear what 'other circumstances' are meant to be in this statement.

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, this is an outdated practice in my view.

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I support this.

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Yes, this seems sensible and appropriate.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

If this is to meet specific requirements by the church, then it makes sense. However, if it is just another layer of authority, I'm not sure why it's necessary.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes, both should be required to attend, though it may not be possible to attend at the same time (e.g. if one person is out of the country until the week before the wedding, etc.).

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

It seems sensible to me, from my experience, that all legal marriage ceremonies should be preceded by civil preliminaries, and if a wedding is to take place in a church, then that protocol is followed afterwards.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should be consistent across the board for officiants, registrars and religious clergy.

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, otherwise it does not present as a level playing field.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, either someone is qualified or they aren't. This is how it's done in many other countries in the West, so it is easily possible and manageable.

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Though better training wouldn't go amiss for clergy in how they deliver wedding ceremonies, and balance personalisation of the ceremony with required scripture, prayers, etc.

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, I agree with this completely.

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, I agree with this, because there is too much 'stretching the rules' as to what Humanist officiants will or won't do or say in a ceremony. It seems that many 'turn the other cheek' and compromise their organisations belief that they don't believe in any spiritual or religious existence. This is confusing for couples who may seek out a Humanist officiant with the desire to be consistent with the Humanist belief system.

Please share your views below:

This can get tricky. I don't have any specific organisations to suggest, but if we're allowing legal officiation across the board, how do we, for example, deny emotionally harmful cults or groups such as 'devil worshipping' or groups with views that are socially harmful (white supremecist groups for example) to access the same legal abilities? Can we even presume to have the ability to do this?

What will be the premise for denying legal training and registration of individuals who represent socially questionable groups? Or, will this need to just be an across-the-board allowance?

An interesting decision to be made.

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

That seems reasonable.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes, I support this, as stated in my response to Question 24 above.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

I don't see an issue with this.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Definitely.

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Definitely.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes this must be vetted.

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, at a minimum, all of those qualifications listed above.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, I support this happening.

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agree. Fees should be established by each registered officiant because service, level of creativity, commitment and quality varies from one person to the next.

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, this is the ethical approach.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Of course!

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Agree in terms of ensuring the the proper legal components are included. Apart from that, the officiant should have the freedom to add further to the ceremony according to how it's personalised, creatively scripted, etc.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, this will also require the various training organisations and forums to step up their own standards and practices.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, I agree, though there will need to be a very specific process in place that is consistent from case to case. It should not be subjective, though this can be a way to present the concerns, but facts and evidence must prevail over anecdotal assumptions. This will probably require a 'grievance' process to be in place at the inception of this system.

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, per the same criteria I outlined in Question 38 above.

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree. No age limit either. With annual (or other regularly reviewed periodic applications for renewal).

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agree, tough this would need to be quite fluid as there are many ways officiants would pursue continuing their professional development, and that would not just be via their organisation or forum. Though I agree that there could be a 'minimum' requirement that the forum/organisation sets out for officiants to adhere to every 1, 3 5 years or so. And the training offered by the organisations/forums would need to be current and conducted by a range of officiants with experience and styles - not just those who mostly train for a living.

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This simplifies the legal responsibilities of the officiant and that's appropriate.

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

With just an order of standard and requirement components included.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Completely.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely!

Please share your views below:

I believe that it should be up to the officiant and the couple as to what should be allowed in their wedding ceremony, outside of the standard and required legal components. Once you start limiting the type of religious content, then it's still limited in scope and we're not much further than where we are, currently.

Consultation Question 46:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I'm not understanding why we'd want to repeal this. If I read this correctly, (and I have to admit that the language of these questions often gets in the way of getting to the heart of the issues we're seeking answers for, at least for me), we are saying that we want the right to repeal the idea that a religious service should not necessarily be able to occur 'after' the civil ceremony? Is this because we want to streamline the civil ceremony and make sure it is all encompassing and move away from the segregation of religion and civil ceremonies? Consider that there may be certain aspects of a religious ritual, for example, that a couple wish to do in private and not with their guests in attendance. Not sure what this could be, but maybe a baptism or something like that as part of the civil ceremony. Couples might not wish to include that as part of the same ceremony. There are likely other elements of other religious ceremonies (not church of England) that this could impact. Perhaps it's better to draw up an outline of what should be blended and examples of what might be officiated 'afterwards'?

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This makes sense, though it's probably not our biggest argument. I suppose if your wedding is at a posh wedding you'd not want the 'public' to storm in and make themselves comfortable, so in that case, yes, I agree.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Full stop. This happens in so many other countries - no reason it can't happen here.

Please share your views below:

No limitations, anywhere. If a couple wish to get married jumping out of a plane with parachutes, or scuba diving in the sea, that shouldn't impede any of the legal marriage requirements they have already fulfilled by the date of the ceremony.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, I do agree with this and I think this is something that will be a big factor for couples.

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

I officiate quite a lot of ceremonies in chapels, small churches, other places of worship. This will depend on the couple's view of religion vs. spirituality. There's a big difference in my view, and I see no reason to prohibit any of the above.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If we mean that officiants should 'approve' locations for health and safety reasons, yes.
If we mean 'approve' in any other capacity, I don't think that's the responsibility of the officiant. If an officiant is not comfortable with a venue, they shouldn't take the wedding.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Safe, yes. But how do we define 'dignified'? I suppose a wedding in a brothel might be questionable, but it might be for everyone? I think that 'dignified' needs to be defined further - dignified to whom, how, why?

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, as long as 'dignified' is defined more clearly.

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Again, we start down the same path of controlling where couples should and shouldn't get married with this. If it's safe, accessible and appropriately sheltered for weather change, then between the couple and the officiant, that's what should be vetted. I suppose having a checklist will be helpful.

Please share your views below:

A joint effort between the couple and the officiant, signed by by parties.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agree, though we will want to add 'legal guardian' as well as there are a lot of people who have been fostered without birth families or legal adoption. And, there 'step parents' who have often brought up children and are considered 'dad' or 'mum' to a couple. There may also be 'uncles, aunts, godparents' who will fall into this category. So, this description needs to be broadened a bit.

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agree. Though in both languages will be more useful for historians in the future.

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agreed.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not happy with No. 4 above, but I agree that we have to accommodate some religious rules. Often a couple will want a 'religious' tone for their wedding ceremony, though they themselves may not be 'practising' and they want this only to appease family members. So, in the case of No. 4 above, this could be tricky to accommodate in the year 2021.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

With a very quick and easy system in place to rectify any of these issues.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But again, I'm hung up a bit on 1.b.ii above.

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agree. I have done many wedding ceremonies for couples who live in different countries part of the time, and often one has to leave to tend to business commitments, etc. but they split their time between residences.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, it's time we take other people out of the bedroom of couples.

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Outdated and obsolete in my view.

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, and those individuals should be banned from the Officiant profession - at least for a time.

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

There needs to be a swift and efficient system so that some civil ceremonies can be conducted at a moment's notice.

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, agree, though this might have to take place just before the ceremony, on the same day, minutes before the legal marriage takes place. Depends on the urgency of the situation and red tape will just unnecessarily threaten the timeline (in the case of a terminal illness).

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, no reason for their to be different requirements and qualifications when it comes to Civil marriages. Registrars will also register births and deaths, but for civil marriages, there needs to be one clean requirements and qualification.

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, definitely, because their day-to-day life will vary in energy, strength, wellness depending on treatments and recovery from treatment/surgery. I discovered this with several weddings I officiated for a couple where one of them was terminally ill. Ups and downs and though it's hard to plan an event like a civil ceremony around someone's health, at least there is the flexibility that can ease additional stress on the couple.

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, similar to my response in Question 65 above.

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely!

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Definitely!

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We sometimes just need to trust people without dragging them into legal assessments. A legal marriage is a legal marriage, regardless of how swiftly it happens or how far in advance it's planned.

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely! This is very appealing to a wide audience.

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, similar to my response in Question 68 above.

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

As long as it's in safe territory, I agree.

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, again this is for the safety of the officiant. And the officiant could be replaced on the day for any number of reasons, so having their name is incidental.

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, depending on authorisation by those in charge.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Again, a streamlined, consistent process for all.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agree.

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

No idea. Can't see any reason to disallow this.

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, a more liberal requirement is likely sensible.

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree, though there may be other factors that might cause a higher expense for some than for others. E.g. form of travel - it will be more efficient and rapid if an officiant travels by car, and more costly if they travel by train or plane. So, possible to have a standard fee PLUS other expenses. Maybe this is more of a tax issue than an issue for this proposal.

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

I tend to be all for compassionate approaches to situations if the officiant can afford it. Perhaps this is something that is optional for the officiant to decide for themselves? If they can't afford to forgive the fee then they charge it. If they can forgive the fee, then they absorb it somehow. The same principle can apply to a couple who are financially strapped or can't afford any ancillary expenses outside of the civil marriage fees. I think this needs to be presented as 'optional' for officiants.

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But those fees need to be reviewed and modified because in some cases at present, they are ridiculously high and register office management can tend to push couples into a higher costing time slot and room. So review of the current practice is needed for all register offices and councils.

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agree, though I see this as something some officiants might take advantage of. So it will need to have clear guidelines and criteria to qualify for the reimbursement fee.

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

IF there's a pre-approval process established, yes.

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Seems fair enough.

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No issue with this.

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

With compassionate structuring (discounting) of fees to be an option in cases of terminal illness, health etc. causing the incapacitation.

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

There are charities the will arrange 'no fee' wedding ceremonies. Perhaps it's best left to them to keep on as that resource. I think that an officiant should have the authority to discount fees as they deem appropriate.

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agree.

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I am not aware of current law discouraging couples from being legally married, though I agree that there is very little flexibility and creativity allowed at the moment. But I'm not aware of 'prevention' happening on a wide scale basis. Not sure that couples aren't getting married because of the process - it's more likely they aren't getting married because of tax purposes, financial responsibility etc. But it's possible for a couple to get married legally at present for a significantly low fee (cheapest day, time slot etc. at a register office).

I am curious now whether some couples can't afford the cheapest options - I suppose it's possible. Do we have any evidence of this from councils?

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

My views on this are limited because I mostly work with approved venues, or people's homes/gardens or in nature - these all have a wide range of costs involved. Certainly, a financially strapped couple won't easily afford a legal marriage ceremony PLUS a celebration afterwards, unless it's a pub meal paid for by family or something similar. I think the big issue is what councils are charging couples - trying to squeeze them into the higher fee slots. People should have the right to get married without much of a fee at all, and that's probably already offered in many areas of the UK. The discrimination comes in with approved venues, or what church officials charge for weddings in their place of worship.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Obviously a separate legally recognised marriage ceremony impacts the overall budget for couples if they also want a 'celebration' (personalised wedding ceremony), so this is a definite issue that could be resolved with legally authorising celebrants to officiate weddings.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

No data or evidence to provide.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

No data or evidence to provide.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I have only personal views on this - no evidence or data to provide.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No evidence or data to provide but I imagine that if we do the math, the fees charged to independent celebrants to renew they license every year will be a health source of income for councils.

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No evidence or data to provide.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No evidence of data to provide.

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No evidence, data or experience with this one to provide.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No evidence or data to provide.

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

No evidence or data to provide.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDF2-T

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-15 18:23:58

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

N/a

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

N/a

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

N/a

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

I agree - particularly now with Covid concerns in a rapidly changing situation

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

I agree

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

I don't feel this is necessary

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

It should be joint

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

No

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

It should not

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

No

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It depends on what the couple would like their ceremony to represent. My getting married the couple has recognised the solemnity etc but may wish their ceremony to reflect their personalities which may include fun elements etc.

Consultation Question 36:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Favourite hymns, readings etc

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Couples should be permitted to marry wherever they so wish

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

N/a

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

I feel that the couples wishes should be paramount

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Naval vessels

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

People with long contracts at sea or those who love to travel may wish to marry at sea

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Some couples with no religious belief and who dislike the impersonal and formality of a civil ceremony may be deterred from getting married.

Opening up the potential of getting married Where, when and how is likely to impact positively on the number of couples choosing to be legally married

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Costs at specific wedding venues can be prohibitive and prevent couples marrying.

The expense and necessity to have two ceremonies in order to legalise the marriage (should a celebrant-led wedding be chosen) is also prohibitive

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

See previous Questions comments

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Weddings could be an untapped revenue stream for a variety of businesses and venues not currently able to offer weddings.

Furthermore this would also free up religious and civil venues as there will be more choice

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDF8-Z

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-15 18:42:03

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

[REDACTED]

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

My Partner and I wished for a personal spiritual ceremony and decided on a Handfasting, which was close to our beliefs and also held in our garden labyrinth.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We were aware from the beginning that this type of ceremony would not be recognised by law.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We wanted a ceremony that reflected our beliefs in nature and spiritual feelings. We also wanted to hold the ceremony in natural surrounding.

No

Please expand on your answer:

We were aware that in the eyes of the law we are not legally married and have rectified this by making Wills. We recognised that if anything happened to one of use the estate would be given to their family and the partner would not be entitled to anything or have to go to court to fight for what, by legal marriage, would automatically transfer to them. Hence the Wills.

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

We wanted to have a spiritual meaning ceremony surrounded by nature, No legal binding ceremony would have allowed us to do this.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

As a trained Independent Celebrant who only conducts Wedding Ceremonies/ Handfastings etc. I have found that it has been very traumatic for my couples during 2020 and even into 2021. A few have left it very late before deciding to postpone their ceremonies, hoping that they would that the pandemic would be over and they could celebrate with all family and friends. I personally have only managed on deposits paid for ceremonies and have had to keep those deposits 'ring fenced' in case any couple decide to cancel their ceremonies altogether. So far no one has, but who know when this will end. Already a couple have been advised by their venue to cancel or postpone their late March Wedding. With all the normal wedding booking during the year, those that are having to postpone are finding it difficult to agree a reasonable date with their chosen venue or even looking for new venues that would be free on a date that would suit them. Others are just taking any date the venues can offer them. Those that are having Garden ceremonies are having to keep track of Gov. advice and hope that when the time gets closer they would be allowed to go ahead. It has been and still is a very stressful time for them all, trying to organise not only the original ceremony date but transferring all their services to a new date and or venue. Every wedding comes with complications but this year has seen more complications for ever couple. Most Celebrants have tried to help as much as possible.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

In todays world of travel, especially for work, it is not always easy to be resident in one area for a continual seven days before your ceremony. Plus it would give the couples more choice on what venue they would like without having to move there for seven days beforehand.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Obviously documentation would still have to be provided to prove that each is free to marry. How that would work totally on line without fraud I cannot say but would be better to have everything checked personally.

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

Not always possible to fit in but recommend that it should be within four weeks of the ceremony date.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Remote could work where they couple chose to have their ceremony in a different area to the one they live in and they would have to travel. On the other hand it could be that they could maybe consult with someone local who could then pass on the cleared documentations to the relevant Celebrant . Co-operation is a wonderful thing and something that does not happen in the present system!

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes I believe it should be possible .

Consultation Question 9:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I am not sure how secure on-line would be. How much information would be seen by the general public? In theory it is a good idea but how would it all work in practice. Would it be one on-line public notice for everyone no matter which part of the UK or would it be in Regional or District areas? Would the couple's addresses be given or just names? I think I would need more answers before I could fully agree.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

In principle I agree but, in my experience as an Independent Celebrant, our couples already know us because they have already chosen us and, with regards to myself, I always let them know who would conduct their ceremony if I would not be available for reason beyond my control. This is where Independent celebrant ceremony is far better than the Registration one. The couple chose and personally connect with the one they would like to conduct their ceremony. The fact that a Registrar's Celebrant could be anyone and not necessary the couples choice and the fact that they would not see or meet them beforehand is not good for the couples, let alone just be given names off a list and told this is who will conduct your ceremony and by the way if they can't this one will! Not good!

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There should always be a backup plan for every occasion but that should be given at the beginning of all commitments to conduct a ceremony.

Please share your views below:

Only if the Officiant no longer wishes to continue as an Officiant between accepting the Ceremony and the actual date of the Ceremony but then the Officiant should be in continual contact with the couple and let them know well before the date of the ceremony so the couple can then meet or even chose an alternative Officiant.

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

People have so many different Spiritual views and beliefs.

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If Question 13 is agreed then it makes sense that this one should be repealed

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

No, If there is to be an online notice then the Anglican weddings should adhere to the same and not just published in their church.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Anglican weddings and clergy should be under the same rules and regulations for all other Officiants. if all other Officiants have the power to call for documentary evidence etc then so should the Clergy. There should be no difference. I believe it is down to the church to stipulate whether they would be meeting with couples individually before allowing the marriage to go ahead in their establishment and then it is the couples choice whether to wish to go through with the interrogation as to whether they should be married. It is a belief system not a law requirement.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Couples wishing for an Anglican marriage should have the same rules and regulations as those that have any other Ceremony. No extra rules and regulations should apply other than those for religious beliefs.

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

As in my previous answers I believe that all Churches, Religions and Spiritual Groups should have one common legal procedure before the ceremony.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The couples chosen Officiant should be able to complete all documentation with and for the Couple prior, during and after the couples chosen ceremony.

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If a couple choose to have a Registration ceremony for whatever reason be it a quick ceremony or because they do not wish for any spiritual or religious content then a Registrar should take the role of the Officiant.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If all other Officiant fill in documentation with no second than the Registration Officer acting as an Officiant should do the same.

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As in my other answers all Officiants conducting Weddings Ceremonies should be treated the same regardless of venue of the Ceremony.

Consultation Question 23:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I am not sure about this one. I believe that couple would wish to know and meeting with the Officiant, however if the Registration service is allowed to tell the couples who will be Officiating their ceremony without the couple being able to chose then so others should be able to. However i am all for couple being able to chose the person and personality that best fits them rather than being told who they have to have.

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If it would mean that the couple could then have an informed view of the type of ceremony they would have then I agree but not to the extent that those organisations dictate how the couple should live their lives after their ceremony.

Please share your views below:

No, there should be a list of Officiants and let the couples inquire as to what the belief system is. Most couples will already be aware of what type if belief ceremony they would want.

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I would like couple to be able to chose who conducts their ceremony, even if that choice is from a list given to them by the organisation.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Depends on what you believe is unlawful or contrary to public policy or morality.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

If it gives the couples more informed information than I see no problem,

Consultation Question 28:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Clearly a list of Nominated Officials should be on a public list for couples to choose from but whether this should be held by the General Register Office or an on-line list I am not sure about.

Consultation Question 29:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I agree that all authorised Officials should be on a public list for the couples to choose from but as in my previous answer, whether this is held by the General Register Office or a general on-line government list?

Consultation Question 30:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Surely it follows that if you have to apply to be an Official, regardless of religious or any other organisation, you would be already proven fit for purpose. If the Gov allow these organisations to choose their own Officials without them having to apply as to be registered then yes they should be held responsible.

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But then ALL Officials should be required to demonstrate these requirements not just Independent Officials.

Consultation Question 32:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I am not sure that I do agree, most religions do ask couples to pay their expenses for officiating a ceremony and most do so with a little profit.

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Surely all those registered as an Officiant would or should already be trained and know how to conduct a wedding. A guidance to what should be included in a ceremony maybe but not how it should be conducted

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Only if the body who nominated them fails to act or if their are several complaints against an Officiant as to their conduct

Consultation Question 39:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I am aware that they are quite a few Register Offices that are totally against Independent Officiants and this may bias their decision. Maybe a body of Officials from all should be the ones to investigate and decide.

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This may include having to continually spend money on training that may not be necessary if the Officiant keeps upto date with everything. Unless any their training organisation gives the extras as free when they train

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Each ceremony should be tailored to the needs and beliefs of the couple and not to the Officiants beliefs unless the Officant is working under a particular religious or non religious group beliefs system

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The Civil ceremony has always been unique in the fact that there is no religious or spiritual content allowed. it is purely a Civil ceremony.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If all ceremonies are official then there would be no need for separate ceremonies after a civil ceremony

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

i do not believe that every ceremony is open to public access now. I have been to several civil ceremony that have never had open doors and also restricted numbers of people attending. I suppose if you are to continue to include the impediment part in the ceremony then you would have to allow public access.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Where is surely the couples choice and if in unusual places the health and safety regulations should apply and the Officiant should be aware of all this for the actual ceremony.

Please share your views below:

No limitations providing all health and safety measures have been taken and the Couple take out or the venue has a public liability insurance.

Consultation Question 49:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

A lot of Civil wedding locations are not publicly accessible or available now so why and how will it be changed?

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Civil weddings are recognised as being the Registrar lead weddings with no belief or spiritual content so should only be conducted in their own venues. However, all other belief or spiritual ceremony could be conducted anywhere. Most religious wedding are conducted within their own buildings.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The officiant should take into consideration what the couple would like and where they would like their ceremony but if the Officiant believes it would be too dangerous or contravening health and safety they must be able to say so. The couple can then choose to decide to choose another venue or Officiant who would approve the venue.

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Safe yes. Always there should be health and safety considerations but as long as the ceremony is dignified why should the location be?

No

Please expand on your answer:

it should be for the view of the Officiant whether the location or venue is suitable and meets all health and safety standards. Advise may be published to assist couples when choosing venues.

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The couple, Venue and the Officiant should work together when the couple chose a location as to whether it would meet all health and safety issues during the ceremony.

Please share your views below:

As above, The couple, venue and Officiant should work together to ensure health and safety requirements are met during the ceremony.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Very similar to the marriage certificate and documentation already required.

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not only in English and Welsh but surely in the main language of the couple to be married

Consultation Question 56:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

At the moment no I do not agree but I see in the future that this may become the 'norm' . Part of me believes it is essentially part of the marriage ceremony.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

There will always be restrictions and I would agree with

1. failure of both or either party to give notice of intended marriage un the required authorised way - not necessarily the registration service

2 The wedding taking place after authority to marry had lapsed with

3 Surely if the couple employ someone who is not an Officiate they will already know their marriage is not legal

4 Why is it necessary for a relevant religious governing authority to give consent for a same-sex marriage?

No

Please expand on your answer:

All documentation should be completed correctly. If there is a slight spelling mistake on a name that should not be an issue but a wrong name should not be overlooked/

There should always be witnesses to the consent and marriage, otherwise this could be open to abuse.

No one should fail to sign the document if the marriage ceremony is conducted correctly.

Consultation Question 58:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

As my answers before:

1 Yes to both not giving notice
b If not a Register Officiant both parties will already know that it was not a legal marriage
I do not agree that a religious organisation has to give consent for a same sex marriage.
2 yes agree both have to consent to be married.

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

I believe that as long as a person is mentally aware of what they are doing it should not be a problem as to whether they are terminal ill, in prison, hospital or housebound.

Consultation Question 63:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Surely, along with all marriages every person should be required to give notice of their intention. If the terminal ill person wishes to marry, say days before dying then maybe a medical officer (Dr, Consultant) should give a statement to say that it is what the patient is believe to be of sound mind but limited time in the body and exempt from giving notice.

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

As with the above question there maybe circumstances where the require time of consent cannot be met so a special licence should be allowed.

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

1 Yes agree that extensions should be allowed until after a national emergency

2, 3 and 4 I do not agree with a remote wedding ceremony unless under special circumstances which could come under the rules for a special licence.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Naval Ships

Consultation Question 71:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I agree that they should give all details of the ship but if a regular marrying couple have to give the name of the Officiant then they should also give the name of the Officiant,

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

They must be a registered Independent Officiant

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

I have no idea, but I expect that there will be. I assume that most ships both commercial and Naval have a religious officiant on board of one or other faith and that those Officiants will have to be registered for marriages whether of their own religion or for a non religion marriage. No one should be expected to be married until the rules of the religion of the Officiant on board.

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

As discussed before, most paperwork will be 'posted' online and so I cannot see any problem with the same happening on board a ship unless such ship does not have an internet connection, in which case they should not have weddings on board.

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Some couple will not wish for the Big or any ceremony in which case exchanging vows with two witnesses is all that is required/

Consultation Question 78:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Providing that fee is nationwide and not allocated in Regions.

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Most of the couples that I have conducted Wedding Ceremonies for have had a quick civil ceremony before or after so that in the law they are married as well as in the way they wished to exchanged their vows to one or another. Very few have never bothered with the civil ceremony but I do believe it would encourage more people to marry in the way they wish to be married without the added cost of two ceremonies!

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1 Register office weddings are regionally different which on top of the law to reside for 7 days before the wedding makes it very hard on those couples who live in a region which is the highest in the country but next to a region that has a lower cost. A lot of the costs of a register wedding comes with a lot of extra costs ie for certificates etc

2 Registrars have the ability to withdraw an approval from a venue without any given reason or timescale. I have known venues to have been threatened with withdrawal because they have had allowed Independent ceremonies on their premises . Therefore not allowing choices for the couple and often it would be more costly having two people from the Registrar to attend.

3 I believe that this is in generally compatible or even cheaper than a Register venue

4 The cost is even higher due to the fact that the couple have to pay to have a registered marriage and also the wedding ceremony that they wish for at a venue that has meaning for them.

As above.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Unfortunately the fact that the law does not require all local authorities to be consistent is not fair on couples in neighbouring authorities. Local Registrars can and do assess payment on what money that local authority requires and often treat the Registration and conducting wedding as a business instead of an authority service. Unfortunately they also have the authority to issue demands on venues.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

It will lessen the necessary of so many Register Celebrants to help Officiate at ceremonies and reduce their overall costs of opening up building and all that cost of overheads at weekend, which when most wedding are taken.

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDF3-U

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-15 19:27:52

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Response on behalf of an organisation

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

N/a

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

N/a

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

N/a

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I had a legally bindi g wedding

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/a

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

N/a

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Non existent

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No opinion

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

N/a

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

N/a

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Face to face as standard

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Where appropriate

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

N/a

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

N/a

Consultation Question 11:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I dont understand the question

Consultation Question 12:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I believe it should be decided by the client

Please share your views below:

Up to the client, perhaps if promoted and known to current officiant

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Freedom for all

Consultation Question 14:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Do not understand

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Rules should be universal

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Same rules for all

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

All rules should be the same

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Officiants should be registered as legal

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Officiants should be registered

Consultation Question 21:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Officiant should be legally registered

Consultation Question 22:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Officiants should be legally registered

If couple want religious ceremony it should be held by legal religious standing

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Religious ceremonies should be held by religious bodies

Officiants should be able to be legally registered to conduct legally binding ceremonies as registrars currently do

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Couple should have the freedom of their own beliefs and officiant has power for mixed ceremonies

Please share your views below:

Celebrants

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

A wedding service that up holds beliefs on marriage

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Couple should have freedom of choice

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Couple choice

Consultation Question 28:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure

But officiants should be registered for legal ceremony

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Sole trader business

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Conflict of interest should be a prohibited act as with any employment

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not a religious authority

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Officiant should be of good standingo

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Asap

Consultation Question 41:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Religious should be religious

Officiant could only have parts if beliefs are mixed

Consultation Question 47:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

No

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Up to rules and couple

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Officiant should be able to do it

Consultation Question 79:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

If its pre approved its pre approved and venue should have documentation to prove

Consultation Question 80:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

All in cost of officiant

Consultation Question 81:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Stops people getting married

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Officiant one stop shop

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

The benefit of officiant being registered saves the couple added expense

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Freedom of choice for couples of mixed beliefs by law by officiant

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Fees for registered celebrants and cost cutting for separate registrars

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Couples should have more choice options

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDEV-W

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-15 21:44:05

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

You can not get married completely outside.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Registrars have struggled to cope with the demand of the amount of weddings.

If weddings were allowed to take place outside they would be more COVID secure.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Couples should be allowed to get married where they want.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This seems very sensible.

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

Three days is a sensible amount of time. This would be very helpful for couples getting married in an area where they don't normally reside.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would give couples so much choice and flexibility with their ceremony.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

I do not believe that their should be any restrictions on the locations.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If a couple wish to get married at home, they should be allowed.

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I think by changing the laws more couples will choose to get married.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Couples struggle to justify the costs of having a civil wedding & then having an independent celebrant conduct a blessing for them at their chosen location.

The proposed change in the law will give more flexibility & allow couples to get married in the way that they truly want without having to compromise.

It will also allow couples to mention religion in their ceremony which they currently can't do. It will make weddings more inclusive by allowing mix faith weddings to take place.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

As previously mention Davi Cs will be made by couples who want to get married in unlicensed premises who currently have to have a small civil ceremony first at great cost. Then the 2nd ceremony that they actually want & is more inclusive of their views & ideas.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

More venues will be able to host wedding ceremonies.

Couples wouldn't have to accept ceremony times that they were not happy with. Currently couples say they are forced into choosing times by the registrars who may have to conduct multiple weddings in one day.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Smaller venues who cannot afford to currently licence their premises would be able to host weddings. Thus increasing their revenue.

I believe more weddings would take place, improving economic revenue.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

It will allow couples to arrive closer to their wedding date when travelling from overseas.

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDEP-Q

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-15 22:29:08

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is much needed and will enable far more choice for couples

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDE9-Z

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-15 22:43:11

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED] Ceremonies
United Kingdom Society of Celebrants

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I am not in a marriage recognised by law in the United Kingdom or Northern Ireland

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I am not in a marriage recognised by law in the United Kingdom or Northern Ireland

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I am not in a marriage recognised by law in the United Kingdom or Northern Ireland

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I am not in a marriage recognised by law in the United Kingdom or Northern Ireland

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

I am not in a marriage recognised by law in the United Kingdom or Northern Ireland

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

The constant restraint on weddings, both when restrictions have been lifted and eased has shed light on the type of ceremonies couples wish to have. The light of which consequences are not limited.

Couples have seen the types of ceremonies they can have change, both legally binding and otherwise. The situation that COVID-19 has presented has forced couples to look inwards at their own beliefs, and how they want represented.

Humanist weddings being illegal in England and Wales, but legal in Northern Ireland has become highly restrictive. Ceremonies presented by Independent Celebrants being illegal across the United Kingdom and Northern Ireland where the couples beliefs are not religious but are not entirely represented by humanism has also become highly restrictive.

It is my view that the findings of the Law Commission's report, regardless of the result be expanded to include Scotland and Northern Ireland, and should not be left to be a devolved issue to ensure that couples across the United Kingdom and Northern Ireland can celebrate exactly how they mean to.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should be expanded to include Scotland and Northern Ireland

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should be expanded to include Scotland and Northern Ireland

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

This should be a date ideally selected by the couple.

This should be expanded to include Scotland and Northern Ireland

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Remote interviews will be a necessity as the COVID-19 situation has presented viable alternative methods of doing interviews. Phone interviews where a freephone number is presented with secure dial-in would be more viable to ensure equality of access. Infrastructure like this is common across telephony infrastructures used in Civil Service departments so should not be difficult to implement.

This should be expanded to include Scotland and Northern Ireland

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

This should be expanded to include Northern Ireland

Consultation Question 9:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Any situation where the couple are at risk of being placed in harms way should be prevented. Notices of Marriage should not be publicly displayed, only where the couple has expressed their wish to be made public.

Notice of Marriage should be anonymous until made otherwise, as an "opt-out."

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This will give couples notice to change their plans where and when necessary to help with mitigating extenuating circumstances.

Suppliers and vendors can be more easily rebooked when the couple know that they have more flexibility over the date of their wedding.

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The commission need to consider if this information is pertinent to the schedule.

Consultation Question 12:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

The list of reasons why an officiant cannot perform the ceremony should not be limited to these reasons.

A substitute officiant should not be listed on the schedule as the named substitute may not be able to perform on the specified date when and if contacted.

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is an outdated law.

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

1. Yes

2. No

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

The couple should not have to make separate declarations.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

If this is how the couple wishes to be married, the couple should not be limited to have civil preliminaries as they are now for non-religious marriages

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should be expanded to include Scotland and Northern Ireland

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A registration officer would effectively take over the proceedings of an officiant if this was the case.

Consultation Question 21:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A registration officer would effectively take over the proceedings of an officiant if this was the case.

Consultation Question 22:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Officiants should be connected to an organisation to ensure trust and legitimacy

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Point 1 is applicable, but Point 2 defeats the purpose of this consultation

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I agree with Points 1, 2 and 3, however in Point 3 where content is determined by the Registrar General this could leave many celebrants who are trained and experienced left to re-train where they are needed to perform ceremonies.

I would submit that any content determined by the Registrar General must be completed by a certain date by existing celebrants, but are still able to perform ceremonies during this period of time.

Consultation Question 32:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Officiating at weddings IS their business.

Consultation Question 33:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Conflicts of Interests would need to be defined, and no limits on charge of fees should be introduced.

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It is important for independent celebrants be represented by organisations that represent their values and views so couples can have a ceremony with an officiant that represents them. Membership of organisations should be determined by the organisation, not the law.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Guidance, but not rules

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

When the organisation recommends the person to be an officiant, there should be no longer than 2 weeks for authorisation.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A religious service would not be legally binding after the civil wedding ceremony has been performed. There should not be a restriction on this.

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should be expanded to include Scotland and Northern Ireland

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

This should be expanded to include Scotland and Northern Ireland

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should be expanded to include Scotland and Northern Ireland

Consultation Question 50:

No

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should be expanded to include Scotland and Northern Ireland

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This should be up to the couple

Consultation Question 52:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Safe, yes.

Dignified as a word is vague.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Points 1 and 2, yes.

Point 3, no. This does not work where either party of the couple's parents are estranged, deceased, or not acknowledged by either party of the couple.

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should be expanded to include Scotland and Northern Ireland, for Ulster Scots, Irish Gaelic and Scottish Gaelic

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Frankly this infrastructure and technology already exists and should be implemented. This can be implemented easily through gov.uk

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Rights should be extended to allow for marriage in these circumstances

Consultation Question 63:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Only where time is not a limiting factor. Where time is a limiting factor, questions should only be the bare minimum

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should be expanded to include Scotland and Northern Ireland

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should be expanded to include Scotland and Northern Ireland

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

This should be expanded to include Scotland and Northern Ireland

Consultation Question 71:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This should be expanded to include Scotland and Northern Ireland

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Those registered as officiants should be able to hold these ceremonies.

Deck officers and maritime officials should apply to become officiants as a special part of their role.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Those registered as officiants should be able to hold these ceremonies.

Deck officers and maritime officials should apply to become officiants as a special part of their role.

You would have to determine whether or not officiants travelling on board the vessel should automatically be considered members of the crew. There would be several issues to this.

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

There could be some cultural significance to this and should not be ruled out as an option.

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

1. The current law of course not only discourages, but prevents couples from getting married in a way that represents them and their world view. Constraining couples to have generic ceremonies presented by council employees and those from religious organisations is a major pain point, and denies the economy millions of pounds in revenue.
2. Provisional proposals would enable more couples to get married. However, this should be expanded to include Scotland and Northern Ireland.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDFG-F

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-15 22:57:54

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Response on behalf of an organisation

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Confidentiality preferred if possible - I am contributing as an independent Wedding and family celebrant

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Civil ceremony conducted by a registrar followed by our own hand written blessing service.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I understood the legal implications of a registry wedding.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Understood all implications

No

Please expand on your answer:

Was legally married so N/A

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

As a divorced Catholic, my husband was not allowed to marry in church abd so we agreed (reluctantly) to have a registry led wedding but this was "dry" abd our meaningful service was written and conducted by ourselves and our family. Wonderful!

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Very challenging for both couples, suppliers and for me as a celebrant. Spent time encouraging, supporting and updating couples on latest guidelines and then re arranging plans where necessary.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Seems fair and reasonable.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This offers greater flexibility to couples whilst ensuring that the union is genuine.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

It's busy prior to any wedding but one week prior to the event seems reasonable.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Yes, this seems sensible

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes, this seems reasonable

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I think this seems fair and right

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I think that celebrants, with relevant training, should be able to carry out all legal obligations in line with the same duties as a registrar.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This gives reassurance, security andv

Please share your views below:

Yes as long as the officiant is trained to the highest standards

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Yes, definitely banns to be read in church where the marriage will take place.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Definitely have the authority to check that the couple is genuine, authentic and legally correct ie no coercion etc

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Agreed.

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

Equality dictates that all couples go through the same regulations prior to their marriage

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

All wedding officiants, including celebrants, to be legally trained to carry out all elements of the legal sides to complete a marriage in one ceremony..

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, professionally trained (with appro evidence) officiants to be named.

Consultation Question 24:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Independent celebrants to be included here please. An officiant who simply represents the beliefs of the couple, independent of any "faith" system as such.

Please share your views below:

Independent celebrants who have had professional training plus CPD.

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Including the group of independent celebrants.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes, definitely exclude these groups

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Yes.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

A central list seems useful

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as there is evidence of successful professional training

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Quality, high standards, consistency of officiant is v important

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Quality training essential for all officiants

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Clear definitions of an independent celebrant required for couples to understand what we do.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Always - an absolute priority

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Without being too prescriptive - the joy of being a celebrant is the unrestricted ceremony we can create.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No need for these restrictions

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Other

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Essential but with guidelines for health and safety

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Sorry, I am unclear about the meaning of this question?

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

I do not have enough information in this area to comment-sorry

Consultation Question 63:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

"interviewed" sounds v formal under these circumstances. Def a conversation is required, gently conducted, of course.

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Sorry, unable to comment

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Can't comment.

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Definitely my couples have expressed their delight at having a celebrant led wedding. Having a separate legal process is manageable but raises questions about the full validity of a celebrant led ceremony. Increasingly, couples are wishing that their celebrant could complete the entire ceremony in one service to be witnessed by all of their chosen guests.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

All of my couples have expressed their pref to have their celebrant complete their entire service.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Equality and range of choice for all couples to use their venue as an expression of themselves and their values

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Sorry, I cannot give more detail

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Certainly, myself as a self employed independent celebrant would benefit from being able to complete all elements of a marriage and wedding if couples do not have to separate the 2 elements.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDFM-N

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-16 00:01:07

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

N/a

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDEN-N

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-16 07:11:31

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Response on behalf of an organisation

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Cancelled Celebrant led ceremonies from previously booked clients due to lockdowns, firebreaks and reduction in numbers permitted to attend. Lost clients and revenue.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Need flexibility for elopements, travel restrictions with Covid. Many couples live away from family home where they grew up and wish to return to marry.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Flexibility due to circumstances... covid, illness etc.

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Flexibility of online consultations needed with current covid transport issues.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Modern format and practical

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Extenuating circumstances that shouldn't restrict the marriage going ahead.

Please share your views below:

Need clarification on other circumstances

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/A to Celebrants

Consultation Question 14:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

If Independent Celebrants are given the legal recognition and rights of officiants by law

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Professional and registered independent Celebrants should be legally recognised, with the same legal position as Registrars, just as in Scotland, New Zealand and lots of other countries. Providing couples with the ceremony that reflects their views, religious/spiritual beliefs, Humanist/secular attitudes and cultural rituals and customs too. Allowing them to marry the way they want to, with one legally recognised ceremony led by an Independent Celebrant who belongs to a professional body and has achieved level 3 diploma in NOCN Celebrancy in family ceremonies.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

So Independent Celebrants can officiate too. Also, costs and flexibility of officiating independently, as Independent Celebrants have done so for years.

Consultation Question 22:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Should be the couples decision at their important and personal rite of passage to chose a officiant who reflects their religious, spiritual, cultural or secular views. NOT just Humanist Celebrants who can only perform Humanist ceremonies. This restricts more couples who statistically have more Independent Celebrants officiate their ceremonies in England/Wales. This would deny more couples, compared to Humanist couples, their personal ceremony that reflects their personal beliefs, cultures and rituals.

Consultation Question 24:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This only reflects Humanist or secular organisations. If so they should only be able to officiate at Humanist/secular ceremonies and not be able to include any readings, music or rituals that have any religious/spiritual beliefs, rituals or wording. Some Humanist Celebrants allow couples to include religious/spiritual parts when this contradicts their non-belief tenet as Humanists.

Please share your views below:

The question is a double negative style wording and so clarification on the meaning is required to enter a response.

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Many couoles do not attend regular worship/meetings. Church attendance is down. If you are a Humanist then not relevant as a Humanist Church is a contradiction in terms. What about those couples who have inter-faith beliefs or one faith/spirituality with secular views? How are these represented? They choose Independent Celebrants NOT Humanist Celebrants to officiate a ceremony suitable and meaningful for them. Independent Celebrants are being ignored in this proposal and we conduct more ceremonies than Humanist Celebrants. I do feel that Jewish, Muslim, Hindu and other world faith grouos religious leaders should be given the same legal recognition when officiating their ceremonies as Anglican vicars. England and Wales is mutlicultural, diverse and should reflect this in the recognition of the leadership of the rabbis, imans, pandits etc to be legally recognises. Why should flowers of these faiths have their religious ceremony and then have to conduct the legaloties separately when those of the Christian faith do not. Also, those who wish to have a spiritual/fusion or secular wedding should also only need the one ceremony for Independent Celebrants to be legally recognised as officiants too. But they should be members of a recognised professiobal body e.g. the AOIC, fully insured and with the NOCN qualification in family celebrancy.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes, extremeist views/branches from religious/spiritual traditions.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

This, once again, ignores the many Independent Celebrants as we do not fit into the catergories of religious and non-religious because we conduct inter-faith, non-faith, spiritual, cultural elements and ceremonies. The majority of Celebrants in England/Wales are Independent ones not just Humanist Celebrants, who should also be included but only allowing them to officiate Humanist ceremonies without any other religious/spiritual elements/words/rituals.

Consultation Question 28:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes if Independent Celebrants are also recognised and nominated by recognised and registered Independent Celebrant professional bodies such as the AOIC.

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Totally! Independent and Humanist Celebrants should be able to apply, be vetted and legally recognised to officiate ceremonies. Providing couples with security in the Celebrants credentials and to offer them the independence to have a ceremony created just for their beliefs, customs and views that is meaningful for them. Nonlonger would they need the seperate legal ceremony at the Registrar's office where they go through the motions and is meaningless beyond the legal elements, which professionally recognised and vetted Independent Celebrants could include in their ceremonies, as they do on Scotland and other countries around the world. During covid Independent Celebrants have been forgotten, and in the Humanist legal case at the High Court. Independent Celebrants do not have the financial power of the Humanist Society in the UK to bring such a case highlighting the injustices for Independent Celebrants too (of which there are more than Himanist Celebrants) conducting more ceremonies, pre covid, in Eng/Wales when compared to Humanist Celebrants, who were only reflecting their cause in the High Court.

Many religious beliefs do not permit same sex marriage ceremonies in their places of worship due to their beliefs and teachings, including some Christian denominations and clergy. This means that samesex weddings are currently enforced to have two ceremonies... a Celebrant led one AND a Registrars legal requirements because they cannot marry in a church (except Irish Presbyterian) . This is discriminatory. They would be able to have one legal ceremony if Independent AND Humanist Celebrants would be legally recognised in the same way as Regisgrars are.

Consultation Question 30:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Once again wording does not include Independent Celebrants.

Consultation Question 31:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

If Independent Celebrants are recognised in this too. Agree in terms of 1 and 2 but number 3 lacks the flexibility to accept the roles of I other proffesional bodies and their CPD for example the AOIC. Yes all officiants should be vetted, licensed and have CPD but to also recognise their religious, spiritual or professional bodies training and vetting e.g. the AOIC.

Consultation Question 32:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This does not recognise or appreciate the work of Independent and Humanist Celebrants who handcraft each script and officiate inline with couples views, beleifs, values and customs. Independent Celebrants are inclusive, recognising multiculturalism and interfaiths too. This question does not recognise the work of Independent Celebrants and will put many businesses out of business in what has been a very difficult time with covid. By pishing us out couples miss oit on their choice and to have a ceremony created just for them, which other couples throughout the world have the right to choose and have. This is marginalising and penalising Independent Celebrants and doesn't recognise the role and work of what we do.

Consultation Question 33:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Officiants fees should be transparent but determined by the Independent Celebrant individually depending upon the type of ceremony, the preparations required, meetings and consultations needed and detail of ceremony required. Each ceremony, preparation and officiating is unique and so should not enforce blanket fee requirements.

Consultation Question 34:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Independent Celebrants should be able to legally officate religious and non-religious elements of ceremonies to reflect the couples views and values. Humamist Celebrants should only be able to officiate totally Humanist ceremonies with NO religious/spiritual readings, words, lyrics or rituals to be incorporated as this goes against their fundamental views, just to ensure they get the business and ceremony booked. It is contradictory to their Humanist values.

Consultation Question 35:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Imdependent Celebrants already do. They respect the expectations of fidelity and the monogamous legal attitudes in England/Wales.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If it is guidance! I agree that the 'legal' part of the ceremony could have the same wording and the same marriage certificate issued.

Consultation Question 37:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

May be appropriate to bodies such as the AOIC who are national but have some concern in regards to small and unofficial bodies of organisations. As a teacher as well I am used to inspections from Estyn. Bodies should be regulated and officials trained to a professional standard and regulated.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But for the right to appeal and an independent regulator to consider the case if required.

Consultation Question 39:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

On the one hand yes, to have the national standard and to set and monitor professional standards. But this does need to happen with the professional bodies too e.g. AOIC.

Consultation Question 40:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure of the meaning here...

Consultation Question 41:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes it should be expected and monitored but concerns about possible spiralling costs of CPD and the quality of it. Would this be rigidly stipulated? National CPD programme? The monitoring of the quality and standards of the CPD offered? As a teacher I recognise the varying levels of the quality of consultancy and training offered and the varying costs too!

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Please recognise Independent Celebrants in the wording of this question and not just non-religious Celebrants.

- 1) A - yes
- 1) B - wording changed as 'impediments' not used by many today - outdated terminology.
- 2) Yes
- 3) Yes
- 4) Yes

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To reflect the couples attitudes, beliefs, non-beliefs, spirituality, nationality, cultural elements that have meaning to the couple.

Consultation Question 44:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Ceremonies should be designed with meaning to the couples with the legal wording/certificate included with formal and standardised up-to-date wording.

Please share your views below:

Prayers, readings, lyrics of songs, music, rituals such as lighting candles...

Consultation Question 46:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No need for the two ceremonies if Independent and Humanist Celebrants and other world religious faith leaders were legally recognised here too!

Consultation Question 47:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

GDPR? Personal ceremony?

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

With COVID outdoor weddings needed. Flexibility of choices to have the ceremony at a location that has meaning for them. Improved opportunities for multiple business locations too! As long as the officiant is recognised.

Please share your views below:

Should be able to take place where the couple wish as long as officiant is legally recognised.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Other

Other

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Once again Independent Celebrants need to be considered here and not just Humanist Celebrants.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Safe - risk assessment down to venue?

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Officiant would then know it is 'safe' and do not need to conduct independent checks.

Please share your views below:

Local councils - monitored, onsite visits/checks, paperwork with risk assessments. Renewals needed.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Why is occupation of parent(s) required? What purpose does this serve?

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Freedom of choice

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Modern and practical

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

May be necessary for some individuals

Consultation Question 61:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Why would they? If they were legally recognised then no need for this, no longer an issue.

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Legal recognition of venue needed.

Consultation Question 63:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

May not be practical if in hospital and barrier nursing in place.

Consultation Question 64:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

If Independent and Humanist Celebrants are recognised to issue it too.

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Online ceremonies to be recognised too

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Yachts, punts, canal boats, cruisers and other examples.

Consultation Question 71:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Why not the name of the officiant?

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But also registered Independent and Celebrants be able to conduct in these circumstances.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Or a legally recognised Independent Celebrant

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Yes... cruise ships

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Fax/online?

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Transport costs covered ... means tested and covered by local council if not?

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

2) yes

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Freedom of choice and preference of style and venue of ceremony

Consultation Question 78:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Flexibility for Independent Celebrants to pay a health & safety consultant to check if necessary and their cost covered.

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Should it be scaled for the size of the venue? Big corporate venue compared to private garden?

Consultation Question 80:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not required if Independent Celebrant legally recognised. Do not need both officiants present.

Consultation Question 81:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

? Such as?

Consultation Question 82:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Means tested?

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Independent Celebrant choice

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Start up Celebrant business costs and little revenue..

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

1. Many couples enquire about the flexibility that an Independent Celebrant offers but 90% put off with the time and money needed to have the legal part conducted separate, so many reluctantly have just the Registrar and miss out on the ceremony and venue of their preferred choice. Many couples unaware of the separate legalities required or how to go about it. Many prefer the personal consultations offered by Independent Celebrants and the rehearsal options too. They can write their own words, include rituals and customs that have meaning to them and allow interfaith and fusion ceremonies too. Many would book Celebrants if they were legally recognised too as they are in Scotland and other countries too. The legislation needs to reflect the multi-cultural and multi-faith and secular positions of couples in Eng/Wales. They should have the free will to have the ceremony where, when and how they want, with a regulated officiant including Independent Celebrants. The current legislation is out-dated and bias towards Christian clergy and Registrar led ceremonies.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Many couples cannot afford to pay for two parts... the Independent Celebrant led ceremony and the legalities. So often turn away from their preferred ceremony with a Celebrant led ceremony. This impacts on their rights and experiences.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Couples would no longer need 2 parts with the two costs... less time off work, more practical and the legal recognition of Celebrant led ceremonies would be a game changer with only one legally recognised ceremony needed, financially, practically and emotionally.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Registrars in 2021 and beyond in extra demand due to rescheduled/postponed ceremonies due to the pandemic. There are not enough Registrars to fill the demand next year.

Many couples have had intimate registrar led ceremonies during the pandemic but planning their 'real' or 'sequel' wedding ceremony next year. Independent Celebrants need to be legally recognised to officiate to calm the storm of 2021 and demand.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

So many ceremonies have been postponed and rescheduled due to covid. Registrars cannot cope with demand. Couples concerned and annoyed that Independent Celebrants not recognised legally when their ceremonies are meaningful and professional. Independent Celebrants have had clients cancel this year and the impact on revenue has been astronomical. If Celebrants legally recognised venues can afford more flexibility to place, timings to their customers. Many venues report the business relationship is positive with the flexibility celebrants afford their clients and their business opportunities. Celebrants being legally recognised will allow more marriages to take place assisting with the multiple layers of other businesses involved in the industry. Far wider economic benefit for businesses at a time when many have had to close.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Flexibility offered to couples within their locality. Increased business and economics for the area.

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Limiting currently

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Flexibility, freedoms and practical benefits

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Increased opportunities and business chances

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

4. Costs - CPD, vetting, training, membership fees to join independent professional association, cost to contribute to national standing regulatory body, materials to purchase e.g. certificates, insurances...

Positives- legal recognition, more business as couple no longer need '2' ceremonies and less costs for them. More choice of location, timings, flexibility and options for couples. Ripple effect of increased weddings on economy and other businesses in the area. Modern approach to wedding ceremonies reflecting the multicultural, multifaith and non-faith views of residents in Eng/Wales, inline with other countries.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDEW-X

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-16 10:12:12

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I am a Family Celebrant and have missed out on so many weddings as couples mistakenly thought that the ceremony I perform is a legal binding one. I point out to them that the ceremony is not legal and that some time in the future Celebrants hope that the wedding ceremony they perform will be a legal one.

Some couples do not wish to pay for a Registrar and then a Celebrant.

By being included on the public list of officiants, couples won't have to trawl through web pages to find a Celebrant and will have the choice of whether to have a Registrar or Celebrant in one go.

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDFU-W

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-16 11:32:29

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

please keep my details confidential. As well as being a new Independent Celebrant I am also employed by a local council as a [REDACTED] and have been asked not to mix the two. i.e, don't advertise my services/work in the same county.

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

n/a

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

n/a

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Other than during total lockdown I have been performing marriage ceremonies as a [REDACTED] These ceremonies have been shortened (by our heads of department) to ensure we don't spend too much time in the company of others to minimise the risk to us. Therefore, there is no personalisation and much less flexibility in the style and content of the ceremony. Other aspects of the ceremony have also been removed e.g. the mock signing of the Register/photo opportunities, the best man can no longer hand over the rings (basically making him redundant) and at one point we weren't even allowed to present the couple with their marriage certificate.

The whole 'feeling' of the ceremony changed; some couples found it much more intimate but others just wanted to get the deed over with and are hoping to have a 'full wedding' at a later date.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It would help get the process moving quicker

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

to give time to complete any checks necessary

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Yes, I still think an in-person interview is a good idea where concerns arise

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes, people should still be able to give notice this way to reduce the inconvenience of having to travel etc

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Online would be more accessible for the general public to have the chance to object than just notices in Register offices

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

and extended if need be during times of a pandemic!

Consultation Question 11:

No

Please expand on your answer:

At the time of giving notice, couples may not have even considered what type of wedding they want. So it would be difficult to say for definite who they would like to officiate. If couples are forced to give a name at this point, the celebrant will reserve the date. But once the couple has spoken to the celebrant they may not 'get on' and wish to change their mind. This puts the celebrant in a bad position regarding their business; they will have already reserved the date and possibly have turned down other work for that day.

I think the couple should be able to give the officiants name at a later date (as soon as known) but perhaps no later than one month before the wedding

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As a celebrant with the [REDACTED] we like to support each other in this way

Please share your views below:

Not sure what those other circumstances may be but it's always good to have someone you feel comfortable with to step in if necessary

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

keep the same rules for all

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

should be online the same as others

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

n/a

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

both

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think celebrants, humanists and Registrars should be able to officiate as long as they are all trained to the same level and licensed in some way

Consultation Question 21:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No - if the current process of the Register being signed at the ceremony as one registration officer couldn't complete the ceremony and signing without there being a delay.

Yes - if the process changed to the signing of a 'schedule'

Consultation Question 22:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

If they've had appropriate training

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

As an Independent Celebrant, I don't teach my beliefs to others. I believe each person is entitled to their own beliefs and I deliver their ceremony according to their beliefs, not mine.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

why would a non-religious belief organisation meet for 'worship' if they don't have anything/one to worship?

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

if unlawful - exclude

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

'office' doesn't mean experience. I think all officiants should have some level of training so we are all on a level playing field

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There has to be a central register

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely - as long as they can show they have had training, have adequate insurance, preferably are a member of a recognised organisation, and undertake CPD

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

as above

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Being an Independent Celebrant is my business, and as a business I need to make money to survive, as do all other celebrants. BUT I am not in this business to become rich. I do this because I want to make a difference to someones special day, I want to give them what they want and make them happy. That takes time, effort, and skill, and for that, I expect to be paid.

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

as an independent why shouldn't I be authorised and nominated by religious and non-religious?

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, marriage is a solemn occasion and the vows must be taken seriously. But 'around' the vows personalities should be allowed to express themselves.

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I think they should have a say in what would be classed as a legal marriage and possibly the words to be said, but not about the rest of the ceremony.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as there is an appeal procedure

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

as above

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, it has to be in line with the wishes of the couple

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

not sure

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely. What difference should it make whether you are under a gazebo or by a riverside? It's the ceremony that is important not the location.

Please share your views below:

no limits should be imposed unless it poses a risk to health and safety - a risk assessment should be undertaken beforehand

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The officiant should undertake a basic H&S risk assessment if it's not already a public venue

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

At least one area of the location is kept dignified for the ceremony

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not necessarily. As long as officiants have some level of H&S risk assessment.

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

possibly given 'pre-approval for a period of 2 years then to be reviewed

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

for ancestry purposes, this would be good

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If celebrants have to return the schedule in person this will limit where they can work, so electronic registration would be a good thing

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

not sure

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

not sure

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

death bed weddings should still be allowed. Unsure of how the others work

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

providing there is time

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If possible/known when giving notice

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

If they are not given the choice then it could be seen as discriminatory

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

or get it scanned and sent by email

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

not sure - there may be hardship cases involved

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I think this depends on the circumstances and the location.

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as it is an affordable fee for celebrants and not used to make a profit

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I believe these proposals will give couples much more choice and make it more convenient for them to get married.

For instance, if a mixed-faith couple wants to marry now, they have to make a difficult decision as to where, and under what faith they legally marry, or opt for a civil ceremony which neither of them would totally agree with. By creating more officiants these couples will be able to have a ceremony that is in keeping with both their faiths and beliefs.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Although register office weddings are available in each county, it's often the case that they are only available in certain towns i.e. not at all register offices. This then means it is more expensive for the couple to travel to those offices.

The registration service charge much more to attend an approved venue than they do to attend an approved council venue making it very expensive for couples who then have room hire etc on top

I believe most couples would like their ceremony to be what they want but also legal, but more and more are realising that using a celebrant and doing the legal bit separate can often be a less expensive option. If celebrants were to become officiants then this would hopefully reduce costs for couples

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

as above

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

a/a

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Many more venues would be able to host weddings without having to be licensed by the local council. This cost-saving could be passed on to the couple. This also gives the couple more choice and availability.

Registration officers are generally only available during the day. Using independent officiants means they could marry at whatever time they wanted. The venues could offer much more choice to couples as to what part of the location they wanted to marry and how the venue is used

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Local authorities have a 'monopoly' on weddings. If a venue wants to offer weddings they have to be licensed which costs them a lot of money (every 3 years - not sure if this is every county) There is an approval process and not all venues would meet the criteria because they couldn't afford to. The local authority make a lot of money out of weddings and don't always give value for money.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

not sure

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

not sure

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

not sure

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

not sure

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

not sure

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

not sure

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDE1-R

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-16 15:55:25

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

I'm happy for my responses to be public

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDER-S

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-16 17:54:18

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Ceremonies booked were cancelled or postponed

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Remote interviews need to be done by the celebrant/registrar who will conduct the actual ceremony but ideally should be done in person as we are officiating at probably the most personal event in the couple's life remote interviewing can prevent the interaction between them and the officiant

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Of course it should. Common sense needs to be employed.

Consultation Question 9:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Cannot think of any other circumstances

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why not? The proposal needs explanation

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

I see no need to change

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Meeting couples separately is not always convenient if one lives away. Its an outmoded view

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Separate declarations are a good idea but attending separately is not always practical

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Such a proposal i find offensive. The church does not need to be usurped by civil authorities. This would be a step too far.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes to a point. A Celebrant should be given the same status as a registrar

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

As more couples want a more personal ceremony conducted by a Celebrant who has spent many hours with them devising a ceremony that fits their beliefs and personalities it is common sense a Celebrant should have the same authority as a registrar to officiate legally.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Why two?. Waste of money.

Consultation Question 22:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

If this is anyone other than the vicar a resounding NO.

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The couple should decide who they want to officiate at such a prrsonal event rather than have someone they dont know foisted on them

Consultation Question 24:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This favours humanists not not others who have different beliefs

Please share your views below:

There should be a list and it should include Civil Celebrants who cater for all beliefs not just Humanists

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No one should be officiating a wedding if they dont have strong beliefs about marriage

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

It goes without saying no one should officiate if an eveny is unlawful or contrary to public policy or morality

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This cannot come soon enough

Consultation Question 32:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Celebrants have to cover their costs and the time working with a couple devising a Ceremony. This can be many hours over many months.

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Celebrants travel all over the country on recommendation and fees have to reflect this.

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No one should be officiating a ceremony unless they are dignified and behave with solemnity

Consultation Question 36:

No

Please expand on your answer:

As a member of a professional body of Celebrants I do not need to be told how weddings should be conducted. We have a code of conduct and I find Question 36 patronising and insulting

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The professional body to which most Celebrants belong would do this automatically

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Maybe, not enough information on what constitutes further professional development.

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

The Lords Prayer

Readings from the Bible with specific meaning to both or either party

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

The venue should be chosen by the couple and allowed if it doesn't constitute a danger

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

In the circumstance of terminal illness or being house bound the law should allow weddings to take place as soon as possible without all the res tape.

I personally do not agree to prison weddings.

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Time is of the essence in most cases. The need for interviews may not be practical and is it really necessary in these circumstances. I think not

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Fees should be standard across the board

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

No fee

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I know of people who have not entered into marriage because they wanted to be officially married by a Civil Celebrant known to them not a stranger and would not pay a stranger to utter script words that are meaningless to them As

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDE3-T

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-16 18:04:58

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Response on behalf of an organisation

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

No

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I am a Celebrant and I have officiated many non-legally binding marriages for couples who wish to have a personalised, meaningful wedding ceremony that reflects their beliefs, ideas and personalities held in the location of their choice.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I make it completely clear to my couples that their wedding ceremony is not legally binding; it is in my contract.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

My couples wish to have a Celebrant ceremony for a variety of reasons.

1. They want a personalised ceremony that is about love not the legalities
2. They want to include element of religion in their ceremony
3. They are mixed faith and wish to have a wedding ceremony that includes elements from both of their religions
4. They want to hold their wedding ceremony in a venue which is not licensed for legal marriages

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Some of my couples have chosen to have a commitment ceremony rather than a legal wedding ceremony and this has been right for them.

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

It is very frustrating for couples that their options for a legally binding marriage ceremony are so restrictive. All my couples would like their Celebrant ceremony to be legally binding. They want a meaningful, personalised ceremony which they don't get with a Registrar or in a place of worship.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

As an Independent Celebrant all my couples have rescheduled their wedding ceremonies to 2021, however, many of them have still completed the legal element just so "it is done" I am having an increase in enquiries for 2021 and 2022 from couples who want to have a meaningful, personalised ceremony.

I am very disappointed that the Wedding Industry has been so forgotten about by the Government; funerals have been permitted for up to 30 people with 15 permitted for a wake afterwards, yet weddings have been restricted to 15 people and if the couple are in tier 3 they have not been permitted to have a sit down meal. This does not make sense. The Wedding Industry is very experienced in ensuring everyone is kept safe and deserve parity with the Hospitality sector.

I have received a number of enquiries from couples who had rescheduled their wedding to summer 2021, now deciding that they are willing to go ahead with a smaller, intimate ceremony in the Spring. Couples just want to be married and it is such a shame that they are required to jump through hoops to achieve a meaningful, personalised, legal wedding.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Couples deserve to be able to be married in the location of their choice. Notice can be given on line.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The in-person interview could be carried out by the Celebrant - I always endeavour to meet my couples before their ceremony. If this is not possible, then would Zoom interviews be possible or on the day of the wedding?

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

I typically meet my couples for a rehearsal prior to their wedding day, this is often the day before the wedding, however, we could definitely book the rehearsal for 3+ days.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

I agree. I do believe that in the world we are living in, on-line zoom interviews should be acceptable and that if there is any cause for concern then an in-person interview would be required.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes this should be permitted.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

yes I agree

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree, unless there is a case of pandemic, in which case the notice period should be extended free of charge.

Consultation Question 11:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No, if a couple has booked an Independent Celebrant/Officiant then the contract between the couple and officiant would stand. I don't agree that the registration service should issue an amended schedule with a substitute officiant; couples like to choose their Celebrant.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, however, Independent Celebrants do have a good network of fellow Celebrants, but if the GRO hold a schedule of available Celebrants then that would be acceptable. The contract however is between the couple and the Celebrant - would the booked Celebrant be required to pay the substitute Celebrant in these circumstances?

Please share your views below:

In extenuating circumstances, when the officiant was unable to perform the wedding than yes, I agree with a substitute officiant.

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I have no view on this

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

I am not involved in Anglican weddings.

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

NA

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I am an Independent Celebrant and I agree with the above recommendations.

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Independent Celebrants should be permitted to carry out legally binding civil weddings to ensure that all couples are able to have a meaningful, personalised wedding ceremony in the location of their choice. Ceremonies should be able to reflect faith, no faith, mixed faith and spirituality, currently so many couples are not permitted to have the ceremony that represents their beliefs.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree

Consultation Question 22:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

NA

Consultation Question 23:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

NA

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is also worth bearing in mind that Independent Celebrants also offer non-religious ceremonies, but we do not belong to a non-religious belief organisation.

Please share your views below:

I am sure that Humanism UK wish to be the only non-religious belief organisation included in any future legislation, however, there are a number of other non religious belief organisations who should be considered. Non-religious belief organisations should be bound by the same regulations as belief/religious organisations.

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Humanism UK do not meet regularly for worship or to further their beliefs - define regularly. Humanism UK also claim to offer non religious ceremonies, however, they do in fact include religion in their ceremonies; they are trying to be all things to all couples. Surely if a couple want a Humanist Wedding - they should be required to be a member of the Humanist UK for a designated time prior to their wedding? It needs to be made completely clear that Humanist weddings are completely non-religious and must not include religion, there must be no grey areas - they are most definitely treading on the toes of Independent Celebrants who offer non-religious ceremonies but also elements of religious and also mixed faith ceremonies.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

All Humanist Celebrants must be required to follow the rules of delivering non religious ceremonies - too many are open for their own interpretation which causes grey areas!

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Yes they should nominate individuals who meet the criteria

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree that the GRO should be responsible for keeping a public list of all nominated officiants, however, if a couple request a non-religious wedding, they should be provided with both Independent Celebrants and Humanist details so they can make an informed choice.

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Completely agree. Couples should be able to have a meaningful wedding ceremony that reflects their ideas, beliefs and personalities, only Independent Celebrants are able to provide ceremonies for the diverse range of couples.

All couples deserve the right to choose the content of their ceremony, whether they have a belief, no faith, mixed faiths, spirituality or wish to include cultural traditions.

All couples deserve the right to choose an approved officiant, including Independent Celebrants.

All couples deserve the right to choose where they are officially and legally married.

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree, I am an Independent Celebrant and I would expect this to be the case.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I completely agree, Humanist Uk will disagree with this, but they should definitely not be permitted to make profits in the name of their belief. Belief Weddings should not be a profit making exercise.

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I completely agree; Independent Celebrants offer a variety of weddings to suit all couples in various locations, we are Independent, therefore should be free to set our own fees.

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

I agree, or you will find Humanist Celebrants also offering ceremonies with religion which are carried out by Independent Celebrants. There needs to be a clear defining line between non-religious belief organisations and Independent Celebrants. Humanists can't have it both ways.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree, marriage itself is a serious business, this does not mean that other elements of the ceremony cannot be light hearted and meaningful.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, within reason. There should be rules regarding the legal element of the ceremony, however, the GRO should not dictate the other content of the ceremony. Guidance is welcome, but an approved Independent Celebrant should be permitted to write a ceremony that reflects a couple's beliefs and ideas and also be able to include guests and family members and symbolic ceremonies.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes there needs to be a standard that is adhered to.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree, there should be standards that are maintained by all officiants.

Consultation Question 39:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, I agree that in order for standards to be maintained, Independent Celebrants should be monitored by the GRO, but where there is concerned, the GRO should also liaise with the Training Body that the Celebrant is associated with.

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree, will there be an annual registration fee?

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree, it is absolutely essential that Independent Celebrants are constantly carrying out CPD. However, there are many ways that a Celebrant can complete CPD, across many different training organisations and online forums. However, the CPD provided by the GRO is essential in order for Ind Celebrants to keep abreast of marriage legislation etc.

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree with your recommendations.

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree, this is very important. Couples must be allowed to include content in their ceremony that is meaningful to them.

Please share your views below:

Religious rituals or traditions

Religious readings/poems

Music with religion included

Spiritual rituals/traditions

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Definitely agree, a couple should be able to hold their wedding in the location of their choice, as long as it is safe to do so.

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

Legal Weddings should be permitted in ALL of the above locations as long as it is safe to do so and not in a dangerous location.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes civil weddings should be permitted to take place on land which is not publicly accessible. This will allow weddings to take place on private land.

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Other

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I don't believe that religious weddings should take place in a non-religious venue and also that a non-religious belief organisation would wish to carry out a wedding in a religious place of worship. This does not seem logical. However, a civil wedding which might include some religious elements pertaining to that particular religion could be carried out in the relevant place of worship.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree, however, guidelines provided by the GRO should be used to ascertain whether the location is suitable.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree, I don't want to officiate a wedding in an unsafe location and for the ceremony not to have dignity, however, a wedding can be light-hearted and meaningful to the couple. Dignified probably needs to be clarified.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

See my answer above, this guidance would be most welcome.

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Definitely, I would always want to ensure that the location is suitable prior to the wedding.

Please share your views below:

The officiant should send the GRO guidelines to the couple prior to the wedding, requesting their confirmation that all the guidelines should be adhered to. The couple would sign and return the document confirming that the location meets the GRO requirements. Ideally this should take place at the time of booking the officiant.

If the officiant is concerned in any way they should arrange to visit the venue/location and discuss concerns with the couple. Only once the couple have addressed these concerns should the officiant also sign the "location document" giving their approval.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree.

I have had a request from one of my couples that Mother of the Groom/Bride should also be included in the marriage document/register. I am pleased to see that this has been addressed.

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I am located in England, so I would only wish to see marriages registered in English. However, I accept that this is different in Wales and couples should be permitted to register their marriage in Welsh as long as the officiant also speaks/reads Welsh.

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, this would really streamline the process.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I agree with points 1, 2 and 3, however, with point 4, this refers to religious governing authorities. I am an Independent Celebrant and I would be carrying out a Civil Ceremony where couples of all sexuality are welcome.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Completely agree

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree a couple need to both consciously agree to be legally married, not automatically be considered married if they have lived together for a certain period!

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Completely agree

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

All persons should be permitted to legally marry as long as the legal requirements are met for the ceremony ie. dignified and safe.

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

yes I agree

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

yes I agree

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

yes i agree

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes this is a very important proposal and I wholeheartedly agree. During the pandemic, couples have been unable to legally marry and this has been incredibly difficult for many. To be able to remotely marry a couple is extremely important in emergency situations.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree, couples of all persuasions and sexuality.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

yes i agree

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

yes I agree, weddings at sea should be permitted.

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Definitely agree

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

I believe that weddings should be permitted on all vessels of a certain size - I officiated a wedding ceremony on board a small pleasure boat in the waters of the Greek Island of Paros last year for a British couple and I would very much have liked to have been permitted to have conducted a legal wedding as they were a British Couple.

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree regarding the name of the vessel, however, I think it is important that the officiant is registered to carry out legal weddings.

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, see my answer to Question 70 - Independent Celebrants should be permitted to carry out legal weddings in international waters for British citizens.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

yes I agree

No

Please expand on your answer:

No, I believe that registered Independent Celebrants should also be permitted to carry out weddings on ships/cruise boats in international waters, if the couple are British citizens.

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Yes there definitely is demand for weddings at sea in international waters by Independent Celebrants, couples love the idea of having their wedding at sea.

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Compassion must be applied

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes couples should have a choice in where they legally marry.

Consultation Question 78:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I believe that the officiant should be able to ensure a location is safe and dignified and this cost should be included in the officiant's fee.

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, this would make it simpler for everyone.

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, this is the case currently. RO charge fees similar to Celebrants for visiting venues to carry out legal marriage. However Celebrants create a personalised ceremony and spend many more hours on the script, whereas RO use cut and paste templates.

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree, however, Independent Celebrants should be permitted to charge a fee that reflects the time and personalised service they provide.

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

yes i agree, but Independent Officiants are permitted to charge for their personalised service.

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

This will depend on the couple's circumstances. If they are financially unable to pay the discounted fee, then compassion should be applied.

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I fully expect to pay a fee to register to become an authorised officiant.

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

The current law restricts couples from having a meaningful ceremony in the location of their choice. Many couples don't realise they have the option of a Celebrant-led ceremony and even those that do, find having to separate the legal registration from their meaningful ceremony time consuming and complicated. The LRO also do not make it clear on their websites that the option of a 2+2 civil ceremony is available, this costs under £50 but the LRO often only make one slot per week available between 9am and 12pm one day per week. This is putting couples who want a meaningful celebrant ceremony at a disadvantage and they are being discriminated against.

The current law also discriminates against couples from mixed faith to have a meaningful ceremony.

The current law only permits couples to have their marriage in a place of worship, the LRO or a licensed venue. This does not cater for all couples who wish to have a meaningful ceremony.

Provisional proposals would definitely allow ALL couples to have a meaningful ceremony in the location of their choice, we have a diverse country, with diverse beliefs and these proposals will ensure that all couples are given the choice in who conducts their ceremony where it is held and the content of their ceremony. This is really good news.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The costs and complicated process of legal marriage is completely unsatisfactory.

Register Office Weddings are cut and paste and do not offer meaningful personalised ceremonies yet they charge very high fees.

Register Officers who officiate at approved premises charge a very high fee for a cut and paste ceremony and pack a number of ceremonies into one day.

During peak season, Register Officers are overstretched and couples are not able to have ceremonies on the date and time that they prefer. If Independent Celebrants were permitted to carry out legal marriage, this would not longer be an issue.

Register Officers often officiate a number of ceremonies per day which does not allow for flexibility and ceremonies are kept short and to the point. Independent Celebrants typically only carry out one ceremony a day and really get to know their couples prior to the wedding. We will not be rushing off to conduct another ceremony, we will provide a personalised meaningful service that the couple will enjoy.

Currently a couple who wish to have their wedding in a location which is not licensed for legal marriage have to separate the registration of their marriage from their wedding ceremony. This is costly and time consuming. Register Offices do not make it easy for couples to do this; a 2+2 civil ceremony costs approximately £46.50 yet Register Offices don't advertise this clearly on their websites and only offer one morning per week availability. Couples often have to pay for a large ceremony room when there is only them and two witnesses, this adds to their cost. They also have to pay their Celebrant fee. If a Celebrant was permitted to carry out legal marriage, then this would save the couple time and money and make the whole experience much more enjoyable.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

There is restricted availability for Register Office weddings for the no frills 2+2 civil ceremonies. This is unacceptable. Couples should be able to complete the legal registration at minimal cost if this is what they choose. Register Offices currently don't make option readily available too couples.

Couples would be able to have legal weddings in their gardens or on private land and not have to pay the increasingly high fees of licensed venues that is currently the case. Clearly some couples are happy to hold their wedding in licensed venues, but they would also have a choice of where in that venue they hold their ceremony - they will not be restricted to licensed areas, they can hold their ceremony anywhere - in the gardens if they wish and outdoor ceremonies are becoming increasingly popular.

There are a limited amount of Registrars available and this leads to many couples not being able to have their wedding on the date and time they prefer. Couples would really benefit from having a choice in who officiates their wedding - they will have a fantastic choice of Independent Celebrants.

Many couples want to get married in a location that is meaningful to them; their family home, woodland, on a beach etc. These new proposals would allow couples to have their wedding in a location of their choice and they would also be able to have a wedding to suit their budget. This could definitely be a financial benefit too many.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Many venues have to pay costs for having areas in their premises licensed. There are separate fees for each licensed location. The new proposals would eliminate this additional cost for venues as it would be the officiant that was licensed. Weddings can then be held anywhere in their venue and they would not have to provide a fixed structure in which the wedding needs to take place.

During peak wedding season venues are often unable to fulfil bookings as Register Officers are not available on the date/time that a couple wish to hold their ceremony, this means a loss in revenue.

There are an increasing number of venues who are keeping Celebrants on their recommended suppliers lists for these such situations - so they are able to offer couples an alternative. These proposals would allow venues to be able to fulfil bookings as there would be increased officiant options available.

I am a recommended suppliers in 26 local venues, many of whom would have lost their bookings if they weren't able to offer the option of a Celebrant ceremony. All of the venues who have experienced a Celebrant ceremony have agreed that it is the most personalised and meaningful ceremony they have experienced. Venues love working with Celebrants - they can see the value that is added to their client's experience.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Venues would be able to hold weddings anywhere on their premises and not be restricted to licensed areas. This would be financially better for venues as currently they need to pay for each licensed area and ensure there is a fixed structure in which the ceremony will be held.

Venues will not be reliant on Registrars being available to officiate the wedding, they will be able to offer couples the option of an Independent Celebrant to allow them to have a meaningful ceremony.

There is a huge increase in business possibilities for venues as many couples want a wedding outdoors and not all wedding venues have licensed outdoor areas currently.

Unlicensed venues will also greatly benefit from these proposals, as they will be able to offer weddings on their premises, this will greatly increase revenue.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I am sure that the revenue currently made by licensing premises and also Registrars officiating weddings will be recouped by the licensing of officiants and also licensing of premises.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I do not know the benefits to local authorities.

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I do not have anything to add.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Huge benefits to couples in England and Wales - they will be able to:

- Choose who officiates their wedding
- Choose the location of their wedding
- Choose the content of their wedding
- Not be tied to expensive licenced venues
- Have a meaningful ceremony
- Not be pressured by the Registrar to be on time
- Not feel part of a conveyor belt with the GRO

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I have no views

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I have no views

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

4. Independent Officiants and/or
5. couples

There would be an increased cost to officiants in having to complete the necessary training, however, I would hope that experience is also taken into account. However the increased cost in becoming a registered officiant should be recouped in the increased amount of wedding ceremonies per year.

Couples would definitely save time and money in the new proposals and be able to have a meaningful ceremony when and where they wish.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDQ1-4

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-17 15:56:21

About you

What is your name?

Name:
Rachael Clawson

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Centre for Social Work
(My Marriage, My Choice)
School of Sociology and Social Policy
University of Nottingham

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Other (please state)

If other, please state::
On behalf of my research project team

What is your email address?

Email:

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I am responding to this consultation from a safeguarding perspective. Much of my research has been in relation to improving safeguarding policy and practice on forced marriage - specifically for people with learning disabilities who may or may not have capacity to consent. In many cases, parents are seeking a carer for their son or daughter and would not see lacking capacity to consent as being linked to forced marriage.

Removing the 7 day residency clause removes another layer of safeguarding as the 7 day period could be used by someone being forced to marry to alert safeguarding professionals.

Consultation Question 5:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I would agree with this only if the persons giving notice MUST then be interviewed, separately, in person. I would not agree with any movement towards the whole process moving online. This could seriously impact upon the safety and wellbeing of people being forced to marry. What is happening 'off camera' (in terms of coercion or threats to individuals etc) cannot be seen and it may additionally be easier to coach someone with out capacity to consent to give the 'right' answers.

The preliminary stage of the wedding, or giving notice, must be accompanied by a robust safeguarding system. The part of the process is crucial in ascertaining whether or not a person is freely giving consent and/or has the mental capacity, as judged by the Mental Capacity Act 2005, to give consent.

Currently, the concept of what constitutes 'capacity to consent' is little understood yet it is vital in ensuring the human right to marry is upheld and that right to protection from harm is also recognised and appropriately responded to. Assessing capacity to consent can be a lengthy process that requires specific expertise. It is unfair and unwise to expect this to be done by marriage registrars with little understanding, training or guidance.

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

I would ask that 7 days be the absolute minimum to be considered. Again, time is needed for individuals at risk of forced marriage to seek help. In addition, time might be required to assess capacity of a person's ability to consent to marriage. If a multi-agency assessment is required this will take longer than 7 days.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Absolutely not. This again removes another layer of safeguarding. My research, and experience of providing training to marriage registrars, demonstrates that they do not have the knowledge, skills or training to recognise or deal with forced marriage, particularly where capacity to consent may be in question. (Please see link to research report here <https://www.nottingham.ac.uk/research/groups/mymarriagemychoice/documents/summary-full.pdf>). It could be extremely difficult to tell if someone was a risk from an online interview. What is happening 'off screen' cannot be seen and it is therefore difficult to ascertain whether or not someone is at risk of harm.

A lot is expected from registrars, my experience is that further guidelines and support is required in the field of forced marriage and capacity to consent. I am currently working in partnership with registrars to develop practice guidelines. More training is required.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Only if this is followed up by a face to face interview.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I fully support this - notice of marriage should be publically accessible in this format. This could help safeguard people at risk of forced or predatory marriage.

Consultation Question 10:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I do agree with this, however equally robust safeguards should also be in place for the day of the ceremony as a person's capacity to consent to marriage could change (eg due to dementia) over that period of time.

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The officiant must be adequately skilled and trained to recognise forced and predatory marriage and understand issues/law relating to capacity to consent to marriage.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The officiant must be adequately skilled and trained to recognise forced and predatory marriage and understand issues/law relating to capacity to consent to marriage.

Please share your views below:

I think substituting should only happen in exceptional circumstances listed above.

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

No, all banns should be published online for reasons given earlier.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Clergy should the couple separately and should be required to undergo the same training as marriage registrars in relation to forced and predatory marriage and capacity to consent. Again, our research found that religious leaders across all faiths have little understanding of how capacity to consent can and should be assessed. If concerns about capacity arise, it should not be assessed on the basis of one brief meeting with a person who lacks expertise in this area of practice.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

If all weddings were preceded by civil preliminaries basic safeguards could be put in place and clear policies and protocols could underpin all weddings. Having different policies, training, expectations, value bases etc can lead to discrimination and unsafe practice.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Added to this list should be 'have the capacity to consent to marriage'. Freely expressing consent is different to having capacity to consent. Many people with learning disabilities or people with dementia may present as very happy to be getting married but not really understand what this actually means.

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I wholeheartedly agree with this. Performing wedding ceremonies carries huge responsibility for financial and emotional well being in addition to a person's safety. Only persons with appropriate training should perform this function.

Consultation Question 21:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I do not agree with this. Having only one person present puts them at risk if they need to call a halt to the ceremony for any reason.

Consultation Question 22:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Only if they are mandated to undergo safeguarding training and have duties placed upon them to safeguard vulnerable adults from harm.

I believe there should be clear policies and protocols that anyone recognised as an officiant should be expected to adhere to. There is a need for a clear Code of Conduct which sets out duties and expectations in relation to safeguarding practice for all weddings.

Consultation Question 23:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes - if all adhere to common expectations and duties as set out above.

Consultation Question 24:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Please see answer above.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes, should be excluded.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Only if a central register is held which details training undertaken to perform the role.

A level of recognised (and accredited?) training should be undertaken, to include training on forced and predatory marriage and capacity to consent, by every nominated officiant.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

A level of recognised (and accredited?) training should be undertaken, to include training on forced and predatory marriage and capacity to consent, by every nominated officiant.

I would argue that all officiants should undergo a DBS check and be capable of being referred to the 'barring' list where appropriate.

Consultation Question 29:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I think this is perhaps something for future consideration once the system for officiants as defined in previous sections works well. There are currently many gaps in safeguarding policy, process and practice and much work needs to be undertaken to address this before consideration of independent officiants being included.

I would like to see more formal training in place for all officiants that leads to an recognised, accredited qualification.

Consultation Question 30:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

How would 'fit and proper' be defined and by whom? Given the problems organised religion has had with recognising and adequately responding to abuse and safeguarding I would argue there needs to be a way of centralising what is required. Any definitions need to be recognised across the board and not differ between organisations.

As said above, I would like to see more formal training in place for all officiants that leads to an recognised, accredited qualification. I would equally like to see a requirement for organisations to sign up to a central Code of Conduct in relation to weddings

Consultation Question 31:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Please see answer above.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

There needs to be a minimum fee set by Government - this should not be set too low so as to provide a deterrent for forced/predatory marriage.

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I think the status of this guidance should be Statutory.

Consultation Question 37:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, however, all organisations need to fully understand duty and responsibility relating to safeguarding and reporting, we must learn lessons from safeguarding scandals relating to the Church. The duties and responsibilities need to be set out in Statutory format by the Government.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I do agree with this, however, work needs to be undertaken with/by the GRO to ensure their own understanding meets with required safeguarding standards. I would suggest the GRO works in consultation with organisations/individuals with safeguarding expertise to develop policy and guidance.

Consultation Question 39:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes but please see above.

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think officiants should be registered on an annual basis and be required to demonstrate CPD. Given their duty to safeguard, officiants should be required to demonstrate CPD to maintain registration.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I agree with this but we need to be sure that all parties understand the issue of capacity to consent and raise a safeguarding alert if appropriate.

Capacity to consent to marriage (using here the term 'capacity' as outlined in the Mental Capacity act 2005) is crucial and means more than simply agreeing or repeating vows word for word (people can be coached in this). Lacking capacity to consent to marriage means any marriage would be deemed as forced marriage under s121 of the Anti-social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014. Victims of forced marriage can experience harm and abuse, this applies to both the person lacking capacity and their spouse who may not know they are marrying someone without capacity until the ceremony itself.

Clear guidance is needed for both recognising when capacity to consent may need assessing and for halting a ceremony if necessary.

Consultation Question 43:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

There should be a minimum number of 'official' words to form the ceremony - fewer words could mean people who lack capacity to marry may not be recognised as such.

Consultation Question 44:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Please see above.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This again would remove a layer of safeguarding for vulnerable adults.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This again weakens any safeguarding of vulnerable adults/adults with learning disabilities and those who lack capacity to consent to marriage. For example allowing weddings to take place in a family home could mean that any safeguarding issues regarding the vulnerable adult may not be recognised and acted upon. Some vulnerable adults are purposely isolated from the community outside their own home isolated by family members.

on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

Please see above - the more isolated the venue the greater the risk that any safeguarding issues may not be recognised.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please see reasons cited earlier relating to the recognition of safeguarding concerns.

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

More robust guidance is required from Government on approved locations. Safeguarding adults (and children) has to be of paramount concern in decisions made regarding where weddings can take place. The more private the venue the greater the risks. The decision should not be made by one person - this places huge responsibility upon them.

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Please see answer above.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Robust statutory guidance is required rather than guidance officiants can choose to follow or not.

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

These are two separate issues.

I would agree with pre-approval process but not if the approval were to be granted by the officiant. A more robust process is required.

Please share your views below:

The GRO need to hold responsibility for this.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I'm not entirely sure what the implications of this would be.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Witnesses play a crucial role in endorsing a marriage - removing the need for witnesses again weakens safeguarding of vulnerable adults. Not requiring witnesses could make it easier for someone to be forced or marry or for predatory marriages to take place.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Robust guidance and training is required for officiants whose role includes identifying lack of capacity to consent due to learning disability or mental ill health.

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Marriages of victims of forced marriage and marriages of people with learning disabilities who lack capacity to consent to marriage may not come to light for a number of years.

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Clear guidance and training is required to ensure both parties are fully consenting and both have capacity to consent. This is clearly a difficult and emotive time for people marrying under such difficult circumstances, officiants will need support with decision making.

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Robust safeguards need to be in place to ensure the person has capacity to consent and is freely giving of consent.

Consultation Question 64:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I don't fully understand the implications of this.

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I do not agree with any of the proposals above. All could significantly impact upon safeguarding vulnerable adults and children. Any system which does not require people to be seen in person can increase the likelihood of harm and abuse, both for people with learning disabilities who may be isolated and not have the skills to raise concerns for themselves and for potential victims of forced marriage. Anything that makes marriage easier to do makes safeguarding more difficult. The current system requires improvement in relation to safeguarding - implementing the measures suggested above would be a step backwards.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I do not agree with emergency provisions.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I am unsure how 'at risk of death' would be determined and by whom and so cannt comment on this.

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Again, this weakens safeguards, particularly if the ceremony was to be conducted by the Captain of the ship who may not be fully trained in relation to understanding capacity to consent.

Conducting marriage or civil partnership ceremonies must be undertaken by trained, registered professional officiants if safeguarding responsibilities are to be adequately assessed/addressed.

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please see answer above.

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

No.

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please see answer given above.

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I do not think the current law discourages or prevents marriages taking place and think many of the provisional proposals in this document, whilst perhaps facilitating an increase in marriages, may also result in numerous safeguards currently in place being removed. I don't think making marriage easier to enter into is a positive step for everyone. There are barriers to adequate safeguarding in the current system, these barriers will increase if many of the proposals are enacted.

Marriage is most often viewed as a joyous occasion which should be enjoyed and celebrated, indeed many of the registrars I have interviewed/trained speak of their role as being one of facilitating marriage. Unfortunately though, marriage is not a happy occasion for all and safeguarding should be seen first and foremost as part of the process. It seems very unfortunate to me that, although marriage registrars are employed by the local authority, they are not included as part of safeguarding arrangements or the safeguarding community, particularly membership of Local Safeguarding Children Boards or Safeguarding Adults Boards. Much responsibility is placed upon them by Government to ensure people without capacity to consent aren't forced into marriage yet they are given very little training, support or guidance in this. My experience is that registrars do not think they get adequate support from the GRO and, although the GRO issues guidance, this is not disseminated to all who need it.

More effort needs to be placed on making the current Registry service more robust - there are pockets of excellent practice from which lessons can be learned. Any process of de-regulating weddings will result in safeguards being lost.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD28-C

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-17 17:03:38

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD2E-S

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-17 18:14:55

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

You can go abroad and not have to wait 7 days, as long as you can submit paper work online and then have it checked 48hrs in advance what is the issue.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, online absolutely, let's get into the 21st Century.

Face to face 48 hrs before

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

2 days

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Absolutely fine with this

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

If there any legal issues that extend further than names being posted then I have no problem with posting

Consultation Question 9:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I don't see what business it is of any body else that you are getting married.

This is very old fashioned.

Does this not go against the right of privacy?

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No, the officiate may change and this gives no flexibility at all.

It should pure be that it has to be a legally recognised officiate

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If it has to be named then yes this would be préfère course of action.

Please share your views below:

Yes, but ideally would not want to have a named officiate but rather a list you can choose from and book on line for that date in that area.

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Don't have an opinion as not religious

Consultation Question 14:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Again, not religious so have no opinion

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

No opinion

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

No opinion not religious

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

No opinion not religious

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Yes, absolutely there should be a list.

Religion is not necessarily part of modern day life for many so we have to respect and incorporate other recognised view points.

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes, for sure. This is due diligence on the government's part and is welcomed.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Yes, if they fit the criteria previously described.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, to protect us all from obscure beliefs and dictates they as an individual may have.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes and. I, there should also be a way of furthering an issue to a higher office outside of their own organisation as well.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

The limit should only be set by number of people safely allowed at venues only.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I believe there should be a criteria set officially and not down to the personal whim of the officiate

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, but again they should not have the right to also have a personal opinion about a location, it should be based on the above criteria

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

The persons getting married should seek pre approval along with booking the location.
This does obvious does not apply if it is a persons home etc.but more if in a public place

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not interested in having parents information on there it's not relevant at all to the marriage.
These days a lot of families are separated or don't have contact or know one parent.
This is a very outdated requirement

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If there is a fee it should be a standard nominal fee set by government so that local authorities cannot take advantage

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Should be a standard fee across the country

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

The law is not modern or flexible enough for society.

We have out off getting married as the rules do not allow us to be married at home or in the garden but rather pay extortionate prices to hotels etc for the use of a room and purely because it's a wedding be asked to pay double for food that would otherwise be half the price.

Also venues are not personal any more and more like a factory process..

Many friends of ours on second potential weddings are holding off to see the legislation change to in corporate more meaningful and flexible places to get married.

Couples we know whom have been together for 15/16 years still won't marry as they don't have the funds for " standard marriage of £20-30k

A licence to print money has been had by hotels etc for too long and discoured many.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1. Availability is not enough
2. Cost of marrying on approved premises is open for abuse and high costs
3. Not religious don't know
- 4.costs are very high
5. Ridiculous that have to get married at a separate place to where you want to have your reception. Additionally costs, not always able to be on the same day, limited to people you can have.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1. The ability to use more facilities at register offices would be welcomed though many are grim.
  2. Saving on being able to marry in all locations would be an extreme saving.
- Example- Getting married at home in our garden would save us based on 50 people would save us £10,000 as we wanted to do a tee pee wedding but just the hire of Tee pee, the land etc prevented us.The cost to for food only at home was £1500.00 , then we couldn't get married on the same day at registry office so we decided not to get married but to wait for the law to change.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDE2-S

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-17 19:11:02

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

The Association of Independent Celebrants

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

I totally understand that you cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

We wanted a small intimate wedding in our back garden. Not possible under current law so went to a Registry Office with just 2 witnesses as the ceremony lost meaning as we couldn't have what we wanted.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

My friend was due to get married on her 65th birthday. It was significant to her that she married on this day. Covid meant that the proposed wedding was delayed twice and ultimately limited guests only were allowed to attend.

In the end my friend got married with 2 witnesses present as they could not decide who could go and who couldn't. It was very stressful and deflating for my friend who was getting married for the 3rd time and so small things were very important to her.

They got married to get the legal bit done but it just had no sentiment to it on the day....very sad as they tried to make it so special!

She is hopefully having a Wedding Celebration next year when she is allowed which her family and friends can attend.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

With the modern world we live in and people being more nomadic than they used to be it is about time that the laws reflected the communities they are governing.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Provides flexibility which will be greatly accepted by people who live flexible lives. Families and lives and how they are lived has changed beyond recognition.

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

Think this is an adequate length.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

It should be possible as we live in a world where everything is moving online.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Again it should be possible to reflect the flexibility required in society today.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As previously, life is online these days.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I think that it is a brilliant idea to identify an officiant and of course being able to issue an amendment is vital as you never know what may happen?

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

See Q11

Please share your views below:

Not without notice...you need to retain regulation etc

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

It seems a little mad that they are only publicised in the church where the wedding is to take place and civil weddings are publicised online for all to see?

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

I believe they should be able to check documentary evidence but I am not sure how necessary it is to meet with the couple separately? Especially in this day in age...

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

If both should for Civil then they should for Anglican.

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

If you are changing the laws I think it only fair and non discriminative that all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is a fabulous idea. It give couples flexibility and freedom of choice.

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I disagree because it does not facilitate flexibility and choice for the couple.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Only one is necessary but I feel it is a great step forward to have more than just registration officers to officiate at weddings.

Consultation Question 22:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think that people should not be recognised just because the virtue of their office. They should have to undergo training and CPD as would any other officiant if granted.

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

A list would possibly be a good idea provided it do not discriminate towards other groups...maybe a better way would be to get people to apply to be an officiant and have boundaries within which the application could be made. Thus not discriminating towards anyone.

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

I don't think dominating people is good enough...it is open to be abused.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Good idea to have records of nominations made, successful candidates, unsuccessful candidates and rational for decisions made.

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I strongly agree with this and I strongly agree that everyone should apply and have the same scrutiny applied to each application with no automatic acceptance because of your religious group or rank etc

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There needs to be something to ensure applicants are fit for purpose. standard that can be applied across the board.

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Independents do not express their own beliefs anyways! A fair price range should be expected by all anyways. Exploitation should not be allowed!

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Independents all do a very similar role but very differently and with many different services and add-ons so it would be difficult to put limits of fees as they offer a great more than the role of a registrar or man of the cloth.

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Totally, independents are professionals so should not be a problem.

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Agree to a point but the who issue is flexibility and choice for the couple. So there should be room for them to add their own flair to proceedings.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Some belong to governing bodies or trade associations so they could police it too?

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Totally agree, as an independent myself I undertake continual professional development.

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Totally so that it reflects the diverse needs of society.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Totally, as an independent I would stand down and suggest a minister is more appropriate should the content be too religious. e.g. all or the majority of the elements are religious...

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Strongly agree with this as it promotes choice and does not discriminate anyone

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Excellent idea they risk assess venues anyways so with guidance through training it would be feasible.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

The venue ultimately should be responsible to show that their venue is suitable and this could be overseen by the Registry Office.

If a venue is used repeatably for weddings or designed for wedding specifically then it should be licensed.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think these should be exceptional circumstances.

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

A sea worthy boat that is large and substantial enough to accommodate the wedding party e.g. not runner rings etc

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Agree with the first part but I think they should give the name of the officiant they are using

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Depends very much on what the couple wants

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Current laws definitely discourage marriage the proposed changes will accommodate the flexible society we live in and I would think that it would increase couples getting married

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD2W-B

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-18 09:48:01

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Durham County Council

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Response on behalf of an organisation

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

N/A

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

The County of Durham Registration Service has experience of couples who have returned from abroad after realising that the ceremony they had was not legal. Either preliminaries were not completed, or paperwork was not in place / correct to enable a legal marriage within their holiday timescale so went ahead with just a celebration type ceremony and required a legal marriage on their return to England.

Couples often misunderstand the legal requirements and believe they can have a ceremony at their chosen location and simply sign some paperwork at the register office. They do not realise that only the Register Office (or appropriate religious venue) can perform the legal marriage. There is some anecdotal information to suggest that this is not made clear by wedding planners/independent celebrants

Other

Please expand on your answer:

responding on behalf of an organisation not an individual

Other

Please expand on your answer:

responding on behalf of an organisation not an individual

Other

Please expand on your answer:

responding on behalf of an organisation not an individual

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

The service is aware that it is difficult for those wishing to marry in England but who live or work abroad. They may not be able to fulfil the legal preliminaries that are required because of the expense or time constraints of making multiple trips back to England. Couples in the past have been left with no other option than to have a Legal marriage abroad and a celebration renewal of vows with their family and friends in England.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

The ceremony team have experienced thousands of telephone calls and emails, from devastated couples who could not have the wedding they had planned. Weddings have been moved several times as the legislation and guidance has changed, and numbers of guests reduced or wedding receptions not able to proceed. Registrar General Licence marriages, have been The ceremony team have experienced thousands of telephone calls and emails, from devastated couples who could not have the wedding they had planned. Weddings have been moved several times as the legislation and guidance has changed, and numbers of guests reduced or wedding receptions not able to proceed. Registrar General Licence marriages, have been difficult to facilitate due to extra COVID risks. Ensuring the Register Office ceremony rooms were socially distanced and COVID secure meant guest numbers were reduced and could not accommodate the 30 permitted under government guidelines. This caused distress for couples choosing which family could attend.

There were a number of instances where notices to marry expired during lockdown and a new notice was required. This had a particular impact on Couples returning from abroad to marry who did not have time/resources to return to England to enable a further notice to be given.

Where new notices have been required because of the Pandemic, the local authority has not charged an additional notice fee.

Cancellation of ceremonies and the waiver of fees has impacted on the local authority's income. Re-arranging hundreds of weddings and reassuring couples as government guidelines and lockdowns were implemented and fitting in additional appointments caused additional strain on staff resources and a loss of income.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

People work abroad, and it is difficult for them to keep coming back to England to complete legalities using holidays and the expense of flights. Other couples may work in a different district to their home address and would find it more convenient to use their local registration service.

Couples who are being married in one district whilst living in another may prefer to complete all the legal requirements with the district covering their marriage

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agree as this would allow the process to start while the couple were out of England or busy working and then have an interview at a more convenient time.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

This would allow couples time when returning from abroad to complete the process. It would also allow time to correct any errors, produce missing documents before the schedule was issued.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Remote interviews potentially make it more difficult to detect concerns regarding sham, forced marriages or capacity to consent. It will not be possible to see whether there are other people present in the room off camera seeking to influence the interviewee's responses. It may also be harder to read the interviewee's body language. The ability to hold in-person interviews in certain circumstances may lead to concerns that particular communities/ethnic or faith groups are unfairly 'singled out'. It would be fairer to have the same interview arrangements for all.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes, unless the two- step notice option was adopted and then this provision would not be required

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We consider this to be an excellent idea. It would enable anyone to view notices for those getting married regardless of where the notice has been given. This would be helpful if notices are no longer to be given in the district of residence as that is the basis for searches used presently.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, however provision should be made to extend in national emergency situations

Consultation Question 11:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This could be problematic in the event that the Officiant changes at short notice due to unforeseen circumstances. It may also cause difficulties planning staff rotas in advance. An alternative could be to have a designation clerk in holy orders/ registrar if they are officiants as a direct result of the employment by the church or local authority and only have the name if the officiant does not fall within that category .
The request to have a schedule amended at the request of the couple would have resource implications for the registration service unless a cost recovery fee was introduced.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If this proposal is taken forward consideration needs to be given to who would be responsible for checking that the substitute Officiant meets the legal requirements.

Please share your views below:

If this proposal is taken forward consideration needs to be given to who would be responsible for checking that the substitute Officiant meets the legal requirements.

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

All couples should follow the same legal preliminaries. If these were all published on the same national data base (as per the proposal above) this would provide greater transparency

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

We would propose that all couples should give notice to the registration service to provide for greater transparency/flexibility as to where notices are given.

If Banns are only required to be in the church of the marriage one or neither of the couples may be known in that district. This raises the question as to how an objection to the marriage be raised.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes. This would assist with identifying sham marriages and prevent incorrect identities, addresses being recorded

Yes. All couples should regardless of Anglican or civil wedding follow the same requirements and procedures regarding preliminaries.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes. All couples should regardless of Anglican or civil wedding follow the same requirements and procedures regarding preliminaries.

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

No. A greater transparency would exist if all couples were required to give notice at the register office and appear along with all other intended marriages on a national data base

Yes

Continuing to have this 2-tier system in place could create a perception of disparity/unfairness. One system for all legal marriages would be more inclusive.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Nationally registrars are accountable both to General Register Office and the Local Authority. They are thoroughly vetted during recruitment, monitored and receive ongoing appropriate training.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes as this would be potentially a means of reducing fees the couple.....

However local authorities may consider requiring 2 staff to be present, where situations or locations posed a health and safety/ duty of care concern in relation to a remote location. We would suggest that these issues are reflected in any fees payable.

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

However, consideration should be given as to whether they are named as individuals or by their title on the schedule. Consideration also needs to be given as to how couples can check that their proposed Officiant meets the legislative requirements and also to what would happen if the Officiant were to move churches prior to the ceremony taking place.

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

All churches have a governing body so this would be appropriate.

Yes

However, consideration needs to be given as to who will be the governing organization for independent celebrants.

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Political / cult/sects/organisations promoting narrow non-inclusive / illegal or immoral ideology

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes as this adapts practices already established for non-conformist church applications

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

yes

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Yes, this would avoid schedules having to be amended if clergy move church/ district.

Extra controls in place for non-belief organisations may require only named individuals as a protection measure to cover couples booking officiants who are not attached to a church or register office

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes – transparency of who is appointed and security for couples booking officiants

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes if approved provided independent officiants are vetted and are affiliated to a governing body

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We would suggest incorporating the guidance from General Register Office on the appointment of a registrar

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

A standard fee could be established for officiating a legal marriage and then any additional requirements would be the couple's choice

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All officiations regardless of religious/ civil/ non-religious/ independent officiants should have parity.

A standard fee could be established for officiating a legal marriage and then any additional requirements would be the couple's choice.

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

1) Yes

There needs to be clear definition outlined for the public to understand the difference and make informed choices

2) Yes

There needs to be clear definition outlined for the public to understand the difference and make informed choices

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, with the ability for concerns to be raised to report to General Register Office/or relevant local authority trading standards

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, provided they are following guidelines and any ongoing training has been completed

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, This is the final opportunity to verify vital information

No, they could have provided false evidence or omitted to provide accurate marital status using previous divorce documents at preliminary stage final chance to prevent void marriage.

Yes, set prescribed wording to be included to express consent would give clarity for couples

Yes

Yes

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The governing body would be able to continue the practice of officiating at only weddings where the couple have the belief of that group

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would allow couples to have greater freedom in the content of their ceremony.

Please share your views below:

The most requested are an occasional hymn as memory from childhood rather than because it is religious is Ave Maria which many don't appreciate is religious, Christmas carols in December weddings, Love is passage from Corinthians and "in sickness and health till death us do part"

Consultation Question 46:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

We suggest that this should be left as an option for the couple to choose, in some cases an individual minister will conduct a blessing where the Couple are not able to have a legal religious ceremony.

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Couples should be able to have only invited guests in attendance

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, providing appropriate risk assessments are in place on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or

Please share your views below:

1) Providing a risk assessment is in place and a clear identification can be shown on the marriage schedule.

2 & 3) difficult in the case of weddings in the air on lakes and rivers to define place of marriage on the schedule would the schedule need to be signed on land

4) Providing a risk assessment is in place and a clear identification can be shown on the marriage schedule

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, as this will enable private property / private land to be used for a marriage ceremony.

Consultation Question 50:

Other

Other

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This would limit a couple's choice. Religious venues may have a view as to whether they wish to have their premises used by non-religious/ civil officiants. Therefore some restrictions may be required to provide for religious ceremonies in religious venues and civil weddings in non-religious venues.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, providing guidance was in place from General Register Office, insurance and risk assessments in place to protect those involved in the ceremony

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is vital

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

1) the local authority

2) a system already operates for venues to be licensed so that system could be adapted for this proposal using the guidance produced by General Register Office that is suggested as part of this proposal. Venue could advertise that they were already pre-approved and had marriage, general and fire risk assessment risk assessment in place.

A fee could be set nationally on a cost recovery basis to facilitate this system

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, however consideration needs to be given as to how this would be administered and who would be accountable for the process. Consideration also needs to be given as to who will be responsible for producing marriage certificates.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

1) Yes

2) No, 2 witnesses should still be required

3) No, unless marriage is no longer a verbal contract then the schedule would be the evidence

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

no

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No, system where only one party gives notice operates well and this proposal may cause added physical/mental stress to the person diagnosed with a terminal illness.

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, if the registrar had the authority to reduce the waiting period and carry out a wedding within few hours. However, given the relatively low number of weddings involving a Registrar Generals Licence, we would query whether this is necessary

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, if this simplifies the system however most need to be completed within a day or 2

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, this would alleviate the pressure on staffing resources to complete these in a reduced time frame

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The pandemic raised awareness of the consequences of not being married with many couples. They were anxious to marry asap for legal protection particularly those in vulnerable categories

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Yes, this would offer additional options to couples and provide opportunities for companies owning yachts for example to diversify into the wedding market.

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

We do not have any evidence of such demand/ however many cruise ships have chaplains so could that be an option of a crew member officiating with a chaplain blessing following

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The cost recovery fee would need to account for additional travel and mileage within rural districts and the additional time taken to complete legal preliminaries for housebound and detained notices.

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

It is not always the case that those who are terminally ill have financial difficulties.

If the requirement was for only one party to be required to give notice, then that would be half the cost to other couples and would therefore be a compassionate reduction

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

provided this is on a cost recovery basis

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It would be useful to have a national timeframe for the time period this would last annual review – 5-year review period

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes,

this should take into consideration factors

Meeting couple to plan ceremony

Script preparation

Rehearsal if requested

Should not penalize registrars from providing a service that would compete with independent celebrants if they were given status to officiate at legal ceremonies giving couples choice on the various services offered.

Many local authorities have invested in staff and training to facilitate these ceremonies offering excellent value

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, with the provision for the local authority in cases of hardship to reduce fees

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

The current law does not prevent couples getting married as a statutory wedding is available at low cost in all districts.

The proposals would give greater choice in the location of marriage.

However they may not lead to an increase in marriages other than potentially for those who live or work abroad if the residential qualification is reduced and the two-tier notice procedure introduced or humanists who have delayed getting married as they wish to have a legal ceremony performed by a member of the humanist society.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1) Statutory weddings GRO set fee of £46.00 are available in all registration districts. Requests have been made to GRO for an increase in this fee to reflect current cost recovery to arrange and deliver.

In addition, weddings in de-commissioned rooms within the register office premises are very reasonably priced giving couples options for additional content and number of guests.

2) Fees for registrars to attend venues are reasonably priced in this district. They offer couples the opportunity, to enhance and personalize their ceremony, to reduce costs associated with guests travelling to multiple locations, potential non-requirement for wedding cars, to take advantage of hotel special seasonal offers and prioritize how they wish to spend their budget

3) These costs are usually set by the church and therefore couples choice to use that church

4 ) The only additional cost is for a statutory marriage, the couple would then choose what they spent on a non-legal ceremony

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1) There is no guarantee of any extra availability or that there would be any savings at register office

2) Saving on fee for a statutory marriage and if licensed venues pass on any costs associated with their license fee. However presumably there would be costs incurred for risk assessment/ additional insurance costs / public liability cover/ and officiants fees.

3) This would be a minimal saving of £46.00 for the statutory wedding and this option is mainly used when a venue cannot be licensed under current regulations.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

1) This may not reflect in any savings to the couple as a 5-year approval is £2000 in this district equating to £400 a year which venues may not pass on depending on the number of ceremonies they hold

2) This district has invested in a dedicated ceremony team and additional casual staff to ensure availability wherever possible. Therefore availability is already maximized

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

This may not reflect in any savings to the couple as a 5-year approval is £2000 in this district equating to £400 a year which venues may not pass on depending on the number of ceremonies they hold

This district has invested in a dedicated ceremony team and additional casual staff to ensure availability wherever possible. Therefore availability is already maximized.

More venues may consider weddings some who could accommodate small weddings that would think it easier not having to have the approved status if they are just asked to do a few weddings a year

Community facilities, village halls, restaurants and small business may feel that they could hold weddings if the fee to be pre-approved and have less restrictions was not a requirement.

This can be accommodated by venues now who are not licensed providing the couple have a statutory wedding first

There is no evidence to show that these proposals will increase the number of weddings just the ability for couples to have more choice in location.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Looking at the proposals and fees structure it may have a financial impact on local Authorities if they are not allowed to compete for the ceremonies outside of the register office area and are unable to offer enhanced ceremonies in decommissioned rooms. This could lead to staff reductions in those authorities that have invested into staffing to facilitate a high demand for ceremonies.

The ceremony team receives regular compliments from couples who have appreciated that they could talk and email with the same staff about their big day. They comment that the team have been supportive all the way from initial enquiries to the big day and delighted when they receive congratulation emails following the wedding.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The ceremony team receives regular compliments from couples who have appreciated that they could talk and email with the same staff about their big day. They comment that the team have been supportive all the way from initial enquiries to the big day and delighted when they receive congratulation emails following the wedding.

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

It would make the process much easier for those who live or work abroad to organise a legal wedding in England and Wales without the need for in person visits at least 5 weeks prior to the wedding to form a residential qualification and give notice. If they then can start the process from abroad and are only required to be here a few days before the wedding it will mean time and financial savings on multiple visits

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

If notices can be given in any district whilst benefits to the couples this could be an issue for some local authorities planning resources.

We have couples who travelled from China, USA, New Zealand and Australia and were unable to have legal ceremonies as they were unable to fulfil the preliminaries due to lack of holidays or the financial costs of multiple visits

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No known impact

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Local authorities who have invested in staff for ceremonies may find it necessary to review staffing levels within the service particularly if independent celebrants and non-religious celebrants can perform a legal ceremony.

Businesses like hotels may face more competition for the wedding market if ceremonies can be held anywhere this could be a major blow to the hospitality industry who have suffered so much as a result of the pandemic and lockdown restrictions.

Small business may attract weddings such as caterers who could deliver food to all locations. If family gardens are large enough or a field with marquee hired then pop up services could attend i.e. prosecco cart, ice cream cart mobile fish and chip van or hog roasts.

Religious organisations may not be affected as if religion is an important factor it will remain so
The registration service will be affected by the proposals to enable more people to become Officiants. It is therefore vital to create a fair system in which Registration Services can compete. can compete.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD26-A

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-18 10:28:08

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Family Justice Council

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Response on behalf of an organisation

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

We do not have a strong view about this. However, 3-7 days seems relatively short. 14 days may be more appropriate.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Yes as long as appropriate safeguards can be put in place to address concerns about sham and/or forced marriages or capacity.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

We do not have a strong view about this but agree with the general thrust of the consultation proposals that the requirements should be as uniform as possible

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

We do not have a strong view about this however the requirements relating to a civil wedding performed by a civil registrar should match the requirements of a religious wedding as closely as possible in order to further the consultation's key recommendation, i.e. to simplify and homogenise the legal requirements for any wedding.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

We do not have a strong view about this however the requirements relating to a civil wedding performed by a civil registrar should match the requirements of a religious wedding as closely as possible in order to further the consultation's key recommendation, i.e. to simplify and homogenise the legal requirements for any wedding.

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

We do not have a strong view about this however the requirements relating to a civil wedding performed by a civil registrar should match the requirements of a religious wedding as closely as possible in order to further the consultation's key recommendation, i.e. to simplify and homogenise the legal requirements for any wedding.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

We do not have a strong view as to whether a list is necessary.

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

We believe that any group that promotes a purposes that is unlawful should undoubtedly be excluded. Questions of public policy and morality are more complicated and subjective so it is more difficult to justify an automatic ban in these circumstances.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Yes. Any such person would still be subject to regulatory control once nominated.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

We cannot think of any specific examples that should be excluded.

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

We do not see the need for any limits as to where a wedding can take place.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

As stated above we do not see the need to set any limits on where a wedding takes place. If for example a church wishes to allow civil wedding and this is where a couple wish to marry the law should permit this. It is a matter for the particular organisation to determine what type of wedding it will permit in its venue.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

We do not have a strong view about this

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Given that consent is such a central element of a valid marriage, as a matter of principle, its absence should have a fundamental effect, i.e. to render the marriage void. The reason why consent which is vitiated by duress, mistake or incapacity should have only a provisional consequence – to make the marriage voidable rather than void – is not discussed in the Consultation Paper. This appears to be incompatible with the importance of consent in the proposed new scheme.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No. We agree with the proposal in part (1) of the question but not that in part (2). It is not explained why one party's active non-consent should be treated differently from consent which is vitiated by duress, mistake or incapacity. Both absences of consent should have the same effect. Our view, as expressed in response to question 57, is that they should both render the marriage void. The Matrimonial Causes Act 1973 s.12(c) does not draw a distinction between absence of consent by reason of vitiation or for any other reason; it simply applies where "either party did not validly consent" (resulting in all cases in a voidable marriage). We are also concerned that a victim of forced marriage who failed to express consent to the marriage could find their wedding classified as a non-qualifying ceremony, which would deprive them of the ability to seek financial remedies. We can see a basis for saying that a ceremony should be non-qualifying if BOTH parties fail to express consent, i.e. both make it clear that they do not regard themselves as getting legally married, but not where only one of the parties does so.

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

We are unable to comment on this topic

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

If the primary purpose of changing the law is to make weddings officiant-based rather than venue-based there seems to be no logical reason to restrict the type of vessel a wedding can take place on as long as the authorised officiant conducting the wedding accepts that it is suitable and respects the solemnity of marriage.

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

We are unable to comment on this question

Consultation Question 74:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

As soon as reasonably practicable can be a fluid concept. It may be better to extend the time limit from the normal period instead.

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

We think it should be the separate fee

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

We suggest that on compassionate grounds there should be no fee.

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Please see our answer to question 86.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Given the absence of a specific question on religious-only marriages, we take the opportunity to raise this issue here in response to question 85 (whether the current law discourages couples from getting [legally] married), and question 86 (the impact of the current law on couples including the necessity and costs of having a separate, legally recognised wedding).

We consider the discussion of religious-only marriage in the Consultation Paper to be inadequate as, after acknowledging the evidence and submissions on the use of nikah marriages deliberately to evade the legal responsibilities and consequences of marriage, the discussion ultimately sidesteps this problem and artificially defines it as beyond the scope of the Weddings project. We do not agree. In our view the acknowledged and well-documented concern about inequality and abuse of power in religious-only marriages is a key issue which the Weddings project was intended and ought to address. Neither do we consider the call for cohabitation law reform to be an adequate response.

While the Independent Review of Sharia Law made specific recommendations with regard to Muslim nikah marriages, we suggest that the proposal made by the Independent Review to impose obligations on celebrants to ensure that the marriages they celebrate are legally recognised is easily adaptable to the scheme proposed in the Consultation Paper, and should apply generally (rather than singling out any particular type of marriage or ceremony). It would still be possible, as proposed elsewhere, for both parties to express active non-consent to entering a legally-binding marriage. This would therefore create an opt-out rather than an opt-in scheme for legal marriage, which would be more protective of vulnerable parties, and would indeed reflect the Law Commission's reform proposals in relation to the law on cohabitation.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

We do not have the evidence base to answer this question.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

We do not have the evidence base to answer this question.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

We do not have the evidence base to answer this question.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

We do not have the evidence base to answer this question.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

We do not have the evidence base to answer this question.

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-18 11:10:21

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Response on behalf of an organisation

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

[REDACTED]

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We support the proposal that weddings should be able to take place in the territorial sea, and in bays and other coastal waters, adjacent to England and Wales, onboard ships registered in the UK with a port of choice in England or Wales, because this contributes to achieving the objective of allowing for greater choice and respecting couples' wishes and beliefs with respect to the location for their wedding.

HOWEVER, if the proposals were to preclude such weddings from being officiated by a maritime officiant and limited only to registered officiants, nominated officiants, independent officiants (if permitted) etc., this would also not be consistent with the objective of allowing greater choice to couples. Experience indicates that couples desiring to be married onboard ships normally desire they wedding to be performed by the ship's Captain, but under the proposals this would not be permitted until the ship was in international waters. This is an arbitrary restriction on the timing of the wedding at sea.

The distinction between waters and when a maritime officiant can and cannot legally officiate a wedding also raises operational and documentation/administrative (practical) issues. During a voyage, ships will often pass through different types of waters, and therefore if in only specific waters a wedding would be permitted, it could be expected that there may arise a need to provide evidence of the time and location of the ship when the wedding took place when it is subsequently registered. Whilst this is possible, it is an additional administrative and planning burden on the couple, the maritime officiant (or other officiant if in territorial waters) and the ship that does not seem justified or necessary. Additionally, the distinction between waters removes an important element of flexibility that is often required around the planning of weddings at sea. This becomes even important considering the maritime officiant is anticipated to be the Captain or an officer who will have routine and emergency duties that may affect the scheduling the timing of the wedding once onboard.

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We support the proposal that weddings should be able to take place in international waters under the law of England and Wales, onboard ships registered in the UK with a port of choice in England or Wales, as this is clearly consistent with the objective of allowing for greater choice and respecting couples' wishes and beliefs with respect to the location for their wedding.

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We do not foresee, based on existing experience with cruise ship itinerary development and guest booking practices, for there to be any obstacle to the proposal to require couples to give the name and registration number of the ship (presumed to be the IMO No. unique to the ship) on which they intend to marry as a part of giving notice.

We support recognition in the proposals that it is impractical to require couples to name the crew member who will officiate at their wedding up to 12 months in advance because that person may not eventually be assigned to the ship at the time of the cruise.

We support recognition in the proposals that the ship may change after the couple has given notice and that therefore there should be no negative consequences if a couple marry on a ship other than that named in the schedule, provided the ship meets the criteria. This reflects the pragmatism and understanding provided elsewhere in the proposals.

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We support the introduction of the “maritime officiant” in the proposals, as this reflects the main demand that weddings at sea can be conducted by the ship’s Captain (or other senior officer).

HOWEVER, we would suggest consideration is given to replacing “deck officers” with “Masters and officers” (within the meaning of how these are defined in chapter I of the STCW Convention). This would have the effect providing more flexibility and comprehensively covering all marine personnel that hold certificates issued (or recognized) by the UK Maritime & Coastguard Agency that demonstrate they are qualified to perform operational and management level functions onboard the ship (i.e. identifying them as part of the chain of command, have access to communication equipment etc.).

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We consider it is logical that maritime officiants should be subject to the same rules being proposed as applicable to independent officiants because they share some similar characteristics.

No

Please expand on your answer:

We consider that restricting the officiants for weddings on ships in international waters to only maritime officiants and independent officiants who are part of the ship’s crew would significantly reduce the possibility to cater for religious or non-religious belief weddings in international waters and thus would not be consistent with the objective of allowing for greater choice and respecting couples’ wishes and beliefs. Therefore, we consider the possibility of permitting the following officiants in international waters: maritime officiant, independent officiant (crew), independent officiant (guest), nominated officiant (crew), and nominated officiant (guest).

We understand the ‘link to the ship’ justification behind the independent officiant being part of the ship’s crew, but a link between the officiant and location/venue is not applied for weddings on land (e.g. there is no requirement for a link between a nominated or independent officiant and the stately home or pub beer garden chosen for the wedding). More importantly (see also response to Question 73), it would be hard for cruise ships to cater for many religious and non-religious beliefs if the possibility of the officiant being amongst the passengers is not permitted. Whilst it might be advised that could be dealt with by opting for the officiant being the maritime officiant and then having a guest of the relevant religious or non-religious belief lead the wedding ceremony, this is not ideal and might not be entirely acceptable to the couple.

We have provided a “matrix” to the Law Commission to illustrate the different combinations of waters and officiants that should be permitted, as far as possible, under the proposals. Those that are currently precluded but ideally should be permitted, are indicated in green shading.

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

We consider that there will be demand for religious or non-religious belief weddings onboard cruise ships in international waters and that it is important to provide for this possibility to be consistent with the objective of allowing for greater choice and respecting couples’ wishes and beliefs. The current proposals currently appear to only permit religious or non-religious belief weddings to take place onboard ships while in the territorial sea, and in bays and other coastal waters, adjacent to England and Wales.

We understand the ‘link to the ship justification’ behind the independent officiant (or potentially a nominated officiant) being part of the ship’s crew, but it would be hard for cruise ships to cater for many religious and non-religious beliefs if the possibility of the officiant being amongst the passengers is not permitted. Whilst it might be advised that could be dealt with by opting for the officiant being the maritime officiant and then having a guest of the relevant religious or non-religious belief lead the wedding ceremony, this is not ideal and might not be entirely acceptable to the couple.

To satisfactorily provide for religious and non-religious belief weddings on ships in international waters, we would suggest that the proposals should be amended to permit the following types of officiants in addition to maritime officiants and independent officiant (who are part of the crew): independent officiant (guest), nominated officiant (crew), and nominated officiant (guest). Please see the “matrix” provided to the Law Commission too.

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

We support recognition in the proposals that there should be an exemption from the fixed time of one week to return the schedule after the wedding for that who held their wedding onboard a ship.

HOWEVER, some form of fixed time limit (such as one month) may still be preferable to such an undefined term as “as soon as reasonably possible” to provide some certainty to the regime. We would suggest something along the lines of: “as soon as reasonably possible, but within thirty days”.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD2R-6

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-18 12:48:42

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

THERE SHOULD BE MORE FREEDOM OVER DECISIONS TO MARRY.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

THERE SHOULD BE MORE FLEXIBILITY AND FREEDOM OVER DECISIONS TO MARRY.

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

I FEEL THAT THREE DAYS IS ADEQUATE

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

I AGREE

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

I AGREE

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD21-5

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-18 12:52:14

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

Please select one...

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

n/a

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

When I married there was a choice of church or registrar wedding. As a spiritualist and pagan, I would have preferred to be married in a woodland but this was not possible. The current places where you can be legally married are very limited and do not meet the needs of a diverse culture and differing beliefs. Therefore people are compromised and having to result in having two ceremonies (registrar and then other officiant)

As a celebrant, I am also aware of many couples that would like to get married in the grounds of hotels but as they are not "registered" and so this is also not possible, even by a registrar.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

I have only performed 1 wedding blessing during this time to enable a dying mother see her daughter in her wedding dress.

It was performed with just 6 people present and in the couples back garden.

A very touching ceremony but they are not legally married.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

The number of days is irrelevant. The important part would be to check at the in-person interview that they are willingly committing to the wedding.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

in-person interview should be first choice and only offered as remote interview if for example a person is terminally ill and there is a medical reason why it would not be possible for them to attend in person

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To ensure that standards are maintained, all independent officiants, should achieve a minimum qualification of level 3 as currently offered by some training organisation such as Civil Ceremonies Ltd as well as be registered .

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes for the legal element of the marriage. The officiant should be allowed freedom to make the ceremony personal whilst complying with the legal requirements of the wedding.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The cost of CPD should not be prohibitive and CPD should be made easily accessible ie online as well as face to face sessions.

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

A civil ceremony should reflect the couples beliefs. If one partner is for example of Catholic belief but the other is not and they are not permitted to get married in church, then there should be no reason why a prayer or hymn could not be included to reflect individual beliefs.

A civil ceremony should not exclude the inclusion of personal faith.

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

There should be no limitations to any particular location. The officiant will consider whether they feel that they can fulfill the legal requirements within the location and will provide suitable guidance to the couple.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Dont create another "rule" book which will put in place barriers for personal expression. The advise must leave options open for couples create a personal ceremony in a legal location of their choice.

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

There should be a fastrack option for terminally ill people.

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

People should not be penalised or incur additional costs just because they are terminally ill.

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

An admin fee to cover the time involved and not a professional registration fee.

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

The current law is limiting to couples who are looking for a personal ceremony away from a religious ceremony.

There is currently a very limited alternative, generally in hotels whose costs can be prohibitive.

The facilitation for a officiant to be able to carry out a legally binding ceremony in location of the couples choice and at a time of day of their choice is advantageous.

An officiant should not be limited to a belief or humanist status but offered to suitable qualified officiants.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

As has been proven during the recent COVID pandemic, the registrar service cannot cope with the pressure of delivering the full registration and officiating.

Couples are penalised for wanting their ceremony on a weekend. They are currently limited to the opening times of the office and could not for example get married in the evening or at sunrise.

The approved premises is so restrictive. I regularly work at a Hotel that has amazing grounds but the ceremonies cannot be carried out in the grounds as they are not registered. The registration process should not rest with the premise but with the officiant.

The current process is too complicated and couples do not understand what they need to do or can do.

Please allow the couples to have the option to ensure they can; legally marry; by a registered officiant of their choice; in a suitable location of their choice; at a time of day of their choice.

An officiant should be allowed to charge whatever they feel appropriate to cover their services and it is up to the couple to decide whether they accept them. It should be a competitive market.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD2F-T

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-18 14:13:06

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

N/A

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A minimum of 20 members would allow any bunch of extremeists the right to conduct marriages - this would need for more consideration than these requirements

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

I agree that any organisation promoting unlawful activities must be excluded from undertaking any quasi-governmental activity including officiating at weddings.

Those wishing to go against public policy should be similarly prevented from officiating. Actions contrary to public policy would need to be set out, and reviewed regularly, to ensure that they continued to accord with public expectations.

With regard to public morality, I'm not sure how this has legal validity separately from public policy or the law? If something is morally unacceptable (e.g. polygamy or child marriage) then it would already be unlawful, surely?

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

This feels potentially unsafe to me. Not all organisations are sufficiently thorough in their preparation of ministers etc for me to feel comfortable about office holders being automatically able to officiate rather than named individuals

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is essential for those who hold no religious (or set of communal) beliefs to have an officiant of their own choice for their marriage.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I believe this may be a conflict of interest as, should the independent celebrant be nominated by another organisation (directly to a client couple) but charging their own fee, the couple may not believe themselves able to obtain an alternative celebrant.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This is very difficult to monitor so may end up being a white elephant. For example, several hours a month spent reading poetry is CPD but would be hard to quantify

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

A building is a building is a building. If doesn't matter where a ceremony takes place but what is done and said. There are many religiously dedicated buildings that are used as community buildings and where lots of non-religious events happen so it seems a false division to prevent people getting married in a venue where they may have met, been part of a group there, and where they may even be having their reception.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Safe, definitely, and large enough to accomodate the couple, officiant and witnesses, bur who is to decide if somewhere is diginified? Would that mean that untidy kitchens would be prohibited or perhaps a shop owned by the couple? These are comparative judgements

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes to safe

See above for diginified

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Probably the local registrar should be responsible. The process should be a paper exercise that requires signing off properly once approved by an officiant for a ceremony or if already known to the register office

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes to add information but why occupations of parents?

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

That rather depends on the nature of the notice and the length of time applied to it since many terminally ill people may not be able to wait or, even if they are still alive, may not be able to properly articulate their consent even though they were fully and freely consenting at the time the notice was given

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Only if detained in a prison should this be charged, otherwise it is a tax on the sick

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

The availability of independent officiants to celebrate marriages would expand the availability of marriage to couples who don't wish to have either a religious marriage or a purely secular one as prescribed by civil ceremonies at present. Increasing the venue availability to enable couples to marry anywhere that is safe for them to do so would reduce the cost of getting married and the practical issues where members of their families may be unable to attend in some existing venues. Also the increased personalisation of ceremonies would make marriage a far more attractive proposition for many couples

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDYF-1

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-18 15:44:41

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED] County Council

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

I am happy for my responses to be shared.

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I am in a marriage recognised by the UK law celebrated in a religious ceremony.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

There has been a lot of uncertainty from the off-set regarding couples planning their wedding - will their wedding go ahead, will it be as planned, what are the restrictions, how many guests can go ahead, etc.

There has been anxiety as their wedding date nears as - will there be an announcement to the evening before to say ceremonies can't go ahead, will one of them (or their guests) test positive or show symptoms and have to self-isolate, will they be better off postponing or bringing the wedding forward, etc. It's put couple in a challenging position having to choose who to invite as guest numbers have been low and how should they celebrate post ceremony.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If the couple is not resident in a registration district for 7 days they would very unlikely have proof of residence - do they live in the UK? What address would be on the notice? They could simply put any address down.

Consultation Question 5:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I think this way someone wishing to marry would then be aware of what documents they need to bring, or obtain, which documents are acceptable and what validity is required from them. This would save time for both the person wishing to marry and for the registrar rather than them turning up unprepared for their appointment and having to rearrange having brought the incorrect documents.

A lot of processes are now done online including applying for a passport, driving license and bank account which is some of the documents used as proof of identity and residence.

However I think the notice period should commence once the face to face interview has took place.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

I think the separate in-person interview would need to be set at a 'sooner rather than later' date to avoid documents having expired or if anything was incorrect and further evidence/identity required.

3 days may be too small a time frame based on availability of the registrar appointments. weekends, bank holidays, etc.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

I think registrars should meet every couple wishing to marry. If not, who determines if that person is entering the marriage of their own free will, who is checking documents match up, who decides if they have the mental capacity to marry??

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

n/a

Consultation Question 9:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There is far too much personal information given on a notice for them to be put online for all to see - from a data protection point of view and online fraud prevention.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is beneficial to the parties wishing to marry should they need to postpone for a number of reasons - pandemics, illness, financial reasons, etc. It will also save time for both the party and the registration service having to re take a notice if it has expired. The couple also have the option to bring their ceremony forwards needs be.

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Should there be a reason to identify the officiant in the future their name should be recorded. Due to illness or other the name should be amended if needed.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The ceremony should still be able to go ahead if there is a problem with the officiant therefore a substitute should be available. There is no mention of who an 'officiant' is? Is it a registrar or just anyone wanting to do a wedding?

Please share your views below:

A substitute still needs to be a suitable person (it not just another wedding guest). Someone who understands the legal impacts on marriage, the health and safety of all involved, etc.

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why should this no longer be allowed? If the banns have been read and they are free to lawfully marry why should they not be able to marry in England?

Consultation Question 14:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

n/a

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

The banns should be displayed in the church where the wedding will take place as well as the church that is their usual place of worship (which is often the same church).

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

I agree they should. Exactly the same as a registrar meeting the couple prior to the ceremony for their notice appointment and providing the evidence. All couples should be treated equally if marrying in a civil or religious venue.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

I agree that both of the couple should attend just like they should both attend for a notice of marriage appointment. Everyone should be treated equally.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales; or

Please expand on your answer:

It would be a good idea if they both have the same preliminaries - same regulations, standard and fairness regardless of where you choose to marry.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

It needs to be decided who an 'officiant' is. Is it a registrar or can anyone off the street officiate? That person needs to understand the legal duty that they hold and the consequences of any mistakes made.

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I would think if a couple wanted a religious ceremony they would want a religious figure officiating - eg the vicar

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Although for safety it would be best for 2 to attend even though only 1 would be officiating.

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

People shouldn't just be 'nominated'. They should be trained in wedding law and understand the legal complications and benefits of marriage. And be aware of the health and safety off all involved.

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

There should be an official list of organisations that are legally able and trained to safely officiate at weddings. Organisations should include local government (registrars), humanist, etc.

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Unsure where the number 20 has come from. Why 20? There will be some organisations that meet the above criteria but with only 19 members.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

I agree.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

I think all organisations should be treated equally.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If they are doing this role as an 'occupation' why should they not charge the relevant fee that they think is suitable for their service.

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should be guidelines on what can be charged and to what extent.

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The organisation may be poorly run, have inadequate standards or knowledge, and unknowingly let things 'slip'. The GRO should be making ad hoc observations and audits on officiants.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The wedding should be adapted to meet the parties needs and wishes but it should still be very clear that they are entering into a marriage and of their own free will. This should be in line with the GRO standards not what is agreed by an officiant.

Consultation Question 44:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

n/a

Consultation Question 45:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I agree that some aspects should be allowed in a civil ceremony such as a bible reading, prayer, etc but that as a whole the service remains civil.

Please share your views below:

as above

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A lot of couples would like a small part of religion on their wedding day so this is a good way for them to implement that.

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I don't think it is needed that public access should be allowed - If there is an objection there should be ample time prior to the wedding day for people to come forward

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Some locations will not be suitable or safe to conduct a ceremony.

outdoors,

Please share your views below:

I agree couples should be able to marry outdoors. A lot like the out door settings due to personal tastes and interests, it would sometimes allow larger wedding guest numbers, be more suitable for certain wedding guests (those with children or pets) and of course, in case of another pandemic. It would be unsafe on inland waters, air or private homes from a health and safety point of view and in case of forced marriage, or if one of the couple makes a last minute decision to change their mind on the marriage.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It needs to be made fair for everyone. Why should one couple be allowed to marry in a location but not another.

Consultation Question 50:

Other

Other

Other

Please expand on your answer:

It needs to be fair. If religious ceremonies are allowed in civil venues then civil ceremonies should be allowed in religious venues. However this could blur the lines on what is a civil ceremony and what is religious and who is accountable for the marriage legalities.

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The location should meet guidelines set by GRO.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

The above listed information should be added prior to the wedding ceremony not afterwards. The information should be accurate and correct at the time of the ceremony and therefore signed by the couple to say it is correct.

Amendments should not be added at a later date unless making a formal correction - with fee, evidence and witness.

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think we would lose some of the 'tradition' if nothing is hand written or signed so no. A lot of couples use this time as a photo opportunity and to feel like they are forming a contract.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree with all of above.

No

Please expand on your answer:

It should be the officiant's duty to ensure that the schedule is accurate and correct and amendments are made and initialled by relevant party at the time of the signing.

The marriage ceremony should not go ahead without at least 2 witnesses.

The schedule should be signed by the couple, witnesses and officiant.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree with the above.

Consultation Question 59:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I agree that they shouldn't have to co-habit after it's celebration - this could be due to working arrangements, travel or military commitments.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There needs to be a legally binding contract that makes it clear to themselves, and others, that they are married.

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

People who are terminal ill, in prison, hospital or housebound are still able to get married as the registrars come to them for a notice appointment and for the marriage ceremony.

Consultation Question 63:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Although the parties intending to marry will be under a great deal of stress, have limited time, and possibly limited mobility or energy to give notice of marriage I think they should just like we would interview any other couple. This is to ensure they understand what is happening and about to take place and do they wish to do so.

Consultation Question 64:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No this should not be abolished - registration officers do not have the knowledge or experience to determine which weddings would be acceptable under a Registrar General Licence.

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The schedule should be valid for 12 months for ALL couple regardless of their circumstances.

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The schedule should be valid for 12 months for ALL couple regardless of their circumstances.

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Whatever is decided should be the same for ALL couples.

No

Please expand on your answer:

If there is no evidence that that person is seriously ill how would you know it was true?

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It would put parties at risk if they decided last minute to marry or not.

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

To be married under UK law it should take place in the UK.

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

n/a

Consultation Question 71:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

They should not be marrying in international waters.

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

I don't see a demand.

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

At the moment there is no fee for this travel (or additional time). It is unfair for the general public to have to make time in their own lives, sorting childcare or taking annual leave, and have to pay for the expense of travel to attend the appointment.

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

(2) There should be no such fee. This couple would not of been put in this situation of their own free will or wishes, their time is limited and finances are stretched. We should waiver any fee in such circumstances on compassionate grounds.

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Couples should have the option to marry in a register office should they wish - for tradition, for ease and for cost reasons.

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

1. No, if people genuinely want to get married they comply in whatever way they need to, even if some of their wishes are not met.
2. I agree more people would therefore be legally married but if anyone can officiate, anywhere and anyhow, the significance of the legal aspect of the marriage would be lost. And therefore many would maybe be lead to believe it would be as easy to get divorced.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1. There is plenty of availability at register offices as they have the facility and resources to do several weddings in one day. Costs are also extremely low for a basic ceremony.
2. The cost of an approved premise is still very good value for money in line with the prices that the venues charge for the rest of the wedding day.
4. unsure of these costs.
5. People would rather pay the price to know that they have the legal paperwork for their marriage.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

n/a

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

n/a

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

n/a

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

n/a

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

n/a

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

n/a

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

I don't think bringing in these changes will bring costs down. Couples can get married at a registration office for around £200 (including notice fees) so I don't see how it can get much cheaper.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDU9-G

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-18 16:49:33

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Other (please state)

If other, please state::

These are personal responses as a celebrant and owner of [REDACTED] business [REDACTED]

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

N/A

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

The initial halt to weddings during the pandemic caused great difficulties for couples and in my experience they were forced to postpone. Once weddings were permitted again the restrictions meant that couples had to change their plans or move their dates again. This caused further distress especially for those who were marrying while a family member was able to attend but may not be alive at a later date.

The disruption put stress on couples for a number of reasons and some decided to postpone once again to 2021 or 2022. Other couples didn't commit to a date for their wedding because of the uncertainty.

For suppliers, including myself this meant a loss of income both immediate, in relation to work already done but where a final invoice hadn't been presented. It also meant that due to the uncertainty new bookings were not coming in so no income from deposits.

There has been a massive disruption to the wedding industry meaning less tax being paid and some businesses going out of business.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

In the current mass communication world this requirement doesn't seem to serve any purpose

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This seems like a sensible solution to an outmoded system

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Although in person interviews held a short time before a marriage seems sensible in terms of location of couple and interviewer if there are concerns about either party marrying of their own free will or whether any impediment exists a 7 day period leaves some time for further investigation without having to cancel the marriage if enquiries can't be completed.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Perhaps initial interviews could be carried out remotely however care would need to be taken to ensure that someone else in the room wasn't influencing the interviewee.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes this should still be possible

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would be more effective than the current local notices

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This means that it is easier for both couples and authorities to spread out when couples are giving notice and allows for if the original marriage date has to be changed due to unforeseen circumstances.

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This makes it clear to the couple and the registration service who is responsible for registering the marriage.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Such unforeseen events do happen and it would be unfair to the couple if they were unable to marry due to such circumstances. There would need to be a set procedure to be followed in these circumstances.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

The Banns are specifically an Anglican church tradition and perhaps the civil framework of giving notice should be sufficient and if the Anglican church wish to have an additional requirement that should be a requirement for them.

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Nothing to add

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

I believe this should be the same as civil notice and given online and in churches at the discretion of the Anglican church itself

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes this should be a requirement

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes this should be a requirement

Consultation Question 18:

All weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

This would be more fitting in a secular society and the Anglican church shouldn't be treated any differently from any other organisation in relation to marriage preliminaries.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should be a requirement for all weddings regardless of the officiant

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Officiants should be authorised or licensed by the registration service to officiate at legal weddings whether they take place in a religious setting or are purely civil.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It seems to be unnecessary to have more than one registration officer at a civil wedding

Consultation Question 22:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I believe that appropriate registration/licensing to officiate should be granted following appropriate training for all officiants including clerks in Holy Orders. Which bodies are responsible for licensing officiants to officiate should be a better for the registration service to authorise.

Consultation Question 23:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree in principle but if there isn't an existing governing body then the registration service could license officiants to officiate

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This excludes officiants who can reflect the belief system of the couple being married rather than their own belief system and restricts the choice for couples to have a ceremony that reflects their own belief system or if they have no belief system.

Please share your views below:

As stated above the current secular society is not made up only of people who profess belief systems some people have no belief system per se but they may wish to have a ceremony that reflects varied secular beliefs. the belief in marriage as a binding commitment can be held without a formal belief system

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This excludes people as outlined above and the registration service could have authority to nominate officiants or authorise a professional body representing officiants of no fixed religious belief system. This could be in addition to organisations described above but not excluded by this description.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes these should be excluded if they promote unlawful purposes

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

It would be preferable to have nominated named individuals following appropriate training to ensure a good standard of officiants.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This way couples could ensure that the person they asked to officiate was appropriately authorised to do so.

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This will be an important element of any new regulations. It will provide more choice for couples who will be able to choose a bespoke ceremony tailored to their needs without having to register their marriage at another time and place.

Independent Celebrants, with relevant training on the legal elements to make a declaration and register a marriage and a NOCN Level 3 Diploma, who become officiants will ensure that the General Register Office can be confident that ceremonies will be conducted in a professional and dignified manner, recognising the solemnity of marriage but allowing couples to tailor the ceremony to their individual personalities.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Standards must be maintained to ensure that marriage remains a respected institution that is taken seriously by those undertaking it.

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As mentioned previously agreed standards should be maintained

Consultation Question 32:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

It would be important to allow officiants to make a living from officiating however there could be a code of conduct which must be adhered to to ensure that the state of being married is not diminished by being commercialised.

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It would be difficult to limit fees because however fees would probably be self-limiting as couples will determine what they are prepared to pay and officiants wouldn't price themselves out of the market.

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It may be possible for officiants to put aside their own beliefs to provide a suitable ceremony for non-religious/non-belief couples reflecting their life view however it could cause confusion if officiants nominated by religious and non-religious belief organisations are also permitted to act as independent officiants.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

this is a very important element to ensure that marriage is taken seriously by couples.

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

There should be general guidance from The General Register Office but this shouldn't be too restrictive. Providing the legal requirements are carried out and the dignity and solemnity of marriage, mentioned above, is maintained some freedom should be given to couples to choose what form their ceremony should take.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree however the registration service should be given a role in any appeal process

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

this should only be done following consultation with the nominating organisation

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

each organisation should have a process for investigating complaints or breaches of standards and the General Register Office should be part of any appeals process from complainant or officiant if required and should have authority to make a decision overriding the organisations decision following such investigation

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree with the proviso outlined in question 41 below

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

CPD is very important to maintain standards and should be part of the authorisation

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

the above recommendations appear to cover the appropriate methods of ensuring consent to be married and the lack of any impediment to this marriage

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The standards required of officiants should be sufficient to ensure that the ceremony chosen takes the marriage seriously and includes consent to be married with the legal implications that entails.

Consultation Question 44:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This should be predominantly left to the religious organisations to determine the form of their ceremonies providing they abide by the legal requirements set out previously.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Content should be limited to ensure the ceremony is identifiably civil and so does not use wording specific and exclusive to a particular religious rite of marriage

Please share your views below:

Examples should include religious music and readings but excluding wording exclusive to particular religious rite to avoid confusion with such a religious services.

Consultation Question 46:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

this should only be repealed if the religious service will now be authorised under the new legislation

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would be negated by new forms of giving notice

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This will enable couples to have more choice about the location of their ceremony and also remove bureaucracy from the registration service in licensing venues.

in private homes.

Please share your views below:

In this case it will be extremely important to ensure consent is given freely and no impediments exist so the system for doing so should be very robust

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I cannot see any requirement of this

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would avoid confusion and potential misrepresentation of what sort of wedding was taking place.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Officiants could be given training and guidance on how to determine the appropriateness of a location for the wedding

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Both these elements are high priority

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As suggested in response to Q 51

Consultation Question 53:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

this shouldn't be necessary and providing the approval was a straightforward and uncomplicated process would ensure that the location owners maintained the appropriate standards without requiring organised inspections.

Please share your views below:

If pre-approval is deemed necessary then the registration service should take responsibility for pre-approval which can applied for. however I don't believe this will be necessary if the officiants have been trained appropriately and the process for approving a location is kept simple.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would retain the current requirements

Consultation Question 55:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This is important for Welsh speaking couples however as the national language of the UK is English I believe that registration should be in English and the option for Welsh to be used in addition rather than as an alternative.

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Providing the system is secure

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

1-3 are appropriate reasons to void a marriage however same sex marriages should be recognised by the Registration Services.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

In relation to 2 and 3 there should perhaps be mitigating circumstances recorded to explain why these conditions couldn't be adhered to.

Consultation Question 58:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I agree with the exception of the 1bii for the reasons outlined above

Consultation Question 59:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I agree however for none cohabitation if this doesn't take place there should be some explanation or mitigation recorded

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should be open ended as the person who did not consent may be prevented from speaking out within this time frame but should still be entitled to have the right to petition for the marriage to be nullified if no consent was given after this period.

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This will ensure only authorised officiants officiate and protect couples

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

There is a potential problem in relation to the ability of a terminally ill person to give notice and then to give consent.

Consultation Question 63:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

There should be an option for the registration officer to visit the terminally ill person at their home, hospital or hospice or prison for this purpose and the notice period should be flexible however I do believe it's important to ensure that they freely consent to the marriage.

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Proper training should be provided specifically for this purpose to ensure there is a clear understanding of free will consent.

Consultation Question 65:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I'm sure this has been very carefully considered and this provides equal rights to people in this situation, however perhaps 6 months would be more appropriate with an option to extend the period up to a further 6 months if the couple have been unable to marry within the initial period for reasons linked to the illness.

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This provides equal rights to people in this situation

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would give couples a choice whether to postpone their wedding or go ahead remotely.
Care needs to be taken in preliminaries and ceremony that are undertaken remotely that there is no coercion to marry.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would provide greater choice than currently exists to couples.

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

This would allow for greater choice however it would be important that the officiant was satisfied that the ceremony could be carried out safely and with dignity.

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

the name of the officiant should be required to ensure that the officiant is legally accountable for any breaches in the law. this should be no different than on land.

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

This may be the case however providing the same criteria apply to such land based weddings this should be allowed.

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This may be necessary if the couple are travelling within the period normally permitted to return the schedule.

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This figure should be based on average costs of such actions

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Perhaps this fee could be waived or nominal

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This offers choice for couples

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is fair and allows cost recovery for the registration service without necessitating a venue to pay a high fee which is then passed on to couples.

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This will depend on what the additional services are and so I don't feel able to make an informed comment on this. If there has been considerable work in preparing to provide these services this should be charged for in addition to the registration officer's hourly rate as a registration officer.

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

There is potential for hardship for couples in these cases and in order to avoid any form of means testing all couples should be treated the same and there should be no fee

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

The cost of weddings can be prohibitive to some couples and so discourages them from marrying if they aren't happy to have a 2 x 2 marriage or find it difficult to organise a 2 x 2 option because of restrictive practices employed by some local authorities. I believe the proposals put forward by the Law Commission will allow greater freedom to couples to choose cheaper options which will encourage them to engage in a legal marriage.

Many couples would like to marry outdoors or in an unlicensed premises and so your proposals to allow ceremonies to take place anywhere will encourage more couples undertake a legal marriage.

Many couples do not want a formulaic ceremony but something that is more meaningful to them and the proposals to be more flexible around who can officiate and the wording within ceremonies will encourage more couples to undertake a legal marriage. This will also benefit couples who wish to marry using wording aligned with spiritual, other faiths or nonreligious beliefs .

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Inevitably costs of having a separate legally recognised wedding along with costs of marrying in locations not authorised is an unjustified expense, especially when couples are trying to keep the cost low by using unauthorised locations.

Often 2 x 2 weddings are limited in availability by some local authorities.

The requirement of a superintendent registrar and registrar at a legal wedding leads to increases costs and availability and also appears to be unnecessary. This is also the case for some religious marriages where a registrar is also required to attend.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

This has the potential to benefit couples financially and it will also allow them much greater choice of a location including private locations with no additional cost.

The requirement of only one authorised officiant will also benefit couples financially especially if based on cost recovery fees.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

The proposals provide greater choice for couples and will also allow more couples to marry at a time and place of their choosing more easily. With more officiants to choose from there will be more availability.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Venues won't be limited to set times for weddings as they generally are when Registry office staff are involved. they will be able to use any part of their building or grounds rather than a designated space, giving couples more choice.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I don't believe the registrars office will loose money because Independent and Humanist celebrants become officiants, in fact I think they will earn more from officiant registration. They may also be involved in regulation or training for officiants which will provide a new income stream.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please see above

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The current law appears to be complicated and bureaucratic for couples to follow.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The new proposals will make it easier for couples in these situations and in the case of 2 above should increase the number of couples making this choice. As a consequence more couples marrying in England and Wales will boost the wedding economy which in turn will increase tax revenue.

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

N/a

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

N/a

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

For couples I feel this will increase competition which in a free market economy will provide more choice for couples and the proposals will make it cheaper for couples but also give greater value for money and provide an opportunity for them to spend more money if they wish which still provides value for money.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD2Q-5

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-18 17:11:18

About you

What is your name?

Name:
Coalition for Marriage

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Response on behalf of an organisation

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The proposed duty does not go far enough. Officiants should uphold the dignity and solemnity of marriage not only in their conduct but also in the content of the ceremony itself. If our society is to esteem and respect the institution of marriage, then the officiant, as the legal representative, in a marriage ceremony should likewise ensure the union is esteemed.

Marriage is of profound importance to society, so it is vitally important that the seriousness of such a commitment is upheld in the public eye. Since officiants of weddings fulfil a public role, their responsibilities should include upholding the dignity and solemnity of marriage in terms of their own behaviour, conduct and choice of words.

Since there is a danger that the solemnity of marriage can be trivialised or downplayed in the ceremony, officiants should also have a responsibility to uphold the dignity and solemnity of the ceremony. Officiants represent the serious legal responsibility marriage entails, and while couples should be free to shape the event themselves, the weight of the commitment and the seriousness of the promises made should remain uncompromised.

The Law Commission's proposals must define what is meant by 'dignity' and 'solemnity'. Other parts of this consultation seem to consider weddings taking place "in the air" as being compatible with this, which suggests either these standards are too low, or the boundaries so flexible they become redundant.

We suggest that 'dignity' and 'solemnity' be defined such that they encompass respect for marriage in the public eye and a recognition of the sincerity of the vows performed. It should be said that 'dignity' and 'solemnity' do not mean dour or cheerless, as weddings should be joyful occasions, but still sincere and serious.

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There is a significant danger in removing the 'prescribed words', which play a central role in the marriage ceremony. Simply signing a statement of consent is open to abuse, as one of the parties to the marriage could legally give their 'consent' even if they were absent from the ceremony. This risks undermining the sincerity and authenticity of the promises and commitments made in the marriage service. The prescribed words are important in a number of ways, and, given the seriousness of entering a marriage, it is not much to ask for couples to repeat short, specific phrases that signify they freely consent to the lifetime commitment they are making.

It should not be possible for a marriage to take place without both parties being physically present at the service; simply signing the marriage schedule is inadequate. Marriages are a public commitment, and so the vows, which are emblematic of this, should also be public, as is currently the case. The public declarations have always been considered foundational to the legal marriage ceremony. This helps protect marriage from being abused, or the centrality of the commitments within marriage downplayed.

The prescribed words in a marriage ceremony are minimal and so already very flexible. There is already plenty of scope for couples to tailor them to the dynamics of their relationship or shared beliefs. The words of the ceremony can be varied and unique yet the core aspect remains unchangeable. Fundamentally, the view that marriages should be entirely customisable stems from a misunderstanding about marriage; a wedding is never just about the couple. The union they enter is legally defined and recognised by societies across the globe, so society has a vested interest in keeping these declarations public. Marriage cannot be divorced from the law or wider society, and can never be an entirely private matter.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is a serious commitment. It is widely respected and well-regarded by societies around the world. Marriages are binding and not trivial events. Weddings, then, should reflect this solemnity. The format of a ceremony should not be allowed just because the couple wants it, but because it is appropriate for such a significant life event.

Making the officiant the arbiter of what should be considered appropriate for a marriage risks setting a low bar, based on subjective tastes. One officiant may consider a Marvel comics-themed wedding crass, whereas another may find it unobjectionable. Unofficial weddings in the UK have included such a theme, along with Star Wars, Lord of the Rings, Game of Thrones and James Bond. One couple had a "Woodland Fairy themed ceremony with ponies dressed as unicorns". It is doubtful that these ceremonies reflected how seriously marriage should be taken. Officiants should have the duty to make sure that marriage ceremonies show respect for the institution of marriage and should not be comparable to a form of entertainment or party.

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is a public institution. The legal parameters around marriage set it apart in society, and rightly so. So, it is important that marriages remain in the public eye. The 'open doors' requirement helps convey this public nature of marriage. It indicates to the couple that their marriage has implications on the role they play in the rest of society, and indicates to the public that marriages are not just an aspect of someone's personal life but have an important bearing on public life. Closing marriages from the public would reinforce the idea that marriages are private matters, and that society has no duty to uphold it or respect it.

The 'open door' aspect of marriage was put in place centuries ago and serves as a protection against forced marriages. Forced marriages are still a problem in our society, and must be safeguarded against. Closing the public from marriages removes this protection, and may give room for vulnerable people to be abused.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Weddings are important in the eyes of the couple concerned, their families and friends, the wider public and the law. Therefore weddings should only be legally permitted to take place in locations that reflect this significance and the dignity of marriage itself.

There are some locations which should be authorised to host marriage ceremonies, such as churches or other religious groups who do not own their own premises. This would be a welcome extension of the regulations, which still reflect the seriousness with which marriage should be regarded.

However, the extension to other premises should not be indiscriminate. Careful boundaries should be established to safeguard the dignity of the wedding. Unofficial wedding ceremonies have taken place in a range of inappropriate venues that undermine the dignity of marriage, such as S&M dungeons, Comic Book conventions with the couple dressed in character, even underwater. Such places mock the seriousness of marriage, putting it on par with a performance or party. There must be reasonable limits to what is permissible. Places that are incompatible with the dignity and solemnity of marriage and that fail to reflect the significance of public vows must be excluded.

on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

Question 52 of this consultation gives the criteria that wedding locations be “safe” and “dignified”. The law should limit wedding venues to places that fit this description. “In the air”, as this question proposes, does not seem to meet these requirements, and shows that the bar being proposed is far too low. Weddings are public occasions, and so, as previously mentioned in this consultation, should be accessible to the public in this way. A wedding “in the air” or “on inland waters” would be inaccessible to the public and therefore undermine the significance that marriage has for wider society. Locations like these would effectively circumvent the open doors requirement, which we believe it is important to retain (see response to question 47).

The chosen location should be easily justifiable by the couple, the officiant and the eyes of the general public. The most extreme suggestions, such as in the air or underwater, should be ruled out, as should places that trump the traditional with the trivial, such as a McDonald’s restaurant. The most important part of a wedding is the promises the couple make to each other in the eyes of the law and the public, and no wedding venue or format should undermine or distract from the gravity of this.

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The choice of wedding venue should not be a free-for-all, so reasonable parameters should be established. “Safe” and “dignified” seem to be apt terms that carry an awareness of the dignity and solemnity of the promises made, and the need for these ceremonies to be accessible to the public.

However, it is important that these terms are robustly defined, and not so flexible as to undermine themselves. Earlier in this consultation, weddings taking place “in the air” were considered, which would appear to most to flout the terms “safe” and “dignified”. Clear, stringent safeguards must be put in place.

“Safe” seems a necessary proviso to ensure the health and safety of the individuals involved, but “dignified” should act to ensure the high regard for marriage is maintained. If a proposed venue could be argued to debase or trivialise marriage in the public eye, then it should not be considered “dignified”.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The General Register Office must produce clear guidance on this point. In order to properly assess whether a location meets the criteria, though, the terms must be adequately defined. Stringent safeguards must be proposed, and there must be clear consequences for officiants if the guidance is not followed.

As previously stated, clear definitions of “safe” and “dignified” will be essential. Guidance on the viability of a venue should consider not just the safety and security of the parties involved, but the security and reputation of marriage in the eyes of the public. Since marriage is a public commitment, it follows that a venue should be deemed suitable in the eyes of the general public. Prudent questions to ask would include whether a proposed venue would reflect the solemnity of the marriage or distract from the importance of the commitment. Marriage is not a novelty, and neither should the venue be a novelty. Marriage should not be entered whimsically, and neither should the venue indicate a whimsical event.

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDUD-U

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-18 18:24:56

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

I do not mind the information I provide being shared.

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I am not married

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not applicable

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not applicable

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Not applicable

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

From a work perspective, as Managing Director of [REDACTED], I, and my staff, have spoken with many couples who have had dreadful experiences during Covid.

Mostly the conversations with couples are those who had planned weddings and could not get in touch with their register office or the register office could not accommodate them when they wanted. So they switched to having a commitment ceremony that we could provide at the time when this was possible after the first lockdown. Couples were very upset, I spoke to many in tears, who felt they had been left in limbo by the registration service.

Also, the government Covid guidelines and regulations did not match up and the whole sector suffered from confusion. Guidelines seemed clear only for religious marriages and registrar led marriages, humanists and independent celebrants were left fighting for clarity for months. Then some guidelines were put out for humanists and not for independent celebrants! It has therefore been a very difficult time for all and it could have been handled much better if government had been aware of the large number of couples who had weddings planned to be led by independent celebrants.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree. The main reason is that this will make the process easier for couples living outside England or Wales.

Couples wanting to marry here currently have the expense of staying here for a week beforehand, so they may well be discouraged from marrying here at all. Additional costs are clearly in terms of paying for accommodation, but also having to take additional time off work when they are probably already planning a honeymoon. This law does seem a nonsense that serves no particular purpose.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree. This makes huge sense in today's online world!

It will be less expensive as less face to face contact is required. At the moment couples need to attend an appointment at a time when the register office is open and in their own district, which may mean taking time off work. I think that the current process is unnecessarily time consuming and restrictive, and would be much better dealt with initially online.

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

This would seem to be a sufficient time and would make it much easier for couples living abroad to get married here. It ties in with removing the 7 day residency requirement and would be welcomed by couples.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

In my opinion this would be a very sensible power to include. If, at some point in the future, it became impossible to carry out interviews face to face, then the power to hold these remotely would be very helpful.

If a sham or forced marriage were suspected then the option for a face to face interview would be an appropriate and necessary option.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

I would continue these exceptions at the present time as it is not proposed that interviews are conducted remotely yet. It would undoubtedly make it more difficult for couples in this situation if these exceptions are removed.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The current system is not very effective. Few people go to look at notices in a register office. As long as notices online do not contain very personal information such as home addresses, then this would be a far better and more sensible way of dealing with this in my view.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Ye, this is a sensible time frame in my view.

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

1. Yes absolutely the officiant should be named for many reasons, not least being that it will be a check that couples can make sure that the officiant is authorised.

2. At the parties' request, the registration service should certainly issue an amended schedule with a substitute officiant.

In instances where a couple changes their officiant, there definitely has to be a system in place that is not cumbersome or slow, that allows the schedule to be reissued with the name of a replacement officiant quickly.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes this must be allowable as such incidents will happen. The new officiant would have to be an authorised officiant and I can see no issues with this.

Please share your views below:

Il think yes, there could well be be instances where a substitute officiant might need to step in, other than the reasons of illness, death or unavoidable delay.

These could include family emergency, such as sudden illness of a family member, death of a family member, or a sudden domestic situation, where an officiant cannot leave her children alone, in a case of loss of childcare.

In practice, most of the people who would, in the future, work as authorised officiants are likely to be currently conducting marriages. Therefore they will have networks of others, in their sector and in their geographic area, that they can immediately contact to step in if required, just as they do now. In the future of course such other persons would also need to be authorised celebrants.

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would appear to be a sensible move.

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes this seems unnecessary and should be repealed.

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

In the spirit of making the process easier for all couples, I feel this is very limiting and would prefer to see a wider approach so that banns could be published elsewhere.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

1. As they have no way of verifying the documents this would just add to administration and I feel it is unnecessary.
2. There is no requirement for this to happen now, so to introduce this seems against the spirit of simplifying the law and I do not think it necessary.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Concerns about predatory marriages, particularly in the case of dementia patients etc. do exist. However clergy do meet with couples and I would hope that any such issues would most often come to light at this time. I think this is a matter for the churches to decide.

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

In order to make the process easier and more understood by all couples then one set of universal preliminaries is a much preferred option.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Most definitely. I believe strongly that any legal marriage must be conducted by an officiant who is aware of their legal responsibilities and duties, clearly defined by training and the guidance provided by the Registrar General's Office.

Officiants do need to ensure that the parties freely express consent to marry and make sure the legal requirements are met in terms of signing the schedule or marriage document. As long as officiants are trained in, and fully aware of, their role and responsibilities, this would be an altogether more straightforward and appropriate system than the current arrangements.

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It would not be appropriate for registrars to officiate at anything other than a civil marriage.

However, I do believe thought should be given to the inevitable question that will arise when registrars wish to also act as independent celebrants. Should this be permitted or not?

From my experience of training celebrants, many of who have been ex-registrars (and in some case existing registrars), I know that there are many part time registrars who have left registration positions to set up as independent celebrants. Usually they are forced to leave the registration service due to a conflict of interest. Some have used their previous role as a registrar in their marketing to influence couples to use them. This could be viewed as inappropriate as it could influence couples.

Therefore I would urge consideration of two questions. The first being whether registrars will be permitted to also operate as independent celebrants and if so, in what geographic area (possibly outside their local authority area?).

The second question is to what extent can they publicise that they are (or were) also a practicing registrar.

There does have to be a national position on this, if local authorities are allowed to decide this for themselves then a piecemeal and unfair position will exist for registration officers.

My personal views on this are based on the privileged position that registrars hold, communicating with couples who are seeking to marry. It is possible that a registrar, who was also an independent celebrant, could influence a couple away from the registration service and take their ceremony themselves.

In order to protect the local authority and avoid any such issues arising, I believe it preferable not to allow registrars to be independent celebrants while employed as a registrar. However if they have left the service they should be allowed to become an officiant as an independent celebrant.

It could be said that registrars marketing their services as an ex - registrar gives some competitive advantage but I feel that this is diminished if they are not actually practicing. In reality, couples will choose the celebrant that suits them best. So I do not feel it practical to introduce regulation on how ex registrars market themselves as independent celebrants.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely. It is totally unnecessary for two registrars to attend, independent celebrants lead ceremonies on their own all the time and it is not problematic to do so. It is unfair to charge couples fees covering two registration officers. This will also provide a cost saving for local authorities.

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I believe that the Church of England and the Church in Wales have appropriate frameworks in place to ensure that persons holding office that are nominated to conduct legal marriages are people who are appropriate to do so.

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

1. For religious organisations other than the Church of England or the Church in Wales. The appropriate governing authority should be able to nominate appropriate officiants to conduct legal marriages for that organisation.

2. Non-religious belief organisations to officiate at weddings.

The appropriate non-belief organisation should be able to nominate appropriate officiants to conduct legal marriages for that organisation.

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This question raises a concern around defining a non-religious belief organisation.

If the definition and criteria are too loose then, as is the case in Scotland, a plethora of new spurious 'non belief' organisations will very quickly spring up claiming the right to conduct legal marriage. If defined too tightly then no new genuine organisations will be permitted to evolve over time.

It is my belief that at the present time, the definition suggested is as appropriate as any could be and should be adopted.

Please share your views below:

A list is not, in my view, likely to be sufficient to deter inappropriate organisations, as there will always then be exceptions as well as organisations that had not been previously considered.

Better to concentrate on the criteria for who CAN be considered a genuine non-religious belief organisation.

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

1. I do believe there should be a 'least' number of members involved in the criteria but 20 would seem to fall far short of a number that reflects a genuine organisation of a reasonable size, especially as this could be across the whole country.

Someone could potentially rustle up 20 members of just their own family or circle claiming to be members. I would prefer to see a minimum number more like 100.

2. Yes I think an organisation would need to demonstrate at the very least a sincere belief about marriage and I don't this should be optional. However, appropriate wording for a marriage ceremony that supports their beliefs SHOULD be optional in my view. The main point here is that there are distinct and clear views about marriage.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes I totally agree with this. Anything that brings, or could potentially bring, marriage ceremonies into disrepute should be excluded. This would also need to apply to independent celebrants whose training should include awareness of measures that would be taken if they promoted purposes that were unlawful or contrary to public morality.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

I think on balance that yes they should be allowed to do this.

In particular with large religious organisations like the Church of England, the administration involved with constantly changing officiants, if they have to be nominated by name, would be onerous. Also, if nominated by office, then officiants leaving would be automatically deregistered so there would be no risk of them practicing once they have left.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes it would be appropriate in my view for the General Register Office to be the responsible organisation in this respect.

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes definitely. There are so many reasons why independent celebrants should be allowed to conduct legal marriage:

1. First and most important is that it provides couples with the choice that they want - to decide who conducts their ceremony.
2. Celebrants will be able to create meaningful ceremonies for couples that include elements that are personal to them, including elements from different cultures and faiths.
3. Celebrants are a growing economic sector and to allow them to conduct legal marriage will grow the sector still further, including attracting couples from overseas.
4. This would bring England and Wales in line with so many other countries where independent celebrants have been successfully conducting legal marriages for years.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes these organisations should effectively 'vet' the people they nominate in this way.

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

1. Age 18 is appropriate for this role.
2. Independent celebrants will undergo mandatory training which will ensure that they know and understand the legal requirements.
3. Understanding of the legal requirements and continuing professional development including updates on the legal aspects of being an officiant, with the content to be determined by the Registrar General is crucial. Important in this element is understanding the duty that needs to exist to uphold the dignity of the event.

I have been training wedding celebrants for almost 20 years offering Level 3 Diploma national qualifications, and the training needed for independent celebrants will fall into two categories. Firstly that provided by the Registrar General's Office, which will cover all legal aspects and roles and responsibilities, awareness of offences etc. This absolutely must be compulsory, as must CPD.

I would also hope that new people wanting to become authorised officiants would want to undergo training from the established training providers including ourselves. This will provide training in the core skills such as delivery, ceremony construction etc, and we would hope to explain the process of how to become an authorised officiant. Such training cannot and should not be mandatory, but encouraged.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I completely agree that officiants from religious and non-religious belief organisations should not make a business from conducting weddings. The whole point of being an officiant of their organisation is that their religious or non-religious belief is paramount. They should not be viewed as profit making. However, I would like to ask how this would be monitored.

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely. It is right to put in place restrictions regarding conflict of interest and independent celebrants should be able to establish a business and run it as they see fit. Market forces will prevail, as in other sectors, and couples will be able to select a celebrant whose fees are within their budget.

Market segmentation could likely become more pronounced and we are already seeing that some celebrants are marketing themselves to niche areas, for differently styles of weddings. This can only be good in offering more choices to couples.

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The area of conducting legal wedding ceremonies across categories is interesting. The point here is clarity for couples and the preferred option would be that officiants are either in a category of 'independent celebrants' or nominated by their non-religious belief organisation and there should be no cross over.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes absolutely and this will be difficult to define as dignity and solemnity are subjective terms.

There will need to be a clear message on this within any training of independent celebrants and to the nominating bodies for religious or non-religious belief organisations.

This an important issue and examples could be provided in the following areas, for example, so that authorised officiants are fully aware of the meaning of dignity and solemnity:

Appropriate language
Ceremony clothing worn to be appropriate
Ceremony actions and content to be appropriate

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes this responsibility must be centrally held and it would be appropriate for the Registrar General's Office to issue all guidance and updates needed.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes the initial responsibility should lie with the nominating body. They should be able to demonstrate that they have appropriate frameworks in place for this.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree. It would be of course hoped that any body who nominates officiants will have the framework to monitor and control them. However, if this is not the case and the body does not act, the Registrar General's Office would need to act.

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree totally, monitoring of independent celebrants will be important and should be straightforward.

Elsewhere I have suggested that a robust and speedy complaint system is established from the start, enabling any issues to be swiftly dealt with.

I would add that the fee charged and the actual process of becoming an authorised officiant should be significant enough to deter those who could be less serious in their intentions. I totally agree that the Registrar General's Office should be able to de-authorise officiants.

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree that there should be no time limit on the authorisation of celebrants. Creating a time limit would seem to have no real purpose.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree. CPD will be important for independent celebrant.

However I would suggest that as the Registrar General's Office will have officiant's details, a system could easily be put in place for them to issue any updates on procedures and legal issues that may arise speedily and effectively using email. Therefore celebrants should be able to keep up to date constantly.

Most independent celebrants do belong to member organisations and membership already includes CPD.

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

1. a. I totally agree. Consent should be expressed in whatever way is most appropriate and there should be no reference to impediments and all the negativity that the term conveys.

1 b. I agree that the concept of 'impediments' needs to be removed as it is inappropriate and out of date for today's couples.

2. I agree the detailing of 'consent' can be effectively achieved by religious and the non-religious belief organisations.

3. I think the signing of the schedule will be a very important moment as it is an action, rather than words spoken and couples might see this as the moment they are married, even if consent has already been expressed. Yes it should contain a declaration that they consent.

4. Yes I agree that expressing consent should be the actual point of marriage. What better point could there possibly be?

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely. Couples really do need the choice to have the ceremony content that they want. Officiants can provide ideas and make the ceremony work for them. but to be unrestricted in content would make a wedding so much more attractive to couples.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely. This needs to be applied fairly and across all religious.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I do agree that some degree of religious content should be allowed in civil wedding ceremonies. The current law on this is a nonsense with variations on what is permitted across different register offices!

Please share your views below:

Terminology will be important here. For example, if 'an act of worship' is not permitted at a civil ceremony, then this seems reasonable - until you start to try and define an act of worship! Does that include a prayer or a hymn?

In a funeral ceremony the line drawn is very often that the act of a religious committal, where the person is commended to God, should be conducted by a religious minister. There is no such defining line with weddings and it is clearly impossible to make a list of what is or isn't acceptable. Therefore I feel that as little restriction as possible should be made, with couples allowed to include whatever religious content they feel appropriate.

They have chosen not to have their ceremony led by a religious officiant so there is unlikely to be excessive religious content.

I also believe that independent celebrants should state whether they are happy to include religious elements in the ceremonies they conduct, at present most do, but some do not. As long as this made clear in their marketing materials, couples will pick a celebrant who will include religious content if some is required. This is what happens now.

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This requirement is no longer required in my view.

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The need for open doors is no required today and this requirements should be removed in my view.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Weddings should definitely be able to take place anywhere. As long as all requirements are met to ensure the marriage is legal, then why deny couples to opportunity to get married wherever they want? The current system of approved venues involves unnecessary costs, restrictions and prohibits many venues from being able to host wedding ceremonies. Many couples want to get married outside and the current restrictions (including quite frankly ludicrous 'gazebo work-arounds') are outdated and should be removed.

However the location must be appropriate and dignified for a wedding and there will need to be some guidance for nominated officiants about what constitutes an appropriate location and what doesn't.

Please share your views below:

None of these places should be limited as long as the proposals accepted elsewhere in this paper are accepted so that safeguards are established regarding the appropriateness of locations and officiants are fully trained in assessing locations.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is extremely outdated that locations need public access. Couples should be able to have a private ceremony for their marriage.

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The points raised in the paper on this are interesting and give thought for much thought about potential outcomes.

1. However on balance I do think that civil weddings should be prohibited from taking place in religious or non-religious belief organisation venues. We know that not everyone attending a wedding takes in every word that is said. Without restrictions if an attendee was in a religious building at a non-religious ceremony then the person could be confused about the nature of the ceremony and therefore misled and confused. Prohibiting ceremonies as suggested is therefore a necessary approach in my view. I think clarity and simplicity are paramount.

2. I agree these should be prohibited for the same reason given in 1. above.

3. I agree these should be prohibited for the same reason given in 1. above.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Officiants are able to actually visit venues to assess suitability and they will receive training, guidance and CPD on carry out this part of their role.

There is no one who will be better placed to make a professional assessment of a location. Officiants will WANT to ensure that the location is appropriate and will advise couples accordingly.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

1. Absolutely I agree. Officiants should carry out risk assessments in terms of health and safety and make a full assessment of a proposed wedding location considering all factors. Most trained celebrants will have already been trained in health and safety issues. In the Level 3 national qualification we already deliver, we devote an entire section of the course to health and safety. (If sight of this is of interest at a later stage, I am very happy to supply a copy).

2. I agree. The location should be 'dignified.' This is a more subjective judgement as what is dignified to one person, may not be seen as such to another. However, professional celebrants have a good general understanding of the term and they have the reputation of their business to protect. They will not want to hold ceremonies in undignified locations and they are by far the best people to assess this.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely. Officiants will need consistent advice that covers all possible locations and points that need checking at a location. The General Register Office already advises local registrars on the assessment of venues under current arrangements and we are willing to supply other examples of locations that have been proposed for weddings in the past, if required for training purposes.

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree it makes a lot of sense to have such a process as so many venues are well established as suitable wedding locations. It will save much unnecessary and additional assessment work.

Please share your views below:

1. Local Authority Registration Services are best placed to create and maintain such a listing. They already have approved venues assessments in place.

2. The current list of venues approved for marriages could be used to create an online listing. Other venues could be added when an officiant has approved a new location, so the location does not need to be checked for every wedding that takes place there.

However, I do not think inclusion on such a list should be indefinite. Ownership, management and other factors change over time. A time limit, such as 3 years, should be put in place so that after that period, before the next wedding is held at the venue, the officiant carries out a new assessment.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

1. I agree. After the wedding there should be the opportunity to add the date of the wedding.
2. I agree. After the wedding there should be the opportunity to add the location of the wedding.
3. I agree. The choice of terms to use is appropriate, it means people can have more choice in terminology.

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To be able to register in either language is appropriate.

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes this may be needed in the future and would make a great deal of sense. However if the appropriate infrastructure is not yet available then it should only be introduced when it is.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree. These proposals are very sensible.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree. The couple is at the very centre of this. If mistakes are made that are not the fault of the couple then they should not be penalised.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I agree with this proposal to determine when marriages are non-qualifying. These factors do involve the knowledge and actions of the couple themselves.

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree with this proposal on the validity of a marriage as there is clear intent on the part of the couple to be married.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There needs to be clarity in this area and this presumption has no place in an updated system. If it was retained then it could only lead to yet more confusion for couples.

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There is no sensible reason to keep this.

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

1. Absolutely. I totally agree with this.

Officiants must have credibility and be relied upon to act correctly in all respects. They need to know that it would be an offence to do otherwise and, whatever type of officiant they are, before they are authorised, they should sign a document to say they understand the repercussions of any actions which could mislead couples.

2. I agree. Reasons as given in 1. above.

I would like to question here the 'policing' of nominated officiants, in all categories. In practice, how will they be monitored for actions such as misleading couples? I suggest that an extremely robust complaints procedure will be needed that is very easily accessible to couples. If an officiant acts inappropriately and is reported through a complaint, then a very quick response, possibly with temporary suspension of the officiant pending investigations could be required, dependent on the severity of the complaint.

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

I am not aware of any particular problems but the more that can be done to assist couples wanting a wedding in the case of a terminal illness, and the less this costs them, the better.

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Due to the possibility of undue influence on the terminally ill party, I think it is a good to have this safeguard in place.

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I totally agree. This would appear to be a more straightforward system. It will be easily understood by couples.

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes this period is appropriate in my view.

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would seem to be appropriate in terms of fairness, in my view.

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

These are very sensible suggestions and, with lessons learned from Covid, if there can be provisions put in place then this can only be beneficial in the future.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, emergencies can be of any length and type and all should be covered by these provisions.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This provision rightly extends the provision

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This will give couples more choice and is a sensible proposal.

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree,. There is no reason why this should not be permitted and it will give couples more choices.

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

If the laws governing wedding venues are to be freer, then any sort of ship found in international waters would be appropriate for a marriage. This could potentially include a canal boat or barge, paddle steamer, private yacht or other vessel, as long as all other requirements are in place. Cruise ships however will probably remain the most popular choice.

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There is a case for both categories.

1. Deck officers may be on board ships a great deal of the time and will be required to do this many times, they will build up expertise as a result.
2. I would also like to see any independent celebrants, as long as they are authorised, able to conduct legal marriages on a ship. This will be a popular choice for couples.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely. they must be subject to the same rules as independent celebrants.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is sensible and appropriate.

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

The same availability should apply to marriages in international waters as to those taking place on land in England and Wales. So they could be religious, non-religious belief weddings or led by an authorised independent celebrant.

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is sensible as their journey may require extra time before they can physically return the schedule.

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I certainly agree that a fee could be charged. It is however most important that the fee is set nationally on a cost recovery basis, and it never becomes an opportunity to receive additional income from those who are housebound or detained.

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

On compassionate grounds, surely people in this situation could be charged a lower, nationally set fee. This is a special case and in my view should be treated as such.

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely. Couples need this option and clarity that such ceremonies are in fact available.

Based on current experience, I don't think local authorities will want to do this and may make it very difficult for couples in terms of booking such ceremonies, as happens now.

Evidence shows that currently, even though the provision of 2 x 2 ceremonies is required by law, register offices are not in fact enabling this in a fair and satisfactory manner. (Reference research by Stephanie Pywell <https://www.lawgazette.co.uk/practice-points/availability-of-two-plus-two-marriage-ceremonies/5103708.article>)

Clearly local authorities do not want to offer such ceremonies as they receive less income from them, so the question becomes how the provision of such ceremonies can be assured.

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes these types of fees do need to be set on a cost recovery basis, in my opinion, in order to avoid the type of postcode lottery that venues and couples currently experience with regard to fees, which varies hugely across local authorities.

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes a pre-approval process would be undoubtedly helpful and save a lot of time-wasting with multiple assessments of the same locations. However, in my view, a national fee should be set to avoid potential disparity in fees from one local authority area to another.

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes this seems sensible as costs will be incurred in terms of time and mileage. Therefore they should be recovered in my view, but only on a cost recovery basis.

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes I do strongly believe that a cost recovery basis should be applied to discretionary services that a local authority might choose to offer. If such services are not offered on this basis then there could be a huge discrepancy in fees charged from one area to another.

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes if someone is detailed or housebound then standard fees could be applied.

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

On compassionate grounds I believe that if one of the couple is terminally ill, then no charge should be made for the registrar.

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes. officiants should expect there to be a fee for processing applications. I would like to know whether the fee would apply when the application is submitted or when the authorisation is granted. If an applicant is refused then will the applicant then pay a full fee to apply again or could they re-apply using the same fee already paid?

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

1. Yes I believe the current law does discourage couples from marrying. for the following reasons:

Location is a real issue. The current restrictions on venues mean that couples cannot marry in places that may be personal to them, such as their parent's home. They have to pay often extortionate fees to hire an approved venue, or go to a tiny room in a register office for a statutory 2 x 2 wedding (which is very restricted in guest numbers etc.). Costs for approved venues have become far too high for couples under current law so many won't in fact marry because of this.

The administration for a civil marriage is cumbersome and long winded and it is very hard to even get appointments let alone the required date and time if a civil marriage is requested under the current system.

Costs can be prohibitive. If couples want a celebrant - led ceremony then they also have the cost and problems associated with having to hold two events, probably on different days. (Which day becomes their anniversary?) Our experience and couples' feedback tells us couples really hate this system and want just one event in one place.

Couples want more choice in the content of their ceremony. They often want elements of two differing cultures to be included, , recognising their backgrounds. They may want family members to lead part of the ceremony, or they may want the ceremony to go on for hours! Under the current restrictive laws their choice is terribly restricted.

The question of who can conduct a legal marriage is restricted under current law. Couples cannot have a celebrant or a person from a non-religious belief organisation to conduct their legal marriage. To restrict their choice in this way means they are less likely to marry at all as it is not really what they want.

2. If the current legal restrictions are lifted in line with the proposals in this document then the result will be that the effects listed in 1. above will be reversed and more couples will marry.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1. The availability and costs of register office weddings:

I am in constant contact with practicing wedding celebrants, so I have numerous examples of cases concerning the availability and cost of register office weddings and how this impacts couples.

Just this week a celebrant asked me for advice about a couple who really want her to conduct their ceremony. When requesting a statutory ceremony from the local registration service, the couple were made to feel that it was 'a very bad thing' that they were doing and the couple did not achieve an appointment at all with the registrar. and don't want to contact them again. There are many other similar examples. Many of the restrictive practices are documented in Stephanie Pywell's research into 2x2 weddings.

Not only is it difficult to book such a ceremony, it is almost impossible to find any details of them on council websites, They are often not mentioned at all so couples have to fight and be very determined to actually get one of these ceremonies, which of course it is their legal right to have.

Some registration services clearly do not want to conduct statutory '2x2' ceremonies so they provide extremely limited dates, times and locations where this can happen. Additionally, the practice of deregistering marriage rooms and making them approved venues with high fees for their hire, is a practice that I have seen grow right across the country.

2. The costs of marrying on approved premises:

Approved venues currently have to pay a fee to be licensed by a local authority and approved as a venue for legal marriage. They therefore have additional costs to pass on to their customers and they need to host many weddings to make such costs worthwhile. This means only larger and more expensive venues are usually 'approved premises'. This restricts couples' choice as to where they can marry. If couples want to use a non-approved venue, such as a small restaurant, for their ceremony, they will have to have a celebrant led ceremony plus a separate statutory ceremony which will probably be in a register office. This is clearly a poor choice for couples.

3. The costs of marrying in registered places of worship:

This is really a matter for the various religious organisations as the costs incurred will vary enormously. However, I feel that couples with a religious faith are less likely to be deterred from having their ceremony in their place of worship due to cost.

4. The costs of marrying in locations that are not authorised for weddings under the current law.

At the moment couples can hold a ceremony, that is not legal, in non-approved venues and conduct their legal formalities at the register office. In many cases the cost of a non-approved venue plus the extra costs of the register office ceremony can be lower than using an approved venue, which can be very expensive indeed.

5. The necessity and costs of a having a separate, legally recognised wedding.

It is crazy that couples are forced to have a separate 2x2 ceremony in a register office. It can make it costlier for them if there is further to travel etc. and definitely more difficult to arrange and decide who should attend. It is a nonsense.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1. Register office weddings will still be available if these proposals are accepted and for many couples wanting the statutory only ceremony, this will continue to be their preferred option.

However with the removal of 'approved premises', couples who currently have to pay very high fees to hire deregulated marriage rooms in register offices will see a real cost saving. This is because the council owned marriage rooms will have to compete in the wedding venue market as any other room for hire. The fees charged should therefore drop due to market forces.

In terms of availability, I recall visiting a register office some years ago and stood behind a couple clearly terribly excited about arranging their wedding, obviously very much in love. We waited for the office to open after lunch and I then watched the couple talk to the receptionist who proceeded to totally destroy their dream. They were told in no uncertain terms that they could not just come in and expect to arrange a wedding. It had to be booked months/years in advance, there was limited availability anyway and a complicated admin procedure to go through. I watched them go away totally crestfallen and the memory of seeing that happen has always stayed with me.

2. Freeing up wedding locations in this way will lead undoubtedly to cost savings for couples. I know that many couples will choose a private home for their wedding and we are very aware of the popularity of outdoor venues.

3. In all cases, if there is no longer a need to travel to have a separate legal ceremony or have registrars attend a venue just to conduct the legal formalities (as in the Combined Weddings Scheme in Staffordshire), couples will experience significant cost savings.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

1. The costs incurred by some venues in becoming licenced for marriages is simply too high. They either go ahead and pass the fees on to couples through their charges, or they don't become licenced at all.

2. We know from our constant contact with celebrants and couples that registration officers are not always available to carry out marriages when couples want. Dates often have to be booked years in advance.

Availability is one reason why couples contact us to arrange a celebrant led ceremony. Another is cost. To marry with two registrars present at a weekend in a approved venue is very expensive!

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

1. This would be great benefit to venues - to all venues, whether currently licensed for marriages or not. They won't have to pay fees to the local authorities and smaller venues would be able to host legal marriages meaning that so many more will offer marriages.

2. Only having one registrar attend a marriage will surely make it possible for registrars to be more available. Therefore the venues will have less issues with registrars not being available to attend marriages.

3. Weddings will be able to go ahead in venues led by a wider range of people, this will make them more attractive venues to couples and will boost their business.

4. Venues will have many more business opportunities arising from these proposals as there would be an increase in the number of weddings required by couples, they will be able to make better use of their grounds and have a more flexible and less restrictive approach to what is permitted.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Local Authorities hold a monopoly on marriage under current marriage law and are able to charge high fees and restrict what is offered.

Couples are a 'captive audience' for local authorities as they have to use this option if they do not want a religious wedding but want to be legally married. Decommissioned marriage rooms can be hired at high costs and couples really have to fight sometimes to get a 2 x 2 statutory ceremony to get their legal formalities conducted. It would initially seem therefore that local authorities won't be keen on the proposals in this document.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Registrars are also restricted by the current law and the more forward thinking councils will embrace a less restrictive approach and find they can offer ceremonies that are more flexible, in more locations and they will certainly benefit from the increased number of couples wanting to marry.

They will offer a more efficient service by only needing to send one registrar, they can offer a much wider choice of ceremonies and will be able to charge for administering a pre-approved listing of venues.

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1. The current law undoubtedly drives couples away to other countries to marry. It is sad that this is the case but faced with the current restrictions, it is easy to understand why couples simply go abroad to marry.

2. Couples living abroad face so many restrictions coming here to marry, it is a wonder any of them actually go through the process. Simplifying the process will attract more couples to hold their wedding here.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1. I believe the proposals will reduce the number of couples travelling to other jurisdictions to get married. It will be less restrictive and more attractive to marry in England and Wales.

2. The proposed scheme will most definitely benefit couples considering travelling to England and Wales to marry. It makes the process easier and more choice is offered, providing much more attractive proposition.

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The proposals can only be of benefit to the UK ship register as it will make marrying on board ship more attractive to couples.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Allowing ship owners to market their services to include legal marriage can only increase the number of couples who will want to do this and this will be significant as it will include couples from overseas.

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

1. Government and Local authorities

Centrally, the Registrar General's office will incur costs in setting up a system for authorising nominated officiants. However, these costs will be offset by those who apply for authorisation who will have to pay a fee.

Local authorities will save by only sending one registrar to conduct a marriage so this will be more cost effective. They will lose the approved venue fees but will be able to charge for setting up the pre-authorised venues listing.

Frankly, local authority registration services have inflated costs to couples by only offering expensive decommissioned marriage rooms and making an inexpensive statutory ceremony almost impossible to obtain in some areas.

2. Businesses

All businesses in the wedding sector will benefit from these proposals as they give greater flexibility of venue and will attract more couples from overseas to marry here.

3. Religious (and non religious belief) organisations

It is certainly the case that 'proper' non-religious belief organisations will benefit from these proposals. There should be no significant costs to them I feel.

4. Independent officiants

Independent celebrants form a growing and significant sized market sector with the vast majority being self employed with their own small business. Our requests for training to be a celebrant have doubled in the last year. The sector will clearly grow further if these proposals are accepted and celebrants who become authorised officiants will grow their businesses if allowed to conduct legal marriages. There is already a demand from couples for celebrant-led ceremonies and the volume of ceremonies conducted by celebrants will increase, improving the financial situation of hundreds of small businesses in England and Wales.

5. Couples

Couples benefit financially more than anyone by these proposals, as they will be able to have the wedding they want with the person they want leading it and for a cost THEY determine. They will save by not having to use approved venues, they can have their ceremony anywhere they wish and the cost saving will be huge for them in that respect alone. They won't have to pay for two registrars to attend the ceremony or effectively have two ceremonies at different locations. They will benefit hugely.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD2S-7

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 08:06:49

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

We married in a Registry Office which while beautifully set in an old historic town in [REDACTED] it did not reflect us as an older couple, marrying after 14 years together, both having been married previously.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

We married in the Registry Office to ensure our marriage was recognised.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

We would have liked to celebrate our marriage on our allotment with family and friends or on a beach, again with family and friends but did not want to have to travel abroad to do so.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Several weddings I was due to attend were cancelled or postponed due to limitations on numbers.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I cannot see any reason for the seven days notice, no checks are made and as locals are unlikely to recognise the couples names anyway there seems to be little point in this requirement.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I believe this is a fair and reasonable compromise and that the personal appointment is essential in assuring that there is no coercion in the arrangements.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

I believe seven days will give the registrar the opportunity to make enquires and alert the authorities to any wrongdoing.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

I do not believe that remote meetings would give the opportunity to identify sham or forced marriages and that the face to face meeting is essential

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

I believe this should continue to be possible.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This seems to be a sensible alternative and more likely to be viewed by others allowing sham or forced marriages to be more easily identified.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This seems fair and reasonable

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is essential

To avoid last minute cancellations where celebrants are ill or stuck in traffic such as a motorway incident where there is no opportunity to avoid the delay.

Please share your views below:

Believe there should be greater flexibility in substitution providing the substitutes person had attended the required training and is certified. For example a local qualified Civil Celebrate where traffic deys or l'll ess prevent the original celebrant from attending.

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I believe that banns are outdated and that online publication should be standardised across the United Kingdom whether Anglican Church or other religious service.

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This seems sensible and relevant

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

As previously indicated I believe that all banns and notices should be published on line - perhaps on a regional basis.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes, the conditions should be the same as for a civil wedding

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes, the conditions should be the same for all weddings.

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

All weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries to standardise the process.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is essential in ensuring fairness and consistency across all ceremonies and to protect individual from forced weddings.

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The process of registration officers is very limiting both in terms of availability and potential religious or sexual orientation bias. A same sex couple should have the opportunity to chose a celebrant who supports their choices for example.

All marriages should require a licensed celebrant not necessarily a registrar.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There seems no logical reason for two people to attend a d if a substitute celebrant was permitted this would avoid delays to ceremonies as venues could have their own qualified staff members or a daily member or friend could choose to qualify to carry out individual ceremonies.

Consultation Question 22:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I believe all celebrants should be properly trained and certified/ licensed. Not appointed by way of their related profession to ensure standards are met consistently.

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I believe there should be a single licensing authority which qualified celebrants should register with and couples could choose whom they wished from the list.

Incidentally the same should happen for funerals there should be a registered person present who is suitably qualified to deal with the circumstances of the event - trained to support those present and to prevent illegal or unsafe actions being permitted or carried out.

Consultation Question 24:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I do not believe that any belief system is required and that of all celebrants were qualified and licensed then all of these wordy definitions could be removed and the process simplified.

Please share your views below:

I do not believed this is needed - a simple licensing system with graininess celebrants whatever religion or creed is all that is required.

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Ido not believe this is required or relevant. Marriages should be carried out by qualified celebrants regardless of the race or creed of either the couple or the celebrant.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

I do not believe officiants should be nominated and automatically qualified. There should be a licensing and simple basic training structure.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

I do not believe officiants should be nominated and automatically qualified. There should be a licensing and simple basic training structure.

Consultation Question 28:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I do not believe officiants should be nominated and automatically qualified. There should be a licensing and simple basic training structure. The public list of all registered celebrants and officiants should be responsible providing this was not at excessive cost to those registering. The simple training course and registration cost should be limited to a nominal fee such as £500 to enable a family member to training g and carry out a meaningful and legal service. It is a similar cost to registrars attending a venue.

Consultation Question 29:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

There should be a licensing and simple basic training structure in place and individuals should not be able to sign up to register without proving they have attended and passed an appropriate training course.

The public list of all registered celebrants and officiants should be responsible providing this was not at excessive cost to those registering. The simple training course and registration cost should be limited to a nominal fee such as £500 to enable a family member to training and carry out a meaningful and legal service. It is a similar cost to registrars attending a venue.

Consultation Question 30:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No - There should be a licensing and simple basic training structure in place and individuals should not be able to sign up to register or be nominated without proving they have attended and passed an appropriate training course.

The public list of all registered celebrants and officiants should be responsible providing this was not at excessive cost to those registering. The simple training course and registration cost should be limited to a nominal fee such as £500 to enable a family member to training and carry out a meaningful and legal service. It is a similar cost to registrars attending a venue.

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As identified previously, there should be a formal licensing structure and simple basic training provision in place to prevent individuals registering without proving they have attended and passed an appropriate training course.

The public list of all registered celebrants and officiants should not be at excessive cost to those registering. The simple training course and registration cost should be limited to a nominal fee such as £500 to enable a family member to training and carry out a meaningful and legal service. It is a similar cost to registrars attending a venue.

Consultation Question 32:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

All celebrants should be treated the same requiring a qualification and registration whether nominated or not.

There should be a standard fee for officiating, set by the Registrar General which the individual officiant can choose to waive or reduce should they wish. Plus travel expenses at standard inland revenue rates.

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It seems ridiculous to use the term 'conflict of interest' potentially preventing suitably licensed and qualified close family members from performing ceremonies when Anglican clergy have been performing these marriage ceremonies for their relatives without restriction for hundreds of years.

There should be a standard fee for officiating, set by the Registrar General which the individual officiant can choose to waive or reduce should they wish. Plus travel expenses at standard inland revenue rates.

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All celebrants should be treated the same requiring a qualification and registration whether nominated or not. The nominated system should be abandoned and all celebrants qualified and licensed through the same route.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All celebrants should be treated the same requiring a qualification and registration the guidance should be set in legislation and not down to the General Register Office who have a vested interest in restricting the number of officiants.

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All celebrants should be treated the same requiring a qualification and registration the guidance should be set in legislation and not down to the individual religion. The control for withdrawal of authorisation should lie General Register Office.

Consultation Question 38:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All celebrants should be treated the same requiring a qualification and registration the guidance should be set in legislation and not down to the individual religion. The control for withdrawal of authorisation should lie General Register Office.

Consultation Question 39:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All celebrants should be treated the same requiring a qualification and registration the guidance should be set in legislation and not down to the individual religion. The control for withdrawal of authorisation should lie General Register Office.

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I believe that religious references should be limited to religious ceremonies other than the playing of music that may be traditionally deemed religious or a simple community prayer such as the Lord's Prayer.

Please share your views below:

Lord's Prayer

Use of music deemed religious such a hymns.

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Providing the celebrant had the relevant qualification and registration there should be no restriction on the venue.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Providing the celebrant had the relevant qualification and registration there should be no restriction on the venue.

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

No

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Religious venues should maintain the right to choose who is married there, but if they choose to permit just one non religious ceremony the venture should be open to all as a wedding venue with the individual couples choice of celebrant.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Providing the celebrant had the relevant qualification and registration there should be no restriction on the venue. The question of safe access and venue could easily be included in the training in the same way it is with funeral celebrant training provided by [REDACTED]

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It should be down to the individual celebrant as things may have changed since the original approval.

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The registration should be standard and open to investigation using the national language ie not in Welsh only.

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, this would clarify the legal situation

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Providing the celebrant had the relevant qualification and registration there should be no restriction on the venue.

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To protect the individual

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To assure consistency

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

12 months corresponds with other legislation

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This relates to other relevant legislation

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would be recommended

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, there should be consistency

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This would assist where pateniers do not want to be made aware of the full details of their condition,

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All celebrants should have the relevant qualification and registration. This would otherwise be just another form of nomination.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

All officiants / celebrants should have the relevant qualification and registration regardless of the venue.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

All officiants / celebrants should have the relevant qualification and registration regardless of the venue.

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Electronic methods would permit the return within an agreed timescale

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The location should be assessed on an individual basis

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

The fee should be the standard fee. Death does not discriminate on ability to pay or not

Consultation Question 84:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The fee should be set in consultation with all organisations such as Civil Ceremonies, the church etc.

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

There needs to be greater emphasis on couples understanding that if they are unmarried this affects both inheritance, legal rights for funerals and pension entitlement etc.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The costs are currently high in relation to the time incurred for example a registry office venue and to outside venues site to the additional time involved. Allowing licences officiants could allow families lower cost alternatives in their own homes to low cost venues.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

There are very limited times available for registrar offices and licensed venues making them expensive due to limited availability. Marrying at home or using non licensed venues would allow couples to marry more economically and more probably should they choose to do so.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

There are very limited times available for registrar offices and licensed venues making them expensive due to this limited availability. The facility to Marry at homes and using non licensed venues would allow couples to marry more economically and more probably should they choose to do so.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

The cost of licensing and training should be specified by law and not set at such a level that would prevent this legislation being beneficial. A nominal fee structure of £500 for a day training and licensing should be set to encourage family to have meaningful ceremonies by family members or friends who are also professionally trained officiants.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDPV-8

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 09:25:40

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Private

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

A longer period of time.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes this is important.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD2X-C

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 09:34:37

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

None

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

No concerns

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is a badly worded "question" which isn't even a question.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

We need to protect against forced or spur-of-the moment marriages.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Agree

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Agree

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

"Religious organisations" could include dubious organisations.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Terms need defining.

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should be some over-arching regulator to ensure officials meet proper standards.

..Ah, just seen next question!

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Both parties should be present, and consent in the presence of the official

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Venue should be agreed by the official in advance.

Please share your views below:

Again, must be agreed by the official in accordance with GRO standards.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Very important!

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Very important!

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, very important!

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

An official, on say an annual basis, and subject to re-certification if any significant changes are made affecting the venue.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Important for official to be face to face with parties.

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Neither. Normal fee to be paid (as I think it says in an earlier Q)

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD2J-X

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 09:35:21

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

No. In person only.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why?

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is a sacrament first and foremost.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Not necessarily. Public policy is often adverse to morality eg same-sex relationships.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No 'independent' officiants

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No independent officiants

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

And religious meaning. Marriage is a sacrament, not a legal contract. The legal process should be referred to as 'partnership' or similar, it is NOT marriage without the presence of God.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Further erosion of morality and religious teachings.

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Religion is not pick n' mix

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why?

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

License certain venues. Not anywhere and everywhere.

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Must be done in person

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

No

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

No impact of law. Lack of morality and proper education is the limiting factor and the reason marriage is in decline.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No benefits, only further dumbing down and immorality.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDP6-8

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 09:38:24

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All of the proposals are watering down the importance to society of the stability that marriage has brought to society.

This is seen in the divorce rates and fewer marriages, blended families and hurt children, helped in part by the interference of David Camerons government in changing the very definition of marriage.

If, as it seems, the act of getting married can be with words of any description and meaning and have no legal binding. So why bother with marriage at all?

These proposals are destroying the solemnity and permanence that marriage brings. If there are no legal requirements then what is the point and how are property and other rights etc covered. Presumably by wills or some other protection yet to be invented.

Again why change something that works?

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I refer to my answer to Q4 C4

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDPA-K

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 09:48:20

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Name confidential. Response fine.

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Married, heterosexual with children and grandchildren

The whole point of marriage is not only to protect each other in law, but also joint offspring.

Other unions should be protected by law if the intention is 'enduring' npbut clearly biologically different from above, where joint offspring are NEVER the result.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If the 'intent is serious', proper procedures should be adhered to.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Only resident nationals

Consultation Question 9:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Online abuse...publish in local notices.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

No. Subject to abuse of law.

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

2... to be sure no coercion

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes, and privately.

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

Legal first and foremost.

Do not need religion to differentiate between heterosexual marriage and same sex legal/Civil agreements.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Heterosexual marriage should be sanctioned as 'marriage'

Same sex unions should be sanctioned equally but as 'Civil partnership'

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Only biological status should be registered...for the sake of any possible adoptions etc.

Law supports the legal definition of a biological mother and father

Consultation Question 63:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Special medical e emotion...given separately so no coercion.

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Historical tracing/ancestry will be made more difficult.

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not terminally ill if longer than 12 mints.

Consultation Question 66:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Prisoners should NOT be married..until release.

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not 4

Abused

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Subject to abuse unless prior procedures complete.

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

No religious belief required, simply biological respect/differentiation re joint biological offspring

Consultation Question 74:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Within 2 months, or void.

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Differentiating marriage where the couple are usually able to reproduce between them and therefore protect offspring, should be differentiated from Civil partnerships where this can never happen.

Marriage does not have to involve religion, any more than Civil Partnerships. The latter should be allowed a religious ceremony if chosen. Additional clauses should be included for adoptions.

Biology (and consequences) determines the difference me, not religious belief.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I repeat:-

1. Ensure no coercion by partners

2 Differentiate marriage/Civil partnership contracts separately by biology not social construct, or religion.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Transgender 'man' legally has to register as 'mother' in English Common law, for the benefit of innocent offspring. (2020).

The latter must take precedence, not social constructs.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDPT-6

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 09:59:51

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Which needs to be clearly defined and enforced, there is the danger of subjectivity here.

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is an important part of the fabric of our society and, as such, is not just about the people getting married. Promises that are made are to each other are also a public pledge to wider society as a key stakeholder in the process.
The words currently required in this regard are very few and are hardly time consuming or onerous. In addition, there is already the flexibility for further words to be said.
The nature of marriage is diluted if participants are not present in person.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is a solemn undertaking involving vows that need to be taken seriously. Anything that makes it a flippant dilutes that.
It is a public undertaking in which both state and society have a stake.

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This requirement was introduced to mitigate against forced marriage which, regrettably, remains an issue. This will exacerbate the problem and, unfortunately, is likely to be used in certain parts of our society to oppress mainly women. Anyway, there is a public significance to marriage which this will negate.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

How will settings inappropriate to the importance of marriage be monitored? Current practice already suggests dignity is being sacrificed for flippancy which dilutes the key role marriage has to play in our society.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But these terms need to be properly, rigorously and clearly defined.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDPM-Y

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 10:31:45

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Clergy should have the power to call for documentary evidence and to check such evidence, and they should be required to meet with each of the couple separately before banns are published.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

The couple should DEFINITELY be required to attend and make separate declarations that there is no impediment to their marriage in order for a common licence to be granted to authorise an Anglican wedding.

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

They should be excluded

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

They should not be allowed to nominate officiants by office

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I don't think it's the current law which discourages couples from marrying ... it's the cost that they think they have to pay for a reception!!

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDP3-5

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 10:37:23

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

I am responding as a private individual.

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Not confidential.

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Widowed after some 55 years in a marriage conducted in a Christian church.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

No experience of this.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I am not adamant about this but I think it is desirable that at least one of the couple should be known in that area. It gives an opportunity for any legal and proper objections to be raised.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

A lesser time may not give a proper opportunity for anyone wishing to comment on the proposed ceremony.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

I believe that remote interviews would not give sufficient security against sham/forced marriages etc.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

In this day and age it is a commonly accessed medium for information.

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Obviously out of date and no longer applicable.
(N.B. A church would be damaged. A person or animal might be injured.)

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

I think they should be published there but also in more public areas such as newspapers.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

I can see definite advantages in both 1 and 2.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes, this would seem very desirable as a safeguard.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Essential to ensure fair and legal event.

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Approved organisations must be defined to ensure dignity and legality of the ceremony. Political and subversive organisations should be excluded.

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Obviously such organisations should not be given the power to nominate.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

No. It is safer to have individuals nominated in person.

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Someone needs to, and they are the obvious independent body.

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

They are the independent body with overview of the situation.

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Need to be kept up to date with changes and to ensure standards do not slip through familiarity with the process.

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There is need for the form and ceremony to be sufficiently dignified to emphasise the real seriousness of the occasion.

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I c an see no good reason for this to be repealed.

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Open doors are a safeguard against intimidation and forced weddings and allow for objections to be raised.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Humanity demands that special consideration should be extended in these circumstances.

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is too important just to be rubber stamped.

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Always providing that a suitably respectable and dignified situation is provided.

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Seems reasonable and fair.

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I am not sure what impact the current law has, but I do believe that couples should be encouraged to marry in a serious and dignified , not flippant manner.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDBE-9

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 10:38:54

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

N/A

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

[REDACTED]

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Whilst I do agree with the need to uphold the dignity and solemnity of marriage idea I feel the proposal is too weak and needs to include further duties of the officiants to ensure the whole process comes under those precepts.

Those precepts of 'dignity' and 'solemnity' also need to be clarified as to their actual, precise meaning as at present this is unclear and suggests that just about anything might qualify.

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It is ridiculous to suggest people can enter into something as serious as marriage without possibly even being present - it completely removes any sense of the importance of the event and reduces it to the level of say, signing up for a loyalty card scheme!

As the words required are few and can be easily added to if required I think the ceremony is flexible already and doesn't require further 'loosening'

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

To say that a marriage ceremony should consist solely of the couples choices again fails to show how important the bond being formed is and invites them to form a offhanded view of marriage as a whole.

Lets not also forget that this is supposed to be a public declaration and that the state does have to be interested in it, as such it should at least be taken seriously.

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

To do this would, I feel, suggest that the ceremony only has relevance for the the couple involved and has no further importance.

Also, these are meant to be public events, to make them closed to others may remove an important protection from those who could be forced into unwanted marriages.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Again, this proposal seems to wash away the thought that what is being entered into is an important and far reaching life changing event. The venues allowed should clearly show and reflect significance in what is taking place.

Would a wedding in say a fast food joint do this?

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Again the terms used here are very open and 'wooly' .

These need to be clearly and precisely set out as to what is meant by 'safe' and 'dignified'

Particularly in regard to safety strong and clear safe guards need to be in place.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDPQ-3

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 10:45:53

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

none

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Other (please state)

If other, please state::

personal and as [REDACTED]

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

smaller and more intimate weddings often with more meaning than large showy ones

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes if this applies to those being married in Church too.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

At least to allow "cooling off period" similar to insurance and other contracts when taken out.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Person to person is much best. Remote interviews should only be allowed for exceptional circumstances.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes, very wise.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, as an officiant, this would be reassuring to know

Please share your views below:

If the couple do not like the original officiant. ie no major reason is needed.

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The banns are read in a church that extends across all 5 nations and unifies the Christian community as distinct from political divisions.

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

NO - too many rural churches do not have regular services to allow banns to be read at the correct intervals. There must be the opportunity for the banns to be read in the benefice and not in the same church.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes to both, helps prevent false weddings and ensure both parties are in agreement.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes definitely

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales; or

Please expand on your answer:

To make a couple who wish to be married in church undergo a civil ceremony first is not only harsh and unsympathetic, but also against religious freedoms and tradition.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Should allow non conformist churches to use a registrar too

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes but only for registered religious organisations

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

yes, only official organisations that have passed the tolerance and respect tests

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The threshold is too low. An organisation should have at least 1000 members.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Definitely. Including respect for individual rights and safeguarding of women and children.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

yes if the office is a selected one.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

These people are not subject to the selection procedures of any responsible organisation and therefore must be excluded.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No because this is too low. Reputable organisations would require much more.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Fees should be set at a standard amount to prevent exploitation.

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Independent officiants should not be permitted.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is vital if the marriage is to be seen as important, binding and considered. Ceremonies must not become entertainment or trivial.

Consultation Question 36:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Officiants working for reputable organisations will already do this.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is an example of state control over religious and other organisations.

Consultation Question 39:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Government has a very poor record for keeping lists of people. High costs, massive overspend, total inefficiency. State control at its worst!

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

They should be required to consent orally (at least) and declare no impediment. The marriage is finalised when the certificate is signed.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The form must contain legally binding words as in a court of law.

Consultation Question 44:

No

Please expand on your answer:

They should be allowed to reflect their beliefs within the legally binding words.

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It should be clearly "religious" or "non religious"

Please share your views below:

Any they wish for in a non religious ceremony.

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Definitely not! Many couples wish their marriage to be recognised by a post civil service in church.

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

They should only be allowed at suitable registered sites.

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

All should not be permitted except within a building or structure.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Place is important and must align with the beliefs of the participants.

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Only registered locations allowed.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

only registered venues allowed

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Only registered locations should be allowed. This removes all these complications.

Please share your views below:

Only registered venues allowed.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Only allow the nationally recognised language of Great Britain - English

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Government has a very poor reputation for high spending computer projects that fail.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

reduces false marriages.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is an area where couples have slipped without thought and needs to be tightened up.

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If consent was not given it should be annulled

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

These matters need full debate and consideration. Not amendments.

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

licenced venues only

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

if licenced

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

no

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

only recognised officiants on land should be used.

No

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

do not use such people.

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

It should be at full cost

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

The current laws do not discourage people from getting married - the costs do! Most costs are self imposed to do with the celebrations.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The cost of the ceremony is not the issue usually - the trappings and celebrations form the major costs.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Venue must be licenced and checked for suitability. The costs of this is very low compared with the costs of the celebrations.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

The more centralisation and data bases are set up by government the greater the costs!

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD2H-V

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 10:46:43

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

n/a

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

n/a

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

n/a

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

n/a

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

n/a

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

n/a

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

n/a

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Online means they could be living anywhere in the world and using for example a vpn to disguise that fact.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is an important step. There should be in-build delays to allow for consideration and a change of mind.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Face to face is preferable. Again, it shouldn't be too easy to get married. Those that are serious about it don't mind the 'hassle'. Those that do should maybe consider how serious they are. Anyone that goes into marriage with the view that its not for life should maybe consider their commitment.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes, that is fine.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Not without a truly compelling reason, but it shouldn't be impossible.

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure about this one.

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Maybe on-line would be good. Likely to be interested parties that live remote from the church.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes, that seems like a sensible idea.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Whether you have a faith or not, I think a Christian input is essential. If you don't want it, don't get married in a church!

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Don't know

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure, but probably not.

Consultation Question 23:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Sorry, not sure here.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It opens the door to cults officiating weddings.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes, obviously surely!

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Not sure.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Open to abuse. Should be an independant body ensuring these persons are fit for purpose.

Consultation Question 31:

No

Please expand on your answer:

18 is much too youg - would suggest maybe 30.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Definitely should be reasonable limits on the fees charged. Again, open to abuse if not.

Consultation Question 34:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure on this one.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutly - it is a solemn comittment for life and the service should reflect that. If there a definition of 'dignity and solemnity'. For example, where the service takes place. As examples I don't believe a service in a pub or an aeroplane would be dignified and solemn.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Surely there needs to be an independant organisation.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think there should be a time limit, but not sure how long.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Surely no! This implies that someone could be legally married without being present at a marriage ceremony. This is a step way too far. It domolishes the dignity and solemniny of marriage and makes it very much easier for marriages of convenience. Couples definitely should have to freely consent to marriage - there is already much leeway in the wording allowed. Certain phrased need to be retained - this is supposed to be a lifetime comittment (isn't it?), so let the service reflect that. If we allow the couple to completely personalise the ceremony, it becomes just a box ticking exercise - that bits OK, but not that bit. It is not just about the couple - marriage is a legally binding and solemn undertaking with society having an interest.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Again surely not! If there is any desire to retain the dignity and solemnity of marriage there must be a large degree of proscribed content. To me, this is essential.

Again, a wedding is a public declaration in which the law and society have an interest. There is the risk (high risk actually) and trivialising the whole thing. How can a could treat it seriously as a lifetime comittment without certain vows and an air of solemnity.

Consultation Question 44:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure here as I am not familiar with Jewish and Quaker practices re weddings.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Most definitely.

Please share your views below:

A prayer and/or Bible reading should be allowed. Don't really understand why they aren't allowed.

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Open doors reflect the public nature of marriage declarations. I understand it was introduced to reduce the risk of forced marriages - surely this is still an issue today.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

We come back to the dignity and solemnity of marriage. Just because a couple want to get married in a particular venue is not reason enough to allow it. If it is a problem, the question must be asked how serious are they about their marriage. There should be sensible rules - a widening of what is permitted at present would be good, but lines need to be drawn.

outdoors,

Please share your views below:

Out doors fine, but not keen on any of the others. On water or in the air is not right in my view, and private homes takes away the openness of a marriage ceremony.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why would they not be? Again the risk of forced or convenience marriages.

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The couple should choose. If they want to get married in a church, then they have the religious input. Most Christians would find it offensive that couples were getting married in a church because it is a 'nice' venue and have specifically requested no religious content. To be consistent, I suppose the same should be true of secular venues, but I believe the addition of a prayer and/or Bible reading should be allowed. Before I am accused of double standards, I make the point that marriage is inherently a religious ceremony in the presence of God and it is only relatively recently that we have deviated from that idea.

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Too open. There needs to be firm guidelines.

Consultation Question 52:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It shouldn't come down to personal opinion. There must be some lines drawn in the sand to ensure the dignity and indeed safety of venues.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Firm guidance, not just suggestions.

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

A cautious yes - venues should still be vetted regularly.

Please share your views below:

sorry, not sure here.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

No

Please expand on your answer:

English or English and Welsh. Sorry to those Welsh speakers, but they are a tiny proportion of the population of the UK. Marriage certificated should be accessible to all UK citizens.

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There must be some safeguards. If any of these factors weren't complied with, it would likely be intentional.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

An example I can think of is a person in prison marrying someone. Don't really agree with that. Living together after the marriage seems to me to be pretty essential. Obviously there are circumstances where frequent and maybe prolonged periods of non-cohabitation occur, but in general marriage is about living together.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But don't really understand the question. Living together for 30 years doesn't make you married.

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

In the case of a forced marriage, it could well be more than 3 years before the woman (usually) is in a position to try and do something about it.

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

There should always be exceptions to the rules. One should be able to appeal for special dispensation in special circumstances.

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDPB-M

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 11:03:57

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Other (please state)

If other, please state::

As a recently retired church pastor

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A marriage that is not recognised by the law is not a marriage at all.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The point of giving notice is

1. The couple have at least some time to reflect and consider if they should go ahead with the marriage.
2. It gives other people the chance to object to the marriage on the grounds that they are aware that one or both parties to the marriage are not free to marry, for example because they are already married.

Consultation Question 5:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

It is important that the parties to the proposed marriage present themselves in person at an early stage, so that so that all who will be involved in the ceremony are satisfied that everything is genuine.

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

i think a longer time, say fourteen days.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Notice should always be publicly given.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

many smaller churches in particular, as a registrar to attend weddings, although the service may be conducted by the church minister. Under the proposals every church would need to have their own authorised person.

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

The governing authority of churches, other than the Church of England, should be free to nominate their officiant. But the option should still be available for them to as a registrar to attend.

Non religious organisations should not be able to conduct weddings. There is a risk that all sorts of groups will claim to have belief systems and should have the right to conduct weddings.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

If a list was started no-one would know when the end the list.

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

I don't agree. Who decides what is 'public policy' or 'morality' ?

Churches which do not wish to conduct same-sex marriages, which currently they are not legally required to do, could be accused by some people of promoting purposes which are contrary to public policy or morality.

The wording in the proposal could be too open to interpretation and misuse.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

What checks would be in place so ensure that people applying to become independent officiants are suitable people? What qualifications would they need? What checks would take place regarding their honesty or integrity? Who would decide if they are fit and proper persons?

All sorts of characters could think it an easy way to earn some money.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

there should not be independent officiants at all but if there are the fees they charge should be regulated. Their work should not be regarded as a competitive business.

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

the dignity and solemnity of marriage should always be upheld. Nothing should allow to be trivialised including gimmicks or larking around.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Although if the organisation failed to act the matter could be taken up by a higher authority.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

However, the General Register Office would need to guard against malicious complaints against the officiant just because someone didn't like their view on something such as same sex marriage.

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

How would you deal with a case where a wedding was conducted and afterwards it came to your attention that the officiant had not acted in a proper and fit way? Would that invalidate the marriage?

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The declaration of 'no lawful impediment' (or similar words ) should be included in the ceremony)

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There needs to a be standard form of words. There is already some choice about the form of words and couple can add other words into the ceremony.

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It should be possible for a couple to have a civil ceremony in a register office followed by a church service of blessing. This should not be prohibited by law.

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A wedding is not just a private matter. It is a public declaration and should be open to the public.
Having an open door policy also guards against having sham marriages.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

weddings must be dignified and to say that a wedding can take place anywhere would not assure that.

Please share your views below:

this proposal would undermine the dignity and solemnity of the ceremony. There are already many examples of mock weddings taking place in undignified settings.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This proposal is so open to interpretation that what one person thinks is safe and dignified may not be what another person thinks. Who decides? What standards should be applied?

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The need for their to be witnesses should be retained.

Consultation Question 58:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Remote weddings should not be allowed.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

How do you define 'at risk of death'? Everyone is at risk of death.

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

the venue must be dignified, so how could you check that requirement?

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

the current law does not discourage people from getting married

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDBW-U

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 11:14:57

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

[REDACTED]

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

No, such remote arrangements are an invitation to parties whose motivation for entering such marriages lack the proper grounds and whose personal status is as to freedom to marry is unconfirmed

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not everyone (who may be interested parties) are online

Consultation Question 10:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Shorter period is to ensure genuine intention of parties

Consultation Question 11:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The marriage ceremony is important and formal and should not be subject to ad hoc arrangements

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The whole of UK is an area from which parties to a marriage in England and Wales may originate - important to allow interested parties to become aware of the event

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

unnecessary

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

No - see previous answer - wide publication is important

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes - bona fides of parties may need to be confirmed

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

It works presently , why impose the State?

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Yes, not every organisation would be suitable to provide officiants

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Agreed

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Disagree, personal nomination is essential

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Parties should confirm there are no impediments to the marriage.

The marriage should be formed only during the ceremony and should be confirmed on signature of the declaration/marriage certificate

Consultation Question 43:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

All marriages should be held with appropriate dignity both the ceremony and the location

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is a public statement

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

See previous answers - appropriate dignity should be maintained

Please share your views below:

See previous answers - appropriate dignity should be maintained and the marriage is a public statement, this would seem to exclude lakes, rivers, in the air, and private homes

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

see previous answers

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

no problems

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Protection from undue influence of such a person is essential

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

none of these

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

none of these

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

none of these

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

none of these

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

none of these

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

none of these

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

If there is any area of current law which discourages marriage it is social benefits and tax - fundamental review of these impacts should be undertaken

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The basic costs are small compared with mainly voluntary expenses which occur.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

As above, basic costs of marriage are small when compared with the other expenses entered into

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

The proposed changes to the law should not be camouflaged as a beneficial change leading to a much better "bargain" price for those happy people getting married. The overall effect of the proposed changes are an obvious attempt to ensure the marriage ceremony is trivialised and carried out at short notice anywhere with or without any serious planning for a long term future.

For these reasons, I am opposed to the great majority of the proposed changes.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

The proposed changes to the law should not be camouflaged as a beneficial change leading to a much better "bargain" price for those happy people getting married. The overall effect of the proposed changes are an obvious attempt to ensure the marriage ceremony is trivialised and carried out at short notice anywhere with or without any serious planning for a long term future.

For these reasons, I am opposed to the great majority of the proposed changes.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The proposed changes to the law should not be camouflaged as a beneficial change leading to a much better "bargain" price for those happy people getting married. The overall effect of the proposed changes are an obvious attempt to ensure the marriage ceremony is trivialised and carried out at short notice anywhere with or without any serious planning for a long term future.

For these reasons, I am opposed to the great majority of the proposed changes.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The proposed changes to the law should not be camouflaged as a beneficial change leading to a much better "bargain" price for those happy people getting married. The overall effect of the proposed changes are an obvious attempt to ensure the marriage ceremony is trivialised and carried out at short notice anywhere with or without any serious planning for a long term future.

For these reasons, I am opposed to the great majority of the proposed changes.

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The proposed changes to the law should not be camouflaged as a beneficial change leading to a much better "bargain" price for those happy people getting married. The overall effect of the proposed changes are an obvious attempt to ensure the marriage ceremony is trivialised and carried out at short notice anywhere with or without any serious planning for a long term future.

For these reasons, I am opposed to the great majority of the proposed changes.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The proposed changes to the law should not be camouflaged as a beneficial change leading to a much better "bargain" price for those happy people getting married. The overall effect of the proposed changes are an obvious attempt to ensure the marriage ceremony is trivialised and carried out at short notice anywhere with or without any serious planning for a long term future.

For these reasons, I am opposed to the great majority of the proposed changes.

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

The proposed changes to the law should not be camouflaged as a beneficial change leading to a much better "bargain" price for those happy people getting married. The overall effect of the proposed changes are an obvious attempt to ensure the marriage ceremony is trivialised and carried out at short notice anywhere with or without any serious planning for a long term future.

For these reasons, I am opposed to the great majority of the proposed changes.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDPF-R

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 11:17:11

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

None

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

What about marriages of 'convenience' for immigration purposes? Why should a valid marriage be rushed?

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It is important that any discrepancies should be apparent from the start to give time for investigation.

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

Should allow at least 21 days to avoid fraud.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

If people genuinely wish to marry and there is no element of fraud or coercion they should be prepared to attend in person. What is easiest is not always right.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Transparency is always best.

Consultation Question 10:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure what is meant by 'schedule.'

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Different rules to the Anglian Church.

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

In these dangerous times, any place of worship can be a target of violence and destruction.

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

In the Church where the wedding is to be celebrated and on-line.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Definitely.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Very difficult to define...anything weird or outlandish that would generally offend.

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Perhaps giving too much leeway. Would Satanists be included?

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes!

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as the independent officiant is a member of a reputable organisation.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But there must be some official oversight to ensure that this is the case.

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This should not be regarded as an opportunity to make money.

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But this needs to be extended to the whole ceremony and the participants involved. A marriage ceremony is a solemn matter and shouldn't be viewed simply as an excuse for a frivolous party.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It is a matter of concern for the wider community.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Their authorisation should be for a fixed length of time and should require a reapplication at regular intervals.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consent must continue to be expressed during the marriage ceremony itself. Signing a marriage schedule is not sufficient .

A free for all with marriage vows leaves so many loop-holes. What is wrong with the current legally binding format? It must be clear that the couple are aware of the nature of the life-time commitment they are freely undertaking.

Marriage is a wider matter for society than simply a casual agreement between the two parties immediately involved.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The solemnity and gravity of marriage is severely threatened by using it simply as an excuse for a party. The core function of marriage should be a life long commitment to another person and this should be the focus of the ceremony - not an excuse to indulge in whimsical notions of a 'fairy tale' day.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If the couple want a religious ceremony they should apply for one. Not try for a mish-mash of the two.

Please share your views below:

None.

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If it's not broke, don't try to fix it. There may be good reason for the delay in being able to arrange a religious service and couples shouldn't be deprived of the opportunity to have one.

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage has been described as 'the public acknowledgement of a private intention.' Why remove the need for transparency? What is there to hide? It opens even wider the possibility of fraud and coercion.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This reduces marriage to the level of a theme park entertainment. We need to save people from themselves if they decide they wish to have a ceremony in a totally unsuitable environment. If they wish to marry in a fast food restaurant, for example, are they really considering what marriage really means or is it just a stunt to amuse their friends?

Please share your views below:

Registered buildings should be used, except in cases of severe illness. The silly fad for finding the most 'amusing' place as a wedding venue devalues the whole solemnity of marriage.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Transparency again.

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Other

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Religious and civil marriages should be kept completely separate, People should make their choice. The only exception could be if a religious ceremony was needed in the case of serious illness.

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Difficult - it depends of the officiant's sound judgement. There would need to be some oversight on this to avoid inappropriately frivolous locations being chosen.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

The Registrar in the locality.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There must be witnesses.
The marriage must be registered.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This happens with fraudulent marriages used to avoid immigration rules.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Not known.

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Might be abused.

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Only in emergencies.

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

As above.

Consultation Question 71:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Should only be a last resort - not as a 'fairy tale' backdrop.

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Only by people who think it 'might be fun' or persons anxious to avoid public scrutiny.

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Don't think it would make any difference.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

It is not the cost or convenience of arranging a wedding that discourages people from marrying. It is a basic lack of commitment in a society that doesn't value the institution as it should. Recent trends in society have devalued traditional marriage and the wish for a fancy-dress party have replaced it. Very sad.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Getting married is too easy, hence the high divorce rates. This is among the people who have bothered to get married anyway.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDB3-Q

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 11:30:06

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

ONE MONTH

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

NO REMOTE INTERVIEWS

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

YES

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

YES

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

THERE SHOULD BE SUCH A LIST

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

THE LAW SHOULD EXCLUDE SUCH ORGANISATIONS

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

NO ONLY NAMED INDIVIDUALS

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

IT IS IMPORTANT THAT THE LIFETIME COMMITMENT IS STRESSED AND THAT THE DIGNITY AND SOLEMNITY OF THAT COMMITMENT ARE OBSERVED

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

IT MUST LIE WITH THE GOVERNMENT WITH THE EXCEPTION OF FULLY RECOGNISED CHURCHES

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

IT CANNOT BE POSSIBLE FOR SOMEONE TO GET MARRIED WITHOUT BEING PRESENT TO MAKE THEIR COMMITMENT VOWS IN PERSON

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

THERE ARE PROPER FORMS OF MARRIAGE AND THESE MUST BE ADHERED TO. MARRIAGE IS NOT SOME SORT OF COMPUTER GAME BUT A SOLEMN PUBLIC COMMITMENT

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

MARRIAGE IS A PUBLIC COMMITMENT

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

AGAIN THIS IS A SOLEMN AND LASTING COMMITMENT WHICH MUST TAKE PLACE IN AN APPROPRIATE PLACE RECOGNISED AS SUCH

Please share your views below:

SEE ANSWER ABOVE

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

PROVIDED THERE IS A CLEAR AND DEFINITE APPROPRIATENESS OF SUCH A LOCATION - NOT IN A MACDONALDS FOR INSTANCE

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

THE POSITION OF PERSONS IN ANY OF THOSE CATEGORIES MUST BE CONSIDERED AS RENDERING THEM INCAPABLE

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

SUCH NOTICE MUST BE IN FRONT OF INDEPENDENT WITNESSES

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

STANDARD FEE

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD39-E

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 11:44:31

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There should also be a further responsibility to ensure that the dignity and solemnity of the ceremony is upheld and definitions would be helpful to avoid publicity seeking stunts eg in aeroplanes followed by parachute jumps

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Signing a schedule is insufficient as couples could say anything they like or nothing at all. This would undermine the solemnity of the occasion as well as reducing the seriousness of the commitment.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Choosing your own form of words reflects a wrong view of marriage which is a public declaration of a definite and serious lifelong commitment. We already see 'themed' wedding ceremonies which undermine the seriousness of what is being entered into eg Harry Potter, Game of Thrones

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Open Doors requirement was brought in centuries ago to protect against forced marriages which still needs guarding against today

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Such allowances would dilute the seriousness of the marriage commitment.

Where would the line be drawn? Presumably the location could also be on the beach, in a car, in a coffee shop etc etc

It is incompatible with the dignity of marriage and sets the wrong tone for the marriage bond which will be tested in good times and bad, sickness and health, until death separates.

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Good in principle, but how will the location be tested as such? Will not each officiant have their own idea of 'dignity' and 'safety' which will differ between individual assessments and tastes?

There needs to be greater clarity of the terms being used and some kind of oversight brought into play.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDBH-C

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 11:46:19

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

N/A

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, but it does not go far enough. Officiants should have a wider responsibility to ensure that the content and tone of the legal ceremony upholds the dignity and solemnity of marriage. the proposals need to define what is meant by 'dignity' and 'solemnity' of marriage so that frivolous content is not accepted in what is a serious event.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A person should be present at the wedding ceremony for it to be recognised. Simply signing the marriage schedule is inadequate. I strongly disagree that couples should be able to say whatever they like as this undermines the understanding and solemnity of what marriage is. There is already flexibility in what the couples can say - the current prescribed words should be regarded as an absolute minimum requirement.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The idea that a couple should be able to choose everything about a wedding ceremony will undermine how many people understand marriage. A wedding is a public declaration in which society and the state have an interest. It is not just a private, personal matter. The state needs to set certain minimum standards for the conduct of weddings.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Keeping the 'open door' provision makes it clear that a wedding is a public event and helps to protect against forced marriages

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Whilst it is good to have flexibility in the kind of places that can host a wedding, I think there needs to be minimum requirements to again respect the seriousness and solemnity of marriage.

on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or

Please share your views below:

On land seems to be sensible minimum requirement

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This would not comply with the public nature of a wedding

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This provision seems to respect and protect the rights of different beliefs systems equally

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as there is clear guidance

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

There needs to be more clarity in how venues would be tested for “dignity” and “safety”.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD38-D

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 11:48:11

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

I subscribe to Campaign for Marriage.

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

In a sense a object to the word "officiants." Where does that word come from?

What I am trying to say is that the secularism of the marriage ceremony is failing to protect the serious obligation that spouse should feel regarding marriage.

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If there is no limit to the way the marriage is to be conducted in the sense that it is a personal choice then why bother involving the state?

It is getting to be a complete joke.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The solemnity and seriousness of the commitment to a life-long relationship should be maintained and not denigrated.

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

One of the objects of having an open door policy is to avoid forced marriages.

Forced marriages should not be allowed.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Anywhere?

Are people going to have a laugh?

Again the dignity of the marriage ceremony should be maintained and not be subjected to flippant dismissal as inconsequential.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The wedding ceremony should be more that safe and dignified.

There is a great danger that the officiants will be open to persuasion by the couple that anything can be made safe!

Again the dignity of the wedding ceremony should be maintained and not subject to arbitrary decisions based on for example amusements.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDP5-7

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 11:53:58

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I am in a marriage that is recognised by the law

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

It has meant that two of our family's weddings have been postponed

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I feel it important that if a marriage that takes place in an England or Wales district both parties should be resident in an English or Welsh district for a period of at least a week

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

They must attend an in-person interview

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Minimum

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

In person should be always

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

In the circumstances given, it should be possible.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is essential to have the notices published (online and elsewhere) to allow any concerns to be raised

Consultation Question 10:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

What schedule?

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Providing the substitute is relevantly qualified

Please share your views below:

No

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Banns should be read where each participant lives

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

No, they should be read in each party's local parish

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes they should

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes! Of course

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

No

This opens the door to banning (say) a church from officiating if they subscribe to legally held views about marriage which are contrary to public policy

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

No, I think it should not be automatic

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

They should always come from an organisation

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There should be an appeals process which is publicly held

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There should be an appeals process which is publicly held

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The parties should express that there is no impediment, and that they each consent to the marriage, as part of the public part of the ceremony, in front of witnesses. This should be orally if possible or spoken on their behalf in exceptional cases.

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Hymns
Religious readings
Prayer

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A wedding should allow public access and be public knowledge to allow concern (eg due to knowledge of an impediment to the marriage) to be expressed

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think there should be properly licensed sites

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

A wedding should be held where any members of the public could reasonably attend

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All wedding locations should be publicly accessible

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

No

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Where no religious venue is reasonably available, a non-religious venue should be allowed.

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should be a register of licensed venues

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

No

Please expand on your answer:

In England, English only

In Wales, Welsh or English (recognising that a number of Welsh residents do not speak Welsh)

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Electronic registration could take place alongside (or subsequent to) paper registration

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage must take place in front of witnesses

The schedule must be signed at the time of the marriage

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If the couple have stated in a public ceremony that there are no restrictions on the marriage, and they are each entering the marriage freely, there should be no requirement to cohabit (although that is the normal expectation)

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The couple and the witnesses must be present in person and one copy of the schedule signed

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There must be evidence! We're all at risk of death when we cross a road

Consultation Question 68:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No, unless one party has a naval or nautical connection

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Disagree with the proposal

Consultation Question 71:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Disagree with underlying proposal

Consultation Question 72:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Disagree with underlying proposal

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Disagree with underlying proposal

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Disagree with underlying proposal

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Disagree with underlying proposal

Consultation Question 74:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Disagree with underlying proposal

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I don't think the current law discourages or prevents couples from getting married

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

There must be a pre-approval process - marriage should be a considered undertaking and the venue should be appropriate to a public ceremony

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDPK-W

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 11:59:23

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

I am speaking on my own behalf

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

n/a

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

n/a

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is a solemn and very important institution, it should not be devalued in any way. A true marriage is held according to the law and in a place of Christian worship

Other

Please expand on your answer:

n/a

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

n/a

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

None

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This would make it seem like it is a ceremony of no consequence. People need to be in a stable situation before undertaking such an important ceremony.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Don't see a problem with this

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

To allow due time for careful consideration by both parties the period should be at least 3 months

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

This would be too open to abuse particularly in the case of forced marriages

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Don't see this as a problem

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Nothing further to say

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Nothing further to add

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Naming the officiant will help ensure some thought is being given to the process

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practically this is necessary

Please share your views below:

Only in highly exceptional circumstances

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Banns should be published in the area the wedding is to take place

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Obsolete provision

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Banns should be published more widely

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Seems sensible for an officiant to be sure the identities of the couple are correct.

Separate meetings should not be necessary unless the officiant has reasons to believe something is amiss

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes they should, as they should in any situation, not just in Anglican weddings

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

The Christian element of marriage is paramount

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Fundamental requirements

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As a poor alternative to marriage in a place of worship it is vital that some control is exercised over who can officiate

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No further comment

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No further comment except that it should apply to all clergy including non-conformist ministers

Consultation Question 23:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes to churches, no to non-religious belief organisations

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Claptrap

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Too open to all sorts of nutcases

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

On the face of it yes, but as the government passes laws that quite obviously immoral and anti- Christian then this could be extremely dangerous

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

All people all are not clergy should be certified by government

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No further comment

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

ok

Consultation Question 30:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Government should decide if they are fit and proper

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

ok

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Shouldn't be a money making exercise

Consultation Question 33:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Don't really understand the conflict of interest bit. Not upto government to set fees

Consultation Question 34:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Can't see why this should necessary

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There needs to be a tight definition of what is dignified and solemn enough for such an important ceremony to ensure that totally wacky scenarios are considered appropriate.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No further comment

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Ultimate control should be with government

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No further comment

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No further comment

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Suuggest reregistration and checkign should occur every 5 years

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No further comment

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All statements of willingness and lack of impediments is an important part of the ceremony and should be made in person during the ceremony.

There is a great danger that the seriousness of the promises being made will be undermined if the existing required forms of words is abandoned.

Marriage is not just about the couples, it should include the proper committment to vows and as something recognised in law it should not be just up to the couples to decide what form of words is used.

Signing of the appropriate documents must be done during the ceremony

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The form of wedding that some people might choose would be totally inappropriate to this serious ceremony.

Weddings are where public declarations should be made in which society and the state have an interest.

Consultation Question 44:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All weddings should have to have the current legally required words

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

No views

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If for any reason people are unable to have a church wedding this shouldn't prohibit this being blessed in church afterwards

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Very definitely no.

Weddings are a public event not purely a private matter.

This would make forced marriages much easier to accomplish

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All weddings should take place in premises licensed for marriages.

The likelihood of weddings taking place in inappropriate settings for such a serious ceremony would increase dramatically.

Please share your views below:

In principle weddings could take place outside but there would need to be strict limits on the interpretation of this, this also applies to point 2.

Definitely not. Would be open to some weird interpretations and means the wedding is not a public event as it should be.

Again, definitely no and this emphasises the idea that weddings are a purely private and not a public event.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Again this sends the wrong message about the public nature of weddings

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Any religious organisation worth its salt would not allow non-religious belief ceremonies to take place on its premises

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Very definitely not. Locations should be locations licensed for marriages

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

There would need to be strict guidelines laid down as to what constitutes dignity and safety

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But it does need to be proscriptive and tight

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

All locations should be licensed for weddings

Please share your views below:

The Registrar

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No further comments

Consultation Question 55:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Should always be in English with any other language as an addition

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No further comment

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No further comments

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should always be witnesses and marriages should always be registered

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No further comment

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Co-habitation is an intergal part of being married. It would encourage "sham" marriages

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

What people assume is an irrelevance

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Any time limit could make forced marriages less likely to be challenged, if a young girl is forced into marriage it may be some years before she feels able to speak up.

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Obvious

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

I don't know enough to comment

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But with sensitivity

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Current regulations seem fine to me

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No further comment

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No other comment

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Weddings must be a public event

No

Please expand on your answer:

Nothing further to say

No

Please expand on your answer:

Open to abuse

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Could lead to some silly ceremonies unbecfitting of the seriousness and dignity required

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No, could lead to some rushed unions

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

No again could lead to rushed unions

Consultation Question 71:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

As I don't think they should happen this question is superfluous

Consultation Question 72:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Again, superfluous

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Again superfluous

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Again superfluous

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

No views except they shouldn't happen

Consultation Question 74:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Again as they shouldn't happen the question is irrelevant

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No further comment

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

If the fee is purely to cover costs they shouldn't be an issue

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Whilst believing this type of wedding to be very much second best as it's going to happen the fee should be prescribed in regulation

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Although if locations had to be licensed for weddings this would not be necessary on an individual ceremony

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Should not be a revenue making action

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No further comment

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No further comment

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No further comment

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

I think the fee should be at cost-recovery

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No further comment

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

No evidence either way

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

What a wedding costs is largely in the hands of the participants, there is no necessity to spend overmuch

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Again, if cost is an issue, keep it simple

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

No further comments

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

No further comments

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No comment

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No comment

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No knowledge

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No knowledge

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No comment

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No comment

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

No comment

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD37-C

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 11:59:52

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Private citizen

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Like my freedom of legal privacy.

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Cuts out rash spontaneous choices

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Wld be ok if sure the person being forced to marry

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Dont know

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Unclear what that really means

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Best to continue general public notices- marriage is a community affair

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes, this kind of information is important

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Its a good safe requirement.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Don't know why more may be needed?

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

1) - yes

Consultation Question 24:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Can't comment

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Can't comment

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes but with real dignity and solemnity which is already in place.

Consultation Question 36:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

1a- yes

1b- no

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

If couples wish to acknowledge something specific, yes.

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It's a serious but healthy community access.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Heaven only knows knows what that cld lead to.

on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Other

Other

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, as long as not undermining the seriousness and solemnity of the occasion, and public have access.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Don't know

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Don't know

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I don't know anyone who's been discouraged from marrying under present law.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Think all costs should be kept very low whether religious or civic

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

I think that there is enough variety and availability already existing.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No comments

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Don't know

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDBD-8

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 12:02:32

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

I would like my name to be kept confidential to protect my privacy please.

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

The 2 weddings we were invited to were cancelled.

One eventually went ahead later in the year but only with 15 guests. It was very sad for the couple not to include close family & friends (even siblings)

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

helps safeguard/able to assess better if this is a marriage both sides agree to, ie not forced

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If another appropriate officiant can be found so that the wedding can go ahead rather than being cancelled last minute

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Also in the churches of where both parties live as people will know them there & can go along & hear them read out & be prayed for, as the venue church may not be where they live

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

would help safe guard forced or sham marriages & also help the couple to meet, chat & think things through with someone who can help them prepare for marriage

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

safe guard the seriousness of this commitment

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Getting married in a church with a religious ceremony is making that commitment before God & therefore only a minister should take those ceremonies

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

to ensure that an appropriate person is taking the serious ceremony

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Yes to safe guard against groups that seek to undermine the seriousness nature of what marriage is

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It's a serious commitment & shouldn't be taken lightly so any ceremony by an organisation should be seriously thought through

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Absolutely. To allow otherwise is very dangerous for humanity

Although there needs to be very clear guidelines on what is contrary to public policy & morality

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

safe guards & regulates who is carrying out these ceremonies & that they are in line with what marriage actually is both legally & morally.

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But with clear guidelines from governmental policy on what 'fit & proper' persons are

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

SO they know the seriousness of what they are doing & to safe guard/regulate against inappropriate weddings being performed

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

marriage is a solemn & serious commitment not a business opportunity

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should be guideline to what is appropriate fees otherwise they are making it a business opportunity

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

conflict of interests

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But it needs to go further to make sure the officiant has a responsibility for the content of the ceremony & that the ceremony also upholds the dignity & solemnity of marriage.

It is also extremely important to define what is meant by 'dignity' and 'solemnity'.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

same reasons as above

otherwise a 'marriage ceremony' could be anywhere anything goes which goes against what marriage really is - a serious commitment

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But only with back up/ duty to inform an independent/government policy organisation that can assist/check all is dealt with properly

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

to ensure they are serious about their role & are appropriate to be in that position as with any other job this would be required

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Simply signing a document is not enough, each person needs to be present at their wedding & verbally agree to consent as with the perscribed words. It should not be possible for someone to get married without being present at the wedding ceremony.

Public declarations of the couple's intentions & commitments to one another is a fundamental part of the marriage ceremony. It should not be possible for couples to say anything they like or nothing at all. This risks undermining the solemnity of the wedding ceremony and denying the seriousness of the commitment being made.

The perscribed words required at present are too much & the ceremony can be personalised in many others ways at present so they really shouldn't be removed to ensure that both people consent to the marriage & the lifetime commitment they are entering into.

Marriage is not a personal hobby or where a couple can say anything they like (ie we'll we'll try & be faithful or love one another but if we can't doesn't matter etc).

Marriage is also a legal & public declaration of life long commitment that safe guards society it is not just a private matter for the couple.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is serious & solemn commitment & a public declaration that needs safe guarding for the good of society- the ceremony should therefore be appropriate for that commitment not just whatever the couple wants.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This gives the choice to the couples to personalise their ceremony towards what they believe without compromising the serious commitment & legal procedure of the ceremony.

Please share your views below:

an example can include readings from religious text like The Bible & songs that have a religious nature.

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The "open doors" requirement helps convey the public nature of wedding declarations & helps protect against forced marriage which is still a big problem today.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The seriousness and solemnity of a marriage ceremony needs to be protected. Venues should not simply be allowed because marrying couples want them, but because they are appropriate places to hold such a significant ceremony.

A wider variety of venues being allowed can bring some benefits but that doesn't mean that inappropriate settings should be allowed.

on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

The above venues in some cases would be fine but it needs to be clearly defined as to what an appropriate use of this place would be.

For example a private garden with an fit & proper officiant with a serious & legal ceremony with verbal commitments that have been prescribed by law is fine but a private home could also be something inappropriate like a brothel/ S&M dungeon/forced marriage. Sex slave trafficking is a major problem & allowing ay kind of marriage ceremony in a private home with no safe guards is very dangerous.

Venues like ' in the air' open up all sorts of venues, fast food restaurants, weddings at conventions/concerts, under water etc which would detract totally from the serious commitment that a marriage ceremony is & makes it hard to apply the safe/appropriate/dignified test to safe guard this

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

marriage is a public declaration & in society;s interest so should be accessible to public & safe guards against forced marriage too.

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

No

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If you don't hold a religious belief the only reason you would pick a 'religious venue' is for it's looks as a building & maybe it's capacity to hold enough people. This nullifies the sanctity to marriage to religious faiths.

A couple that want to marry with a religious ceremony in a civil/ non religious venue is fine as there is not the same sanctity of that venue.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But with clearly defined guidelines they must adhere to

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes but there is a lack of clarity in how venues would be tested for "dignity" and "safety".

While the proposals call for guidance from the General Register Office, the terms are not defined and stringent so therefore safeguards should be proposed.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please see above answer again - need to be clearly defined

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Helps keep a check on appropriate places

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

safe guarding marriage

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

safe guarding marriage

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

They are not married. There has been no public declaration of commitment or legal procedure. This undermines marriage totally.

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If there was lack of consent as soon as it is proved they should be allowed to nullify even if it was many years ago.

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

protects marriage & couple

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

safe guard them & marriage

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

That sounds like it would be more open to mis use?

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

they all need to be in the same place at the same time to make those vows/declarations to one another legally

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Need to have checks that the officiant is appropriate

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

same as for marriages not on sea

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDBC-7

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 12:05:06

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

-

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

How do you know that this is not a forced marriage of some kind if something is not known about those taking part

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Time to reflect

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

How do you know that this is not a forced marriage of some kind if those taking part cannot be seen in person?

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Possibly

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Risk of harm to a participant or forced involvement should mean that their details are available as widely as possible.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why change something that works?

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

We are due another war

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

No restrictions should apply - allow online

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Very sensible.

The clergy should have the additional responsibility to ensure it would not be a marriage of convenience or permit 1 partner to be abused.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Agreed, they should

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage should be considered a spiritual undertaking

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Non-religious belief organisations should not be allowed to officiate

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Non-religious belief organisations should not be allowed to officiate

Please share your views below:

Non-religious belief organisations should not be allowed to officiate

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Separate ideas:

1. Definition is too restrictive - If it is a recognized religious organisation, then that should be adequate

2. Just 'a sincerely held belief about marriage'

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

If a recognized religious organisation then it should be of no concern of government officials.

Allowing officialdom to interfere in religious matters should be forbidden

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

The religious organisation should be allowed to nominate those that are qualified.

Non-religious organisations should not come into this.

Consultation Question 28:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No logical reason for that except the authorities exerting unnecessary control over something that should not be its business

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

They would have to belong to a religious organisation, and officiate only in that same religious organisation

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

They would have to be ethical and of good standing within that religious organisation.

Again, the religious organisations should be free to decide that without interference.

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But this should be determined by the religious organisations

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

From a legal perspective only - There should be no control exerted over the ceremony itself

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes and no - This concept should not be allowed to penalise religious organisations.

The religious organisation in question would take measures to retrain or exclude said failing officiant.

Consultation Question 38:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Only a religious organisation can do that

Consultation Question 39:

No

Please expand on your answer:

We do not need or want independent officiates

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

No

Please expand on your answer:

That opens them up to a moral dilemma where religious matters can be overridden by legal dogma

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

1a - YES

1b - should be required to express that there is no impediment to their marrying each other - Vital this is done.

2 - 'Should be allowed' Either it is a requirement or not - But it should not become a requirement, or we can expect more interference from officialdom.

3 - YES

4 - YES

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Additionally, the ceremony should be in English.

If translators are used then the officiate would not be able to know if the marriage was an honest one.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should be possible for ALL religious organisations, not just those mentioned

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A religious ceremony requires that it be a religious one

Please share your views below:

All religious content should be allowed, as per the doctrines laid down by that organisation

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Some people would want both

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It should be in a suitable building or open ground run by a religious organisation, within the UK

outdoors,

Please share your views below:

Should be on religious property

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should be no secret weddings

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It should be one of common sense and rules supplied by a religious organisation

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

not required

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As English is the official language of the UK that should always be used

Consultation Question 56:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Let's see what that entails before proposing it

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

5. if it was a marriage of convenience

Other

Please expand on your answer:

1 - YES

2 - NO - Must have witnesses

3 - NO - Must have valid signatures

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Co-habitation is surely the main reason to marry

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Special efforts should be made to ensure that nobody is being forced to marry

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely not --- There are no emergencies that should affect the way people are married

No

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely not --- There are no emergencies that should affect the way people are married

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why?

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

No

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Standard rules should apply - must be a trained registrar or a religious official authorised to marry people.

No

Please expand on your answer:

As applies to religious organisations

No

Please expand on your answer:

Standard rules should apply - must be a trained registrar or a religious official authorised to marry people.

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Limited

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

1 - No

2 - No

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

The requirement here should be to reduce the level at which authorities need to be involved, thus cutting costs.

Let's not add costs for the sake of bureaucracy.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD3U-A

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 12:09:43

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Because it is important that the couples should be resident in one of the areas, rather than say "in the air"

Consultation Question 5:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Possibly.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I agree with 1 but not with 2.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Only used in extreme circumstances as what has been suggested

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Unsure

Consultation Question 14:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

It should be also in the church where the other partner is resident

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

No the law should contain religious organisations

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yet those proposals doesn't go far enough. Officiants should be able to uphold the dignity and solemnity of marriage

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Couples must be present at their weddings

There is the risk of undermining the solemnity of the wedding ceremony and denying the serious commitment

Specific phrases should be used, as is already the case in the marriage ceremony.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

They should be held in a registered place and not just anywhere

It is a serious commitment and a public declaration

It should be a serious ceremony and not using light-hearted frivolities such as Game of Thrones etc

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Open doors requirement helps convey to the public the nature the wedding declarations

It was introduced many years ago to protect against forced marriages

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There might be some benefits for churches who don't have their own building,

Please share your views below:

Yes all these venues shoul dnot be allowed

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

There is lack of clarity as to how venues would be judged to be safe and and dignified for a wedding

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD3E-T

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 12:09:50

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Privacy is important.

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

What happens at the moment?

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes.

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Implications not clear.

Consultation Question 21:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Should be two.

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

20 is not enough.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

No.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should be statutory limits on fees.

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Should be the ultimate responsibility of the General Register Office.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Absurd that this should be a 4 part question with single answer.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is a public undertaking, not a private one.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Ridiculous provision.

Please share your views below:

Don't understand the question.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Should be the General Register Office to approve.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

General Register Office

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

No

Please expand on your answer:

English or English and Welsh

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All 3 are absolute requirements.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Cohabitation is part of the marriage process.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All weddings should be executed in shored-based premises rendering the subsequent questions inapplicable.

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDBU-S

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 12:12:22

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

None

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

N/A

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

N/A

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I believe that "residence" has been interpreted so loosely that it is not meaningful and has not been so for decades

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

If preliminaries are to be the main safeguard against illegal, forced or false marriages, there must be adequate time for officials to check the background to any marriage. Seven days should be an absolute minimum except where life expectancy is shorter than that.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Interviews should never be done remotely. There is too much risk of invisible interference in the process.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

I agree

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as the public are easily and freely able to see them. Also it should be possible for close relatives, particularly parents to register to be informed of the notice in relation to named individuals. This would increase the chance of avoiding an illegal or forced marriage

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If an officiant is taken ill shortly before or even during a marriage it must be possible for a substitute to take over without the need for more paperwork, which can be done retrospectively in such an event.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

see above

Please share your views below:

see above

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The important thing is that banns should be published where they will be heard by the relevant people.

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

You have a touching belief that Britain will never again be exposed to bombs!

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

No. At present banns are published in the churches relevant to the couple getting married

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

No. It may be impractical to require to meet the individuals separately, but the clergy already use their discretion

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes. I think that is essential

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

is there any evidence that Anglican preliminaries are inadequate?

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is fundamental

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriages in non-Anglican churches and chapels, as was mine, need a registration officer present to make the marriage legal

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

That is fine for the officiant but says nothing about the meaning or nature of the ceremony. The law needs to defend the seriousness of marriage as a lifelong commitment, not just its dignity and solemnity.

Consultation Question 36:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If officiants are required to undergo proper training then further guidance is superfluous

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But the General Register Office must act in the event of being notified that an individual is alleged not to comply with the standard of a fit and proper person.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as the requirements for CPD are reasonable

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No. It is absolutely fundamental that each party to a marriage should publicly and openly state that they are free to marry and that there are no impediments. This is the core of a marriage ceremony and any watering down of this requirement sends the message that the event is a party and not a serious lifelong commitment between two people who mean what they say. It is essential that there is an unambiguous, legally binding contract set out in agreed terms. If the couple are not able to make that commitment then they should not be getting married.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

See answer above. Yes, they can add what they like to suit them selves but the central core of the ceremony, must be a formal and binding contract. If you depart from that, it opens the floodgates to litigants who wish to dispute whether the form of words constituted a contract or not, or even whether they actually gave consent to a legally binding contract

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

A marriage should reflect the wishes of the couple within the context of the marriage contract, and to exclude deliberately any religious words, poems prayers or songs seems perverse.

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Whatever for?

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is a public declaration of the couple's commitment and union and the public should be able to witness it. To hold a marriage behind closed doors will facilitate forced and illegal marriages

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Frankly that makes a nonsense of marriage being a solemn and dignified ceremony

Please share your views below:

How can a marriage in the air or on water be open to the public? I think a marriage out of doors can indeed be suitable but there should be official approval of the venue A private home would be suitable if it was open to the public for the ceremony.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely not for the reasons given above. Punlic access if fundamental to the nature of the marriage contract.

Consultation Question 50:

Other

Other

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Nothing should be enacted which would give couples the power to put pressure on the incumbents or other authorities of any religious building to use that building to carry out a marriage ceremony of a nature or form with which they did not approve or believe in.

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The suitability of a venue needs to be approved by somebody suitable, but not necessarily the officiant. However if the officiant decided that he/she was not satisfied with the venue then he/she should be able to veto it as long as this was done before the venue had been booked

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

See above

No

Please expand on your answer:

Anyone who is suitable to be an officiant shouldn't need guidance as to the suitability of a venue

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

See above

Please share your views below:

I presume there is already a process for approving venues for civil ceremonies so let it continue

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I think that a marriage without witnesses would be open to abuse, though it might be that in certain circumstances as few as two witnesses might be all that was possible. Otherwise I approve the idea that simple mistakes should not make a marriage void

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Even in a national emergency, it should not be possible to marry remotely. This is asking for trouble. Marry in haste and repent at leisure. In a national emergency people are in an emotional state and may get married for fear of what may happen to either of them a decision they would not have taken in a calmer frame of mind.

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Every human being is more than "at risk of death". We are all certain of death. If you are talking about premature death, that would include the armed forces, the emergency services and all the NHS staff during a pandemic.

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

See above

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

No. See above

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I believe your proposals in their totality will diminish the importance status and dignity of marriage as a lifelong commitment between two willing parties.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD3G-V

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 12:13:09

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

n/a

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

[REDACTED]

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

n/a

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

n/a

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Recognised by law

Other

Please expand on your answer:

n/a

Other

Please expand on your answer:

n/a

Other

Please expand on your answer:

n/a

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

n/a

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

n/a

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This provides evidence of a serious undertaking

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agree but there ought to be clarity and definition as to dignity and solemnity mean.

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Persons getting married need to be present at wedding. Recognised forms of words need to be said and witnessed. The prescribed words are minimal and couples can add to them. It is not much to ask that specific phrases are used to show that both people freely consent to the commitment.

Marriage is serious commitment . The idea that a couple should be able to completely personalise their ceremony as it is not just about the couple.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Words need to be appropriate and not just what the couple fancy.

Consultation Question 44:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is a public matter and not a private do. It also guards against forced marriages.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Venues should be appropriate not simply what marrying couples fancy - a MacDonald's venue belittles the ceremony.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD31-6

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 12:24:59

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Self

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

I should like my personal data protected appropriately.

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

It should

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If they don't who will?

They need to have power to enforce this, of which the easiest is to refuse to hold the ceremony but with the power to register that refusal on-line so that other officiants can see this and the rationale.

We need to define dignity and solemnity as well as its reach over the whole ceremony and have a clear record of the interpretation being taken whether going ahead or refusing. An appeal process based on precedent applicable to the whole UK would make sense.

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is too wishy-washy. Marriage is intended to be a serious contract for life - the words about this (and reasons why marriage may not be valid) need to be prescribed and not "of choice". The purpose of marriage is to ensure that both parties are fully aware, form the bond freely, with the intention of lifelong. If the state has any duty, it is to uphold these things. If it feels it has no duty or wishes to dilute these duties to practically none, well it should keep out and return the ceremony to organisations capable of recognising that duty and have civil partnerships as its domain. If the couple don't believe in marriage, one's best advice is not to marry. If the state doesn't believe in marriage, our best advice is to leave it to those who do. Marriage is not just a meaningless word except for its meaning in tax law.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I suspect from this proposal that the panel drawing this up have little idea of the meaning of marriage to the vast bulk of those who are married. They must be living in the unthinking woke bubble. They are in that sense like the old Russian nihilists - reducing everything to nothing - because of a lack of common belief.

The purpose of the marriage ceremony is to ensure that both parties are fully aware, form the bond freely, with the intention of lifelong, witnesses by friends and family. If the state has any duty, it is to uphold these things. If it feels it has no duty or wishes to dilute these duties to practically none, well it should keep out and return the ceremony to organisations capable of recognising that duty and have civil partnerships as its domain. If the couple don't believe in marriage, one's best advice is not to marry. If the state doesn't believe in marriage, our best advice is to leave it to those who do. Marriage is not just a meaningless word except for its meaning in tax law.

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There is a purpose of "open doors", which in the modern parlance is "transparency". With forced marriages on the up again, we surely need this rather than getting rid of it.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is crazy. It comes after you have promised dignity and solemnity. Would you permit a public lavatory?

Please share your views below:

The implications of ticking a box above are unclear. This peaks volumes about your whole consultation. It is unclear.

The typical approach of a registry office followed by a celebration in a private home (and the rest of your list) is a good one. But the other way round suggests the danger of lack of seriousness could creep in - well a bit faster than creep is likely!

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

The best way ahead seems to me to have a prescribed list of locations and have the officiant ensure that it is safe and dignified, with clear rules on what that means. Guidelines will become nothing. The officiant will be in danger of being sued for his/her own interpretation of these. Fear of being non-woke will then mean anything goes.

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDP1-3

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 12:29:39

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is not a trivial undertaking and should not be the result of a 'spur of the moment' decision. The residential qualification is part of the process that requires forethought.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Difficult to imagine why such a serious undertaking would need a lesser period of time.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Remote interviews are a poor substitute for a face to face encounter which once again reinforces the importance of the undertaking.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

The requirement to meet the couple 'separately' may seem onerous but if the couple were able to attend the meeting together then at that time it would also be possible for each to be seen separately.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

See above....this reinforces the individual responsibility to enter into marriage in good faith.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

20 members seems far too small a number. This does not constitute an 'organisation' but rather a 'club'.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

This is a potentially contentious area and would need very careful consideration; public policy itself may be regarded by some organisations as immoral. The question here is who will be the arbiter? For example would opposition to same-sex marriage be regarded as 'contrary to public policy or morality'? This could raise issues of 'freedom of conscience'.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

This has to be considered in the context of marriage as a serious undertaking. Perhaps there should be a minimum period in office before such authorisation is approved.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

What qualifications would an 'independent officiant' be required to hold?

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Fees should be strictly regulated.....officiating at a marriage should not become a commercial undertaking.

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

See above. If this were allowed how long before we start to see weddings with 'celebrity officiants' for those prepared to pay the fees?

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

So long as it would be also possible for concerns to be raised by a person outside of the organisation.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is a union understood by society and legally defined. So society and the law have an interest in the making of a public declaration. The logic of a wholly self-defined marriage ceremony is for marriage to be a purely personal matter with no connection to the law and wider society. It should not be possible to get married without a formal statement in person which is at least in part common to all who undertake the commitment. This common form of words emphasises that this is an enterprise that society regards as non-trivial. There is already considerable flexibility for couples to add to the prescribed words. Allowing couples to say whatever they want (or even nothing) trivialises the institution of marriage.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Once again there should be a basic non-reducible framework that all participants comply with. If they are unable or unwilling to conform to such a simple requirement how will they manage to cope with the necessary compromises and sacrifices necessary to sustain a lasting marriage? Allowing participants to effectively do whatever they like will further diminish the seriousness and dignity of marriage.

Consultation Question 44:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The current rules allow sufficient flexibility to comply with religious requirements but there should still be a minimum irreducible framework that is a requirement of all marriages.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I can see no beneficial point in repealing this provision.

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It is an important point that weddings should be seen to be in the public space rather than behind closed doors. Removing the requirement encourages the perception that marriage is an entirely private matter without any public significance. Making a requirement for public access also represents a protection against forced marriages.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This provision potentially undermines or trivialises the dignity of the institution. Venues should not simply be allowed because marrying couples choose them, but because they are appropriate places to uphold the seriousness of such a significant ceremony.

Please share your views below:

There is a danger that the seriousness and dignity of marriage will be undermined by couples trying to find more and more 'novelty venues'. For a once-in-a-lifetime commitment the venue should reflect the seriousness of the undertaking rather than simply the wishes of the couple involved. Could it possibly be appropriate for a wedding to take place underwater or whilst skydiving? Even weddings in private homes may be inappropriate due to lack of public access.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

For reasons already stated society has an interest in these solemn undertakings. They should be conducted in the public space.

Consultation Question 50:

Other

No

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Allowing non-religious belief weddings to take place in religious venues is inappropriate and illogical. It also potentially opens the door to claims of discrimination if religious organisations decline to allow access to sacred spaces for non religious weddings.

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There would be a conflict of interest for the officiant where a couple wanted a particularly bizarre venue and if the officiant declined to approve the couple may be inclined to try another officiant until they found one that approved the venue. There needs to be clear guidance on which venues are appropriate for such an important ceremony.

Consultation Question 52:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The definition 'Safe and dignified' is far too vague. There would need to be stringent safeguards to prevent a descent into venues being chosen for their novelty value which would further trivialise the institution of marriage.

No

Please expand on your answer:

Once again this phrase 'safe and dignified' is a very vague and notwithstanding GRO guidance the determination should not be left in the hands of the officiant.

Consultation Question 53:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

If a venue 'frequently holds weddings' then presumably it has been approved? Why would it require an 'optional pre-approval process'???

Please share your views below:

The venue should apply to the GRO or the local registrar for approval.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

There should be provision for a hard copy to be provided in addition to electronic registration.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Witnesses are an important part of the transparency of the process.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The cohabitation requirement is a safeguard against marriages of convenience.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It is difficult to imagine a Scenario where it would be beneficial for a marriage to take place remotely without the physical presence of the parties involved.

No

Please expand on your answer:

If such an emergency existed then the emergency provisions should only apply to those affected.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Perhaps this should only apply to members of the armed forces?

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Only if the venue is appropriate to the seriousness and dignity of the institution of marriage. A marriage conducted on surf boards or inflatables would not meet this criteria and would trivialise the ceremony. Also it could hardly be claimed to be a public space in the sense of practical open access.

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Once again it is important that the institution is not trivialised or that it causes a competition to find the 'strangest venue'. Also the principle of 'open-door access' that stems from the institution being of legitimate public interest would be lost if say a wedding were to be conducted off shore on a private yacht .

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Weddings should be able to be conducted by ships chaplains if required.

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The fee should be set at a level to encourage the choice of dignified venues likely to be approved rather than speculative applications to see if approval can be gained for 'novelty venues'.

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDBV-T

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 12:31:12

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

n/a

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

Select

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

n/a

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Unsure. What about confirming identities?

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

yes

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

both

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

yes

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

yes. for example cults.

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

yes. but the catholic church promotes the sanctity of life from conception whereas secular law allows killing unborn babies in the womb. the catholic view is morally correct.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

yes

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

marriage is between a man and a woman for life.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

subject to swift de-authorisation if found to have failed in their duties

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

couples should declare their intent, consent and no impediment at the marriage ceremony

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

marriage is a solemn and sacred union of one woman and one man until death do them part

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

catholic church as well

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

readings, hymns, poems and prayers which are deemed by the relevant religious group

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

marriage is a public declaration

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

only in locations deemed appropriate by the relevant religious group (for example a consecrated place - church / chapel)

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The relevant religious authority should decide

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Subject to the relevant religious authority agreeing on the suitability of the venue

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

The relevant religious authority should give the ok

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

No. Subject to the solemnity of the marriage etc.

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD3C-R

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 12:32:39

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I am legally married

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

always in person

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Online and elsewhere to allow any concerns to be raised

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

banns should be read where the participant lives

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

no they should be published at the home churches as well

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

I think they should be seen separately

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

yes both couples should be seen separately

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage in the church of England is a sacrament

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

No This opens the door to a Religion being banned from marrying people because their beliefs about marriage differ from Government policy

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

hymn Readings Prayers

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If the participants want a blessing service they should be able to have one

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All wedding should allow public access

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Only in an appropriate setting

Please share your views below:

Only In properly licenced spaces that have been inspected

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I think there should be both a paper record and also electronic

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

YOu must have witnesses and signitures

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

They are not married

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDPZ-C

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 12:40:15

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I believe that a public declaration of intent to marry should apply as a safeguard against either forced, or “spur of the moment” marriages.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

There must be sufficient time for checks to be made that the couple are legally free to marry.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

I see no reason why such authority should be the reserve of the C of E .

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This should apply to all Church ministers irrespective of denomination.

Consultation Question 23:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Many churches do not have a centralised governing authority. In such a case a local church, as under current legislation, should be able to have a person or persons within it legally recognised to officiate as the registrar.

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

All such “organisations” should be fully open to public scrutiny and have popular support.

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I do not see where “professional development” is applicable in such matters.

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Prayer for the couple should be possible.

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The possibility of public scrutiny should be maintained, weddings should not take place behind closed doors.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Venues for marriage should reflect the seriousness and dignity of the act.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

No

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

The officiant and couple should seek agreement.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But only if “religious” registration officers are still authorised.

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, but only if the registration officer is free to waive the fee.

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, but only if the registration office is free to waive the fee.

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, but only if the registration officer is free to waive the fee.

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, but only if the registration officer is free to waive the fee.

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, but only if the registration officer is free to waive the fee.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDBX-V

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 12:42:29

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

I am responding as a private person

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I was married in a Church of England church

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This requirement is important to ensure that Marriage is not just taking place as an act convenience or a business transaction.

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The in person interview must take place prior the wedding. If this in-person interview would be taking place after the wedding makes no sense + would devalue the work of our Registrars.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

7 days gives couples time to focus on their impending marriage + allows our Registrars to feel that their work is treated with respect.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

It is so important that these interviews must take place in person in all circumstances. How can our Registrars be expected to detect sham or forced marriages with out interviewing every couple in person. This is vitally important + cannot be be changed in any way.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

This must be discontinued again because of possible sham or forced marriages.

Consultation Question 9:

No

Please expand on your answer:

How would a Registrar be able to ascertain whether displaying this information would expose either of the couple to a risk of harm?

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

This is a tradition + it should be continues.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

These 2 points are very important + the clergy must continue to be able to do these 2 things

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

This must continue.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

It is important that couples, who wish to be married in a religious ceremony because of their faith ,should feel that they are able to do.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Couples who wish to marry in a religious setting due to their faith are able to do so. Having an officiant in attendance would not allow this to happen .

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There must be 2 officials to ensure that every thing is in order.

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This should happen.

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This dilutes the work of our Registrars. They must have the power to ensure that these marriages are free from sham or forced marriage.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Our Registrars must only have the power to preside over non Church of England marriages.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

I agree that the law so expressly exclude these organisations .

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

No this should not be allowed.

Consultation Question 28:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The traditional way that the conducting Marriage ceremony must continue. Marriage should not be a business agreement. It must reflect that it is a commitment that 2 people are making to care for each other. It cannot be reduced to a contract.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The marriage ceremony should take place as standard form. It must reflect the commitment that both parties are agreeing to.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It must be ensured that Anglican, Catholic or Jewish are able to conduct their weddings with out pressure to change.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There must be limits to where a marriage ceremony can take place because marriage is a commitment + it cannot be reduced to an entertainment event.

Please share your views below:

To hold a marriage ceremony any where devalues the fact that it is not just an entertainment event. It is not to a social occasion but it is a serious + solemn undertaking.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Religious venues must be kept only for religious ceremonies. Religious beliefs must be respected.

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Couple should be able to have their marriage registered in English, both English + Welsh but not in Welsh only as it would cause difficulties in collating the data.

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

This must not be allowed under any circumstances.

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This must be allowed to happen.

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This must not be allowed to happen as it would turn the marriage ceremony into an entertainment event.

No

Please expand on your answer:

This must not be allowed to happen.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Weddings on ships must not be allowed to happen. They would be entertainment events.

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

This must not be allowed to happen.

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I feel that the current laws do not discourage or prevent couples from getting married. Your provisional proposals would possible lead to an increase in marriage. However this increase may only be temporary. I feel that there is a real problem, that couples may not want to stay in their marriages, as they had not thought through what being married actually involves.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The current costs involved in arranging a marriage should not have an impact on couples wanting to marry.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Marriages should not be allowed to be conducted at sea.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDPJ-V

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 12:54:52

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Our marriage is recognised by law

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is serious, not on the spur of the moment.

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This trivialises marriage

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

Three weeks is needed

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Interviews should not be done remotely

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Notice should be given in England and Wales

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

No. They should be widely published

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Agree. It is protection against forced marriages

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Agree

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Two officers would guard against co-ertion

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Religious belief helps to underline the importance of marriage

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Entirely agree

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

The age of 18 is too young. The age should be amended to "at least 30"

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

ENTIRELY agree

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Very much agree with the duty, but ensuring the tone, the conduct and the location of the marriage is also important.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There should be uniformity in the procedures

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Circumstances do change, so a time limit of say 5 years should apply

Consultation Question 41:

No

Please expand on your answer:

CPD is not well defined in this instance so should not apply

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Important: Simply signing the paperwork is not enough both parties must be present.
The form of words is very important. An agreed form of words underlines the seriousness of the ceremony.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The ceremony must adhere to a standard format, as now, which is recognised by everyone to acknowledge that marriage is a serious event both for the couple and for society at large

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Provided that it maintains the dignity and seriousness of the ceremony

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Open doors allow the general public to participate to some extent in the ceremony, as witnesses, and help to eliminate co-ertion and forced marriages

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Definitely NOT. The ceremony should be dignified, formal and in a suitable setting to underline the seriousness of the commitment by both parties

Please share your views below:

None of these four proposals should be allowed

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But there needs to be clarity: the venue needs to be appropriate to the seriousness of the occasion.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Provided the location reflects that marriage is a serious event, not to be celebrated in a frivolous manner in a frivolous location

Please share your views below:

General Register Office

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDZ8-M

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 13:09:56

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Private individual

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

My wife and I were married in the Catholic Church.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, it is important for officiants to uphold the dignity and solemnity of marriage. However, the setting for the ceremony is of no less importance as it inevitably sets the tone of the occasion. For example, I would not consider getting married in an aquarium, in a theme park or on the London Eye a suitably dignified or solemn setting for the contract of marriage. Please therefore can you clarify what you mean by dignified and solemn.

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I consider it of paramount importance for both parties to be physically present next to each other at the wedding ceremony. Simply signing a document or marriage schedule is really not the same and should not be permitted. As a public declaration of their union, the couple should be required to at least make minimum phrases or words to confirm that they are free and willing to marry one another. Making up their own words would devalue the solemnity of marriage and there is already a lot of scope for adding personal words. A wedding should not be simply a private affair as it involves not only the couple, but also society which should remain a witness to this.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I disagree with this will again devalue the solemnity and dignity of marriage. Marriage ceremonies should be taken seriously. For example, couples dressing up as film characters and using every-day venues such as theme parks, sports centres, pubs or restaurants would be very inappropriate.

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This could cause a lot of confusion. A ceremony should be clear whether it is religious or non-religious. Any ambiguity or grey areas regarding this would not be good and give the wrong impression to both the couple, witnesses and the public.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Open door marriages have been taking place for hundreds of years and help to guard against forced marriages which are still unfortunately a big problem today. It reaffirms that marriage is indeed a public occasion. Removing this requirement would wrongly suggest that marriage can be a purely private matter.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

As already mentioned, we need much more clarity please on what constitutes safe and dignified. We need to know what criteria would be used to define how a venue would be safe and dignified. How would they be tested for this?

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDZG-3

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 13:36:17

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Married Couple

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

NO

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is recognised by law

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Wedding was legally binding

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

None

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Should not be possible

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

OK

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

NO

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No comment

Consultation Question 14:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No comment

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

No list

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Religious Organisations should not be expressly excluded

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Only religious organisations should be enabled

Consultation Question 28:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

None

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

General Register Office

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

These should continue

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

No

Consultation Question 71:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

It should not be allowed

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Do not know

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

The proposals will have little effect

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

These costs are irrelevant

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Any such savings would be irrelevant

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

No knowledge

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

No knowledge

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No views

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No views

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No impact as the cost of the 'party' overwhelms everything else

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

See previous response

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Very little impact

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

See previous response

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Costs except for the 'party' are irrelevant

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDBK-F

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 13:38:31

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Not applicable

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think this will allow too much scope for sham and forced marriages to take place - this legal safeguard is important!

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, as long as both parties are interviewed individually and separately to avoid the possibility of coercion.

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

15 days, as with the current legal requirement - this process should not be rushed or done hurriedly.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

No, I think that the scope for coercion in remote interviews is far too high - all interviews should be done in-person with both parties individually and separately.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

As long as the appropriate legal support for such notice is provided by a relevant authority to back up such notice.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

As long as banns of marriage are provided by a relevant church in another province, I see no reason why they shouldn't be accepted as being valid for Anglican weddings in England & Wales.

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The current system seems fine to me in such extremely rare circumstances.

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

No, I think that the banns of both parties should be represented by authorisation from the Anglican parishes in which they both live.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes, I think that these are necessary and appropriate legal safeguards against forced or sham marriages, unless these legal requirements are dealt with by the local Civil Registry instead.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes, I think this is a necessary legal safeguard.

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

The demands on clergy are already too great and this would enable them to concentrate on the spiritual and ritual aspects of preparing couples for marriage.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Yes, some definition of appropriate organisations is required to avoid spurious or ridiculous applications being made - e.g. for comedy, celebrity, or advertising purposes.

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think that 20 members is far too low a number for the serious purpose of a group being able to nominate officiants. An organisation needs to be more than a small local group to hold this responsibility.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes, as long as the definition of 'unlawful or contrary to public policy or morality' allows the freedom of such organisations to hold traditional or different beliefs to those only very recently established as 'public policy' - e.g. same-sex marriage, self-defined gender identity, transgender identity, where a broader understanding of these issues is legally allowed.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Yes.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I would only see this as being appropriate where such individuals have the backing of a properly authorised religious or non-religious organisation, rather than marriage officiants being chosen for their individual preferences as 'private' officiants.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think that any 'private' or independent officiants should have strict limits applied to the fees they can charge, as with Churches and Civil Registries, so as to prevent marriage itself from becoming a consumer or money-making venture.

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I don't think that it is just the officiant who should have this responsibility. I think that clear guidelines and legal requirements about the nature and content of a marriage ceremony, its vows and obligations, should be provided by the Government to ensure that the current legalities and responsibilities of the marriage bond are maintained in all circumstances.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is also why independent officiants should not be allowed - they need proper supervision and monitoring by a responsible authority.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I do not think that independent officiants should be appointed at all - this is not only a risky and potentially irresponsible suggestion, but would also require costly monitoring! It would be better to restrict officiants to those appointed by appropriate and responsible organisations.

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think that officiants should be regularly assessed, trained and re-authorised to maintain the standard of their work.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I think that the public expression of consent is a necessary part of the marriage ceremony which should not be abandoned, nor that of publicly declaring that there are no known impediments to the marriage taking place. These are important safeguards against forced, bigamous, and sham marriages.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I believe that marriage is a legal ceremony with both spiritual & social significance and there should be a limit on what the officiant and couple can choose to personalise their ceremony. The vows and obligations of marriage should be clearly and publicly declared at all ceremonies so that its social role and legal and moral responsibilities are always recognised by all present.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is confusing the social and spiritual elements of marriage - church/religious weddings should contain their appropriate religious content, whereas civil ceremonies should not. If people choose not to have a church/religious ceremony, then they should not expect to be able to include religious content.

Please share your views below:

See above.

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is not a private matter - it has social implications that go far beyond the legal contract entered into by couples, which could be done in a private meeting with a lawyer! As a foundational social bond supporting healthy family life today, it requires - as it has always required - the social support which public access provides. Open doors are also a vital additional safeguard against forced or sham marriages taking place, where the wider public have the opportunity to be present and approve/disapprove what is taking place.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is not a consumer product, and the location of a marriage ceremony will reflect the seriousness in which officiants and couples may present and take the vows, obligations and responsibilities of marriage. To allow ceremonies to take place in inappropriate locations - skydiving, underwater, underground, in a shopping mall/store, etc. - undermines the significance of the event, making it laughable and unworthy. Wedding locations should be vetted by the General Registrar, as at present, to determine whether they are appropriate for this important social ceremony.

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

See comments above.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Public access to weddings should remain a legal requirement to safeguard against sham and forced marriages.

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Churches, synagogues, mosques, and temples are usually designated for the worship of specific deities / religious purposes, and should not be made available for purposes that go against their foundational beliefs, which non-religious ceremonies would do.

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It should be the responsibility of the General Registrar to approve wedding locations, whatever the views of an officiant or couple.

Consultation Question 52:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think that the definition of 'safe' and 'dignified' is so vague as to be almost worthless, and these definitions should not be given to officiants or couples, but retained by the General Registrar who should inspect and approve venues for their appropriateness.

No

Please expand on your answer:

This should be done by the General Registry Office as its responsibility, and not given to officiants or couples.

Consultation Question 53:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I think there should be an obligatory pre-approval process, as at present, that is administered solely by the General Registry Office, and not passed down to officiants or couples.

Please share your views below:

The General Registry Office (possibly through its local Registrars) should be solely responsible for pre-approving locations for weddings.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Witnesses (and public access to a marriage ceremony) should remain a legal requirement for all marriages to safeguard against sham or forced marriages.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not requiring cohabitation after a marriage ceremony opens the door to sham weddings / marriages of convenience, and undermines the social significance of marriage itself.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think that this undermines the possibility of fully assessing in-person the free consent of parties - there must be safe ways of doing this in-person so that all parties are protected and so witnesses can be present in-person when a ceremony, to safeguard against sham and forced marriages.

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think that there should be a legal requirement to gain medical evidence of a claim of terminal illness.

Consultation Question 68:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Only in the case of serving Royal Navy staff on their vessels by authorised officiants.

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Only for Royal Navy staff on their appointed vessels.

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The same requirements as for a wedding in the UK should apply.

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The pre-approval process for wedding locations should be obligatory not optional.

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

I think that wedding locations require strict pre-approval of their appropriateness for such a significant legal and social ceremony.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Reasonable fees should be expected by everyone wishing to support marriage as a key component of the health of our society.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD3F-U

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 13:39:19

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Anything that makes marriage easier or quicker is wrong.

I was married in [REDACTED] we announced our proposed marriage in Church,
We had to attend Church for 3 weeks to hear our Banns to be read out publicly.
Couples courted for months before deciding on marriage.
Act in haste repent at leisure was the order of the day.

Why change a system that worked.

Are all these consultations and changes to what God created marriage to be simply to provide lucrative employment for so many people in Government.
If there had been a referendum concerning what the people believed how and where marriage should take place , and between who we would not be in the sorry state that we are now in.

Our Government have a lot to answer for, it has been said that even David Cameron has admitted making mistakes concerning same sex marriages.
.We are hearing a lot concerning child Mental problems are the Government willing to publish the figures regarding the increase of these problems since LGBT became legal and also the impact gender change issues have made ?

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

People should be told of the importance and sanctity of marriage.
Far to many have married , some just live together have children , within a few years split causing all sorts of problems.

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

People need to consider carefully what marriage and commitment really means

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

No , Face to Face will make the interview real , greater interaction is possible face to face.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

If they want to marry in the UK then they need to be in the UK to give notice.

Consultation Question 9:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I can see no advantage, marriage is personal they are capable of telling everyone who needs to know.

Consultation Question 10:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If couples decide to get married after the 12 months they must still be committed to each other

Consultation Question 11:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why complicate things. keep things simple

Consultation Question 12:

No

Please expand on your answer:

As I said before keep it simple

Please share your views below:

If the wedding and reception is arranged they would expect the ceremony to go ahead.

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The Banns should be read in the Church that they are going to be married in Traditionally marriage was in a Church, I understand that the divorce rate has been far less than those done in public places.

Consultation Question 14:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

If an Anglican Church is bombed Just go to the next nearest church or Chapel

What ever happened to common sense?

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Yes Why would any other Church be interested?

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

I believe it is customary for the Clergy to meet with the couple be the Banns are read out in Church.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Why bother if they are intending to get married they will not tell anyone that there is an impediment.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Why waste time or money with 2 preliminaries

Marriage has become like a the throw away commodities and games we buy in the supermarket, when you are tired of them throw them in the bin.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD3D-S

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 13:43:06

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

none

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

[REDACTED]

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

i was married in a church ceremony.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should be a recognition that where the married couple live is important.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The intention to marry should be made public, not done in a corner. Marriage is the bedrock of society and should be given public recognition as such.

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

There should be a firm, long-term commitment to marry, with the intention that the marriage should be permanent. Therefore, the notice to marry should be given with plenty of notice, not rushed into in a hurry.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

This should be permitted, with the proviso that this should be ratified later if there are any concerns that either one is under pressure or is unfit to declare their own mind.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Marriages should be a part of society's recognition that marriage is one of the ways adults should live together.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

We should keep to the existing ways of publishing banns etc. Marriage is the bedrock of society and should remain so.

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Banns should be public knowledge, not done in secret or in a corner.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes. Marriage is important and should be entered into with the intention that it should be for life. Therefore, all safeguards should be taken to preserve the integrity of such an important part of the way we live.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes, they should, because the couple should be required to ensure that everyone knows that their marriage is legal. There should be nothing hidden from society.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

The Anglican church has an important role to play in our society, and the clergy should be held in high esteem, and able to conduct weddings.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage must be preserved as an important institution of our society, and is a public declaration of their intention to live together for the rest of their lives.

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Those who conduct marriage ceremonies should be trained and held in high public esteem.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as the official is properly trained.

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

They will presumably be trained.

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as there are sufficient safeguards to ensure that the officiants are suitably trained and are upright members of society.

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Everyone has the right to subscribe to a non-religious belief system, provided that its marriage ceremony reflects the sacredness and permanence of the institution of marriage.

Please share your views below:

There should be such a list of those organisations which share the belief in the supreme importance of marriage in society, and only those organisations should be allowed to conduct wedding ceremonies.

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Such a proposal is too vague. Any organisation licensed to conduct wedding ceremonies should have a national structure and its beliefs and ceremonies made public, and show a due deference to the importance of marriage, in particular that it should last for a whole lifetime.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Obviously any wedding ceremony must show due deference to publicly accepted norms of morality and decency. Marriage is a key part of our society and should remain so.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Yes, provided they are properly trained by a recognised procedure.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Everything should be done above board, and nominated officiants must be trained and recognised by a respectable national institution, which promotes the importance of marriage.

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This must be on condition that the proposed officiant is in agreement that marriage should be entered into with the intention that such a marriage should be permanent.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Officiants must go through training to ensure that they agree with the ideal of marriage to be a life-long commitment.

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As said before, all officiants should show that they agree that marriage is intended to be permanent.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

A wedding ceremony should never be made a commercial business, and all officiants should conduct wedding ceremonies without charging a fee for themselves.

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Only the licence fee should be paid for a wedding ceremony. Officiants should never conduct a wedding ceremony for monetary gain.

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Otherwise there would be considerable confusion about the nature of the ceremony. and mixed messages about the value of marriage may be received.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is a very important institution of our society, and should be upheld at every wedding ceremony.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There should be uniformity on how weddings are to be conducted.

Consultation Question 37:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

All organisations should be recognised by one body overseeing all the principles needed to marry a couple.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There must be some co-ordinated authority overseeing the way weddings are conducted.

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There must be an overall standard agreed by all parties.

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Officiants should retire at the age of 70, or if they are deemed no longer fit to conduct wedding ceremonies.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Officiants should be professional in al they do.

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If there is no obligation to state that there is no impediment to the marriage some would marry a 2nd or 3rd partner, thus committing bigamy.

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

People should be able to marry according to their beliefs, provided the institution of permanent marriage is upheld.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Couples should be allowed to express their views, according to the high value society places on marriage.

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Couples can have a more meaningful religious ceremony after the official one, if they so wish.

Consultation Question 47:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

They should only be conducted in a right and fitting location.

Please share your views below:

The location should be in a right and seemingly fitting location.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

The questions are too unclear for me to make a sensible answer.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There must always be dignity.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Obviously; that is common sense.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There must be uniformity.

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Too much read tape.

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All the usual safeguards should still apply.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Both parties should co-habit after the ceremony as soon as is possible, otherwise the marriage is void after a period of time.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A person's presence at the ceremony is essential.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD3M-2

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 13:43:08

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Private citizen

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is a serious commitment that should be given the respect and time it deserves

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

In the present circumstances this would seem sensible so long as a face to face interview takes place prior to permission being granted to proceed.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

I refer to my previous answers, Marriage is a huge benefit to society and should be treated as such.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Nothing should take the place of a face to face interview, it is so easy to fake or mislead remotely.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Possibly.

Consultation Question 9:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

How would this be publicised?

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

In an ideal world where nothing goes wrong!

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Seems sensible

Consultation Question 14:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure.

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

They should be publicised more widely.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Again, this seems like a very sensible and needed course of action.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Again, this seems like a very sensible and needed course of action.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is so important to family life and society at large that it should be treated with dignity.

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There must be other circumstances where they are required.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

More understanding is needed of implications.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There has to be a certain size of company involved, 20 seems fair.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

This is a bit "catch-all" and would need to be clarified.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Possibly.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Certainly.

Consultation Question 31:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Certainly.

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This must cover all aspects of the wedding ceremony, including tone and location etc

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But capable of adaption to suit individual beliefs and circumstances.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But not limited to them.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But with some requirement to keep abreast of legal developements.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is a serious commitment, it is not much to ask that a declaration is made publicly that there is liberty to enter into a life-long partnership. There is already a fair degree of flexibility about what can be said, but a minimum requirement should be met.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It would be so easy for the ceremony and marriage itself to be reduced to a party if there are no mininum requirements. Las-Vegas here we come!

Consultation Question 44:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure I fully understand this question, but if you want a particular form of wedding ceremony why would you then want to deviate from that groups beliefs and practices.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Why should a couple not be able to give expression to their beliefs if for some reason they still want a civil ceremony first.

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No! This has good and long standing reasons.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

There must be some inappropriate settings excluded, marriage is not a joke and shouldn't be treated as such.

in the air, and/or

Please share your views below:

Again there have to be some sensible limits, public access is also important to ensure there is no coercion.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There has been good reasons for this, and now possibly more than ever, public access to these events should not be restricted.

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This third point seems counter to logic. Why would anyone with these views want to?

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

So long as they properly assess the suitability and dignity of the venue. A wedding cannot be held just anywhere regardless of surroundings and circumstances.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes but some clear guidelines need to be issued.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As above.

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Local registrar?

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure why this is needed?

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

These systems still seem to be able to be exploited and are rarely watertight.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I don't feel qualified to answer.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I don't feel qualified to answer.

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There has to be a time limit.

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Of course!

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

I don't feel qualified to answer.

Consultation Question 63:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

There may well be circumstances when this is just not possible, but it shouldn't be the norm.

Consultation Question 64:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I don't feel qualified to answer.

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is serious and time should be made for it.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Hasn't this always been the case?

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Hasn't this always been the case?

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

I do not feel qualified to answer this question.

Consultation Question 71:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I do not feel qualified to answer this question.

Consultation Question 72:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I do not feel qualified to answer this question.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I do not feel qualified to answer this question.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Not the least as far as I am aware.

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No, some time limit is required.

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I believe that your proposals would possibly make it easier for people to get married but at the same time make the act significantly less meaningful.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I have no information to assist with this.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I have no information to assist with this.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

I have no information to assist with this.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

I have no information to assist with this.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I have no information to assist with this.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I have no information to assist with this.

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I have no information to assist with this.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I have no information to assist with this.

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I have no information to assist with this.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I have no information to assist with this.

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

I have no information to assist with this.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDZQ-D

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 13:47:12

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage between men and women only

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

You cannot trust the organisation that nominated them to do the right thing

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

How ridiculous

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

outdoors,, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I dont support same sex marriage

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I dont support same sex marriage

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD3R-7

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 13:48:14

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I was married in a registry office in Manchester

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I see no reason why the present system of Registrars should not be sufficient for any organisation. Allowing this system to be altered reduces the dignity of marriage.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The same as question 23

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This country is a Christian country . I have no objection to people having other beliefs, but they have the option of marriage by the registrar.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, but, what is meant by the dignity and solemnity of marriage? I think that all of these proposals are trying to destroy the dignity and solemnity of marriage.

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If each party is allowed to express consent according to their beliefs - gives leave to introduce bigamy and other conditions which are unacceptable. If this is accepted there will be a lot of loopholes.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Gives leave to introduce conditions which are unacceptable. If this is accepted there will be a lot of loopholes and unscrupulous people will take advantage..

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why? People's beliefs can change. This proposal is seriously out of order.

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why? Someone uninvited may have some pertinent information to impart.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This would seriously undermine the dignity and solemnity of marriage.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

No

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Only if the officiant is the Government Registrar

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Only if the officiant is the Government Registrar

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Guidance is not enough. It gives leeway to not abide by the rules and probably wouldn't be policed.

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There is no reliable security for anything electronic

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Don't understand number 4

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This appears to be open to evil intentions and could create loopholes.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A small reduction in the time limit, possibly but, if abolished completely it would make a mockery of marriage.

Consultation Question 61:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDZ7-K

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 14:00:03

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Self

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As well as upholding the dignity and solemnity of marriage, themselves, the officiant should have the responsibility of ensuring that the content and time of the legal ceremony upholds the dignity and solemnity of marriage. The proposals should define what constitutes "solemnity" and "dignity".

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It should not be possible for someone to get married, without being present. This could lead to coercion and forced marriage.

If couples can entirely choose their own words, this could lead to undermining the solemnity of marriage.

Marriage has always been intended as a life long union; if the words are changed, one partner could enter the marriage expecting a life long union, whilst the other has no intention of that. One partner might be deceived by the subtle choice of words proposed by the other. Currently couples have considerable flexibility over what is contained in the marriage ceremony. Couples should continue to be allowed to make these additions, but the prescribed words should not be omitted or replaced. The prescribed words offer safety and security, in that both parties know that they are becoming married in a "standard" arrangement upheld by the British law.

A marriage should continue to be a union of two people, as defined in law.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A marriage ceremony is a serious and solemn legal event. The legality and publicity of the marriage is important to society and protects vulnerable people from being taken advantage of. Couples can celebrate the marriage, either before or after the ceremony, in whatever way appeals to them.

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The "open doors"/ public access requirement is important in making marriages public. This protects against bigamy and forced marriages. Marriage is not just a contract between two people, it has legal and public ramifications.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is a serious and solemn commitment for life. It is therefore appropriate that it should only be allowed to take place in certain approved venues. outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

A marriage in a hot air balloon or on a boat, could easily be a forced marriage, where one party has no chance of escape until they have signed. I have heard of an unofficial marriage taking place at a comic book convention. This does not give the marriage the solemnity which it deserves.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It is important that someone, not invited, can attend and speak up to protect someone who is being duped or forced into marriage.

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There should be stringent safeguards in place to clarify what constitutes "dignified" and "safe".

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD3S-8

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 14:00:10

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I am married in the conventional sense

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I can think of reasons why this rule could reasonably be modified

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Agree

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Agree

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

We are still a United Kingdom

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

This seems a reasonable precaution

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

They should

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

They should

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

(

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

A fuller definition of what is understood by dignified and solemn with perhaps examples of what would breach this definition

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Both parties must be present

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There must be some degree of formality to the rules beyond which the couple should not stray

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think there should be some limits e.g. on land rather than in the air or under the sea.

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,

Please share your views below:

Should be on land and in a public place

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The public should have access

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

The couple must choose a religious or civil wedding and whichever is chosen the formalities should take place in an appropriate environment

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

The officiant should have the right to refuse to conduct a wedding in any place he considers unsuitable or undignified

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I believe that the concept of same sex marriage is wrong and should have remained as a civil union. Marriage by definition should remain a partnership between one man and one woman for life.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage must be preceded by a ceremony

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

These might be exceptions to my belief that the ceremony should preferably be in a public place

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Most of the provisional proposals are acceptable and should clarify the present situation

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDZV-J

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 14:05:40

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

N/A

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

MY NAME I TREAT AS CONFIDENTIAL. IT IS GIVEN OLNLY FOR THIS RESPONSE.

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

NO BARRIERS

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

MARRIAGE IS SOCIALLY IMPORTANT. SO THE LOCAL SOCIETY SHOULD BE ABLE TO GET TO KNOW ABOUT COMING CEREMONY. IT SHOULD BE AT LEAST 3 MONTHS TO LIVE IN LOCAL SOCIETY BEFORE THE WEDDING CEREMONY.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

3 MONTHS

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

IT SHOULD BE ONLY IN-PERSON INTERVIEWS.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

YES

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

NO. IT SHOULD BE IN EMERGENCY SITUATIONS ONLY.
OFFICIAL ROLE IS IMPORTANT AND SHOULD NOT BE DIMINISH BY ANY CIRCUMSTANCES

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

NO COMMENT

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

YES

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

YES. IT IS CRUCIAL FOR BOTH PARTIES TO EXPRESS THE DECLARATION

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

IN MY OPINION IT WORKS WELL.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

NO COMMENT

Consultation Question 23:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

NO COMMENTS

Consultation Question 24:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

NO COMMENTS

Please share your views below:

NO COMMENTS

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

YES IT SHOULD BE EXCLUDED - WITH POSSIBLE EXCEPTION OF VIEW THAT MARRIAGE IS ONE MAN AND ONE WOMAN ONLY. THIS IS A TRADITIONAL VIEW OF MARRIAGE AND SHOULD NOT BE TREATED AS AGAINST THE LAW OR MORALITY IF THE LAW IS CHANGED.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

NO. IT SHOULD BE REAL AND PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY FOR THESE AFFAIRS.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

IT IS NECESSARY TO ADD THAT THE RESPONSIBILITY SHOULD BE EXPRESSED DURING WEDDING CEREMONY - IN CONTENT AND TONE - NOT ONLY IN A PRIVATE LIFE OF THE OFFICIANTS.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

BOTH MARRIAGE PARTIES SHOULD BE PRESENT IN-PERSON DURING THE CEREMONY.

THERE SHOULD BE OFFICIAL WORDING FOR MARRIAGE VOW - WITH POSSIBLE ADDING TO IT. LACK OF THE OFFICIAL WORDING WILL DIMINISH A SOLEMNITY AND DIGNITY OF THE MARRIAGE AND THE CEREMONY.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

ALLOWING FOR FLEXIBILITY IT SHOULD BE REQUIRED A MINIMUM FORMALITY WHICH EXPRESSES A SOLEMNITY AND DIGNITY OF MARRIAGE.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

REASONABLE BUT TO THE MINIMUM.

Consultation Question 46:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

NO COMMENT

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

CEREMONY OF MARRIAGE IS BY NATURE A PUBLIC AND SOCIETY'S EVENT.

THE OPEN DOORS REQUIREMENT WAS INTRODUCED LONG AGO TO PROTECT AGAINST FORCED MARRIAGE, WHICH IS A PROBLEM UNTILL TODAY.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

ONLY IN THE PLACES WHICH MEETS CRITERIA OF DIGNITY AND SOLEMNITY OF THE MARRIAGE CEREMONY.

Please share your views below:

ONLY IN THE PLACES WHICH MEETS CRITERIA OF DIGNITY AND SOLEMNITY OF THE MARRIAGE CEREMONY.

Consultation Question 49:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

NO COMMENT

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

IT SHOULD BE DONE LOCALY BY LOCAL COUNCIL.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

NO COMMENT

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

COHABITATION IS AN ESSENTIAL ELEMENT OF MARRIAGE.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

NO COMMENT

Consultation Question 60:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

NO COMMENT

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

NO COMMENT

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

NO COMMENT

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

NO COMMENT

Other

Please expand on your answer:

NO COMMENT

Other

Please expand on your answer:

NO COMMENT

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

NO

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

NAME OF OFFICIANT SHOULD BE REQUIRED.

Consultation Question 72:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

NO COMMENT

Other

Please expand on your answer:

NO COMMENT

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

NO COMMENT

Consultation Question 74:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

NO COMMENT

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

THE PROVISIONAL PROPOSALS MAKE IT EASIER TO GET MARRIED BUT ALSO DIMMINISH SOLEMNITY AND DIGNITY OF MARRIAGE IN SEVERAL PROPOSITIONS.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

NO COMMENTS

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

NO COMMENTS

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

NO COMMENTS

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

NO COMMENTS

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

NO COMMENTS

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

CHANGES SHOULD HAVE POSITIVE IMPACT ON LOCAL AUTHORITIES

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

NO COMMENTS

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

NO COMMENTS

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

NO COMMENTS

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

NO COMMENTS

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

NO COMMENTS

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDZW-K

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 14:09:43

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Our marriage is not only recognised by law but also involved solemn vows made to each other before God as it is a very serious commitment that we make to each other that will affect our children in a massive way if either of us choose to mock those vows

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is the very least that a couple should be doing to prove their commitment is understood to be both lasting and honest.

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

See the answer to the previous question

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

Longer - please see the answer to the previous question

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

See the answer to the first question

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

See answer to first question - if the couple are serious about their commitment then they will wait and learn that patience is very important in a marriage

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

I do not understand this proposal

Consultation Question 11:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Only as long as the officiant is a qualified and nationally recognised officiant as before.

Consultation Question 12:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

See answer to the previous question

Please share your views below:

No. There should be a recognised and qualified officiant who should also be taking his/her role very seriously and who will not just 'duck out' on a whim

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

If the couple wishing to get married do not believe in God or choose not to have a relationship with God then I don't see why they would need to involve the Church. However, this should not detract from the need for them to understand the seriousness of the step which they are choosing to take

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why change it? If the couple cannot be bothered with the process at this stage then they certainly haven't the stomach for a commitment that should last a lifetime

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

See answer to the previous question

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes and the clergy should be trained in both

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Of course they should - these declarations should be made to each other, the qualified marrying person and before witnesses

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

At the risk of repeating myself, this is serious - certainly not a 'quickie' for the fun of it

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Again, this ceremony should be both legal and binding and this should also be made absolutely clear to the couple wishing to enter into a marriage

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Do not understand the relevance of this question

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

How is different to the present setup?

Consultation Question 22:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I believe that there should be specific training for this role

Consultation Question 23:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

What kind of non-religious belief organisation would be determined to conduct marriage ceremonies outside of what is already in place: religious or registry office??

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Use a registry office! If you believe in God, make your marriage vows before God; if you don't believe in God, make your marriage vows before man.

Please share your views below:

See the answer to the previous question

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Please see answer to the previous question

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

I'm seriously not confident that the government is the right body to approach with regards to morality

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Is this different to present setup?

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Again, if the couple believe in God they should make their vows to each other before God; if they don't believe in God then they make their vows (which should still be acknowledged as solemn) before a qualified registrar, not any Tom, Dick or (joking aside) Elvis

Consultation Question 30:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Again, I question the need for 'non-religious' groups

Consultation Question 31:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

See previous answers to this section

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The way that this consultation is pushing, 'marriage for profit' is the next obvious wall to climb. Leave marriage as it is - it has been ruined badly enough without you twisting it beyond any recognition

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If they are doing it for money then they have missed the point of their role already

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

I do not understand the point here

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage came from God and so why would a secular body be issuing guidance to the Church as to how a marriage ceremony should be conducted?

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Again, why would a secular body (General Register Office) have power over the church as to how it conducts marriage ceremonies?

Consultation Question 39:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

See above

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

The ceremony should remain as it is

Consultation Question 43:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

The ceremony should remain as it is

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

The ceremony should remain as it is

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

I'd have to question what religious content if they have decided on a civil ceremony?

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Why?

Consultation Question 47:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Why?

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDZ5-H

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 14:09:56

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

N/a

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Need to be resident longer because it is open to abuse.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Person to person interview would be a good idea.

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

2 weeks minimum

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Always face to face.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

With legally recognised arrangements with other commonwealth countries etc.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Open to public scrutiny and record.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

No. Open to abuse.

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Also on internet to make them publicly known.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes. More scrutiny required as too much abuse with immigration possible.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes, legally binding documentation required.

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

All wedding services require this scrutiny.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

With scrutiny also.

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

More rigorous regulation required so not open to abuse.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Proper legal position like a registrar, not a made up pseudo religion.

Please share your views below:

Fantasy groups like Star Wars characters and Klingon "religions" should be prohibited.

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Have an official wedding with registrar and then a non official wedding with made up officials secondary.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Definitely exclude those which are contrary to public good and morality.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Can nominate but then be scrutinised by government officials if suitable to hold the post with dignity.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Keep a public record of all nominees.

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Also undertake rigorous screening as well as the organisation that the person is fit and proper.

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Don't know.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

And the government registrar.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Who sets the standard?

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Reference to God allowed. Lords Prayer.

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Public access needs to be permitted.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

In a dignified place.

Please share your views below:

In places associated with recognised venues eg, hotels , country houses etc.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Have to have public accessibility for the purposes of scrutiny. Things hidden away are hidden away for a reason.

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Only religious services should take place in religious settings. Not to be used because it is a nice setting.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

On a register of suitable places, and be vetted.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Both parties agree at interview.

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Some change in arrangements? Like cohabitation or name change, more scrutiny required as for the purpose of the marriage.

No

Please expand on your answer:

Need to go through a formal marriage service.

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Prison not allowed housebound people not allowed, only dying patients allowed special circumstances.

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Only dying patients given special consideration.

Consultation Question 64:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure what advantage this would be.

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No, not necessary. Prisoners can't get married.

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not necessary.

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not necessary.

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Only in emergency situations only.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

None, no demand.

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Losing the solemnity and dignity from the wedding service with reduce the respect with which it is held. Weddings should be held in just a few designated venues in addition to religious buildings.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

It isn't the cost of a wedding that stops people from doing it. It is the respect that it has in society. If a lot of people don't respect the institution it doesn't matter how cheap you make it or frivolous it is still denuded.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Making it cheaper or easier will have no benefit what so ever.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

This is open to so much abuse and nonsense.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

There needs to be far more rigorous control on marriage regulation to stop abuse and scam marriages.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD3T-9

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 14:13:49

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Surely people getting married should have their intention to marry published in the area where they individually live in order to give people chance to challenge for example their right to marry

Consultation Question 5:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

It is vital to prevent forced marriages that people are seen and their identities confirmed using some legal photo id and their desire to marry established and this should be done without anyone else present being able to intimidate the person.

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

I think that remote interviews allows use of forged id papers to give permission for the real person to marry without them being the person impersonating them. All interviews must be in person, even if it means that the registrar has to visit the person, should they be infirm etc.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Seems reasonable to continue.

Consultation Question 9:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

You can display online, but should also display locally with, in Anglican churches, the bans being read.
If there is a risk of harm to either of the couple then they should be protected and not displaying online would help.

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The marriage would not be able to go ahead if the only officiant was indisposed.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

At the moment if instead of identifying the officiant the eg place of worship is identified, then any of the authorised persons at that place may be involved and we often have one authorised person take the service saying the legal words, and another authorised person filling in the register. This change should allow the substitute to also have a role if it proves helpful.

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I'd like to know why this change is needed before answering this.

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

I would think that this is important, though there is little likelihood of a forced marriage in an Anglican church there remains the problem of sham weddings.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

That seems reasonable

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

The Anglican church is the established church in England and Wales

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But it is also important that they agree that marriage is a serious step and is intended to be for life.

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Some churches may not have an authorised person and a couple wishing to marry there would need someone from the registry office to attend.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as there is scope for more than one to officiate if there is good reason.

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Baptist churches although they have a national organisation are independent and so would lose some of that independence if the national body had to nominate. At present the local church leadership nominate people to the registrar general to obtain authorisation for them. This should continue.

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I think that is a sensible statement.

Please share your views below:

I guess that these days any pub or restaurant or conference centre would like to be able to officiate and despite my concerns about the loss of solemnity in marriages, I can't see why anyone properly instructed in the legal framework should not be able to officiate.

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

This goes against the approach that you claim to be seeking, that people can get married in line with their wishes. I think that only if the organisation does not agree with marriage and its solemn life-long bond, or is not willing to follow the legal framework and checks required for a legal marriage should that organisation be excluded. You should note that public policy can easily change and so could outlaw mainstream Christian churches who for instance do not perform same-sex marriages, and thing which could easily be thought of as contrary to public policy. The marriages they did perform would nonetheless be legal.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Yes if they wanted to do so.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

What would be required of such individuals to prove that they are responsible and worthy of this responsibility?

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

That goes without saying!

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

BUT there is no-one confirming that such an individual is fit and proper, so how is that to be worked out?

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is a privilege to officiate at a wedding and only a nominal fee should be charged.

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If people want to employ an independent officiant then they will hopefully have to be told what that person would charge in advance of booking them. They would also need to arrange an alternative officiant in case anything happened to the first. Independent officiants might allow themselves to conduct sham weddings for the profit it might bring. I am concerned that independent officiants need some oversight.

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I'd think that there would be potential conflict of interest.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes. Marriage is for life and for the bringing up of children to be good citizens and so the vows taken and the ceremony must truly reflect the solemnity and dignity of marriage.

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

It depends on whether the General Registry office guidance is itself suitable to produce solemn and dignified wedding ceremonies.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But should not be the only ones able to request withdrawal of authorisation.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But how will they monitor them?

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is one of the ways of monitoring them.

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I think that each party should declare that there are no legal impediments to them marrying. This is an important public declaration and should not be restricted to a private statement in the preliminaries.

Consent must also be significantly public and not just a written statement, which may have been coerced.

I guess that you mean that organisations should have a standard wording which they advise the GRO that they always use, rather than a wording for each wedding, which would be a bit onerous.

Consultation Question 43:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Within the GRO's guidelines on what is solemn and dignified.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Things should continue with the status quo for these groups.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But how would you say that it can be identified as civil in this circumstance?

Please share your views below:

Prayers, hymns, reading of religious texts

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I don't see why if someone wants to proceed in this way they should be prevented from re-stating their vows in a religious way. Also consider that people from time to time like to renew their vows. Once a person is married in a civil ceremony, there is of course no legal benefit in a religious ceremony so why ban that option?

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Weddings are public events and people must be allowed to object to a wedding if there are undeclared legal impediments, such a person would not be among the invited guests so the ceremony needs to be open and public. Open doors obviously doesn't mean leaving the doors wide open to let the cold in, just that people have access through the doors, they aren't locked.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should be a means for members of the public to be present and for instance a wedding taken during a sky dive prevents the public from attending as would holding it on the top of the old man of hoy.

Please share your views below:

The basic premise must be that the public can attend, not just invited guests and so that should be the limiting factor. Can any member of the public attend the ceremony if they wished? So private places, sky diving, or on a plane or on or under inland waters are not suitable places that the public can be expected to have free access to.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A marriage is something that belongs to society as a whole, not just to the couple or invited guests. It is not just an agreement between two persons, it has to be acknowledged and respected by society. That is why it should remain accessible to the public. Of course space may prevent some members of the public from entering, but as long as there is the right for them to enter that is what counts.

Consultation Question 50:

Other

Other

Other

Please expand on your answer:

If the venue is happy to have another group use their premises then that should not be a problem. But if one group attempts to impose its views on another by insisting on using their venue, then that should be prevented.

For example many churches would not be happy to have a same-sex wedding taking place in their church building. The owner of the venue should have the right to turn down any request they think would offend their beliefs.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The officiant obviously has the responsibility to fulfil legal constraints and to follow any guidelines on solemnity and dignity, and so must have the right to say no if the location is inappropriate. They should take that responsibility seriously.

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

And publicly accessible.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Guidance is helpful but what if the officiant chooses not to follow the guidance?

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, it will help couples plan their weddings if they know that the venue has been approved and cannot then be overruled by the officiant.

Please share your views below:

The owners or managers of venues should apply to the GRO for approval. They must provide evidence of its provision as a safe and dignified and publicly accessible venue. The owners of the venue should also be required to be fit and proper persons so as to not alter their provisions such that it ceases being safe, dignified or publicly accessible.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But obviously where one or other parent is not known, there should be no requirement to add this information. Indeed apart from date and location, the other information should not be mandatory, though it is most helpful if that information is available to people seeking to research ancestry and potentially for probate purposes.

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Providing the officiant is able to understand both English and Welsh.

Consultation Question 56:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Many locations will not have access to online forms and there is the potential for fraudulent activity or if the database is made public, or is not sufficiently secure against hacking, that people may use it to locate and harm people as considered in an earlier question. "Honour" killings are still unfortunately with us.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

As long as the marriage records are correct, any error in the issued marriage certificate should not invalidate the marriage, since a corrected certificate can be issued.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I thought that was the case already, that cohabitation is not sufficient to be considered a marriage. Such common-law marriages aren't legally marriages.

Consultation Question 60:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Does this mean that nullity can at any time be petitioned if there was not originally consent by both parties? If so then I agree. This would allow forced marriages to be annulled. If it means that it is not possible to petition at all then I disagree.

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Weddings should not take place remotely without witnesses seeing the signatures of the couple. All signatures should be on the same piece of paper. Nor should the public be excluded. The extension till after a national emergency is helpful. The preliminaries must take place in such a way that both parties are positively identified and no fraud may take place, I would not think that current online meeting software is adequate to achieve this.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Public accessibility.

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Public accessibility

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

None

Consultation Question 71:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage on board a vessel are not publicly accessible enough

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

My personal opinion is that in general it will have no effect on the number of couples getting married but it may result in couples being married in different venues and less church weddings.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YD36-B

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 14:32:44

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Retired

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Or I agree the seven days should be abolished if it was increased

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It adds to the commitment of getting married rather than a flippant regard to it,

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

More: Plenty of time to ensure the commitment is serious.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Agree

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

What does this gobbledegook mean?

Consultation Question 9:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Too much use is made of on-line identification for harassment. Reading the banns in a church or notice in newspaper as currently done is sufficient.

Consultation Question 10:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Don't understand the question.

Consultation Question 11:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The schedule should be fixed and not subject to change at people's will.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Can't help dying or being ill!

Please share your views below:

What other circumstances? Not explained.

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It should only authorise a wedding in the country in which it is to be performed.

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

What are the rules?

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes. It ensures that the marriage is taken seriously as defined in the wedding ceremony.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes.

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

This ensures that marriages are taken seriously

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, otherwise it is just "jumping the broomstick".

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Vague question. The registrar is always at an Anglican wedding for the certificate signing which should be the same for all weddings.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Surely one is enough!

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, it has to be just that otherwise anybody could be appointed.

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes. If people don't want to adhere to that then provisions are available in setting up a legal contract between them. A marriage whether religious or not should be taken seriously. If couples don't want to do that then they don't have to, they can still live together with the protection of the law. There is no need to demean marriage for those couples who want the marriage service and commitment to remain serious.

Please share your views below:

No. The Church or register office is sufficient.

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

No. People should be able to get "married" how they want. The government should not have a role in dictating how the ceremony is carried out and should not interfere with the order of any church service, but they should ensure that any organisation that conducts wedding ceremonies are fit and proper. What is required is the protection of the law that defines marriage however entered into. ie. It is done with forethought and is permanent and can only be dissolved through a divorce (after a period of time) when either party has breached the marriage contract. If couples do not want this, then do not get married and just live together with a legal contract.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

You can't be a vicar and perform a civil ceremony. It is a contradiction of terms.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Absolutely.

Consultation Question 36:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It is up to religion or beliefs of people how they want to get married. It is the law of the country that should protect to the commitment to marriage.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This seems contradictory. Even if they declare no impediment during the preliminaries it may come up at the "eleventh" hour.

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Should be able to wear religious dress or adornments.

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why interfere with this? It is common to have a "marriage blessing". What is this to do with government?

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This prevents any unruly behaviour by uninvited guests.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Well, as long as the registrar is in attendance and they don't mind!

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If couples want a civil wedding do it in a civil establishment. If they want a religious wedding do it in the Church. You should not be able to mix and match. I can't see a vicar marrying someone in the pub.

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Some people are just stupid, but if the registrar refuses to attend at an inappropriate venue the wedding will not take place.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, but this is subjective. The officiant may agree that an underwater venue is safe and dignified.

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Pre-approval? That should be predefined.

Please share your views below:

It should be predefined so the officiant can't change it on a whim.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes. This is know as "The Marriage Certificate". Anything without this information may not be accepted in other countries as proof of marriage.

Consultation Question 55:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Like it or not English is the official language of the UK. Put Welsh in by all means, but it must also be in English.

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, provided this doesn't replace the paper certificate.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Procedures should not be broken or bypassed. Rules are rules or why have them?

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Presumption should not override the fact they are not married.

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If the marriage is null it was so at the beginning. How can you get married if you didn't consent?

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

No problems with people getting married. This safeguards their inheritance according to the law.

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, providing it is done speedily. Unless you've only a few hours left.

Consultation Question 64:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Don't understand the question. If you mean abolish the "Marriage Certificate" i don't agree.

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

The emergency should be clearly defined and not subject to the officiant's whim. Sometimes couples through no fault of their own may be detained (as a hostage, say) who need to marry for inheritance purposes should be able to marry remotely.

No

Please expand on your answer:

All couples? No, exceptional circumstances.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Both parties should be compos mentis.

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

What? Walking on water? No problems with a civil ceremony on a ship, but a surfboard?

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

If it's a civil ceremony it's up to the registrar if he/she wants to go down in a submarine!

If it's a legal civil ceremony it's legal. Religious ceremonies don't pander to these odd locations.

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The name of the officiant should be mandatory.

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

I would doubt it.

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Define reasonable.

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Can't help being terminally ill.

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It's worked well so far, so why change it?

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Getting married should be viewed as a serious commitment. To financial security, moral behaviour and care of children. Despite the change in attitudes it is women who have children and depend on men to support them in this. We see single mothers suffering alone. That is what the word "married" means. If couples don't agree with this then they don't have to get married. They can live together without any commitment if they so desire and take out contracts for financial security.

Being "married" means that a breach of contract should be the only way a marriage can end and after a period of reflection, not anyone just walking away.

If marriage was defined as that I believe more people would get married. If it is easy for a marriage to end or there is no benefit to be married why would people do it?

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Unfortunately formal marriages have become a social event with venues exploiting everything they can making weddings, especially receptions, expensive.

The expense of authorised religious or civil ceremonies should be fixed at cost countrywide, but if it is at an unauthorised location that is up to the participants.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDZX-M

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 14:36:14

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

no it should not be possible for this to happen because of sham marriages.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDZP-C

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 14:43:36

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Church of England

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

My marriage is recognised by law of land and Church.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It is important for at least one of a couple to have a permanent address in the district.

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Application should be in person

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

at least three weeks

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

personal interview essential

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

no opinion

Consultation Question 9:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

no fixed opinion

Consultation Question 10:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Goes without saying - provided the substitute is a recognised officiant

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I fail to understand why the present system needs alteration

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Or in the parish church of each of the couple, as at present.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

I agree with both the above points

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Either is acceptable

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

On the understanding that a Church of England priest is automatically a registration officer.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

There should be such a list, including, e.g. organisations that are primarily political in nature, or whose raison d'etre is to campaign for or support some specific purpose, e.g. National Trust, RSPB, NSPCC.

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Number irrelevant, and some "sincerely held beliefs" may not be generally acceptable.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

And what if the organisation maintains that "public policy or morality" and in some cases even the law of the land are wrong? [As has often happened and is still happening in many countries]

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Officiants must be so ex officio; individual identity is irrelevant.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Irrelevant, if officiants are ex officio

Consultation Question 31:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

There should be no independent officiants, since that would be to open the gates to self-appointed officiants who are unsuitable. The 'training' could not prevent this.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

OK except for 1b, whose declaration should remain

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage concerns the public, is not merely a private contract between the man and woman concerned.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

free for all!

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

undignified ceremonies likely - and no 'privacy' for weddings is essential

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

weddings are not private events

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

No

Please expand on your answer:

not their responsibility

No

Please expand on your answer:

not necessary (see above)

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

not competent to answer

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

none

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

no great demand that I know of

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

no idea!

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDZ6-J

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 14:44:16

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Individual with no organisation represented.

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

N/A

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I was officially married on 23rd April 2003 and have a marriage certificate to prove it.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I disagree.

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

1 month.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

No, because there are outside influences affecting a truthful answer, which cannot be detected remotely.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

It should continue as it is.

Consultation Question 9:

No

Please expand on your answer:

An information available online is subject to abuse.

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Unsure

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

No

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is part of the Church's law.

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Church only.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

It is important that documentary evidence and meeting in person is important for Clergy to meet the couple.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Both have to make that declaration.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Very important.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think that this should also be in a church setting without restrictions on what is said in the ceremony, regarding religious belief and chosen songs/hymns.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Neither agree or disagree

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

It should not exclude religious organisations.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Neither agree or disagree.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Neither agree or disagree.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Officiants should have a wider responsibility to ensure that the content and tone of the LEGAL ceremony upholds the dignity and solemnity of marriage.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If there any issues than a converse to their duty as officiant then these issues should be investigated.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It should NOT be possible for someone to get married without being present at the wedding ceremony. A signature is not enough. Public declarations are considered foundational to a legal wedding ceremony. This undermines the solemnity of marriage and the commitment taken. A wedding is a union between a couple. Marriage would become an entirely private matter, almost like a hobby. Marriage is serious and should NOT be taken lightly.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is serious and committing. Trivialising marriage with themes doesn't reflect how seriously marriage should be taken.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It would be up to the church to decide on those rules.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

If those getting married wish to have a religious content, then that should be the case.

Consultation Question 46:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This should be a matter of choice. A church blessing is often followed by a civil ceremony but not compulsory.

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is a historical requirement as a protection against forced marriages and should be kept.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is a serious matter and not entered into lightly. There should be appropriate places to hold such a significant ceremony. By holding a marriage just anywhere undermines the solemnity of such an undertaking and trivialises the institution of marriage.

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

This would be contrary to the dignity of marriage.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

They should have public access, otherwise it's would be encouraging illegal marriages.

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Other

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I do not agree with non religious weddings taking place in a church setting, against the beliefs of its members. I do think that religious content could be applied to civil marriage, should the couple request it.

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Who decides if a venue is dignified and safe? There should be guidance and stringent safeguards in place in order to clarify what is safe and dignified.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

It should be approved by law and applied throughout the UK.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

N/A

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

N/A

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

N/A

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

N/A

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

N/A

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

N/A

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

N/A

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

N/A

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

N/A

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

N/A

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFJ9-7

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 14:52:25

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

[REDACTED]

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

No

Please expand on your answer:

'Dignity' and 'solemnity' are quite vague and could be misinterpreted and therefore require more clarification as to what is meant specifically by these 2 words for officiant and the actual ceremony.

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I don't think the prescribed words should change as this is a legal contract and it's very important to confirm that both parties are marrying of their own free will.

To not even have to be at the wedding in person and still be able to get married is a ludicrous idea and open to much abuse of the whole procedure.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Again, I see opportunity for too much levity. This is an official and legal ceremony and should be treated as such.

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The ceremony should always be public to prevent individuals secretly marrying multiple people, and to safeguard against coercion.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Clarity needs to be given to the phrase 'dignified and safe' as if left ambiguous as currently proposed then a complete mockery could be made of this legal ceremony.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Clarity needs to be given to the phrase 'dignified and safe' as if left ambiguous as currently proposed then a complete mockery could be made of this legal ceremony.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDZM-9

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 15:01:13

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

N/A

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

[REDACTED]

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

No need for confidentiality

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

My marriage is recognised

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

So many couples live and work apart at present.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

Fourteen days

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Interviews should be in person.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

This looks reasonable.

Consultation Question 9:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not just on line. They should also be publicly displayed in print format. Not everyone is online.

Consultation Question 10:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I am unsure about my response to this.

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This looks reasonable.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I am unsure about this.

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

This looks reasonable, although there might be times when 2 is impossible and an alternative person should meet with one party.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

I am unsure about this.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is too open ended.

Consultation Question 44:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This is confusing.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

My sister and her husband had a civil ceremony to please themselves and a religious ceremony after to please the family. It worked.

Consultation Question 47:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Why?

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Some folk may decide on an unsuitable venue.

in private homes.

Please share your views below:

Marriage in private homes or hospitals should only take place if one person is unable to be anywhere else.

Consultation Question 49:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Only in special circumstances. Otherwise it should be public.

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

What on earth is a 'dignified' location? Is a beach dignified? Is a cave dignified? Is an aeroplane dignified? You might as well use 'appropriate' Are you trying to rule out nightclubs and fun fairs?

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Maybe.

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

As well as, not instead of...

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFJV-4

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 15:09:21

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

N/A

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I am happy that officiants should be responsible for the dignity and solemnity of the occasion. But this question does not go far enough.

How does the Law Commission define 'dignity' and 'solemnity'? How will they convey this definition to officiants, and legislate for its parameters?

At the very least the officiants should have guidelines on the location and content of the ceremony that will promote dignity and solemnity rather than detract from them.

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This proposal waters down the dignity and solemnity too far. Marriage is not simply an agreement between two people. It is a public declaration to society that is then legally respected, privileged and protected. And it is a lifelong commitment, which may need the support of society to be honoured.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This proposal is far too 'private'. Marriage is a public declaration in which wider society and the state have a stake. There should continue to be a basic core to the ceremony required by legislation.

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This continues the mistaken and dangerous fallacy that marriage is a purely private matter. The original requirement for open doors was to protect against forced marriages. This remains a concern within some social groups.

But more generally marriage should be seen to be to a public declaration of a lifelong commitment, which may well need support and protection beyond what the couple themselves and the officiant can provide.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is an abrogation of responsibility.

The government should continue to exercise discrimination on what locations are, or are not, dignified and safe.

Location of a wedding has a big bearing on whether it is seen as dignified and solemn.

Please share your views below:

None of these venues is automatically disqualified, though it would be important to guard against danger and sheer novelty value on inland waters or in the air.

The Law Commission, or suitable delegated body, needs to work hard on definitions and parameters of what is 'safe' and, especially, 'dignified' - what will uphold and promote the dignity and solemnity of marriage. This is far too important to be left to the officiant alone.

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

As in question 48, this is far too important to be left to the officiant's judgment alone. There need to be thorough, consulted and agreed guidelines on what 'safe' and 'dignified' mean and require.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

By all means the General Register Office can be custodian and applier of agreed guidelines. But a more authoritative and consultative body should first work on how locations are to be assessed for safety and dignity.

Marriage is a fundamentally precious and serious relationship. This whole set of proposals has the feel of treating it too lightly.

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDZ1-D

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 15:28:40

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Private Individual

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I believe that 30 days should be the minimum residential time .

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

I suggest 14 days

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

In person interviews are totally essential to avoid the numerous sham marriages taking place at the moment.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

It should be allowed to continue

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The substitute official may be part of the fake wedding scam

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

No, too open to abuse.

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There is a time honoured liturgy in the Anglican Church which places God in his rightful place as the Author and Designer of Marriage ,that needs to be honoured .

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

That's silly ,Churches have,nt been war damaged since 1945 ,the requirements should be if it is still active as a place of Christian Worship.

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Yes ,and on line.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes they should. both need to be present to prove identities.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes ,reasons as above.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

In Gods economy so called " civil preliminaries" are a farce .

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Legality is paramount in Marriage ,God takes our vows seriously and so should we.

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Two required to ensure no falsification is involved, this may not have been necessary in the past but is now I believe.

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

For part 1 the Church should nominate the Officials.

For part 2 the legal standing of the Officials needs to be clarified ,and if lacking in detail to be replaced by a Church Official.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A total atheist mish mash of half baked rubbish ,where is Love,Honour and life long commitment .

God had the Marriage idea first ,anything else is a poor second best to be avoided.

Please share your views below:

Only Christian organisations should be listed ,why settle for less.

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Worship of what?

This is much too vague , what would be the basis of a " sincere belief in Marriage " only the Christian Church has a suitable framework for a Marriage Service ,a Humanist funeral service has no hope in it ,only sorrow ,I assume an atheist marriage would lack the joy that's comes with Gods Word.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

What is public policy today can be a hanging matter tomorrow ,i e so called same sex marriage .an abomination in any age.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Christian Organisations Yes , non religious No ,what is a non religious office ? How and on what basis are they appointed?

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

See no27

Consultation Question 30:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Please define " fit and proper ". The question is a vague as a politicians answer,

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Well ,that helps with question30

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

A fixed price list is required.

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A fixed. Price would be essential to avoid " Rip off s"

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I see a scam in the offing regardless.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please tell how people who don't believe in Gods word the Bible are going to do this !

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

An "Ombudsman " over site is required to rule on disputes other than the C of E where there is clear instruction in the Marriage Service which has been performed Millions of times.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

See comments in question 37

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

What if they agree to be married on a fun fair Big Wheel ?

More Gravitas and Dignity please .

Who wrote these questions ? The Mad Hatter

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please note on Anglican and Jewish Weddings ,rules already exist.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Civil Ceremonies already steal parts of the Christian Wedding Service.

Christians do not charge for this ,

Please share your views below:

As they have presumably rejected Christianity ,why include it at all ,?
Christians don't include Atheist content .

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Why pander to non religious people .

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Rubbish, have some respect , it should reflect the Solemnity and Commitment that Marriage entails.

Please share your views below:

A respectful area ,preferably a suitable building which could be a home ,outdoors ,I would say no ,too many crackpots about ,people get drowned in water and airplanes pollute .

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why not? Is it something to be hidden ,quite possibly ,why have a coach and horses ridden through tradition,

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

No

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

- 1 Let Atheists build there own wedding venues
- 2 Let Christians be married in a non religious building ie a Hotel ,if no Church is available
- 3Why would they want to??

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No marriages in a Fun Fare ,it's a serious business

Consultation Question 52:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Quantify Safe ,Qualify Dignified

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please note ,you get idiots in all sorts of places including Register Offices ,a list of suitable places needs to be supplied also.

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Both Parents need to be involved with the. Couple and official ,and may the best man win

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Hackers !!!

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But same sex marriages are offensive to God ,and not recognised by him.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Same sex marriages are not recognised by God and invalid.

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is cohabiting and must be mandatory.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage requires a Marriage Service ,cohabiting is not marriage.

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Save the marriage if at all possible ,don't give a reason to end it.

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is Sacred ,not to be trifled with.

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

No weddings in prison ,why allow law breakers to have special treatment.

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If it's not broke ,why try to fix it ,leave it alone.

Consultation Question 65:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Who says they won't be cured ,24 months minimum.

Consultation Question 66:

No

Please expand on your answer:

24 months

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Keep it on dry land ,what happens if they sail into non territorial waters during the Service ?

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

No ,sea sickness has a funny effect on some people.

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No ,a thousand times no.

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

See other answers

No

Please expand on your answer:

I oppose marriage at sea.

No

Please expand on your answer:

See previous.

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Their should,nt be any requirement unless they are unwell.

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Every effort should be made to get people married ,the Country is over run by co habiters who break up more than married couples do ,marriage is much better for the upbringing of children,

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Marriage is cheap at the price ,Marrying my wife was a priceless blessing to me.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No comment

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

No comment

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

No comment

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No comment

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No Comment

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No comment

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No comment

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No comment

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No comment

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Basically just leave things basically alone

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFJ7-5

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 15:34:42

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

N/A

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

No experience.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

I have concerns about remote interviews and am not convinced that the above proposal provides adequate safeguards against sham or forced marriages.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

It should continue to be possible.

Consultation Question 9:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Probably not but individual circumstances should be considered on their own merits.

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Publish in the church where the wedding is to take place.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

There should be exclusion of organisations which promote purposes that are unlawful or contrary to public policy or morality.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should be recognised scale of fees.

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This proposal is too vague as it does provide adequate safeguard against a form of ceremony which undermines the dignity and seriousness of marriage.

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It seems pointless to include a religious content if the participants have chosen a civil non-religious wedding.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Open doors help provide a safeguard against sham or forced marriages.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This proposal opens up the possibility of weddings taking place in totally inappropriate locations which would be a travesty. It risks making a mockery of the serious step which the couple are taking in their commitment to each other marriage and could undermine the importance of marriage.

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

There should be a limit to prevent the use of unsuitable inappropriate venues.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It should not be the sole responsibility of the officiant as suitability could be interpreted too liberally by one individual or the officiant could be pressured into allowing an unsuitable location. Official guidelines are required.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Remote ceremonies should not be allowed as they would undermine the importance of marriage by devaluing the ceremony. In effect someone could get married without attending his or her own wedding.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFJT-2

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 16:09:12

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Rushing into marriage would not be good for long lasting meaningful relationships. Las Vegas is notorious for quickie marriages ending shortly afterwards with quickie divorces

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

All people to have an in person interview. Ensures that marriages of convenience or immigration purposes or arranged marriages are less likely.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

No. Same reasons as question 7

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Yes except in exceptional circumstances

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Agree

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes should make declaration

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

None

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Agree

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

The Anglican or other denomination wedding service

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

outdoors,

Please share your views below:

Only outdoors or in buildings recognised and authorised for weddings to ensure that people realise that marriage is a serious institution and not just a frivolous day out

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

No

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No. Needs to be legally recognised venues as certified by local authorising body

Consultation Question 52:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not for officiant to decide

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Only pre approved places for weddings

Please share your views below:

Local authority, registrars office

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

They should be able to have a wedding as quickly as possible I. Hospital ward if appropriate. There should be an exemption of all timing requirements

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Speed is of the essence

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

None

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not on ships at all

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

No not needed

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

No. I think the government bodies need to enforce the sanctity of marriage in all cases. I feel at present marriage is not seen as a life long commitment and in all legislation this must be promoted and discussed.

I would hope that any future government legislation takes account of this as the aim of Marriage and that marriage is the best way forward for all family life and as the Anglican marriage service states should not be undertaken lightly. Some of the proposals within the consultation seem frivolous and would detract from the seriousness of the commitment.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Costs are not exorbitant and should be covered as local authorities cannot carry these costs

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Waiting to undertake such a serious commitment should not be a problem

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Leave things as they are now

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFJN-V

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 16:27:55

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

[REDACTED]

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is an important safeguard.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

In-person interviews should be required if concerns are raised about anything.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as existing methods are maintained.

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

No; they be made more public than that.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes,, it would be a good idea for any celebrant to meet the couple together and separately.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes, they should.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Yes.

I have no idea what types though!

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Not sure what you are getting at here.

My church (a small independent Evangelical church) would not allow a same-sex marriage to take place in it's building.

Indeed, we would very rarely allow the building to be used for weddings of couples who were not members.

Because of the former, would we therefore be prevented from holding the latter?

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Yes.

Consultation Question 28:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Don't know - that seems to be rather bureaucratic!

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But see answer to Question 28.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Those limitations seem to me to be too prescriptive.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree with the proposal, but I think that it does not go far enough.

Officiants should also have a responsibility to make sure that the content and tone of the ceremony upholds the dignity and solemnity of marriage (although dignity and solemnity need to be more fully defined).

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Surely, it should not be possible for someone to get married without being present at the wedding ceremony! Simply signing a marriage schedule is totally inadequate.

Allowing couples to say anything they like or nothing at all would be a major departure from the public declarations that, up until now, have always been considered foundational to the legal marriage ceremony, and risks undermining the solemnity of the wedding ceremony and denying the seriousness of the commitment being made.

There is a large amount of flexibility in the current wedding ceremony. This is because the prescribed words are minimal and couples can (and do!) add to them in many ways.

So, it is not very much to ask that a few specific phrases are used to show that both people freely consent to the lifetime commitment they are entering into.

I think that the idea that a couple should be able to completely personalise their ceremony comes from a wrong view of marriage. A wedding is not just about the couple because they are entering into a union which is understood by society and has been legally defined. So both society in general and the law have an interest in the making of public declarations.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A marriage ceremony is both a serious and solemn event; although , hopefully, also a happy one!

A particular type of ceremony should not be allowed simply because the couple wants it, but because it is appropriate for such a significant event. So, the idea that a couple should be able to choose everything about a wedding ceremony also comes from a wrong view of marriage. A wedding is a public declaration in which both society and the state have an interest.

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why repeal that provision?

Some couples may prefer to have a civil wedding followed by e.g. a service of "marriage blessing"; why should that not be permitted?

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I remain strongly of the view that weddings and burials/cremations should be the only two things that we do that need witnesses!

The existing "open doors" requirement helps convey the very public nature of wedding declarations and should remain as a strong protection against forced marriages that, sadly, are still a problem in our society.

Removing this requirement encourages the false perception that weddings (and marriage per se) are private matters without any public significance.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

To repeat: a marriage ceremony is a serious and solemn event, so venues should not be allowed simply because marrying couples want them, but because they are appropriate places to hold such an important ceremony.

I accept that there are some specific benefits in a wider variety of venues being allowed (for example for churches who do not own their own building), but this should not legitimise inappropriate settings.

outdoors,

Please share your views below:

I would accept that weddings can be conducted in outdoor settings - indeed my brother got married in a field! His church does not own a building.

However, allowing ceremonies to take place "in the air" strikes me as meaning the safe and dignified test doesn't seem too hard to meet!

I am aware that some "unofficial" wedding ceremonies have taken place in an S&M dungeon, underwater, and at a Comic Book convention with a couple dressed as comic book heroes. It would be completely incompatible with the dignity of marriage for venues like these to host legal weddings.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

Yes

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

No

Please expand on your answer:

But only because there is a lack of clarity in how venues would be inspected/tested for “dignity” and “safety”.
The terms need to be stringent and more clearly defined; and safeguards should be proposed.

No

Please expand on your answer:

See above.

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Local Council Registration Services.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A marriage without post-celebration cohabitation looks like a sham marriage to me!

No

Please expand on your answer:

Cohabitation does not make a marriage!

Consultation Question 60:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, but the period should be made shorter - possibly as little as a year.

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

No; leave as is!

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, but time is sometimes of an essence in such sad circumstances.
Could this service be guaranteed?

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

1: Yes

2, 3 and 4: No

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

No.

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why give all the information, but not the name of the officiant?

Surely, it is usually the captain of the vessel? I doubt if their name wasn't known!

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

1. Don't know.
2. I would hope so!

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFJ5-3

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 16:28:26

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I am in a marriage recognised by law.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not applicable to me

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

N/A to me

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I believe this provision is one of the mechanisms that drives home the seriousness of the step they are about to take. It also helps them work together and demonstrate their commitment to each other at a crucial time. It also ensures people show commitment to their local area and the established institutions.

Consultation Question 5:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Does "any registration district" mean even if the couple don't have a tie to it? If the answer is 'yes', then I disagree.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

It shouldn't matter

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

This is acceptable but should not be mandatory. Clergies should have the power to request such evidence if they have concerns that one of the parties getting married is at risk of forced/sham marriage

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

yes

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales; or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

The idea of independent officiants is a very bad one that waters down the significance and solemnity of the marriage institution.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I disagree with the notion of "independent officiants" in its entirety.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I think this proposal does not go far enough. Officiants should have a wider responsibility to ensure that the content and tone of the legal ceremony upholds the dignity and solemnity of marriage. The proposals need to define what is meant by 'dignity' and 'solemnity'. The consultation seems to view ceremonies taking place "in the air" as being compatible with these tests, which suggests they are easy standards to reach.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

In my view, it should not be possible for someone to get married without being present at the wedding ceremony. Simply signing the marriage schedule is inadequate.

Couples would be able to say anything they like or nothing at all. This is a major departure from the public declarations always considered foundational to the legal marriage ceremony.

This proposal risks undermining the solemnity of the wedding ceremony and denying the seriousness of the commitment being made.

It is noteworthy that already, there is a large amount of flexibility in the wedding ceremony. The prescribed words are minimal and couples can add to them in all sorts of ways.

The idea that a couple should be able to completely personalise their ceremony comes from a wrong view of marriage. A wedding is not just about the couple. The couple enter into a union which is understood by society and has been legally defined. So society and the law have an interest in the making of a public declaration. The logic of a wholly self-defined marriage ceremony is for marriage to be decoupled from the law and wider society. Marriage would become an entirely private matter, just like a personal hobby. This will significantly water down its worth.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A particular ceremony should not just be allowed because the couple wants it, but because it is appropriate for such a significant event. The idea that a couple should be able to choose everything about a wedding ceremony comes from a wrong view of marriage. A wedding is a public declaration in which society and the state have an interest. Unofficial wedding ceremonies have included themes such as Alice in Wonderland, James Bond, Lord of the Rings, Game of Thrones, Marvel comics, Beauty and the Beast, Harry Potter e.t.c It is very doubtful that many of these reflected how seriously marriage should be taken.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The “open doors” requirement helps convey the public nature of wedding declarations. The open doors requirement was introduced hundreds of years ago as a protection against forced marriage. This is still a problem in our society. Removing the requirement encourages a false perception that marriage is a private matter without any public significance.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I am of the view that venues should not simply be allowed because marrying couples want them, but because they are appropriate places to hold such a significant ceremony. There are some specific benefits in a wider variety of venues being allowed (for example churches who do not own their own building). However, caution and safeguards must be in place not to legitimise inappropriate settings.

on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

Weddings are as important as the marriage that the wedding initiates. I am of the view that weddings go beyond the individuals pledging their lifetime commitment to each other. Hence, it is a solemn event that confers a significant sense of responsibility on the individuals. Hence, it must not be taken with levity. This proposal opens the door to all sorts of (mis)interpretations that makes it possible for people to be able to conduct weddings in (no disrespect to the brand) McDonalds! That makes mockery of the institution.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The venue owners and in some instances, the couple should take this responsibility.
It appears that there is a lack of clarity in how venues would be tested for “dignity” and “safety”.

No

Please expand on your answer:

While the proposal calls for guidance from the General Register Office, the terms are not defined and stringent safeguards should be proposed.

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

I can understand terminally ill people and people that are housebound getting married. However, I don't think a person who is detained in a hospital (the keyword being 'detained') has the capacity to consent to a wedding in the first place. The focus rather should be on their treatment and getting out of detention in a condition where they are capable of making rational decisions. For a person detained in prison, it is my view that prison is meant to place a limitation on the individual for offences committed. Ability of a prisoner to get married while in detention is mockery of the corrective service system. If they are able to do most of the things that they would do outside of prison (including getting married), then they might as well never been imprisoned in the first place.

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

The schedule should not have been issued at all

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDBN-J

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 17:03:18

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

I do not generally want my personal information in the public sphere.

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I was married in a church.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

With a poviso that at least one of the couple are resident.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This modernises the process and makes it easier to communicate.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

A week should help to avoid spur of the moment decisions and give time for reflection before a major committment.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

As attractive as is this proposal from an administrative point of view, a face to face meeting is far better when trying to verify circumstances.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Notice should still be possible outside England and Wales given the exceptions mentioned.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Using modern means of communication makes things easier and makes the reason for publishing easier to accomplish.

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Church preliminaries offer a simple and trusted method.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage should be a serious commitment and the officiant contributes to this.

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

They should be trusted more than most to understand this ceremony.

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If officiants are not recognised Church ministers then an officially appointed person should be nominated, to avoid farcical situations arising that would detract and devalue the ceremony.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Only officiants recognised by the church or state should be allowed.

Please share your views below:

Departing from appointing a church or state officiant opens up all sorts of problems, avoid creating unnecessary procedures that would detract from marriage.

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Same as previous.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Absolutely.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As above, General Register Office regulation adds to the meaning of the ceremony.

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

So long as it is controlled by General Register Office.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

So long as they are officially approved by the General Register Office.

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

s they are approved by the General Register Office.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Profit making could degenerate the process.

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Control and set fees by the General Register Office.

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Obvious.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To make sure the ceremony maintains standards.

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

General Register Office should be responsible for maintaining official standards.

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Whatever is necessary.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Maintain standards.

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage should be a recognised and formally approved ceremony. Anything contrived by individuals can take away from the dignity and solemnity of marriage with the possibility of descending to farce.

Consultation Question 44:

No

Please expand on your answer:

With the proviso that the official form and words of the ceremony should be approved by the General Register Office.

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Weddings should be a public commitment to marriage and since the latter is a major foundation of society should be open to the public.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The dignity and solemnity of marriage require the ceremony only to take place wherever approved by General Register Office.

on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

As said above, the marriage ceremony should provide solemnity and dignity and the locations mentioned would not add to that.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage should be public.

Consultation Question 50:

Other

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Locations should be approved by the General Register Office and should reflect the dignity and solemnity of the ceremony.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

General Register Office should approve all venues.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Obvious.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To preserve standards.

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This adds to the dignity and solemnity.

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Preserve the form of marriage.

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage should be a public ceremony with open consent from both parties and witnessed as such.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Breaking any of these goes against the basic requirements of marriage.

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage should be a formal public ceremony.

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Obvious.

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Such venues do not afford open and public marriage.

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Such venues do not assign the dignity and solemnity required.

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

No, such venues do not provide the dignity and solemnity required.

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Against these sort of marriages for reasons stated above.

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No, disagree with these type of weddings for reasons given above.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If allowed at all completely agree.

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Labourer is worthy of his hire.

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

There is a move by certain parties to make marriage fast and disposable, taking away the dignity and solemnity required.

There is a purpose behind tried and tested procedures for marriage that help major decisions to commitment. By taking these away the institution of marriage is inevitably harmed.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFJU-3

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 17:20:38

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

As a priest in the Church of England, I have seen several weddings postponed, which has been sad, and others which have gone ahead with several readjustments as government requirements have constantly changed.

In my experience, those weddings which went ahead, often with very small numbers, were nevertheless special and greatly appreciated : and in some ways offered more chance to focus on the essentials of the marriage.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Unsure of implications

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

no comment

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Why ? Where? For how long?

Consultation Question 10:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Seems a long time....

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Probably not - certainly not without safeguards in place to ensure that the officiant is a suitable person, who will uphold the dignity and seriousness of the ceremony.

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

No, because the couple are often no longer local and therefore known to that community. If banns are to continue at all, it would seem to make sense only where the prospective bride and groom are known.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Someone needs to check documentary evidence; not necessarily the clergy.

No need to meet them separately unless there seems to be a particular reason; usually I would see them together.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Probably yes.

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

What exactly do you mean by preliminaries ?

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There need to be some safeguards in light of increasing desire to customise weddings....

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

This could become increasingly tendentious - so many grey areas, risking the definition of marriage becoming indistinct ??

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

See above. This evidently has wider social implications, not merely religious or personal ones.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

In an ever-changing society where all boundaries seem to be being pushed, is there a danger of more conservative views or organisations being penalised ?

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Definition ?? Appears to include only legal aspects ?

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

See above

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Value of having some basic guidelines.... ?

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is VITAL !! And should form part of any preparation / preliminaries.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Probably the only practical answer, but may need interventions from higher up if any issues detected.....

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

If it is a case of keeping up with changing requirements, certainly; but the whole CPD philosophy can be over the top and often unnecessary

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This should continue to be a public ceremony with personal consent given during it: otherwise it opens the door to all kinds of fudge and confusion.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There are certain non-negotiable basics in terms of understanding, consent and commitment which should form the basis of the service. Speaking as a priest, it is hugely demanding to have to negotiate a host of other requirements, and puts an impossible and inappropriate pressure on an officiant to have to make judgments as to what is appropriate. the couple can always add other things into their reception !

Consultation Question 44:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not individual parishes - leads to unhelpful comparison and pick-and-mix; if the Anglican church nationally, then this amounts to 'special rules' ?

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Possibly.

Please share your views below:

Short prayers, for God's help and blessing...

Consultation Question 46:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Service of blessing to be allowed.

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This has always been a safeguard against forced marriage.... It should continue to be a public ceremony for reasons stated above.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This could make it impossible to maintain the dignity and solemnity required.

Please share your views below:

It should be able to be public, dignified and practical...

This isn't just about the couple: it's an institution which forms part of the bedrock of society - ideally, and that's what we should seek to enable.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

See above.

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Again, this is unreasonable and could set one officiant against another, or couples hunting for one who would be more malleable.....

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

With guidelines !

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

It needs to be very clear or we will have the situation above.

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

This is all getting unfeasibly complicated; why not stick with the current practice of approving venues first - there can be a wide range, but again, this is veering away from the focus on the marriage itself - which should be clear and basically standard - and the freedom to celebrate afterwards in a whole range of ways.

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not convinced about the necessity for parents' occupations... or even parents, given that identities will have been checked.

Consultation Question 55:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

There should be witnesses

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Probably yes

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Agree with 1 above.

Then NO. See previous reply. Should be in person .

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Why ? See above re approved venues.

Consultation Question 69:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Never had this raised.

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Cost can be an issue, but the cost of the marriage itself need not be that great, and is often peanuts in comparison with the amount spent on the reception !

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I suspect this may not encourage more weddings, but it could greatly complicate things for officiants and weaken the focus on the core elements.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDZB-X

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 17:46:50

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

[REDACTED]

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is not a private escapade. All sorts of problems could arise more easily from abolishing this requirement, including that of forced marriages, marriages where full competence is dubious, and under-age marriages.

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The requirement to attend in person is vital and should be insisted upon from the outset.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

There will be cases when further checks will seem necessary. These take time.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Such interviews will be very popular among those who have something to hide. Those approaching marriage with any degree of seriousness and commitment will hardly object to being interviewed in person about this important step in their lives.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Notice must surely be given by the party who is resident in England and Wales in order to carry full weight. Otherwise, the conventional 'slippery slope' argument comes into force. If neither party is resident in England or Wales, the marriage should not be permitted here.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I presume that it is acknowledged that online display alone will not be sufficient.

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I see no reason why Roman Catholic clergymen and others in Orders in bona fide Christian denominations should not be recognised as officiants by virtue of the ordination.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Such a definition would include many dubious organisations.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It would be far more practical to designate the approved religious organisations in addition to the Established Church which would be enabled. In all other case, the legally appointed registrar would have to carry out his or her duty.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Most definitely this should happen.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Not a good idea - too open to irregularity.

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This will be totally unnecessary unless the gates are opened to dubious organisations. This is why it is necessary to keep to the Established Church and other bona fide churches such as Catholics, Methodists and Baptists.

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Surely no explanation is needed of this, since this very consultation implies that marriage should be upheld with dignity and solemnity, even though many of the question suggest that consideration is being given to undermine these .

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Unfortunately, because of the way in which certain organisations seek to undermine the value and seriousness of marriage, this has become necessary.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, but this will be extremely rare if the floodgates are not opened to the authorisation of non-religious groups or groups of dubious religious affiliation.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

These proposals undermine the very nature of marriage, that of a public commitment. If people wish to engage in the type of activities described above, including failing to give consent orally when able to do so, or not being obliged to deny any impediment to marriage, then an entirely different type of procedure would be fine, as long as it is not regarded as marriage or a wedding service.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The mere suggestion makes clear that the participants would be entitled to choose a form and ceremony which is not marriage.

Consultation Question 44:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Of course they should be permitted to impose their own requirements, but to have the marriage recognised in law they should be obliged to conform to the standard requirement.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The current position is very unreasonable, given the public nature of marriage.

Please share your views below:

There is no reason why prayers should not be permitted, why hymns or other sacred songs should not be sung, or why a blessing could not be given by a clergyman. There are many reasons why a couple cannot marry in a church and they deserve some choice in these matters.

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is a public ceremony for a number of good reasons; not least among these are the interest in the state is the value of marriage and the protection of victims of forced marriages or marriages when full competence cannot be given. It is foolish to ignore the fact that that these considerations exist in our society.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The way in which such permission would lead to ridiculous attempts by people to outdo each other is obvious. One has only to consider accounts of unauthorised weddings to see where this suggestion might lead.

outdoors,, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

None of these places are suitable for a dignified, solemn and public ceremony, although with the imposition of very strict rules, the outdoors, private homes and such places at hospitals could be practical in certain limited circumstances.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This clearly undermines the public nature of marriage.

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Locations should be designated officially, and not by the whim of individuals.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This need not arise, of course, if proper consideration is given to the official designation of locations.

No

Please expand on your answer:

This will not be necessary is if locations are properly and officially designated.

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This will not be necessary is if locations are properly and officially designated.

Please share your views below:

This will not be necessary is if locations are properly and officially designated.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Since the parties and registrar must be physically present at the ceremony, this proposal seems pointless, as well as open to deceit.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Points 2 and 3 above seem to be the very points that should make a marriage void, given that marriage is a legal and public commitment. As for Point 1, certain mistakes, such as a totally incorrect name or the wrong date, should also render the marriage void. I can think of no other legal document where such strange proposals as those above would be considered acceptable, unless the purpose of the proposal is to completely undermine marriage.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is self-evident that all points would invalidate a marriage.

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This proposal seems merely to muddy the waters. If a couple do not intend to cohabit or to consummate the marriage, then their proposed marriage is a sham. This proposal needs to be completely reworded to make more sense.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I am not aware that any such presumption exists as far as the law on marriage is concerned. However, if people like to make such a presumption, surely the law should not interfere? This proposal also needs to be completely reworded to make more sense.

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If lack of consent can be proved, no matter how much time has elapsed, the marriage should be deemed invalid at law.

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Self-explanatory.

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is particularly important in view of issues concerning consent, and the feasibility of making the exceptions to the standard notions of consummation and cohabitation.

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Exceptional cases require exceptional means.

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This would open the floodgates to hasty decisions and would lead to the diminished respect for marriage that seems to be the aim of many of these proposals.

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Unless the intention is to diminish the serious nature of marriage and to complete undermine its status, this proposal is pointless.

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The dignity, seriousness and public nature of marriage would be undermined.

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

As above

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

These suggestions seem to be made with the sole point of diminishing the serious and public nature of marriage.

Consultation Question 71:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This suggestion seems to be made with the sole point of diminishing the serious and public nature of marriage, turning a wedding into a bit of holiday fun rather than a genuine commitment.

Consultation Question 72:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This suggestion seems to be made with the sole point of diminishing the serious and public nature of marriage, turning a wedding into a bit of holiday fun rather than a genuine commitment.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This suggestion seems to be made with the sole point of diminishing the serious and public nature of marriage, turning a wedding into a bit of holiday fun rather than a genuine commitment.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This suggestion seems to be made with the sole point of diminishing the serious and public nature of marriage, turning a wedding into a bit of holiday fun rather than a genuine commitment.

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

If there is a demand, the people should be allowed to go ahead; but "marriages" held in such places should not be recognised by the law of England and Wales..

Consultation Question 74:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

If there is a demand, the people should be allowed to go ahead; but "marriages" held in such places should not be recognised by the law of England and Wales..

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

No

Please expand on your answer:

People who are housebound should not be obliged to incur additional expense merely to fulfil their normal legal obligations.

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Since I would suggest that the only suitable places outside register offices are the churches of non-conformists denominations and other places in which marriages may be held in extremis, such as in hospitals or the homes of the housebound, the fee should be fixed and universal.

Consultation Question 81:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I have no idea what 'discretionary services' might entail, but I suspect that what is envisaged would be intended to undermine the seriousness and dignity of the marriage.

Consultation Question 82:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It should be the same as in the register office, for the sake of equity.

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

It is quite clear that were some of these proposals to be carried out, the number of marriages would increase greatly, and than the number of divorces would increase by at least the same amount. It is noticeable that children have not been mentioned in the course of this consultation; they, even more than adults, would suffer great harm from these proposals, which are clearly aimed at diminishing the dignity and seriousness of marriage, and the whole notion of a long commitment. The focus seems to be on the wedding day, not on the marriage, and upon the novelty aspect of the wedding. The proposal should be rewritten to make a clear distinction between marriage and the subsequent celebration, for which couples may go where they like in the world, in the sea or in the air.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The necessary cost of marrying in some places, such as Catholic churches, is that of the registrar alone; as a church organist, I make a charge only if people are splashing money around. In many case, families work together to use their skills for flowers, wedding and bridesmaid dresses , cakes, food and drinks. In other cases, people show a marked lack of common sense, even if they are not well off. I have little experience of marriages outside register offices and Catholic churches, but it seems apparent that a clear distinction needs to be made between the serious and legally recognised marriage and all the celebration and partying that has been seemingly essential to most weddings. My opinion that that the law should keep the two entirely separate, and should not give in to the follies of fashion and one-upmanship.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFJY-7

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 17:49:21

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

a longer period to allow proper investigation of the couple's eligibility for marriage

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

provided the substitute officiant is suitably qualified

Please share your views below:

what is meant by 'other circumstances?'

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

largely irrelevant

Consultation Question 14:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

question not understood

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

agreed

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

both

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

ambiguous question == misleading use of the word 'only'

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

more ambiguity. No religious organisation would promote activity contrary to public policy of morality

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

not understood

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

Yes

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

would depend on the level of security offered

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

not understood

Consultation Question 65:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFJ3-1

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 17:51:04

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Remote interviews lay wide open the possibility of deception and covering over details that might prevent the marriage. For instance: in the case of forced marriage a online interview precludes the interviewer from 'getting a sense' that there is something not right. I believe a face to face interview should be the only option.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Marriage was 'invented' in the church and anyone who is to be married in a Christian context should follow the existing rules. So called 'marriages' not involving the church will make their own rules!

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This seems to be the way of everything, but may not preclude any who wish to post differently.

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The idea of publishing 'Banns' is to inform the general public that a marriage is soon to take place. In the Christian context, this should be retained.

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

In a Christian context, these are safeguards against deceptive (co-erced or forced) marriage and should be retained.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Marriage is a commitment for life, though many do not view it that way today. The declarations should be retained.

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

This is a difficult and complex question to answer.

Any organisation that promotes, say, terrorism, should not be allowed and excluded from 'religious organisations'.

However, caution is needed as any later change in the list could be used to exclude 'Politically INCORRECT' organisations.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should be an official vetting procedure by the Registration authority.

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Depends entirely on what is accepted as 'dignity' and 'solemnity'.

The content and tone of marriage should uphold the dignity and solemnity of same.

The official conducting the marriage cannot, and should not, decide these factors beyond the actual marriage ceremony, but should have overall responsibility to manage the marriage ceremony in the seriousness of law.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The Registration authority should be the deciding body, otherwise how is conformity and continuity maintained.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Providing the officiants are monitored and regularly trianed in any new laws that apply.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should, as now, be a section of 'prescribed words' that is used wherever the ceremony takes place. These can be added to as they are now, the overall wording being flexible to suit, but retaining the 'prescribed words'.

The parties to be married should be present at the ceremony and and able express their desire to be married.

If they are not required to be present, then again, there is an open door to deciet. For example, how do you identify and verify the person who is not present at the ceremony, but declares remotely, and/or signs a document remotely.

This risks undermining the solemnity and denies the seriousness of the committment being made.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A particular ceremony should not just be allowed because the couple wants it, but because it is appropriate for such a significant event. The ceremony should reiterate the seriousness and solemnity of a marriage ceremony.

There have already been marriage ceremonies that seem to mock and make fun of the meaning behind marriage.

One had a 'Woodland Fairy themed ceremony with ponies dressed as unicorns' while another couple dressed as hedgehogs. It is very doubtful that many of these reflected how seriously marriage should be taken.

Consultation Question 44:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Let the religious groups perform marriage ceremonies in their own desired way, but they should not be coerced into marrying those of a different belief or standpoint.

There are plenty of options already available for them to utilise.

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It is either one or the other.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The declarations made during the ceremony should be public for accountability reasons.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If it is a legal ceremony then it should be conducted at a 'licensed' venue with witnesses, as now. This goes a long way to removing the possibility of forced or coerced marriage.

Please share your views below:

If weddings are allowed in any venue as suggested in the question, how long before the dignity and solemnity of marriage is abused totally.

Unofficial wedding ceremonies have taken place in an S&M dungeon, underwater, and at a Comic Book convention with a couple dressed as comic book heroes. It would be completely incompatible with the dignity of marriage for venues like these to host legal weddings.

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But under specific and legally binding guidance.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The terms 'safe' and 'dignified' need to be defined, otherwise it becomes open to individual interpretation.

While the proposals call for guidance from the General Register Office, the terms are not defined and stringent safeguards should be propose

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The General Register Office should be responsible for overseeing and maintaining standards as set by law.

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Provided adequate identification is produced.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

These are all necessary to validate the actual ceremony.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFJD-J

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 18:07:24

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

[REDACTED]

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I am married.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I think advance notification to marry can be recorded and should be made available in a more accessible and reliable way, such as on a Dot.Gov website. Reading banns in Church can't reach a sufficiently wide audience.

An accessible list of those planning marriage is vital to ensure marriage isn't planned by those not entitled to marry (such as those already married and not divorced)

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

See my response to Q4

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

Marriages are often scheduled a year in advance. A months notice is suggested

Hurried marriages or marriages with little notice may point to an inappropriate (forced?) arrangement

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

I think a face-to-face interview is the better option and more likely to flag up circumstances where "concerns arise"

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

These circumstances should not be exemptions - they would increase the opportunity for a proposed marriage that might 'cause concerns'

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Banns are not a wholly effective means of broadcasting a forthcoming marriage, especially Banns issued hundreds of miles away from the event

Consultation Question 14:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

I think Banns should be far more broadly published - preferably including on-line on Govt website

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

I agree. These measures are in place to reduce the risk of illegal marriages

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

I agree, separate declarations are required for safety purposes. Otherwise one party could innocently make an illegal declaration if their partner hadn't revealed all relevant facts

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Anglican staff are the most experienced people we have to manage these preliminaries

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A civil officiant isn't required at an Anglican ceremony - it would be unnecessary duplication

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This could lead to too many officiants - An Anglican or Civil official should be sufficient.

The alternative would generate yet another consultation into which "non-religious belief organisations" would be authorised to nominate officials. There are hundreds of non-religious belief organisations" that could seek to nominate and trying to sort out the sound versus the inappropriate would be a massive and controversial task

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

See my answer to Q23

If the test includes the need "to live their lives in conformity with the understanding associated with the belief system." Their belief system could include beliefs that were at odds with marriage.

This definition would open a can of worms for those trying to police or interpret it

Please share your views below:

See may answer for Q24

The list would never be complete and compiling it would be a nightmare for those charged with maintaining such a list

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

"their beliefs" could include The Abandoned Donkey Benefit Groups (or equally or more absurd examples) - with respect, it is a daft unmanageable suggestion .

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Definitely not

" unlawful or contrary to public policy or morality." will soon be used to prevent Churches expressing their right to refuse mixed-sex Church ceremony marriages.

The 10 Commandments were and remain the foundation of most civilised legal systems in this World and NOT "public morality" which is a moving and unreliable feast.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

No

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There must logically be a central easily accessed list

Consultation Question 29:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Only if there were a means of checking their capability for carrying out that function and providing mandatory training/certification

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But how would the State police "fit and proper" ..... according to what/whose standards?

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But is that standard checked periodically after they are appointed?

Consultation Question 32:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Maybe, but who will be able to prove that organisations were indeed "making a business of officiating at weddings, by elevating the making of profits above the expression of their beliefs." How much profit lifts the activity "above the expression of their beliefs"?

This is another reason not to allow an explosion of persons allowed to officiate

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This will create a new industry for celebrity officiants - In Q32 you seemed to be concerned about the opportunity for profit clouding the purity of the role

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But who decides what is and isn't dignified? Is underwater or skydiving weddings dignified? If so it's a fairly meaningless protection

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

provided that doesn't constrain The Church's current practice

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Centuries of experience show that self-policing isn't very effective

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Provided this isn't a back-door way of allowing The GRO to decide that The Church officiants shouldn't be allowed to maintain their stance on heterosexual marriage

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

A sound and proper person may not continue to be so for ever

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Provided that the CPD didn't interfere with views on marriage being for a man and a woman as is the Church belief (and most of the Country if you consider the number of same-sex marriages versus 'traditional marriages')

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

People who don't have any impediment to marry won't object to saying so - I would worry about persons reluctant to confirm that

A marriage ceremony" if the ceremony did not contain an expression of consent" isn't a marriage ceremony. I would worry about persons who weren't able to express a consent to marry during their marriage ceremony - it is an absurd suggestion

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This will lead to undignified ceremonies with couples competing to have the wackiest wedding with subsequent loss of dignity

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Tho' I doubt that 'Religious Content' can be safely or adequately defined

Please share your views below:

See my answer to Q25

Trying to define this adequately will prove impossible

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The open door requirement is a protection against improper or illegal marriages

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Trying to list exceptions will be fraught with controversy - better to have a sensible list of acceptable venue types

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should be broad central guidance

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

safe - yes

Dignified - isn't a matter of fact - its a matter of opinion

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Pre-approval by local registry office or its officials

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not in Welsh only as it is so inaccessible to the great majority

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But I can't see the point if an authorised celebrant official is in attendance at the event

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should be a witness

Consultation Question 58:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If the couple hasn't cohabited why would they want to get married (except for 'concerning' reasons?)

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

we are all at risk of death - in fact its a racing certainty

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The cost of officiating will be uncertain - how will officials price for their attendance?

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Trying to create a list will be very difficult - people will come up with all sort of daft ideas - lilos, windsurfers, kite surfers , water skis, oil rigs etc etc

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Who knows! If it is allowed, there will be demand!

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Housebound - yes. In Prison, No

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Dignified isn't a status that can be easily or reliably agreed

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes for Housebound, - No for imprisoned

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Most of your proposals are likely to increase costs

A legally recognised wedding isn't expensive -the cost of Registry office ceremony isn't expensive

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

All or most of your proposals will increase costs

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFJG-N

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 18:16:14

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

No organisation

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I cannot see any good reason to continue it.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, provided there is a failsafe system in regard to acknowledgement of the notice.

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Because other types of wedding will have an officiant from that religious community etc.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I do not really see the point of having two.

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

In the case of non-religious beliefs, there must be an existing understanding that the belief is serious as well as sincerely held or a system of carefully vetting the belief to ensure that it is not a group put together merely for the purpose of conducting a marriage.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes they should be excluded.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Yes, because in a large organisation, the office holder ought automatically be able to act as officiant, for example, an ordained clergyman of any religion.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Because there may be a difficulty in exercising sufficient and adequate supervision of independent persons.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

But the essential rules must be enshrined in law. The responsibility of the officiants must extend to making sure that content of the ceremony itself should be consistent with the very serious nature of the marriage state and the vows taken by the couples.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Agree that the primary responsibility should lie with the organisations, but if the organisations do not observe such responsibility properly or effectively, the overall responsibility should lie with the General Register Office.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There must be time limits, but they should be reasonable in length, for example, 10 years. Then after 10 years, they could be re-appointed after significant (rather than cursory) checks.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The expression of consent must be set out in specific words which must be the same for every wedding ceremony. The wording need not be elaborate but must be clear and the simpler the better. Other aspects of the ceremony may vary, but consent expressed at the time, NOT LATER, is important. Signed statements later can confirm, but not replace words said at the ceremony. If it is impossible for one or other of the couple to say the words due to some disability, it may be expressed in some other acceptable way.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The marriage state is a serious decision taken by both parties. The ceremony must reflect that. Jokey ceremonies are totally inappropriate. The law should set out the basic structure of the ceremony and probably a lot of the wording. Parties may suggest specific wordings which are particularly relevant to them, but everything must be vetted in advance by the officiant who is only given the power to approve in accordance with specific guidelines aimed at preserving the dignity and solemnity of the occasion.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Any appropriate religious content should be allowed.

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No good reason to change the current situation in this respect. If it is repealed, it would then be unlawful to have a religious ceremony after the civil ceremony which makes no sense.

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It helps to protect society against forced marriages and it maintains marriage as a significant aspect of public life.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

As soon as weddings are permitted to takeplace anywhere, the essential dignity and solemnity of the occasion is compromised if not removed. For example, I have seen photographs of marriage under the sea and on the top of a mountain. These are unacceptable.

If the seriousness of the promises exchanged during the ceremony are borne in mind, the location should be appropriate although not necessarily confined to churches, chapels or gloomy halls. Marriage should be a joyful occasion, but the joy comes from the fact that two people love ieach other so much that they are making solemn committments to ech other to join their lives together as long as they both live.

Please share your views below:

There may be occasions when a wedding can be sufficiently dignified and serious in a suitable outdoor setting, but not otherwise.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriages must be in public as already noted.

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

It should be obvious

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Only if the officiant's powers are restricted to following tight guidelines

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Provided that guideines are clearly drafted to explain what this means in practice.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

General Register Office

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

No

Please expand on your answer:

English is the official language of the UK.

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The absence of witnesses should be fatal to the validity of the wedding.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

I would say 'Yes' to (1) but no to the implications of (2), (3) and (4).

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

It depends on circumstances. Certainly not 'in' the sea, but possibly on the sea.

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes provided that other requirements about solemnity, dignoty and seriousness are strictly observed.

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

No

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Applies only to cruise ships.

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Only by the ship's captain or his or her deputy or, in the case of a religious ceremony, by an appropriately ordained priest, minister or vicar of that religion.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

See earlier response

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFJH-P

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 18:31:21

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

private individual

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

none , I was fine with a legal wedding

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

my step daughter got married in a registry office with a maximum of 8 people - in my view it was OK and an appropriate and serious occasion considering the circumstances . The officials did a nice job .

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I see no good reason to change this as it demonstrates stability of residency

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

in the modern era an on line approach to notice makes sense to me

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

I think a longer ( say 1 month ) period allows time for the seriousness of the step being taken to sink in and prevents a very serious decision being taken on the spur of the moment or under undue influence or pressure

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

In person is much better . with covid still around for the next few months a zoom interview might suffice but not as a long term approach

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

why not ?

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

why not if privacy is protected

Consultation Question 10:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

not sure of the significance of this

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

why not ?

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

why not ?

Please share your views below:

substitute officiants should be at the same level and calibre as the main person proposed

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think the banns system has worked well for centuries - why change what is working fine ?

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I'm not sure how many churches are subject to war damage but I suppose that possibility exists in the long term ( hopefully not )

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

could be any other Anglican church where one or other of the couple resin and attend

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

- 1 - not sure what documents they need so no idea on this
- 2 - yes I think its a good approach

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

yes

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

I see no reason not to take the word of an anglican vicar

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

as long as they are not known personally to the wedding participants in which case fraud chances increase

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

not sure of the implications of the court case but for Christian weddings no problem with other denominations allowing recognised clergy to officiate at weddings

Consultation Question 24:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I'm not well informed on this

Please share your views below:

yes otherwise any organisation becomes a wedding officiating body - this needs carefully thought through criteria

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

depends on how 'serious' and relevant to marriage the body is

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

yes excepting the laws pertaining to discrimination which many religious ( Christian Muslim and others ) reject

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

no , named individuals can be more closely monitored

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

better control

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

to loose a concept

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

vital

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

training is key as long as the content is right !

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

absolutely

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

for many younger people getting married is already very expensive and no limitation on fees will only make that worse

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

would be a contradiction

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

the most important aspect you've asked about

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

they might be biased - needs a re-think

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think a term , say 5 years , then re registration would be better to allow standards to be maintained

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think some basic components of the marriage ceremony should be required irrespective of who is being married and who is conducting it

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

some who are not religious believers may nevertheless want some religious content so why not let them have that ?

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Much better for the two to be linked for religious weddings as now - what's the value of this change ?

Consultation Question 47:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure : I like the idea that the public can see what's going on but I wonder if there's an opportunity for mischief making ?

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

needs to be a ' serious ' column occasion so this does not work

on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

I would limit location to ' serious ' venues plus countryside/outdoors

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

people should be able to get married in the venue of their religious and / or non religious choice but don't force a mix of the two

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

depends on the changes to officiants being proposed - only if there is a high level of quality and control over who they are

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Registrar organisation

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

1/2/3 yes - not in favour of same sex marriage so don't understand this point

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

co habitation is a normal part of marriage so that statement seems a bit daft to me

Other

Please expand on your answer:

not sure of the significance of this

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

they should be allowed to marry if they meet the marriage criteria

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

don't understand the significance of this

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

such powers have been misused by government under covid and should be resisted

No

Please expand on your answer:

see above

Other

Please expand on your answer:

this is very poorly defined

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

see above - venues that emphasise the seriousness of the commitment are paramount

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

not a serious venue

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

none

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

qualified serious officiant is key to the marriage institution being taken seriously

Consultation Question 72:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

don't agree with the concept

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

demand should not determine supply . emphasis should be on ' serious ' venues

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

don't like the concept

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

there is a fine balance between cheapening marriage as an institution and encouraging couples to go down that road . if my responses were reflected in the way it is decided to go forward I think the balance might be about right

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

no problem with current cost levels on the wedding formalities side

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

savings should not rive a cheapening of marriage , a good marriage process is worth paying for

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

I am not a fan of the 2005 legislation

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

don't understand the question

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

nothing major

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

nothing major

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

not sure

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I see no issue with anyone travelling anywhere to get married

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

don't understand the issue

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

ditto

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

quality of marriage as an institution is more important than cost

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFJW-5

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 18:38:53

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Personal response only

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

My marriage is in accordance with the law

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not applicable

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Other

Please expand on your answer:

N/A

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

N/A

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This gives the impression that marriage is trivial, and waters down the level of commitment which is really important for couples to recognise and understand

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Helps reduce unnecessary red tape

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Sufficient time to fully think through all of the consequences of a major decision

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Yes, this makes sense, and reduces cost and bureaucracy.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes, to make it practical

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, as it is the most practical way of doing it.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Must be practical.

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Necessary

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practical

Please share your views below:

No, only as indicated above, otherwise it would not be appropriate

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

makes sense

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No longer applicable

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

A wider distribution would be better to avoid proper consideration

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes, the clergy need this ability to ensure that requirements are properly met

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes, this is necessary to ensure integrity of both parties to a lifetime commitment.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

To ensure ongoing integrity and special nature of the marriage institution.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To ensure ongoing integrity of the institution

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practicality

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practicality

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

many people prefer a Church wedding

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Most practical way forward, providing suitable controls are in place to ensure that the marriage institution is not trivialised

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as this ensures ongoing integrity of the institution

Please share your views below:

Yes, organisations that would trivialise marriage should be excluded

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To ensure ongoing integrity of the institution

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes, so as to ensure ongoing integrity of the institution

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Just the office would be sufficient

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, so as to ensure ongoing integrity of the institution

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To ensure ongoing integrity of the institution

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To ensure ongoing integrity of the institution

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Definitely yes, so as to ensure ongoing integrity of the institution

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To ensure ongoing integrity of the institution

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, due to practicality

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Conflict of interest

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is extremely important , so as to protect the institution of marriage

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To ensure ongoing integrity of the institution

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practicality, but still not the organisations to be monitored for integrity by Registrar

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To ensure ongoing integrity of the institution

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To ensure ongoing integrity of the institution

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practicality

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To ensure ongoing integrity of the institution

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

OK other than point 4. The marriage should be formed at the point when the Officiating officer declares the couple married, otherwise there can be many unnecessary complications.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The other way around. The procedure as specified by the officiant to be agreed with with couple in advance.

Consultation Question 44:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Basic common rules and wording need to be agreed for all organisations otherwise the integrity of the procedure can too easily be debased

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practicality

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

People should be able to have a religious service afterwards should they so wish. It would be totally unreasonable not to permit this

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

In order to prevent abuse, this control is necessary

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It must be in a place that is appropriate for a serious lifelong commitment.

Please share your views below:

Yes, as many of these venues trivialise the marriage, and make a mockery of the institution.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This would lead to abuse, and give the message that marriage is not a decision for life.

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Prevent abuse of religious venues and ensure integrity

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Some unsuitable specific locations should be outlawed completely to protect the institution of marriage, where they would trivialise the event

Consultation Question 52:

No

Please expand on your answer:

We need proper safeguards to maintain the integrity of the institution

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As a very necessary safeguard

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Safeguards need to be in place to maintain integrity

Please share your views below:

Registry Office rules laid down in advance setting the standard based on decency and high standards. Rules approved by Parliament

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Keeps proper order

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Sensible

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practicality

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Safeguard integrity

No

Please expand on your answer:

Witnesses are important to safeguard integrity, otherwise it will be abused

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To protect integrity

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Providing the marriage was properly witnessed.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Integrity

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practicality

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Protect the integrity

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Not in a position to comment

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practicality

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practicality

Consultation Question 65:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Unable to comment

Consultation Question 66:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Unable to comment

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practicality

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practicality

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practicality

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Providing integrity is not compromised

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Providing integrity is not compromised

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

To be avoided as integrity could too easily be compromised

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Would compromise integrity

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Providing integrity is not compromised

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practicality

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

To protect the institution

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Unable to comment

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practicality

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practical

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

No comment

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

For those choosing this option

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Practical

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDZU-H

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 18:54:58

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

PRIVATE CITIZEN

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

no experience

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This requirement is unnecessary.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

I am not sure that any period of time should be specified. Interviews

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Interviews should be arranged to use the possibilities opened up by advances in communications technologies.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Maximum flexibility is desirable.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The possibilities opened up by communication technologies should be utilised to the full.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

I have no views on this issue.

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I do not understand the reason for this proposal.

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I do not understand why this rule exists.

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

I do not understand the reason for this restriction.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

I have no view on this issue.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes, both bride and groom should attend, albeit possibly virtually through the aid of communication technologies.

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

The Anglican Church should not be privileged over other churches or religions.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is important to ensure that both parties are seen and heard to make their reciprocal commitments before at least one impartial witness.

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I may have misunderstood the import of this question: I would insist that registration officers are authorised to officiate at church/temple/mosque weddings as well.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I would certainly expect that only employees of government function as officiants.

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Only government employees should act as authenticating officials.

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Only impartial government employees should act as official witnesses.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

As I have suggested, only government employees should act as impartial witnesses.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

As I have already said, only government employees should act as official witnesses.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

No, only government officials should act as impartial witnesses.

Consultation Question 28:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Fees and reimbursements for necessary expenses for officiating at weddings should be standard across the country.

Consultation Question 34:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I'm not sure that I understand the question.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage in my view is a serious and solemn and binding commitment, so, yes, officiants should indeed have a responsibility to uphold its dignity and solemnity.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

As I have indicated earlier, only government officials should act in this capacity, so only Government should sanction failures to comply with what is expected.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The government should require a standard declaration of commitment to be included in any ceremony of marriage.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I agree, provided that no form is without a declaration of permanent commitment to the marriage.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

I have no views on specific examples.

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Fully private but officially witnessed weddings seem in order.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Provided the civil authority can furnish an authorised official witness to the marriage, where it takes place is immaterial.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As marriage is a solemn and lifelong commitment, the location of the wedding should be as safe and as dignified as circumstances permit.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I agree that the date and location of the wedding should be recorded but cannot see the relevance of the names and occupations of the parties' parents.

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If electronic registration is available, failing to utilise it would be silly.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Presumably the mistakes in mind do not affect the substance of the marriage document; the presence of a civil servant as registrar is sufficient witness; the failure to sign at the wedding itself can be presumably rectified later.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The possibility of 'marriages of temporary convenience' should be a sufficient argument to warrant a 'NO'.

No

Please expand on your answer:

If a couple have given and nurtured the impression that they are married, the presumption should stand.

Consultation Question 60:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I am not sure I have fully comprehended the question.

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

I do not know of any such problems.

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Parties with a terminal illness should be treated no differently from other applicants.

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Sensible.

Consultation Question 65:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The schedule should be the same for all couples bent on marriage.

Consultation Question 66:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I agree, only if all other couples are subject to the same term of validity.

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

I can see no objection to weddings taking place in international waters, provided all the requirements of notice, registration and witness are met.

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Provided that there is provision for the presence of an official government witness.

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

I have no information or views on the existence of demand for weddings in international waters.

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is a reasonable requirement: there is no reason that the registration officer or the taxpayer should be expected to pay.

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I am insufficiently qualified to answer either of these questions.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I have no views on these issues.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I have no views on these issues.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

I have no views on these issues.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

I have no views on these issues.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I have no views on this issue.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I have no views on these issues.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I am unable to assess the potential benefits.

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I have no views on this matter.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

I am unable to estimate the potential costs.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFWP-B

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 19:12:35

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

[REDACTED]

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Sadly even this first double negative question shows how far removed those who are running the consultation are from ordinary people who aren't not uneducated.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

And sadly this second question compounds the error of the first in showing that those who are running the consultation are way, way not close to understanding the majority of people who aren't as bright as the people who wrote this consultation and aren't not uneducated.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Are you sure you've got this question right? It suggests that you think the words "wedding" and "marriage" are synonyms. Do you perhaps mean "was it your choice not to have a legally binding marriage (and if so, what were your reasons for doing so)?"

The next question suggests you've got this one wrong - or that the next one is wrong.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Almost every person who is not married from teenagers onwards has experienced "consequences" from not being in a marriage, whether legally recognised or not. Some consequences are good, some bad.

This question as written has nothing to do with the purpose of the consultation, which is stated to be about "weddings law".

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

There was a young fellow of Lyme
Who married three wives at one time
When they said, "why the third"
He replied "One's absurd,
And bigamy sir is a crime".

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Weddings have been rather more meaningful when only a few family and friends attend.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

three days;

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

The whole tenor of this consultation seems to be about removing almost all meaning from "marriage" (other than for formal purposes, such as tax and immigration law).

If that is so, as seems to be the case, there should be no objection to forced "marriages". It also means that it would be pretty well impossible to know what is a "sham marriage".

Indeed, ex hypothesi, why on earth have any interviews at all. What purpose would they serve if marriage has almost no meaning (except for formal purposes, such as tax and immigration law).

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The whole tenor of this consultation seems to be about removing almost all meaning from "marriage" (other than for formal purposes, such as tax and immigration law). If that is correct, what is the point of having any "notices of marriage"? None so far as I can see.

Consultation Question 10:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Sorry chaps. This is a nonsense question. I've used my computer to search this form and there has been no mention of any "schedule" so far. What is the question asking?

Consultation Question 11:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

What schedule? None has been identified in this consultation.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If marriage has no meaning (other than for formal purposes, such as tax and immigration law) it shouldn't matter who is the "officiant" or indeed whether there is an "officiant" at all.

Please share your views below:

If marriage has no meaning (other than for formal purposes, such as tax and immigration law) it shouldn't matter who is the "officiant" or indeed whether there is an "officiant" at all.

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

If marriage has its normal meaning then my answer is "yes"

If marriage has no meaning (other than for formal purposes, such as tax and immigration law) as seems to be being proposed then my answer is "no".

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

If marriage has no meaning (other than for formal purposes, such as tax and immigration law) as seems to be being proposed, then there is really no purpose in requiring banns at all.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

No need for either of the above if marriage has no meaning (other than for formal purposes, such as tax and immigration law) as seems to be being proposed.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

if marriage has no meaning (other than for formal purposes, such as tax and immigration law) as seems to be being proposed then this is a waste of time,

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

if marriage has no meaning (other than for formal purposes, such as tax and immigration law) as seems to be being proposed then surely, logically, there is no need for any preliminaries.

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

If marriage has no meaning (other than for formal purposes, such as tax and immigration law) as seems to be being proposed then surely, logically, the main reason for people getting married in the future would be no more than because of tradition and the fun of having a party. This would surely mean that, gradually, most people would not bother to get married.

So I think that, over time, your provisional proposals would lead to a reduction in the number of couples who are legally married.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFWE-Z

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 19:30:06

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

No, all interviews should be face to face.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 9:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

No

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

I agree

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

NO

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(1) the same fee as other cases in which the registration officer must travel to the person giving notice, set nationally on a cost-recovery basis; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFWN-9

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 20:01:24

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

United Kingdom

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I see no reason to change the existing requirement

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

Prefer one calendar month. Marriage is not something that should be rushed in any way

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

This seems to be too vague

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes to 1. No to 2

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

No. Only in the circumstances outlined above

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Don't know

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes to both

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

I agree

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

I agree

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There should be a limit on the fees they charge

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Yes. For example, the quoting of appropriate Bible verses

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The couple or their families should be allowed to decide

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

They should be held in a place that lends itself to an atmosphere where the seriousness of the couple's promises are given due importance, rather than informality and flippancy

Please share your views below:

Yes, for the reasons given above

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

No

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This could be open to abuse.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Don't know

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The necessary solemnity and importance of the occasion and the vows made would be likely to be jeopardised

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

For the reasons given above

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

No, for the reasons already outlined

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Not known

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

1. Not sure

2. Hopefully, provided the ceremony is conducted at a place and in a manner in keeping with the solemnity of this important occasion and the vows being made thereat.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFWZ-N

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 20:28:41

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED] Evangelical Church, [REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Other (please state)

If other, please state:
authorized person

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

for the sake of efficiency

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

however long it might take for the Register Office to confirm the validity of documents

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

best to keep it in-person; one rule for all

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes; continue

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Good idea!

Consultation Question 18:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Agreed

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

by office

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

1a should be obligatory

2 agreed

3 unnecessary given 1a

4 agreed

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

it is a public event

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

public building

Please share your views below:

yes, limited to public buildings, to ensure a sense of dignity

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

shpould be publically accessible

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

GRO, and officiant
by consultation with the parties concerned

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

1 agreed

2 and 3 disagree; itnesses are essential as is the couple's signatures

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

this question is difficult to follow!

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

1 agreed

2, 3, 4 disagree; remoteness should not be advocated

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

no fee

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

no fee

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFWB-W

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 20:37:52

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] a local Parish Councillor.

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

My information is not confidential but my phone number is [REDACTED]

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Mt wife and I have been married for 52 years. We have three children and eight grandchildren.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Heterosexual marriage is sacred and not to be undertaken lightly.

Consultation Question 5:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This sounds vague.

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage in haste but repent at leisure.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

This sounds vague again.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

This is a dodgy area. I know of a sham marriage which left one partner devastated after her African husband disappeared.

Consultation Question 9:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Is this really necessary?

Consultation Question 10:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Don't understand this.

Consultation Question 11:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Don't understand this.

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Don't understand this.

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why?

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Don't understand the grammar!

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

No. My banns were published in an Anglican church diocese where I lived but I attended elsewhere.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes. Common sense.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Sounds reasonable.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Gobbledygook! No non-believers should be allowed to officiate at a church wedding.

Please share your views below:

Don't understand this.

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Officiants at church services must be proposed by the church.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

I don't understand this jargon. What precisely are you suggesting?

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Why can't you explain things in plain English?

Consultation Question 28:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Don't understand what you are driving at.

Consultation Question 29:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

????????

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

????????

Consultation Question 34:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

???????

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This is a dodgy area. I take issue with anyone who suggests that a person may not refuse to conduct a homosexual marriage with which they do not agree. Furthermore, they should not be penalised in any way for their beliefs and moral standards about the sanctity of heterosexual marriage as laid down in the Bible. In short, officiants should be free to refuse to conduct a "gay" marriage. Full stop!

Consultation Question 39:

No

Please expand on your answer:

See my answer above.

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This smacks of political correctness. Neither of the two officiants at my church need any further "professional development" - whatever that ugly phrase may suggest.

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Sounds reasonable.

Consultation Question 43:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This is vague and leaves things open to abuse.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

This is too open ended for a response.

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

What are you getting at precisely? It is perfectly reasonable for a religious service to take place after a civil one.

Consultation Question 47:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

What are you getting at? Secrecy?

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

in private homes.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

?????

Consultation Question 50:

Other

Other

Other

Please expand on your answer:

What are you getting at?

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

????

Please share your views below:

What are you getting at?

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Sounds dodgy.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This is confusing but I repeat my assertion that no officiant should be forced to conduct a "gay" marriage to which they are opposed in principle.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I repeat my answer above.

Consultation Question 59:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

What are you driving at?

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Don't understand this.

Consultation Question 60:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No view on this.

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

????

Consultation Question 65:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

????

Consultation Question 66:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

????

Consultation Question 67:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

????

Other

Please expand on your answer:

????

Other

Please expand on your answer:

????

Consultation Question 68:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

????

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

This is a grey area.

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

????

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

I have no idea!

Consultation Question 74:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

????

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

????

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

????

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

????

Consultation Question 81:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

????

Consultation Question 82:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

????

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

????

Consultation Question 84:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

????

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Heterosexual marriage has formed the basis of society for thousands of years and any attempt to change this invites disaster.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No moment on this.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

????

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

????

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

????

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

????

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

????

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Sham marriages must be opposed at all costs. They only result in misery for at least one of the two.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

????

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

????

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

????

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

I have no idea of the costs.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDZK-7

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 21:21:55

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

[REDACTED] Anglican Parish Church, [REDACTED]

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Our parish church in Old Trafford has had only 5 weddings in the last 25 years, and none during the Covid-19 pandemic. It appears that most people in this area choose to cohabit, rather than marry.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

If the notice of intention to marry is to be published on a national website, the location of the registration office is immaterial, but the address of each party to the proposed marriage, and any previous address over the last 12 months should be included in the published notice, and the website should index intended marriages by each name and by each address or addresses, to assist the public in seeing if a party had given notice of intention to marry.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If the 2 in-person interviews should be held at least 7 days before the marriage, a facility to give notice on-line will need to be given even earlier, so it may not be a useful facility.

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

This period is intended to give the registrar time to check on any queries to which the notice or in-person interviews give rise. It is really registrars who should convince the Law Commission as to the period of time required, which may well be more than 7 days, and certainly not less.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

The in-person interviews should not be remote, because it is likely that any party who is hoping to mislead the registrar will request a remote interview. It will be much more straightforward and less confusing, if all in-person interviews are not remote. (This is without prejudice to the acknowledged fact that some parties with nothing to hide might also request remote interviews if they were available.)

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

I refer to the previous answer, which I have given, which relates to the importance of in-person interviews. If I follow my view that in-person interviews should not take place remoteless, there is little benefit in notice being given from another country. This might appear pedantic to someone only just across the Scottish border, but it is less confusing to have a clear rule than one hedged about with exceptions.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I am doubtful about the risk of harm. In the rare event that a party to a proposed marriage is being hunted by a dangerously malevolent person, it might be legally preferable for the party to change his or her name by deed poll before embarking on legal marriage. The notice in the "London Gazette" of the name change is less likely to be found than in a well indexed notice of marriage website. I do wonder if such circumstances are so rare as not to justify an exception in law, when the current intention is to keep the law relating to such a common thing as cohabitation and marriage straightforward and free from confusion. Perhaps the Registrar General should have power to dispense with such a formality on receipt of sufficient evidence on a case by case basis. The whole point of publishing notices is so that people do know who has given notice of intention to marry, and intended bigamy prevented.

Consultation Question 10:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The registrar has to satisfy himself or herself that the parties at the time are consenting to a valid marriage. That marriage contract should be completed before circumstances have changed. I would envisage that being within 2 weeks, and I would suggest that 4 weeks should be the limit.

Consultation Question 11:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I object to the proposed framework of officiants, and I have difficulty responding to this part of the consultation, because the Law Commission has ruled out of this consultation the option of a universal simple system of marriage by registrars, with couples able to have whatever ceremony or none which they wanted separately from the legal transaction before the registrar. This would be much simpler and legally safer, because professional registrars conducting lots of marriages would be alert to problems or potential illegality which might arise, and this would avoid a lot of proposed new law including a proposed new criminal offence.

Consultation Question 12:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I disagree with the proposed framework of officiants, which requires fairly cumbersome law such as this. I refer to my answer to the previous question.

Please share your views below:

I refer to my previous 2 answers.

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I do not think that Anglican weddings should authorise legal marriage, and only marriages performed by the registrar should be legal marriages, leaving parties to make such arrangements with an Anglican church as they and the church authorities might agree. (I am an active member of an Anglican church, and not hostile to the church in principle.)

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

I do not think that the Anglican church should be able to authorise a legal marriage, and only a marriage performed by a registrar should be a legal marriage. If this were to be the case it should not be a matter for the Marriage Act as amended, but just a matter for the Anglican church as to what formalities they wanted to observe. In such circumstances, they might no longer require the publication of banns before conducting a religious ceremony to bless and approve the marriage.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

If the Anglican church should continue to conduct legal marriages, something with which I would disagree, the Anglican clergyman should definitely have these powers. However many clergymen conduct so few weddings that it is difficult for them to be as well informed of and prepared for problems or potential illegality in a marriage as a professional registrar. My current rector has been in post for over 7 years and has married one couple in that time. During the preceding 20 years the parish had only 5 weddings.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

I have stated in previous answers that I believe it simpler and preferable for all marriages to be conducted by the registrar with couples able to have such separate ceremonies or none as they wish. If however the Anglican church will continue to be able to authorise marriages, I firmly agree that both parties to the proposed marriage should attend and make separate declarations that there is no impediment to their proposed marriage in order for a common licence to be granted.

Consultation Question 18:

all weddings should be preceded by civil preliminaries.

Please expand on your answer:

If the law of marriage is to be revised, it is preferable that the changes should make it simpler and less confusing. It is therefore better that the same civil preliminaries should be required for all marriages.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It would be safer, simpler, and less confusing if all marriages were performed by the registrar.

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I consider that only registrars should perform legal marriages, and parties should be able to have whatever other ceremonies or none as they desire and can arrange.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Registrars are trained and generally experienced officers, who should be able to deal with problems or potential illegality.

Consultation Question 22:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I consider that only registrars should conduct legal marriages, because they are trained and generally experienced officers who can deal with problems and potential illegality. Some clerks in Holy Orders perform very few marriages. My rector has conducted one marriage in the last 7 years, and the parish had only 5 marriages in the previous 20 years.

Consultation Question 23:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

See my previous answer. However if such people are to be officiants, this proposal makes sense. I do question their lack of experience and training compared to professional registrars.

Consultation Question 24:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This definition is hard to understand. I do not think people other than professional registrars should perform marriages, and my reservations about established religious bodies doing so, are amplified in relation to non-religious secular bodies, which lack the institutional experience of well established religious bodies, and are being set up to be an alternative to religious experience and group activity. They do not seem well equipped to be an integral part of a legal contract which, though non-religious, actually has its basis and background in a religious morality. One would expect them to be offering an alternative and opposite to religious marriage, not a copy of it. I am convinced that only professional registrars should perform marriages.

Please share your views below:

I refer to my previous answers. The proposal that non-religious secular bodies should be authorised to appoint people to conduct marriages simply leads to the confusion as to how to define such bodies and how to judge which should be listed and which should not. It would be much better if they and religious organisations like the Anglican church were all treated the same, and only professional registrars were permitted to conduct legal marriages.

Consultation Question 25:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I refer to my previous answer. This proposal appears to be trying (if enabled by Government) to treat non-religious belief organisations as if they were religious belief organisations and conduct worship, something which a non-religious belief organisation is formed not to do. This is also raising the difficult question as to whether a new organisation is sufficiently established. This is all very confusing and would be avoided if only professional registrars were authorised to conduct legal marriages.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

This suggestion sounds like an invitation to create a new law to suppress freedom of opinion, and conscience and free speech. I have in previous answers stated that I think that only professional registrars should conduct legal marriages, and that would avoid the issues raised in this question. I find it hard to see the link between organisations which promote purposes that are unlawful or contrary to public policy or morality. For a Marriage Act to seek to categorise purposes which are contrary to public policy or morality seems to be taking it away from the subject of what constitutes lawful marriage. (After all in some religions homosexual practice is immoral, and for some people saying that is immoral, and the Marriage Act should not be adjudicating on such moral issues, but allowing freedom of opinion, conscience and free speech.)

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

This probably makes sense, although appropriate training and experience is needed for competent officiants.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

In previous answers I have expressed my reservations about officiants.

Consultation Question 29:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This does not indicate how independent officiants are suitable people to conduct legal marriages. I have grave doubts about the appropriateness of officiating at weddings as being an occupation, rather than being incidental to an occupation, as is the case for registrars and for some religious ministers. There is not enough to it. I have expressed wider reservations about officiants other than registrars in earlier answers, and they are magnified in this case.

Consultation Question 30:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I agree that the person who conducts a legal marriage should be a fit and proper person, but the wider the net is cast to include people as officiants, the less confidence I have that they will all be suitably qualified. While I do not think that the Anglican church should be allowed to conduct legal marriages, but only professional registrars, at least we know that people are carefully selected and trained before ordination as Anglican ministers, and then they spend 3 years as sort of trainees (curates) with a more experienced minister, but it appears that the Commission has in mind other, so far unidentified, organisations which might not sensibly be trusted to train and select suitably fit and proper people for the proposed important legal role.

Consultation Question 31:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

If people who have not trained as registrars are to be entitled to marry people, the proposed requirements make sense, but it does not seem sensible for someone to have to train and assess such people, and it raises the question as to who will undertake the training and assessment of such people, and whether the trainees will pay the actual cost of the training and assessment. I do call into question how such people will make a living, and what sort of paid occupation would lead a person to want to officiate at weddings on Saturdays. It would be much simpler and more straightforward to eliminate freelance officiants from the proposals, and limit the role of conducting legal marriages to professional registrars.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If this proposal is adopted, it does not make sense for other people to profit from officiating at weddings as freelance officiants. It would be better if only registrars conducted legal marriages.

Consultation Question 33:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

It clearly makes sense that no-one should conduct a legal marriage in which they have a conflict of interest, although it is hard to envisage a conflict of interest ( a wager? a dowry?). However it does appear unfair if, when the officiant is appointed by an organisation, there can be no profit involved, but freelance officiants can charge as much as they can find someone to pay, possibly even exploiting vulnerable individuals. There should be a "flat playing field" with no-one making a profit. I appreciate that, should that be the case, there may be fewer people wanting to be freelance officiants, but I do not think that there should be freelance officiants, even if experienced organisations can appoint officiants, and my preferred proposal would be that only professional registrars should conduct legal marriages.

Consultation Question 34:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I do not understand the rationale of this proposal. It is hard to understand that someone would want to be, or would appointed a nominated officiant by both a religious and a non-religious belief organisation. This proposal appears to envisage that some people would put themselves forward as officiants for anyone to use or appoint. This does not sound desirable. It would be avoided if only professional registrars conducted legal marriages.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This proposal appears to presume that all parties to marriages want a dignified and solemn marriage celebration. I can see that it is important that parties to a marriage understand and appreciate that marriage is a very serious legal transaction. Rather than relaxing rules to allow for a "free for all" choice of how to get married, it would be better if the legal marriage was conducted by the professional registrar and the parties, in a separate place or places, celebrated in whatever solemn, dignified or undignified and cheerful way they chose.

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This proposal appears to be restricting one of the main thrusts of the proposals of relaxing marriage procedure and allowing much more variety. I would suggest that rather than creating a much wider range of officiants and then guiding them to conduct marriages the "right" way, only professional registrars should conduct a legal marriage, and the parties to the marriage can celebrate in all their varied ways in a separate place. The proposal along with associated proposals is leading to a more complex law of marriage, when it would be much better to simplify the law of marriage so that there is less room for people to be confused or misguided.

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There is some logic in this, although it shows a division of control between the General Register Office and other organisations which easily creates confusion, and can allow inconsistency, if consistency is an aim of the proposals, confusing as the proposals are. It is not really clear if the proposals are aiming at relaxed variety or consistency.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There is some logic in this, although it shows a division of control between the General Register Office and other organisations which easily creates confusion, and can allow inconsistency, if consistency is an aim of the proposals, confusing as the proposals are. It is not really clear if the proposals are aiming at relaxed variety or consistency.

Consultation Question 39:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

While there is some logic in this, it is not clear how big a burden this will be on the General Register Office, and how the burden will be funded. It is all part of the confusion in the proposals as to whether they aim to relax the law to allow variety in a more diverse nation, or to maintain consistency, at the expense of the tax-payer and marriage partners vulnerable enough to pay more for a freelance officiant. It is quite likely that, consistent with a small budget, the General Register Office would start with a "light touch" control, and then at some point there would be a scandal, and the General Register Office would be obliged to increase surveillance and control at greater expense. The history of the Charity Commission is just one of many examples of this sort of thing happening.

Consultation Question 40:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

It depends on how they are authorised and supervised. For those in well organised bodies, it might well be appropriate for the only limit to be one of an upper age, but for freelance officiants a tight form of control by the General Register Office would be needed.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

It is not clear how it is proposed that the monitoring of independent officiants should be carried out, and at whose expense. The General Register Office or local registrars might be appropriate. If there is no monitoring, they may not actually undertake timely continuing professional development.

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I think that it would be better if all weddings were conducted in the same legal way by a professional local authority registrar.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I think that the legal contract of marriage under English and Welsh law should be executed separately from a religious celebration or a semi-religious celebration.

Please share your views below:

None.

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This provision enables those parties who wish it, to have a religious ceremony, after and separately from the legal marriage before the registrar. This can recognise that the parties are married in English and Welsh law, and married in religious terms.

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The marriage contract is not a private transaction affecting only the parties, but changes their status in the community. Marriages being in public is consistent with the obligation to publish the notice of intention to marry.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I think that in each case this should be subject to the agreement of the registrar if he or she is to conduct the marriage, and it is my preference that only local authority registrars should conduct legal marriages. If this were the case, it is likely that most legal marriages would take place in the registrar's chambers, but there should be no legal rule that marriages can only be contracted in those chambers.

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

I do not think that there should be a legal prohibition on legal marriages being contracted in various places, if the registrar agrees to attend. I should prefer that only local authority registrars conduct legal marriages. I think that a marriage certificate or schedule should record the location of the marriage, and I think that "in the air" is too vague a location. I realise that people's ingenuity will stretch any definition, and "in the gondola under a hot air balloon above the Town Hall" might be sufficiently specific.

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I am not sure about "publicly accessible"; surely there must be access for the disabled.

Consultation Question 50:

Other

Other

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Some of the "mix and match" mentioned above sounds undesirable, but surely it is up to the owners of premises and the parties to the marriages as to whether they will agree some anomalous arrangements.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

It is really the legal responsibility of the occupier to ensure that the location is safe, although it is good that the officiant should check this out. Whether the location is sufficiently dignified must be the joint decision of the parties and the officiant, because the relaxation of the law should be allowing a variety of degrees of dignity to parties to marriages; indeed some parties are probably pressing for a change in the law so that they can have undignified weddings. I should prefer to see legal marriages conducted by local authority registrars, with the parties then able to celebrate the rest of their wedding in as dignified or undignified way as they choose.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I am not sure that this is consistent with the aim of relaxing the law relating to marriage. If local authority registrars were the only people authorised to conduct legal marriages, there would be no doubt about the legal nature of a marriage, and this more complex work for the General Register Office (which may well have austere finances) would not be necessary.

Consultation Question 53:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This sounds like another complication arising from a proposal to relax the law on marriage. At the moment some premises are licensed for the solemnisation of marriages. I thought that the proposal was that that restriction would be lifted, but here there appears to be a similar, but not identical provision, which is complicated by the requirement for the approval of the officiant. Overall the proposals get more complicated.

Please share your views below:

It would be better not to implement it, unless the current law of local authorities licensing premises for the solemnisation of marriages continues. That provision is so recent that most people have only just got used to it.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I do not really understand the need for the parties parents to be identified on the marriage document or schedule, but it does come in useful when tracing family genealogies.

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I hesitate and wonder if the absence of witnesses should render the marriage void.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I am not sure about this on 2 counts. I am not sure if the presumption of validity is a way of saying here that the marriage can be avoided and set aside by the divorce court, but is valid until and unless that happens. I am also unsure if the propose is to repeal the age old common law requirement that a marriage is voidable if it has not been consummated. Case law is more specific about non-consummation than not cohabiting, but a change in this aspect of the law would be a major departure from established law, and should not be slipped in to the revision of the law so subtly that it might not be noticed.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This is not a legal presumption, so it should not need legal abolition.

Consultation Question 60:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

The argument in favour of this time limit is that if the void marriage has lasted that long, it can be dissolved by divorce, where the same remedies are available. I do not see that the time limit makes much difference.

Consultation Question 61:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I regret adding yet another crime to the enormous list of criminal offences already on the statute book. It would make sense to deter people from doing the things mentioned, if there are going to be officiants who are not local authority registrars. There are existing offences like misconduct in public office and obtaining pecuniary reward by deception which would probably be applicable. If local authority registrars were the only people allowed to conduct legal marriages, this proposal would not even arise.

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

The weddings of such people need to be conducted on the site which one of the parties cannot leave. A registrar should be prepared to attend as necessary. If it emerges that the party was not so housebound, that party should be charged for the attendance, but if the reason for attendance was genuine the cost should be borne by the local authority employing the registrar. Such occasions should be rare enough to be a very light burden on the registrar's budget.

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The in person interview records the situation at the time, and the marriage should take place as soon as reasonably possible thereafter, before there is time for circumstances to change. 2 weeks should usually be sufficient, and no more than 4 weeks should be allowed.

Consultation Question 66:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The in person interview records the situation at the time, and the marriage should take place as soon as reasonably possible thereafter, before there is time for circumstances to change. 2 weeks should usually be sufficient, and no more than 4 weeks should be allowed.

Consultation Question 67:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

The first proposal above sounds reasonable, but, if no in person interview can take place, the wedding should be postponed until it can take place. I am unhappy about the 3rd and 4th proposals above, but it may be that, when the use of electronic communication has become even more firmly established, it will not sound so bad.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There are a variety of situations where there is a proposal that someone close to death should marry. They are not all free of doubt as to the consent of the dying party, and the registrar should make a full assessment, even in the case of a national emergency.

Consultation Question 68:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I am not sure.

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

As I understand it, these marriages will take place outside the jurisdiction of the English and Welsh courts, although those courts might decide that they are valid and entertain divorce proceedings. However I think that it is undesirable.

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

As I understand it, these marriages will take place outside the jurisdiction of the English and Welsh courts, although those courts might decide that they are valid and entertain divorce proceedings. However I think that it is undesirable.

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

As I understand it, these marriages will take place outside the jurisdiction of the English and Welsh courts, although those courts might decide that they are valid and entertain divorce proceedings. However I think that it is undesirable.

Consultation Question 72:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

As I understand it, these marriages will take place outside the jurisdiction of the English and Welsh courts, although those courts might decide that they are valid and entertain divorce proceedings. However I think that it is undesirable.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

As I understand it, these marriages will take place outside the jurisdiction of the English and Welsh courts, although those courts might decide that they are valid and entertain divorce proceedings. However I think that it is undesirable.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

As I understand it, these marriages will take place outside the jurisdiction of the English and Welsh courts, although those courts might decide that they are valid and entertain divorce proceedings. However I think that it is undesirable.

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

I do not know, but would not recommend them.

Consultation Question 74:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

As I understand it, these marriages will take place outside the jurisdiction of the English and Welsh courts, although those courts might decide that they are valid and entertain divorce proceedings. However I think that it is undesirable.

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I do not think that the registrar should have to charge an extra fee where the party to the marriage is housebound or detained, although, if it turns out that the party is not so housebound, a fee should be charged. Apart from that I think that the extra cost should be borne by the local authority employer of the registrar, and I think that the relevant occasions will be sufficiently rare for the burden on the council tax payer to be very small.

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I do not know what the additional services are.

Consultation Question 82:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I think that such cases will be rare and the additional cost could be borne by the registrar's employing local authority, bearing in mind that the parties are likely to be impecunious.

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

I think that such cases are likely to be rare and the cost could be borne by the registrar's employing local authority, bearing in mind that the parties are likely to be impecunious.

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I do not think that the current law discourages marriage. I think that the principal reasons deterring parties from marriage are either (1) a desire to avoid a long term commitment to each other, or (2) a desire to have a big expensive celebration without the current funds to resource it. Neither are affected by the cost and procedure of a register office wedding, and a church wedding can be simple and relatively inexpensive without the trimmings.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I do not know enough about the comparative costs, but they are not relevant to my views expressed in my previous answer.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I have expressed my views in answer to previous questions. I think that the proposals will make marriage law more complex, not less complex, and will not reduce the number of people who find themselves not legally married, when they thought that they were legally married.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

I do not know enough about this.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

I am sure that owners and occupiers of premises will make as much money as they can out of weddings, because so many families are prepared to spend extravagantly on weddings.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

The current law on local authorities appears satisfactory to me. It would of course help their budgets, if they could charge more.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

I do not see potential benefits for local authorities. The added complexity of the law will give registrar's a little more trouble explaining it to enquiring members of the public, but apart from that the proposed changes look neutral.

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No comment.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No comment.

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No comment.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No comment.

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

No comment.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFJS-1

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 22:01:32

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Christian Peoples Alliance

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

NO

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

WE went to a registry office and did the legal part then had a proper wedding in a church afterwards. The law does not recognise a church wedding outside the C of E. Even though it was in a C of E church it wasn't conducted by a C of E vicar.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

My daughter wanted to get married in May but all weddings were banned then which I consider ridiculous. She got married on 4th July 2020 with around 20 family in the church and a mass of people outside both to greet the bride when she arrived and also to greet the couple as they left. WE then had a private ceremony in a garden for family only. It was a great occasion.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is a sensible restriction so people go to where they live not just anywhere. If you abolish it then people can go and get married without thinking about what they're doing which happens too much now. WE don't want more of it.

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It is very important that the couple talk in person about their plans so the superintendent knows they are serious.

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

a month minimum is appropriate and up to 12 months. The purpose is to do proper checks to make sure that neither party is already married either in this country or abroad. This cannot be done in 3 or 7 days. It is also necessary for the couple to spend a bit of time between declaring their intention to get married and actually doing it so they think about what they are doing and its permanence.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

No. This is the reason to have interviews and get married close to where people live. Remote interviews trivialise the importance of the interviews.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No problem with this.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

AS is now.

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Not an issue.

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The point is bans are published where the couple live. If one partner lives in Scotland and they want to get married in England what is your problem?

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

No. The whole point is they are published where the couple live. There's no point in having them at all otherwise. I can't believe the Law Commission are so ignorant about bans. Others who answer these questions may not know the purpose of them so your questions are nonsense.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

There's no problem with meeting the couple together provided it is done seriously and long enough.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes of course this is necessary.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales; or

Please expand on your answer:

The church should be allowed to do what they want. The Government should require a minimum of preliminaries in our view at least 3 sessions of counselling. The church's preliminaries should be no less than the Government's. WE would give the couple a reward for completing the preliminaries, ie. a £12,000 grant to help with wedding costs provided it is the first wedding of both.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

What's your problem with a registration officer officiating at a church wedding? There is simply no reason at all for this ban unless you are anti Christina and a bigot which is contrary to the Equality Act so we could sue you for doing this.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is already the case.

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

As long as minimum preliminaries are completed and recorded as such. I presume there will be no limit as to the number

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This is nonsense. Atheism has no belief system. There are no morals outside of the moral code enshrined in religions such as Christianity. That's why Stalin an atheist could kill around 20m people (undesirables) for the "good of society" and not offend his belief system. If Atheists are to be allowed to conduct weddings then they can only do so in accordance with requirements laid down for civil weddings. The morals of every atheist are subjective. ie they can create whatever they want. You cannot build a marriage ceremony on that basis. What you have stated here as "humanity's nature and relationship to the universe" is simply the subjective atheistic concept of a tiny number of people and has no bearing in reality at all.

Please share your views below:

No such organisations should be listed. Atheists should follow the civil rules. Religions should be allowed to register provided they are recognised as such with a minimum number of adherents which have to run into millions of people.

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

You said earlier that non Anglican denominations should nominate their own officiants. The membership should certainly be one million minimum worldwide. 20 is just crazy. Sincerely held belief about marriage is nonsense. Of course atheists can have a sincerely held belief that marriage is of no value because there is no atheist belief system so they can believe anything they want. The requirement should be commitment to marriage as a lifelong union.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Yes if they don't believe in marriage as a lifelong union. There should be no other requirement. The law commission here is promoting anti Christian sentiment which is contrary to the Equality Act so under this rule the Law Commission should be banned.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

No

Please expand on your answer:

You said earlier that each denomination or religion is responsible for maintaining its own list so the General Register Office has to keep a list of religious organisations that are able to nominate.

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

You either have to be officially nominated or you are part of the civil system. Atheists should use the civil system. You can't cater for each atheist or group of atheists that has their own subjective belief system and say they can be an independent officiants. That is nonsense.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

So you don't need a register then do you?

Consultation Question 31:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The category is nonsense. There is either a religious wedding or a civil wedding. Independent officiants are not a logical or sensible category.

Consultation Question 32:

No

Please expand on your answer:

What is your problem? Price is affected by supply and demand. Why interfere with it? Let them find their own natural price. This really is a Socialist question that could only be framed by a Socialist who thinks that profit is a dirty word. Nonsense.

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

That sounds much better. Provided that there is a free market. There should be some means of registering a complaint at the way any organisation conducts weddings and one reason to complain may be excessive charge. It shouldn't be totally without the customer having any redress.

Consultation Question 34:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

As stated above don't agree with such.

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Of course and state it is at least at the outset intended to be for life.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Guidance is welcome

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

With a system for complaints that can be dealt with outside the organisation at the level of appeal. So a complaint would be made first to the organisation responsible and if the complainant was not satisfied could appeal to a Government body. Then complaints can be monitored and if one organisation had a lot of complaints then that would flag up a reason for threatening to withdraw their certification.

Consultation Question 38:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Only if there are a significant number of complaints made by customers. Not on the basis of some arbitrary standard made by an atheist body applying subjective morals. If so this will create a clash between Christian values and New Age liberal values which are basically just anti Christian. They don't actually derive from any other moral code.

Consultation Question 39:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Don't think there should be independent officiants other than those conducting civil weddings.

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Possibly age 80.

Consultation Question 41:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Who decides what is the content of your CPD? It's nonsense.

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The current words used are fine. You give no reason here for changing the current words. Certainly not needing to declare there is no impediment is plain WRONG. Marriage takes place after the signing of the registry, with witnesses, not before.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There have to be minimum requirements. After that yes.

Consultation Question 44:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I don't understand this question. For a start why have you singled out Anglican Jewish and Quaker weddings? Why not single out Baptist Hindu and Muslim weddings? or Pentecostal Sheikh and Buddhist weddings? This question is nonsense.

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If in a civil ceremony the participants want to sing "Amazing Grace" because its their favourite hymn why should it be banned because its "religious". A lot of atheists get their base morals from Christianity since atheism doesn't have any so why not have some Christian content in a civil wedding?

Please share your views below:

OK. A Christian hymn or a Christian prayer. In fact banning these as is the case now is actually contrary to the Equality Act.

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There's no reason it should be banned but hopefully this new system will make it unnecessary,.

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why not? It's a public event.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Weddings should only be allowed in a location which is appropriate to the occasion. There can be flexibility but not no limits.

in the air, and/or

Please share your views below:

In the air is not appropriate. Some private homes can have the space.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Public is best.

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Many churches meet in schools ad community halls. There's no reason whatsoever why these cannot be used as a venue for a wedding. These rules are simply not needed.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Within bounds, ie provided that it is deemed appropriate to the importance of the occasion.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Unless there are complaints by customers about a location in which case there should be the power to inspect or deem a location unsuitable

Please share your views below:

There should be a person who deals with complaints who has the power to deem a location unsuitable in rare circumstances.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This is valuable information for posterity.

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Electronic registration should be done as soon as possible to make access easier in future.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There are of course other factors. 3 & 4 should be either party.

No

Please expand on your answer:

2 & 3 are absolutely vital to a marriage. I'm not clear on what mistakes you're talking about in 1. It's absolutely perverse you think you can have a marriage without 2 & 3.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This repeats some of qn57 and shows an unprofessional approach by the law commission.

Consultation Question 59:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There have to be witnesses and all the procedure followed. It should not be a problem if the witnesses to the ceremony cannot be located after every effort is made to find them as long as it is confirmed they were there and it took place.

No

Please expand on your answer:

But a time limit should be set and a registration required. I.e cohabitation for at least 10 years following which the relationship has been registered without a formal ceremony.

Consultation Question 60:

No

Please expand on your answer:

What time limit are you proposing? Are you saying that after 10 years one party can say they never agreed to the marriage? It's ludicrous.

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

No information

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This suggestion achieves nothing,.

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

That's the same as for others

Consultation Question 66:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Could be longer in these circumstances.

Consultation Question 67:

No

Please expand on your answer:

You already asked qn 2 before again showing unprofessionalism with this questionnaire. The answer is NO again. NO to 3 NO to 4.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

No ides why you are distinguishing these 2 situations.

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

If on a large boat

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Royal Navy

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The name of the officiant is also needed.

Consultation Question 72:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes to 1, No to 2

No

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

There should be some Christian pastor or vicar on board a ship who can do a wedding.

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Cost should be passed on

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Should be compassionate in these circumstances. But might be means tested.

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

No

Please expand on your answer:

There shouldn't be a fee for this. It's not necessary.

Consultation Question 79:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not necessary and ridiculous bureaucracy.

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Should be compassionate and reduce the fees.

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Special exemption should apply

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Current law is OK but crazy that you can't sing a Christian hymn at a registry office or say a prayer.

No. Your proposals undermine marriage and would make it more likely people wouldn't bother. They are very bad.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1. OK
2. OK
3. OK
4. You have to do the legal part at a registry office and the full wedding later. It's OK but not ideal.
5. Not expensive.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1. OK but it probably differs round the country
2. Savings are minimal. The cost of a wedding is in the outfits and the reception.
3. Savings minimal

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

I've had a look <https://www.legislation.gov.uk/ukxi/2005/3168/regulation/13/made> and can't see what your problem is. Why don't you tell us properly?

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

3 is good for the first part of it "the ability of venues to host weddings officiated by religious officiants"

4 is false because the overall effect of what you are proposing is to undermine marriage making it less likely which I think you know full well.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No evidence

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

no evidence

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

What you propose would undoubtedly make things worse.

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No evidence

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

No evidence

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

2. Would probably be badly affected
3. Non Anglican churches would benefit though the undermining of marriage in these proposals would cause some harm.
4. This proposal is perverse.
5. Very little effect

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFW3-E

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-19 22:53:03

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

MY WIFE HAS DIED. WE WERE MARRIED BY THE CHURCH.

No

Please expand on your answer:

WE WERE MARRIED IN GREECE. THE OFFICIANT WAS A PRIEST OF THE ORTHODOX CHURCH.

No

Please expand on your answer:

WE EXPECTED OUR MARRIAGE TO BE RECOGNISED BY THE STATE.

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

PEOPLE MARRYING IN THE ESTABLISHED CHURCH DO NOT NEED TO REFER TO THE SUPERINTENDENT REGISTRAR. THE PRIEST IS HIMSELF THE REGISTRAR.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

NO OPINION.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

'REMOTE' INTERVIEWS WOULD BE OPEN TO ABUSE.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

NO OBJECTION.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

No

Please expand on your answer:

THIS PROPOSAL HAS NO PERCEPTIBLE MERIT.

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

IT IS OBVIOUSLY RIGHT THAT BANNS SHOULD BE HEARD IN THE HOME PARISHES OF BOTH PARTIES. OTHERWISE, WHAT WOULD BE THE POINT OF BANNS?

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

REASONABLE PROPOSALS.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

I AM NOT AWARE OF ANY DIFFICULTY IN THE PRESENT SYSTEM.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

THE CHURCH MARRIED COUPLES FOR MORE THAN A THOUSAND YEARS BEFORE THE STATE INTERVENED. THIS PRIORITY SHOULD BE RECOGNISED AND MAINTAINED.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

THIS SIMPLY CONTINUES THE PRACTICE OF MORE THAN A THOUSAND YEARS.

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

MAYBE!

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

IT IS EASY TO SEE THAT THIS COULD BE OPEN TO ABUSE.

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

THIS IS PRESUMABLY ABOUT POLYGAMY. NO, THE STATE SHOULD NOT SANCTION POLYGAMY, DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY.

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

THIS WOULD REQUIRE SOME CHECKING ON THE ORGANISATIONS, THE OFFICE HELD AND THE INDIVIDUALS.

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

OBVIOUSLY.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

HOW?

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

FEES SHOULD BE LIMITED.

Consultation Question 34:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I THINK THIS HAPPENS IN THE CASE OF FUNERALS. SO WHY NOT AT WEDDINGS?

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

OF COURSE.

Consultation Question 36:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

CLERGY HAVE BEEN DOING WEDDINGS LONGER THAN THE U.K. HAS EXISTED. THEY MIGHT BE ASKED TO OFFER GUIDANCE TO OTHER OFFICIANTS.

Consultation Question 37:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

FOR THE CHURCH, YES. FOR OTHER ORGANISATIONS - IT DEPENDS.

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

FOR THE CHURCH, THIS IS THE BISHOP'S RESPONSIBILITY.

Consultation Question 40:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

SEE PREVIOUS ANSWER.

Consultation Question 41:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

SEE PREVIOUS ANSWER. THE CHURCH HAS AN HIERARCHY OF BISHOPS AND ARCHDEACONS, ETC.

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

CHURCHES HAVE AUTHORISED FORMS OF MARRIAGE SERVICE.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

I HAVE ENCOUNTERED THE ABSURDITY OF A HYMN BEING FORBIDDEN IN A HOSPITAL WARD MARRIAGE BECAUSE IT WAS OFFICIATED BY A CIVIL REGISTRAR. I WAS A HOSPITAL CHAPLAIN. WE HAD TO TRUNDLE THE PATIENT AND HIS BRIDE TO A SEPARATE PLACE TO BLESS THEM AFTER THE CIVIL MARRIAGE.

Please share your views below:

SEE PREVIOUS ANSWER.

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

THIS PROPOSAL IS ABSURD AND OPPRESSIVE. I CAN THINK OF NO POSSIBLE REASON FOR SUCH A RESTRICTION.

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

MARRIAGE IS A PUBLIC EVENT. IT CONCERNS THE COMMUNITY, NOT JUST THE COUPLE.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

IT IS NOT DIFFICULT TO THINK OF UNSUITABLE PLACES!

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

THAT MARRIAGE CONCERNS THE COMMUNITY, NOT JUST THE COUPLE, SHOULD NOT BE LOST SIGHT OF.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

SEE ABOVE.

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

Other

Please expand on your answer:

THIS SHOULD DEPEND ON THE CONSENT OF THE RELIGIOUS VENUE'S AUTHORITY.

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

IT SEEMS THAT THIS IS NEEDED!

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

THE SENIOR REGISTRAR OF THE AREA CONCERNED.

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

MARRIAGE CONCERNS BUILDING THE FAMILY AND COMMUNITY. IT IS THE BUSINESS OF FUTURE GENERATIONS AS WELL AS OF THE COUPLE CONCERNED.

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

YES, PROVIDED THE PAPER DOCUMENT STILL EXISTS.

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

NOT NECESSARILY. THOSE CONDITIONS COULD RENDER A MARRIAGE INVALID, BUT IF THE COUPLE WISH TO CONTINUE IN IT, THEY SHOULD BE LEFT ALONE.

I DO NOT THINK THAT MANY RELIGIOUS GOVERNING AUTHORITIES RECOGNISE SAME-SEX "MARRIAGE".

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

MARRIAGE IS NOT JUST A PIECE OF PAPER.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

THIS IS PRESUMABLY AIMED AT BOGUS 'MARRIAGES' TO GET ROUND IMMIGRATION RESTRICTIONS.

Other

Please expand on your answer:

THOUGHT CONTROL?

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

I HAVE OFFICIATED AS A HOSPITAL CHAPLAIN IN SUCH A CASE. I AM NOT AWARE OF PROBLEMS.

Consultation Question 63:

No

Please expand on your answer:

IN THE CASE I ENCOUNTERED THERE WAS NO TIME FOR SUCH AN INTERVIEW,

Consultation Question 64:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

DON'T KNOW!

Consultation Question 65:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

12 MONTHS OR WHAT?

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

I DO NOT FEEL QUALIFIED TO ANSWER THIS QUESTION.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

IF ADJACENT, WHY NOT MARRY ON THE LAND?

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

No

Please expand on your answer:

THE OFFICIANT IS IMPORTANT FOR THE MARRIAGES' VALIDITY, AS ARE WITNESSES, SURELY.

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

YOU WILL HAVE TO ASK THE PARTIES CONCERNED!

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

TO BOTH QUESTIONS: YES, PROBABLY.

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

IN RETIREMENT, I DO NOT FEEL ABLE TO PROVIDE ANSWERS TO THESE ISSUES.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

3 above:

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

3 above: CLERGY SHOULD HAVE THE RIGHT TO OFFICIATE AT WEDDINGS HELD AT VENUES OTHER THAN THEIR CHURCHES WHEN NEED ARISES.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFWS-E

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-20 02:22:58

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

private individual

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

I want privacy because my views are based on the most ancient ordinance in sacred literature - that one man shall be committed for life to one woman, a view that today has led to people being harassed, marginalised, losing their jobs, etc. What has become of our society that a tiny minority of the population not only dictate the terms of the new morality but also hound and punish those who are not prepared to call same sex marriages normal and just as valid as the original male/female ordinance?

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 5:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

It's somewhat arbitrary but at least a month

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Interviews should always be in person to reduce the risk of sham or forced marriages.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

No. Must be on home territory wherever possible

Consultation Question 9:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This could cause many to not go public by using risk of harm as an excuse.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Whilst I agree with the proposed duty, it does not go far enough. Officiants should have a wider responsibility to ensure that the content and tone of the legal ceremony upholds the dignity and solemnity of marriage.

The proposals need to define what is meant by 'dignity' and 'solemnity'. The consultation seems to view ceremonies taking place "in the air" as being compatible with these tests, which suggests they are easy standards to reach.

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

- It should not be possible for someone to get married without being present at the wedding ceremony. Simply signing the marriage schedule is inadequate.
- Couples would be able to say anything they like or nothing at all. This is a major departure from the public declarations always considered foundational to the legal marriage ceremony.
- This risks undermining the solemnity of the wedding ceremony and denying the seriousness of the commitment being made.
- There is already a large amount of flexibility in the wedding ceremony. The prescribed words are minimal and couples can add to them in all sorts of ways.
- It is not very much to ask that some specific phrases are used to show that both people freely consent to the lifetime commitment they are entering into.
- The idea that a couple should be able to completely personalise their ceremony comes from a wrong view of marriage. A wedding is not just about the couple. The couple enter into a union which is understood by society and has been legally defined. So society and the law have an interest in the making of a public declaration. The logic of a wholly self-defined marriage ceremony is for marriage to be decoupled from the law and wider society. Marriage would become an entirely private matter, rather like a personal hobby.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

- There must be clear safeguards around what counts as a “safe and dignified” location, to reflect the seriousness of the occasion. There must also be safeguards around the content of the ceremony. A particular ceremony should not just be allowed because the couple wants it, but because it is appropriate for such a significant event.
- The idea that a couple should be able to choose everything about a wedding ceremony comes from a wrong view of marriage. A wedding is a public declaration in which society and the state have an interest.
- Unofficial wedding ceremonies have included themes such as Alice in Wonderland, James Bond, Lord of the Rings, Game of Thrones, Marvel comics, Beauty and the Beast, Harry Potter, Star Wars and Flash Gordon. One had a ‘Woodland Fairy themed ceremony with ponies dressed as unicorns’ while another couple dressed as hedgehogs. It is very doubtful that many of these reflected how seriously marriage should be taken.

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

- The “open doors” requirement helps convey the public nature of wedding declarations.
- The open doors requirement was introduced hundreds of years ago as a protection against forced marriage. This is still a problem in our society.
- Removing the requirement encourages a false perception that marriage is a private matter without any public significance.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I reiterate the seriousness and solemnity of a marriage ceremony. Venues should not simply be allowed because marrying couples want them, but because they are appropriate places to hold such a significant ceremony.

- There are some specific benefits in a wider variety of venues being allowed (for example churches who do not own their own building), but caution is needed so as not to legitimise inappropriate settings.
- Where is the line to be drawn - would weddings be allowed in McDonald's?
- Unofficial wedding ceremonies have taken place in an S&M dungeon, underwater, and at a Comic Book convention with a couple dressed as comic book heroes.

I believe it is completely incompatible with the dignity of marriage for venues like these to host legal weddings.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

No

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

There is a lack of clarity in how venues would be tested for “dignity” and “safety”.

While the proposals call for guidance from the General Register Office, the terms are not defined and stringent safeguards should be proposed.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(1) the fee should be set by regulation at a level below cost-recovery; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YDH2-V

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-20 05:31:50

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

I am a member of the Professional Fellowship of Celebrants

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

N/A

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

We chose to have a celebrant-led ceremony after our marriage ceremony as we knew the Register Office ceremony would not have been possible in the garden of a close relative and our pet dog would not have been able to attend which was important to use both. So instead we celebrated our wedding there with a large group of friends and family who attended a personalised celebrant-led ceremony, with our pet dog being the ring bearer, followed by a big party in the garden which held special memories for the family.

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

As a celebrant all my couples from 2020 postponed their ceremonies to 2021 and I officiated a wedding ceremony for one couple who managed to organise a micro wedding at very short notice after two other attempts to marry and have a reception earlier in the summer. This was a very special event for the couple and their family and close friends to celebrate the couple's love for each other after a long time of uncertainty and disappointments. As a celebrant this year has been a wipeout financially as will 2021 as I can only do so many weddings including those that have been postponed plus those for newly booked couples as I need to do them all justice.

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, this requirement can cause couples a lot of aggravation as well as expense; and secondly because it is not made clear that they don't have to marry in the district register office/s they have given notice in.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This makes more sense as it is more straightforward and inclusive as it is less of an expense re travelling etc.

Consultation Question 6:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

I think that at least seven days seems reasonable.

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Absolutely in agreement on this.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This makes sense in the present day, as the notices would be easily accessible for the majority of the population most of whom have access to the internet via phone or computer.

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

I cannot answer this question as I don't understand it fully

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Again, I could do with more information about this question - to clarify it

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

No, on the internet as well as in Question No 9 above

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Yes , most definitely - this would make the whole process equal and inclusive for all couples.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes, as in the reply to Question 16 above and it would make it easier for each member of the couple to talk freely with the member of clergy before the marriage ceremony.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

I don't feel there is any need for change here.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Does this mean registrars - in which case no? It should be open to a independent celebrants as well to offer couples more choices for their Marriage Ceremony.

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

This will enable all couples: whether one or both having a religion, a couple of mixed faith or both having no religion to be able to choose an independent officiant of their choice for their marriage ceremony.

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

No

No

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Why do you need both?

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This would need to be looked at carefully .

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

I am sure there is. Again this would widen the scope for all couples to choose where they can marry.

Consultation Question 74:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

(2) a separate fee from other forms of giving notice, set nationally on compassionate grounds at below cost level.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

(2) there should be no fee.

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

This should be a reasonable fee that doesn't jump up on an annual basis, especially as all independent wedding celebrants have had very little work since March 2020 and are financially on their uppers due to being sole traders and not owning premises so a majority are not qualifying for any business grants

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

I'd say yes to both. Some couples are definitely put off by the current set up. With more flexibility and choice of officiant and ceremony and without a lot of expense - this would encourage a lot of couples, I am sure!

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

1. The availability of smaller including 2x2 ceremonies are far too few and would encourage couples who don't have a lot of money and or don't want a lot of fuss to get married. The cost of a R O wedding can be extremely expensive, especially on Saturdays and Bank Holidays and there is still very little choice involved to make it a personalised ceremony and also there is a good possibility that the couple don't even meet the registrar until the day of the ceremony and they are unable to build up any sort of rapport or relationship with this person.
  2. Similarly to No 1 the cost of a wedding ceremony at an approved premises can be extremely expensive and on top of this the licensed rooms are often not the most attractive rooms in the venue and the couples cannot choose their favourite room. Secondly, when there is an outside space e.g. a gazebo, it is often very cramped and a lot of the guests are unable to see/take part fully in the ceremony.
  4. The cost of first paying £600+ for a marriage ceremony and then to follow it at a non-licensed venue with a non legal celebrant -led ceremony which cost around £600 makes this avenue very expensive for a lot of couples who are desperate often to have a diy type wedding on a Farm for example and find this avenue too expensive.
  5. No 4 above touches on this point too. A lot of couples would prefer to have one ceremony IF it is personal and unique to them and they can include their family and friends fully in the ceremony!
- In addition if couples had the opportunity to marry legally in their own garden space this would also be a very good thing as I believe it would support more couples to marry. Also there are a large number of more adventurous couples who would like to get married outdoors, not just on farms or on fields with Teepees but near lakes and up hill and mountain sides, allowing for H and S issues, of course.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Again my answers all underpin the main point which is that couples need to be given a wide range of choices to suit them, their beliefs, their family situation and especially their finances. It is the cost of a marriage ceremony, the reception and clothing etc. which does put off a lot of couples with and without children.

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

A lot of businesses find the cost of licensing very expensive and restrictive and there are incidents where LAs have threatened the venue not to use independent celebrants instead of/or as well as registrars. This occurred at a venue in Nottinghamshire to me in 2018 where the manager was upset and undermined by the registrar the day before the ceremony.

If businesses could use a wider range of rooms and outside spaces for marriage ceremonies then this would support them financially.

A lot of outdoor venues are not licensed and prefer that as they don't want to be dictated to by the LA.

Again my answers all underpin the main point which is that couples need to be given a wide range of choices to suit them, their beliefs, their family situation and their finances.

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

1/3./4 This would help the venues market themselves as venues with a range of marriage ceremony options and packages and support all couples in their choices.

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

For myself as an independent celebrant I am hoping from these proposals that it will not be too costly to be included as an officiant of legal marriages after I have addressed all the necessary requirements. Small businesses like myself should be given the opportunity to flourish as should the venues, big and small , indoor and outdoor. This would all contribute towards a much wider and better set of choices for future couples who marry in England and Wales.

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFXV-J

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-20 07:52:03

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

None

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

n/a

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

I am married according to law.

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage should not be undertaken lightly

Consultation Question 5:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 6:

seven days; or

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 14:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Public listing preferred

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Good idea

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

Don't mind

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Makes it official

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Good system. Has worked well until now.

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Having an official list seems wise

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Don't create too many hoops to jump through.

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The fees chargeable should be capped and not onerous to poor people.

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Vitally important

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes, but keep it short and simple

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Keep it simple. The less bossiness there is in the system, the better

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Yes to all, but include a statement by the parties that there is no impediment

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This sounds like "Anything goes", and runs the risk of reducing the seriousness of getting married

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Good to allow the public to attend if they wish, provided there is room

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

This could trivialise weddings

outdoors,, on inland waters such as lakes or rivers,, in the air, and/or, in private homes.

Please share your views below:

What matters is the dignity of the occasion. Avoid triviality.

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Create an ombudsman!

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Written records are more permanent

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Witnesses are crucial. The paperwork should be done carefully.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 61:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 11: Special types of wedding

Consultation Question 62:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 63:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 64:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 65:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 66:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 67:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 68:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 69:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 70:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 71:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 72:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 73:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 74:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 12: Fees

Consultation Question 75:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 76:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 77:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Keep the fee low

Consultation Question 78:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 79:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 80:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 81:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 82:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 83:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 84:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFXE-1

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-20 12:05:21

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

The content of the legal ceremony must uphold the dignity and solemnity of marriage.

Consultation Question 36:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 41:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

It should not be possible for someone to get married without being present at the wedding ceremony. Simply signing the marriage schedule is inadequate.

Couples would be able to say anything they like or nothing at all. This is a major departure from the public declarations always considered foundational to the legal marriage ceremony.

This risks undermining the solemnity of the wedding ceremony and denying the seriousness of the commitment being made.

There is already a large amount of flexibility in the wedding ceremony. The prescribed words are minimal and couples can add to them in all sorts of ways.

It is not very much to ask that some specific phrases are used to show that both people freely consent to the lifetime commitment they are entering into.

The idea that a couple should be able to completely personalise their ceremony comes from a wrong view of marriage. A wedding is not just about the couple. The couple enter into a union which is understood by society and has been legally defined. So society and the law have an interest in the making of a public declaration.

The logic of a wholly self-defined marriage ceremony is for marriage to be decoupled from the law and wider society.

Marriage would become an entirely private matter, rather like a personal hobby.

Consultation Question 43:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The idea that a couple should be able to choose everything about a wedding ceremony comes from a wrong view of marriage. A wedding is a public declaration in which society and the state have an interest.

Consultation Question 44:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Removing the requirement encourages a false perception that marriage is a private matter without any public significance.

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Venues would be need to meet the test for “dignity of the occasion”.

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 49:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 50:

Not Answered

Not Answered

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

There is a lack of clarity in how venues would be tested for “dignity” and “safety”. While the proposals call for guidance from the General Register Office, the terms are not defined and stringent safeguards should be proposed.

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 13: The potential impact of our proposals

Consultation Question 85:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 86:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 87:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it. We would also welcome any data on the size of businesses that are affected by the law or will be impacted under our proposed reforms. :

Consultation Question 88:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 89:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 90:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Please share your views below. If you have any evidence to support your answers, or which might help us assess the extent of possible benefits, please provide it.:

Consultation Question 91:

Please share your views below:

Response ID ANON-5GTU-YFXZ-P

Submitted to Law Commission consultation on weddings law
Submitted on 2020-12-20 12:10:14

About you

What is your name?

Name:

[REDACTED]

What is the name of your organisation?

Enter the name of your organisation:

-

Are you responding to this consultation in a personal capacity or on behalf of your organisation?

Personal response

If other, please state::

-

What is your email address?

Email:

[REDACTED]

What is your telephone number?

Telephone number:

[REDACTED]

If you want the information that you provide in response to this consultation to be treated as confidential, please explain to us why you regard the information as confidential. As explained in our privacy notice, we will take full account of your explanation but cannot give an assurance that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances.

Please tell us why you regard the information as confidential:

-

Chapter 1: Introduction

Consultation Question 1:

No

Please expand on your answer:

-

Other

Please expand on your answer:

-

Other

Please expand on your answer:

-

Other

Please expand on your answer:

-

Consultation Question 2:

Please share your views below:

-

Consultation Question 3:

Please share your views below:

-

Chapter 4: Preliminaries

Consultation Question 4:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is a serious commitment and doing away with the 7 days notice could be open to a sudden emotional action that might be regretted later.

Consultation Question 5:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

A good idea.

Consultation Question 6:

another period of time.

Please expand on your answer:

1 month

Consultation Question 7:

Please share your views below:

They should be done in-person for the reason given.

Consultation Question 8:

Please share your views below:

Yes, continue.

Consultation Question 9:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 10:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 11:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 12:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 13:

Other

Please expand on your answer:

Not sure.

Consultation Question 14:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 15:

Please share your views below:

Yes, in the church where the wedding is to take place.

Consultation Question 16:

Please share your views below:

1. Yes.
2. Not unless there is a cause for concern.

Consultation Question 17:

Please share your views below:

Yes, definitely.

Consultation Question 18:

Anglican preliminaries should continue to be recognised as legal preliminaries to weddings officiated by the Church of England and the Church in Wales;
or

Please expand on your answer:

1. Yes.
2. Not necessary.

Chapter 5: Officiants

Consultation Question 19:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 20:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 21:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 22:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 23:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 24:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 25:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 26:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 27:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 28:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 29:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 30:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 31:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 32:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 33:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 34:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 35:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 36:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 37:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 38:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 39:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 40:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Should be reviewed every few years, maybe 5.

Consultation Question 41:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 6: The wedding ceremony

Consultation Question 42:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Re 1b. It is important to make a declaration publicly as there may be people present who know and choose to make public that there is a legal impediment to the ceremony taking place.

Consultation Question 43:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 44:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 45:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Consultation Question 46:

No

Please expand on your answer:

People have a change of heart.

Consultation Question 47:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is a public declaration .

Chapter 7: Location

Consultation Question 48:

No

Please expand on your answer:

Marriage is not to be trivialised. It is a serious and lasting commitment and therefore should take place in an appropriate building.

Please share your views below:

No, for the reason given above.

Consultation Question 49:

No

Please expand on your answer:

For the reason given earlier.

Consultation Question 50:

Yes

Yes

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 51:

No

Please expand on your answer:

No. Not a fair responsibility to place on them.

Consultation Question 52:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 53:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Please share your views below:

Chapter 8: Registration

Consultation Question 54:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 55:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 56:

Not Answered

Please expand on your answer:

Chapter 10: Validity and offences

Consultation Question 57:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

No

Please expand on your answer:

The presence of two witnesses is important to validate the marriage.

Consultation Question 58:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 59:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Yes

Please expand on your answer:

Consultation Question 60:

